TEXT:

My apologies to all!

I just realized that I did not send out the weekly reminder for the meeting that is for TODAY, from 1:00-2:00pm - RM 180.

WAVES will be handled appropriately.

If there are any questions or concerns, please call Jill at 456-5565.

thanks.

TEXT:

Good morning everyone.

I have run this top ten list past a couple of you - a couple haven't seen it. This is my best count of the hot issues of the week - and where I think we are. Can you guys all look at the list and in particular items with you name and provide us all any updates if appropriate.

No particular order:

1. SSI Imms - POMS/40 Qs/Refs/etc. - SSA had a key meeting yesterday to resolve remaining issues. They hope to get their guidance out Monday. Steve/Diana -- can one of you check in with SSA to see how yesterday went?
2. SSI Kids - decision - memo in process
3. USDA 18-50s - decision - memo in process
4. Means Tested - as of late Wed, next step was conversation Ken with Kevin - then possible WH/HHS conf call. Ken/Elena -- any update?
5. Cost Neutrality - Meeting Friday 11:00
6. Medicaid Waiver - (b)/(d) issue - HCFA mtg Wed eve. Diana -- are they coming to brief us on which states, etc.
7. Medicaid bucket - Elena -- did you talk further to Anna? To Cindy? What's next step?
8. Disability Reg - Diana calling meeting Fri/Mon. Is it set?
9. Cuban/Haitians - Further meetings required. Emily -- what's new?
10. TANF timing question ($ flowing vs. time limit in effect) -- HHS to look at more closely. I will talk to Monahan about this one.

Just making sure we're on top of all these things. Please email to all of us with updates.

Thanks.

TEXT:

There is a brief meeting in Carol's office on Wednesday October 30 from 10:00 to 10:30 on the issue of privatization of welfare/food stamps/Medicaid functions within states. The new law will have some impact on this, obviously, and many of us are getting calls both from agencies and outside groups on the issue.

This will be a small meeting and quick - with no agency staff. I thought it would be helpful to get together very briefly so that we can share information about the impact of the new law in this area and some of the issues that are being raised. After that, we should think about how to work with the agencies on the issue. Ken has indicated that his staff will put together some rough and preliminary info on the issue for the meeting.

If you have any questions, please call. I am sorry if there was any confusion around this meeting.

TEXT:

There is a brief meeting in Carol's office on Wednesday October 30 from 10:00 to 10:30 on the issue of privatization of welfare/food stamps/Medicaid functions within states. The new law will have some impact on this, obviously, and many of us are getting calls both from agencies and outside groups on the issue.

This will be a small meeting and quick - with no agency staff.

I thought it would be helpful to get together very briefly so that we can share information about the impact of the new law in this area and some of the issues that are being raised. After that, we should think about how to work with the agencies on the issue.

Ken has indicated that his staff will put together some rough and preliminary info on the issue for the meeting.

If you have any questions, please call. I am sorry if there was any confusion around this meeting.

MEMORANDUM FOR LEON PANETTA

FROM: Bruce Reed
Paul Weinstein
Peter Jacoby
Jim Webber
Elena Kagan

SUBJECT: Possible Q&A on President's Campaign Finance Reform Announcement

QUESTION: Why are you announcing this now?

RESPONSE: This announcement is consistent with the President's had a long-standing commitment to campaign finance reform and to changing business as usual in Washington. In the last three years, the President repealed the tax loophole for lobbyist deductions, enacted legislation to make the Congress and the White House live by the same laws Washington applies to rest of the nation, signed legislation to require lobbyists to disclose how much they spend and what they spend it on, enacted the line-Item Veto, and made it easier for millions of Americans to register to vote.

In 1992, the President made campaign finance reform a central piece of his agenda and throughout his first term he pressed the Congress to pass real, bipartisan legislation.

QUESTION: Both parties have been unable to resolve the campaign finance reform issue for years, why should the American people expect you and Congress to take action next term?

RESPONSE: Last Congress we enacted Lobbying Disclosure, the Gift Ban, Congressional Accountability Act, the Line-Item Veto. We have a proven track record of getting the job done on political reform. Campaign finance reform is the last step, and most important step. I believe that the Congress should and must make passage of McCain-Feingold a priority. I challenge Congress to pass McCain-Feingold in the first six months of the 105th Congress, and not deny the American people any longer.

QUESTION: There has been a lot of controversy about foreign contributions to the DNC. Do you think it is wrong to accept contributions from foreigners?

RESPONSE: I do believe the system is broken, and needs to be fixed. The voting public must have confidence that the process is fair and works for them. That is why I agree with Senators McCain and Feingold that real, bipartisan campaign finance reform must include effective limitations on foreign contributions. If you can't vote you cannot contribute.

QUESTION: Does your support for limitations on foreign contributions mean that you will direct the DNC to stop taking such contributions immediately and return those contributions received this elections cycle?

RESPONSE: It is clear that the system is broken and that the rules need to be changed. I support banning these contributions by law. We need quick action by Congress on this issue as part of comprehensive, bipartisan campaign finance reform. (Question: should the President commit to endorsing a ban on accepting contributions from all non-citizens -- on a unilateral basis -- until Congress acts?)

QUESTION: How will you enforce this ban, and how broad will it be? For example, would the ban include U.S. subsidiaries of foreign-owned corporations?

RESPONSE: Many of the specific details of the ban would have to be worked out with Congress. However, the principle is clear, if you can't vote, you can't contribute -- individual contributors would have to certify citizenship.

With regards to corporate contributions, the McCain-Feingold bill would ban PACs and eliminate the current "soft money" system. Therefore, no corporate entity, foreign or domestic, could make a Federal campaign contribution.

QUESTION: If you believe it is wrong to accept foreign campaign contributions, is it wrong to accept foreign contributions to your legal defense fund?

RESPONSE: I do not allow the Legal Defense Fund to accept contributions from registered lobbyists and PACs. In addition, contributions are limited to $1,000. (Additional recommended response is: "In the future, my legal defense fund will not accept contributions from foreign donors.")

QUESTION: Aren't you, by endorsing the bipartisan commission as a fallback position, undermining any real hope that McCain-Feingold will pass?

RESPONSE: I have been and remain a strong supporter of McCain-Feingold, and believe the principles of that legislation are the key elements of real reform: spending limits; curbing PAC and lobbying influence; free and discounted broadcast time; and ending the "soft money" system. I support a commission only as a last resort, if the Congress lacks the political will to pass McCain Feingold. The benefit of a Commission is that it takes the politics out of the reform effort.

QUESTION: Mr. President, you are challenging Congress to pass McCain-Feingold in the first six months of the 105th Congress. Will this be a number one priority for your administration?

RESPONSE: This will be a key priority in my second term. I have long felt that this is one of the most important issues facing the American political system. We must restore the faith of the American people in their political leadership in order to build a bridge to the 21st century.

RESPONSE: I do believe the system is broken, and needs to be fixed. The voting public must have confidence that the process is fair and works for them. That is why I agree with Senators McCain and Feingold that real, bipartisan campaign finance reform must include effective limitations on foreign contributions. If you can't vote you should not contribute.

QUESTION: Does your support for limitations on foreign contributions mean that you will direct the DNC to stop taking such contributions immediately and return those contributions received this elections cycle?

RESPONSE: No. It is clear that the system is broken and that the rules need to be changed. I support banning these contributions by law. We need quick action by Congress on this issue as part of comprehensive, bipartisan campaign finance reform. We will discourage those contributions beginning immediately, but we will have no reliable way to verify whether contributions come from citizens or non-citizens until Congress and the FEC require contributors to provide that information.

QUESTION: How will you enforce this ban, and how broad will it be? For example, would the ban include U.S. subsidiaries of foreign-owned corporations?

RESPONSE: Many of the specific details of the ban would have to be worked out with Congress. However, the principle is clear, if you can't vote, you can't contribute -- individual contributors would have to certify citizenship.

With regards to corporate contributions, the McCain-Feingold bill would ban PACs and eliminate the current "soft money" system. Therefore, no corporate entity, foreign or domestic, could make a Federal campaign contribution.

RESPONSE: I have been and remain a strong supporter of McCain-Feingold, and believe the principles of that legislation are the key elements of real reform: spending limits; curbing PAC and lobbying influence; free and discounted broadcast time; and ending the "soft money" system. I support a bipartisan commission only as a last resort, if the Congress lacks the political will to pass McCain Feingold.

QUESTION: Mr. President, you are challenging Congress to pass McCain-Feingold in the first six months of the 105th Congress. Will this be a number one priority for your administration?

RESPONSE: This will be a key priority in my second term. I have long felt that this is one of the most important issues facing the American political system. We must restore the faith of the American people in their political leadership in order to build a bridge to the 21st century.

QUESTION: How does your plan compare with Bob Dole's?

RESPONSE: I support the bipartisan McCain-Feingold bill. When he was in the Senate, Bob Dole opposed that legislation. While Senator Dole introduced a bill to create a campaign finance reform commission immediately, I supported efforts to pass real, bipartisan campaign finance reform. I continue to support McCain-Feingold, and call on Congress to pass this legislation in the first six months of the next term. However, if Congress cannot find the political will to pass McCain-Feingold, then as a last resort I support creating a binding, bipartisan commission that will send a real campaign finance reform bill to my desk by the end of next year. However, Senator Dole and I do agree that non-citizens should not be able to contribute to campaigns for federal office.

QUESTION: How would your plan to ban campaign contributions from foreigners impact unincorporated partnerships?

RESPONSE: Contributions from unincorporated partnerships would be pro-rated and counted against the $1,000 individual contribution limit of each partner. For example, if a partnership of ten individuals made a $1,000 contribution to a campaign, $100 would be counted against the contribution limit of each partner. If a non-citizen was a member of a partnership, a greater share of the contribution would count against the $1,000 limit of the other partners. A partnership which is owned by a majority of non-citizens should be prohibited from making contributions.

QUESTION: How would the ban on non-citizen contributions affect entities, such as unions, that collect funds for independent political expenditures?

RESPONSE: Independent political expenditures would not be covered by the ban on campaign contributions by non-citizens. Independent political expenditures would have to be addressed separately from the contributions issue.

QUESTION: How would the McCain-Feingold bill be impacted by the Supreme Court's decision in Colorado Republican Campaign Committee vs. the FEC?

RESPONSE: In light of the Supreme Court's decision this summer, the restrictions proposed by the McCain-Feingold bill regarding independent expenditures made by political parties will have to be revisited. But it is clear that the issue of independent political expenditures is critical to the overhaul of our campaign finance reform laws.

SUBJECT: Possible Q&A on President's Campaign Finance Reform Announcement

QUESTION: What exactly is the President proposing?

RESPONSE: The President today is calling on Congress to pass the bipartisan campaign finance reform legislation introduced last session by Senators McCain and Feingold. The principles of McCain-Feingold are ones the President has advocated since he first ran for office in 1992 and are the key elements of real reform: spending limits; curbing PACs and lobbying influence; free and discounted broadcast time; and ending the "soft money" system.

The President is challenging Congress to enact this legislation in the first six months of the 105th Congress. He is committed to working closely with the leadership of both parties in achieving this goal. However, if the Congress cannot find the political will to pass this bipartisan bill, then as a last resort, the President will support legislation to establish a binding campaign finance reform commission that will send comprehensive reform legislation to his desk by the end of 1997.

The President also announced today that he agrees with Senators McCain and Feingold that non-citizens should not be able to influence our elections. From now on, the President will only support campaign finance reform that includes the following rule: if you are a non-citizen and can't vote, you can't contribute.

QUESTION: How would the McCain-Feingold bill be impacted by the Supreme Court's decision in Colorado Republican Campaign Committee vs. the FEC?

RESPONSE: [Counsel's Office drafting response]

QUESTION: Doesn't a ban on Federal campaign contributions from non-citizens violate the First Amendment of the Constitution?

RESPONSE: [Counsel's Office drafting response]

QUESTION: How would your campaign finance reform plan have prevented the contributions that have caused the recent controversy?

RESPONSE: I believe it is inappropriate to comment on some of those specific incidents because they are currently under the jurisdiction of the courts. With regards to future elections, passage of McCain-Feingold and the President's proposal to prohibit contributions from non-citizens will greatly insure that the people's interest are protected.

MEMORANDUM FOR LEON PANETTA

FROM: Bruce Reed

SUBJECT: Campaign Finance Reform Announcement

Attached is a Q&A which outlines the President's campaign finance reform proposal. The consensus recommendation of the working group is that the President should:

- Strongly restate his endorsement of McCain-Feingold and challenge Congress to pass the bill in the first six months of the next term;
- Announce his support --if Congress cannot find the political will to pass McCain-Feingold -- for the creation of a binding, bipartisan commission on campaign finance reform that will send a reform bill to his desk by the end of next year;
- Call on Congress to include in campaign finance reform legislation a ban on contributions from non-citizens.

With regards to the President's campaign finance reform initiative, there are a couple of issues that could be problematic. First, the working group recommends that the President ask his campaign and the Democratic National Committee (DNC) to stop taking contributions from non-citizens immediately. The DNC is concerned about taking unilateral action and prefers that we wait until Congress passes legislation. Second, the working group recommends that to avoid charges of inconsistency, we should apply the same rule to the President's legal defense fund. At present, the fund does not take money from foreigners but legal immigrants are allowed to contribute. Finally, the Justice Department believes that a ban on contributions from non-citizens may be ruled unconstitutional.

QUESTION: What exactly is the President proposing?

RESPONSE: The President today is calling on Congress to pass the bipartisan campaign finance reform legislation introduced last session by Senators McCain and Feingold. The principles of McCain-Feingold are ones the President has advocated since he first ran for office in 1992 and are the key elements of real reform: spending limits; curbing PACs and lobbying influence; free and discounted broadcast time; and ending the "soft money" system.

The President is challenging Congress to enact this legislation in the first six months of the 105th Congress. He is committed to working closely with the leadership of both parties in achieving this goal. However, if the Congress cannot find the political will to pass this bipartisan bill, then as a last resort, the President will support legislation to establish a binding campaign finance reform commission that will send comprehensive reform legislation to his desk by the end of 1997.

The President also announced today that he agrees with Senators McCain and Feingold that non-citizens should not be able to influence our elections. From now on, the President will only support campaign finance reform that includes the following rule: if you are not a U.S. citizen, you can't contribute.

QUESTION: Why are you announcing this now?

Campaign finance reform is the last step, and most important step. The President believes that the Congress should and must make passage of McCain-Feingold a priority. He is challenging Congress to pass the bipartisan McCain-Feingold bill in the first six months of the 105th Congress, and not deny the American people any longer. If that fails, he will challenge Congress to create a bipartisan commission whose recommendations will become law on a fast-track basis.

QUESTION: There has been a lot of controversy about foreign contributions to the DNC. Do you think it is wrong to accept contributions from non-citizens?

RESPONSE: Under the current system, both parties have accepted foreign and non-citizen contributions. The system is broken, and needs to be fixed. The voting public must have confidence that the process is fair and works for them. That is why we agree with Senators McCain and Feingold that real, bipartisan campaign finance reform must include effective limitations on non-citizen contributions. If you are a not a U.S. citizen, you can't contribute.

QUESTION: Does your support for limitations on non-citizen contributions mean that you will direct the DNC to stop taking such contributions immediately and return those contributions received this election cycle?

RESPONSE: It is clear that the system is broken and that the rules need to be changed. We support banning these contributions by law. We need quick action by Congress on this issue as part of comprehensive, bipartisan campaign finance reform. While we will not ask the DNC to return contributions already received this election cycle, we will ask them to set up procedures to stop taking such contributions in the future.

QUESTION: How will you enforce this ban, and how broad will it be? For example, would the ban include U.S. subsidiaries of foreign-owned corporations?

RESPONSE: Many of the specific details of the ban would have to be worked out with Congress. However, the principle is clear, if you are a not a U.S citizen, you can't contribute -- individual contributors would have to certify citizenship.

With regards to corporate contributions, the McCain-Feingold bill would ban PACs and eliminate the current "soft money" system. Therefore, no corporate entity, foreign or domestic, could make a Federal campaign contribution.

QUESTION: If you believe it is wrong to accept foreign campaign contributions, is it wrong to accept non-citizen contributions to your legal defense fund?

RESPONSE: The President's Legal Defense Fund does not accept contributions from registered lobbyists and PACs. In addition, contributions are limited to $1,000. Currently, the Fund does not take contributions from foreigners, but does take contributions from legal immigrants. (Additional recommended response is: "In the future, the President's legal defense fund will not accept contributions from foreign donors.")

QUESTION: How would the ban on non-citizen contributions affect entities, such as unions, that collect funds for independent political expenditures?

RESPONSE: Independent political expenditures would not be covered by the ban on campaign contributions by non-citizens. Independent political expenditures would have to be addressed separately from the contributions issue.

QUESTION: How would your campaign finance reform plan have prevented the contributions that have caused the recent controversy?

RESPONSE: It is inappropriate to comment on some of those specific incidents because they are currently under investigation. With regards to future elections, passage of McCain-Feingold and the President's proposal to prohibit contributions from non-citizens will greatly insure that the people's interest are protected.

QUESTION: Doesn't a ban on contributions from non-citizens raise constitutional difficulties?

RESPONSE: It is unfortunately true that almost any meaningful campaign finance reform proposal raises constitutional issues and will provoke legal challenge. This is inevitable in light of the Supreme Court's view -- which we believe to be mistaken in many cases -- that money is speech and that attempts to limit the influence of money on our political system therefore raise First Amendment problems. We think that even on this view, the Court should approve this measure because of the compelling governmental interest at stake. But we also think the Court should reexamine its premise that the freedom of speech guaranteed by the First Amendment always entails a right to throw money at the political system.

QUESTION: How does the Supreme Court's decision in Colorado Republican Campaign Committee v. FEC affect the McCain-Feingold bill?

RESPONSE: The Court's recent decision in Colorado Republican Campaign Committee v. FEC, which disapproved non-voluntary limits on uncoordinated expenditures by political parties, has little or nothing to do with key elements of the McCain-Feingold bill, including voluntary campaign spending limits, restrictions on PACs, and broadcast and postage discounts. It is possible that the decision will require amendment of certain less crucial provisions of the bill, but even this is a complicated legal question needing close scrutiny.

Carolyn says SSA has incorporated INS' input on refugee/asylees and is ready to send out the POMS. Should go out today.

Apparently, California may be issuing regs today to implement at least some of the welfare reform law including treatment at health clinics. Emily, do you know more about this and whether the President will need to address the issue while in California?
Thanks.

I have the revised version of the notice from SSA that will go to all families with children on SSI who will be reevaluated as a result of the new law. SSA was able to pull back on the original draft and revise it to reflect helpful comments by advocates and others. I promised SSA we would comment by cob today so that they can get it to the printers in time to ensure that the notices will meet the deadlines in the law.

The new version looks much better.

Please let me know if you want to review it. If I don't hear from you within a few hours, I will assume you don't want to. (I don't think any of you need to look at it.)

HHS is planning to approve TANF plans in Conn, Nevada, Kentucky, and New Hampshire. They sent me the draft approval letters. Only Connecticut has any issue raised in it at all. Here's the Conn. issue as written in the letter:

"You should note that section 415 authority to delay implementation applies to any waiver 'which relates to the provision of assistance under a state plan under this part,' i.e., title IV-A. Thus, section 415 is not applicable to your title IV-D waiver regarding the distribution of child support collections. We will be in touch with you shortly to begin discussion on achieving a mutually agreed-upon strategy as described in section 1.2 of your waiver terms and conditions." I am going to tell John M. we obviously have no comment on the 3 state w/o issues. Elena, let me know how you want to handle Connecticut. I will tell Monahan that we need to hear from you on that.

MEMORANDUM TO DISTRIBUTION LIST

FROM: Jeremy Ben-Ami
 Diana Fortuna
 Domestic Policy Council

SUBJECT: Weekly Welfare Subgroup NOW BI-WEEKLY

We are holding the Welfare Implementation Subgroup Meeting on Tuesday, November 12 at 3:00 p.m. in OEOB 211.

As we announced at the last meeting, these welfare subgroup meetings NOW will be held BI-WEEKLY.

This means that after the November 12 meeting, the next meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 26 at 3:00pm in OEOB 211.

We will continue to send out reminders. Thank you.

Steve/Elena -- Have you had a chance to review the VA/DoD guidance for implementing the veteran and active duty member exception? Any comments?

All of you -- One question that was raised by INS is who is responsible for referring questions about status to either VA or DoD regional office -- the individual or the agency?

For example, the guidance says that if veteran status is claimed, but the individual doesn't have his papers, refer to local VA regional office to determine status -- is the responsibility on the agency/office or individual to do so?

It seems to me that is our call to make and the agency/office should be responsible. Let me know what you think.

thanks
