STATEMENT OF THE PRESIDENT

Today the Department of Justice filed a notice in the Greensboro U.S. District Court appealing the part of Judge Osteen's order that invalidated the Food and Drug Administration's tobacco advertising restrictions. The Department is asking for an expedited appeal, because every day of delay matters to our children's health. Each day, 3,000 children and young people become regular smokers, and 1000 of them will have their lives cut short as a result of their smoking. And this problem of youth tobacco use is getting worse. The percentage of eighth and tenth graders who smoke has risen for four consecutive years. The FDA's common sense access and advertising restrictions would reverse this trend.

We will continue to work to protect our children from tobacco, and we will not stop until we succeed.

Legal Immigrants and the New Budget Agreement

5/2/97

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

Question: Will you fulfill your promise to restore benefits to legal immigrants who were treated so unfairly in last year's welfare law?

Answer: Yes, we will. In this budget agreement, we will restore disability and health benefits to legal immigrants who become disabled after entering the United States, provide Medicaid health coverage for poor immigrant children, and extend the Medicaid and SSI eligibility period for refugees from five years to seven to give them more time to naturalize.

Question: Why doesn't this agreement reinstate benefits to all elderly non-citizens?

Answer: In the context of a balanced budget, we targeted assistance to the most vulnerable legal immigrants -- children and the disabled. Since most of the elderly on SSI are disabled, most elderly non-citizens will be helped by this agreement.

Question: Will future immigrants be treated differently from those already in the U.S.?

Answer: Those immigrants whose sponsors have signed legally enforceable affidavits of support will have their sponsor's income "deemed" or counted during eligibility determination. Since the first of such affidavits are expected to go into effect in May, that means future immigrants will be subject to deeming while immigrants who arrived earlier will not.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Bruce Reed
RE: DPC Weekly Report

1.) Displacement: You asked whether there are protections in the welfare law to prevent worker displacement. The law expressly forbids federally-subsidized welfare reform programs from placing welfare recipients in job openings created by company layoffs, terminations, or involuntary reductions of the workforce (section 407(f) of the law). Welfare recipients can, however, be placed in jobs that are vacant for reasons other than firings or layoffs (openings created, for example, by attrition or the cancellation of a vendor contract). Moreover, while states must have a grievance procedure for resolving complaints of alleged displacement, the law does not require specific procedures or proscribe penalties for state violations, leading some to argue that the prohibition against displacement is unenforceable.

Thus, the April 23rd USA Today editorial was correct in saying, "The law bars employer from firing existing workers to hire welfare recipients whose compensation is subsidized by the state. But its intent can be defeated by reducing hours, wages or benefits for existing workers or terminating outside contracts; workfare recipients can then fill vacancies."

During Senate consideration of the welfare legislation, Senator Rockefeller, with some help from Republicans like Senator D'Amato, fought unsuccessfully to strengthen this provision.

2.) Work Partnership: We have made plans with Eli Segal for a May 20th White House event to launch the Welfare to Work Partnership, which was formed by the five CEOs you praised in the State of the Union. You will announce that 25 or more additional companies have accepted your challenge to hire welfare recipients. We also plan to have you announce your commitment to ensure that funds are available for innovative transportation efforts to ensure that welfare recipients can get to work. You would announce pilot grants to 25 states to develop welfare to work transportation plans and promote your proposal to provide $600 million in welfare to work funds (part of your NEXTEA transportation bill). We may be able to also announce that some of the companies present would commit to providing matching funds for such welfare-to-work transportation efforts.

3. Education Town Hall Meeting: We are working to arrange an “Education Town Hall Meeting” focused on your national testing initiative, and designed to provide you with an opportunity to explain what high standards are really all about -- perhaps by literally working through a couple of sample test items from NAEP. You would then take questions from an audience of educators, parents and students. We are exploring a number of possible locations for this event, with Kentucky the leading contender at the moment.

4. National Testing Initiative: Last week Mike Cohen met separately with Rep. Frank Riggs, who chairs the House subcommittee on Early Childhood, Youth and Families, and with Rep. Dale Kildee. Both are strong supporters of your testing initiative. In addition, Secretary Riley testified before Mr. Riggs’ subcommittee on this issue. These were mainly positive developments, though they also helped to define the nature of the opposition we will face on Capitol Hill. There is strong support among House Democrats on this committee for your initiative, including from George Miller, Tim Romer, and Patsy Mink, in addition to Dale Kildee. On the Republican side, Frank Riggs and Mike Castle are strong supporters. However, Mr. Goodling has apparently reversed his previous position of support, and has now expressed serious concerns over this initiative, on the grounds that the tests would lead to the ranking of individual schools. In addition, both Mr. Goodling and Mr. Riggs argued that a move to national testing ought to involve Congressional authorization (though Mr. Riggs concedes that we already have general statutory authority to undertake the development of the tests).

These developments do not suggest any change in our basic strategy to developing the tests and signing up states. However, we will work closely with Congressional supporters on both sides of the aisle to determine how best to move this initiative forward, including through the appropriations process, with the broadest base of support.

THE ECONOMY REMAINS ON THE RIGHT TRACK: LOW UNEMPLOYMENT AND STRONG JOB GROWTH

May 2, 1997

TODAY'S DATA SHOWS THAT THE UNEMPLOYMENT RATE HAS FALLEN TO ITS LOWEST LEVEL SINCE 1973. AND THE ECONOMY HAS CREATED MORE THAN 12 MILLION JOBS SINCE JANUARY 1993. THE ECONOMY CONTINUES TO EXPERIENCE STRONG GROWTH WITH LOW INFLATION.

- Unemployment -- At 4.9% -- Is the Lowest Since 1973.
 - The April unemployment rate reached 4.9 -- its 32nd consecutive month below 6 and the lowest monthly rate since 1973. In 1992, the unemployment rate was 7.5. [Source: BLS.]
 - The combined rate of unemployment and inflation has been lower under President Clinton than any other Administration since Lyndon Johnson was President. [Source: Based on data from BLS.]
- 12.1 Million New Jobs.
 - During the Clinton Administration, the economy has added 12.1 million new jobs -- a faster annual rate of job growth than any Republican Administration since the Roaring 1920s. [Source: Based on data from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, Current Employment Statistics survey.]
 - The economy has added 2.7 million jobs over the past year.
- Strong Private-Sector Job Growth.
 - Over the past year, the private sector has added 2.5 million jobs -- almost twice the private-sector jobs than during the entire four-year period before President Clinton took office. [Source: Based on data from BLS.]
 - 93 percent of the 12.1 million new jobs under President Clinton have been in the private sector. [Source: Based on data from BLS.]
- Turning The Corner In Basic American Industries.
 - After losing 667,000 jobs in construction during the previous four years, 1,054,000 new construction jobs have been added since January 1993 -- that's a faster annual rate than any other Administration since Harry S Truman was President.
 - After losing 35,000 jobs in the auto industry during the Bush years, we have 100,000 new auto jobs since President Clinton took office. [Source: Bureau of Labor Statistics, Current Employment Statistics survey.]

THIS WEEK, WE ALSO LEARNED THAT THE ECONOMY GREW BY 5.6 PERCENT AT AN ANNUAL RATE IN THE FIRST QUARTER -- THE FASTEST IN A DECADE -- WHILE INFLATIONARY PRESSURES REMAIN LOW. EXPERTS AGREE THAT THE AMERICAN ECONOMY IS STRONG:

- Allen Sinai, one of America's top economic forecasters, 4/30/97: "Job growth is good. Real income is rising. Sentiment is high. Unemployment is the lowest in years. Times are good for American consumers."
- Mickey Levy, chief economist, NationsBank, 2/1/97: "It's really the best of all worlds. Growth at a healthy pace, but with the economy not overheating and continued very favorable news on inflation."
- Paul Volcker, former Chairman of the Federal Reserve, 8/3/96: "It's been a remarkable period of steady growth, low inflation and low unemployment."

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: BRUCE REED, CYNTHIA RICE, AND DIANA FORTUNA
SUBJECT: COLLEGE AND WELFARE WORK REQUIREMENTS

You asked about reports that welfare recipients enrolled in college are dropping out or being asked to drop out in order to go to work and help states meet the welfare law's work requirements.

The welfare law does not require states to tell clients to drop out of school -- although some jurisdictions, such as New York City, have done so. (New York City has moved aggressively to require welfare recipients to participate in community work experience jobs such as cleaning parks. This was done not as a result of the Federal welfare law, but at the initiative of Mayor Giuliani. As a result, the number of students on welfare enrolled at the City University of New York has reportedly fallen from 29,000 to 18,000.)

The following are some of the ways in which states can accommodate welfare clients who wish to stay in school:

- Colleges could make it easier for students on welfare to work 20 or 30 hours a week and still attend school. Many Americans work their way through college: Department of Education statistics show that in 1993, 38% of undergraduates worked at least 35 hours a week, while 16% worked between 21 and 34 hours a week. Colleges could make it easier for welfare recipients to combine work and college by providing work study opportunities that meet the work requirements. Although most colleges limit work study to 10 to 15 hours a week, there is no limit in federal law -- colleges can provide as many hours as needed to meet the student's financial need. A student could also work 15 hours a week in an on-campus work study job and 15 hours a week in a private-sector, off-campus job subsidized by her welfare check.

We recommend sending colleges a letter from Secretaries Riley and Shalala to clarify that colleges can use work study to help students on welfare meet their work requirements and still complete their degree. Jonathan Alter has also suggested a novel way for colleges to help with welfare reform. He recommends that colleges stop putting work study students to work in kitchens and dining halls and send them into communities to be tutors and mentors. That, in turn, would free up a number of entry-level jobs on campus that could be used to hire people off welfare (whose wages in some cases could be subsidized by their welfare checks).

- States could encourage recipients to attend vocational post-secondary training, which can be counted for up to 12 months in the state's participation rate. Overall, no more than 20 percent of individuals can be counted as working by participating in vocational training or secondary school, and in many states much of that 20% will be made up of teenage parents finishing high school.

- States could put college students in separate state programs to which the work rates do not apply. Under the law states could use savings from welfare reform (from dropping caseloads or the fact that they need maintain only 75% of historic state spending to get the TANF block grant) to set up separate state programs in which they could support welfare recipients in college. Currently, work rates do not apply to either 1) programs funded by completely separate state dollars or 2) programs funded by "maintenance of effort" dollars which states spend in order to get the TANF block grant. We have argued that the work rates should apply to the latter, which is integrally related to the federal program, lest states structure their programs to significantly undermine the work rates. This change would require legislation. However, even if work rates applied to the "maintenance of effort" programs, states could use the savings from welfare reform to fund separate state programs for college students.

TEXAS WELFARE MEETING Q&As
5/2/97

Automated Records Management System

Question: I understand that Texas Health and Human Services Commissioner McKinney complained bitterly today after his meeting with Deputy HHS Secretary Kevin Thurm, accusing the Administration of selling out to the unions by refusing to grant the state of Texas' request to privatize their welfare programs. Do you have any comment?

Answer: We're disappointed that the Commissioner characterized the meeting as unproductive. The agencies presented some new options to the state today, and we hope we can come to some understanding soon.

Question: Why has it taken the Administration so long to give Texas an answer?

Answer: The Texas proposal is a very complicated project involving multiple federal programs and agencies. There were a great many legal questions to consider. And we want to make sure that the decision we reach is right and will protect families who rely on Medicaid and Food Stamps.

You may want to put something in the weekly about the fact that the DPC organized a reception for the Police Executive Research Forum (PERF) on May 1, 1997. The 250 police chiefs who attended are the most prominent and influential voices in the law enforcement community throughout the country. Rahm Emanuel and Joe Brann, Director of the COPS Program, spoke to the group about key elements of the Administration's juvenile justice legislation and elements of the budget effecting law enforcement. Bill Bratton received PERF's Annual Leadership Award.

The supplemental approps bill is apparently going to be on the Senate floor very soon. Given today's meeting at HHS, Hutchison will likely offer her amendment to grant Texas whatever it wants. We should decide:

- 1) What will our Statement of Administration position be on the supplemental?
- 2) What materials do we want to give our allies in the Congress to help them defeat the Texas proposal?
- 3) Are we willing to negotiate to avoid getting stuck with the complete Texas privatization?

Here is my contribution to the weekly report.

Weekly Report

1. Education Town Hall Meeting: We are working to arrange an Education Town Hall Meeting focused on your national testing initiative, and designed to provide you with an opportunity to explain what high standards are really all about -- perhaps by literally working through a couple of sample test items from NAEP. You would then take questions from an audience of educators, parents and students. We are exploring a number of possible locations for this event, with Kentucky the leading contender at the moment.

2. National Testing Initiative: Last week Mike Cohen met separately with Rep. Frank Riggs, who chairs the House subcommittee on Early Childhood, Youth and Families, and with Rep. Dale Kildee. Both are strong supporters of your testing initiative. In addition, Secretary Riley testified before Mr. Riggs's subcommittee on this issue. These were mainly positive developments, though they also helped to define the nature of the opposition we will face on Capitol Hill. There is strong support among House Democrats on this committee for your initiative, including from George Miller, Tim Romer, and Patsy Mink, in addition to Dale Kildee. On the Republican side, Frank Riggs and Mike Castle are strong supporters. However, Mr. Goodling has apparently reversed his previous position of support, and has now expressed serious concerns over this initiative, on the grounds that the tests would lead to the ranking of individual schools. In addition, both Mr. Goodling and Mr. Riggs argued that a move to national testing ought to involve Congressional authorization (though Mr. Riggs concedes that we already have general statutory authority to undertake the development of the tests).

These developments do not suggest any change in our basic strategy to developing the tests and signing up states. However, we will work closely with Congressional supporters on both sides of the aisle to determine how best to move this initiative forward, including through the appropriations process, with the broadest base of support.

Weekly Item on Displacement

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

You asked whether there are protections in the welfare law to prevent worker displacement. The law expressly forbids federally-subsidized welfare reform programs from placing welfare recipients in job openings created by company layoffs, terminations, or involuntary reductions of the workforce (section 407(f) of the law). Welfare recipients can, however, be placed in jobs that are vacant for reasons other than firings or layoffs (openings created, for example, by attrition or the cancellation of a vendor contract). Moreover, while states must have a grievance procedure for resolving complaints of alleged displacement, the law does not require specific procedures or proscribe penalties for state violations, leading some to argue that the prohibition against displacement is unenforceable.

Thus, the April 23rd USA Today editorial was correct in saying, "The law bars employer from firing existing workers to hire welfare recipients whose compensation is subsidized by the state. But its intent can be defeated by reducing hours, wages or benefits for existing workers or terminating outside contracts; workfare recipients can then fill vacancies."

During Senate consideration of the welfare legislation, Senator Rockefeller, with some help from Republicans like Senator D'Amato, fought unsuccessfully to strengthen this provision.

Weekly Item on Welfare to Work Partnership

We have made plans with Eli Segal for a May 20th White House event to launch the Welfare to Work Partnership, which was formed by the five CEOs you praised in the State of the Union. You will announce that 25 or more additional companies have accepted your challenge to hire welfare recipients. We also plan to have you announce your commitment to ensure that funds are available for innovative transportation efforts to ensure that welfare recipients can get to work. You would announce pilot grants to 25 states to develop welfare to work transportation plans and promote your proposal to provide $600 million in welfare to work funds (part of your NEXTEA transportation bill). We may be able to also announce that some of the companies present would commit to providing matching funds for such welfare-to-work transportation efforts.

President Clinton Delivers the First Balanced Budget in A Generation Historic Agreement Promotes the Country's Priorities

President Clinton has achieved a balanced budget agreement that includes critical investments in education, health care, and the environment while strengthening and modernizing Medicare and Medicaid -- just as he promised last year. We have cut the deficit 63% -- from $290 billion in 1992 to $107 billion last year. This historic achievement will finish the job, giving the American people the first balanced budget in a generation, while meeting the President's goals.

GOAL: To ensure that every 8 year-old can read, every 12 year-old can log on to the Internet, and every 18 year-old can go to college.

- Largest Pell Grant increase in two decades -- 4 million students will receive a grant of up to $3,000, an increase of $300 in the maximum grant.
- $35 billion of tax cuts targeted to higher education to make college more affordable for America's families.
- An America Reads initiative to mobilize a million tutors to help three million children learn to read by the end of the third grade.
- Expansion of Head Start -- to achieve goal of one million kids in 2002.
- Doubles funding to help schools integrate innovative technology into the curriculum.

GOAL: Expand health coverage for as many as 5 million uncovered children.

- Medicaid improvements and added Medicaid investments.
- A new capped mandatory grant program that provides additional dollars to supplement states efforts to cover uninsured children in working families.

GOAL: Secure and strengthen Medicare and Medicaid

- Extends the solvency of Medicare Trust Fund to at least 2007 through long overdue structural reforms.
- Expands coverage of critical preventive treatments of diseases such as diabetes and breast cancer.
- Preserves the federal Medicaid guarantee of coverage to our nation's most vulnerable people.

GOAL: Strengthen environmental protection and enforcement

- Accelerates Superfund cleanups by almost 500 sites by the year 2000.
- Expands the Brownfield Redevelopment Initiative to help communities cleanup and redevelop contaminated areas.
- Boosts environmental enforcement to protect public health from environmental threats.

GOAL: Move people from welfare to work and treat legal immigrants fairly

- A Welfare-to-Work tax credit to help long-term welfare recipients to get jobs.
- Restores disability and health benefits for legal immigrants.
- Restores Medicaid coverage for poor legal immigrant children.
- Preserves food stamp benefits for people willing to work.
- Provides States and cities with additional resources to move disadvantaged recipients into jobs.

GOAL: Cut taxes for America's hard working families

- A Child Tax Credit to make it easier for families to raise their kids.
- $35 billion of tax cuts targeted to higher education to make college more affordable
- A Welfare-to-Work tax credit to help long-term welfare recipients get jobs.
- Establishes additional Empowerment Zones and Enterprise Communities.

TEXT:

I showed the version we both had to Robert Malley at NSC (who did the drafting)-- he confirmed that this was the most recent draft going into today's meeting. He said Sylvia's draft was older than what we had. He said he would get us talking points with today's revisions.

Were you planning on getting him the language on the budget? I can be responsible for getting it to him if you prefer.

As a mea culpa, I realized that during my rambling description yesterday of the suspension of deportation provision, I erroneously talked about the case-by-case waiver, which instead applies to bars on admission and re-entry. (Yes, that annoying sound is my head hitting my computer!)

Let me know how you want to handle getting NSC the buget language. Thanks.
