TALKING POINTS ON BALANCED BUDGET AGREEMENT
Friday, May 9, 1997

We're moving ahead on the agreement. There are significant details to be worked out, but we are optimistic that the basic framework of the bipartisan agreement will be respected.

The agreement is a strong affirmation of the President's economic policies: economic growth with fiscal responsibility. That combination -- the tough choices to produce a 75% cut in the deficit and the highest economic growth in a decade -- made it possible to reach a balanced budget.

This is a balanced budget that reflects our values. This budget agreement, which reaches balance in 2002, follows the approach of the President's '93 economic plan -- cutting the deficit while investing in our people:

- It opens the doors to education wider than ever;
- It modernizes and strengthens Medicare and Medicaid;
- It gives health care to up to 5 million uninsured children;
- It helps protect the environment;
- It helps move people from welfare to work;
- It includes tax relief to help families raise their children and send them to college.

The numbers are real. Our economic assumptions are very conservative, and fully in line with private sector predictions. Every year for the past four years, the administration's projections have been more conservative than actual economic growth. This agreement builds on that solid record.

Advisory Commission on Consumer Rights and Quality in the Health Care Industry.

Next Tuesday, the Quality Commission will hold its first meeting. As the Commission's co-chairs, Secretary Herman and Secretary Shalala will guide the Commission through a packed agenda of work items including: (1) Reading a letter from you commending the Commission on its preliminary work plan, which has a heavy emphasis on responding to your "consumer bill of rights" challenge; (2) Announcing the three remaining unnamed Commission members (one labor and two business slot appointments, assuming they clear through Counsel's office); (3) Swearing in all the Members; (4) Receiving testimony from consumer and business representatives to illustrate the Commission's commitment to the quality and consumer protection concerns of this constituency; and (5) reviewing, editing, and adopting the Commission's formal work plan. We expect the first meeting to receive a great deal of media interest and are encouraging the Commission staff to emphasize the priority you place on the quality and consumer protection issue.

Esteemed Crime Colleagues:

Bert at Justice called me a bit earlier to say that the Supreme Court will be announcing some decisions Monday at 10am. Brady may -- or may not -- be on the list. Perhaps we should prepare for a Monday fire drill -- particularly since I'm out of practice. Should we prepare a draft statement over the tonight or -- gasp! -- over the weekend?

Apparently the VP's office has finally set a date for the Brownfields announcement. It will be this Tuesday. The event will be in Washington, and will include, it is my understanding, Senator Daschle and the Mayor of Atlanta. However, I do not have all the details yet. I am letting the VP's office know that we have to see any policy paper and the speech before the event, to make sure it is consistent with what the DPC and OMB have signed off on.

TEXT:

I asked Karl Scholz, the DAS in Treasury who is overseeing the IRS work for FLSA, about the timing of their work. He said he will get me a hard estimate of when the IRS will be ready on Monday. But he complained that we are expecting too rapid a turnaround, said that DOL had 6 months to ponder their position, said he had tried in vain to alert folks here (Elena and Ken) a few months ago that Treasury needed to get involved, and that he suspects the IRS won't be ready with paper next week. He said they do understand that this is a very high priority.

We agreed that rather than duking it out about a theoretical timeline, he would first get us a realistic timeline and then we could fight about it if we want to.

So not an encouraging start, but let's see what he says on Monday.

DRAFT

I. Incarceration of juveniles with adults in the federal system

Under the Administration's proposed legislation, the "Anti-Gang and Youth Violence Act of 1997", juveniles prosecuted as juveniles could not be housed with adults until they reach age 18, regardless of the offense. Moreover, no juvenile under age 16 who has been charged or convicted as an adult can be housed with an adult under the proposed bill. Juveniles prosecuted as adults can be housed with adults after they reach the age of 16, at the discretion of the Bureau of Prisons.

As juveniles have become increasingly violent, housing dangerous juveniles with other juveniles can endanger younger, and sometimes more vulnerable, delinquents. The Administration believes it is more appropriate to give federal prison authorities the ability to be flexible depending upon the needs of the individual defendant.

II. Prosecution of more juveniles as adults

The current process for determining whether a juvenile will be prosecuted as an adult or as a juvenile is often highly unpredictable and fraught with delay. This is unduly burdensome on victims, witnesses and the court system.

Whereas the Administration's bill does not add any new offenses for which a juvenile can be charged in federal court, it does expand the circumstances where a juvenile can be charged as an adult by giving federal prosecutors the discretion to transfer juvenile offenders to adult criminal court. It should be noted that except for the most serious juvenile offenders, age 16 and older, juveniles charged as adults may petition the court to be tried as juveniles rather than adults.

III. More mandatory minimum sentences for juveniles

The Administration's legislation increases mandatory minimum sentences from one year to three years for three narrowly targeted crimes: selling drugs to minors; using minors to distribute drugs; and trafficking drugs in or near a school or other protected location. The Administration believes that the proposed increases are necessary to punish persons who endanger children by selling illegal drugs to them, or employ or otherwise use them in their drug trade, and to deter others from engaging in such reprehensible and dangerous conduct.

Under the Administration's proposal, judges sentencing youths aged 13 to 15-years old who are convicted in adult court and do not have previous serious violent felony or serious drug offense convictions may sentence them as juveniles-- avoiding mandatory minimum penalties entirely.

IV. Availability of public records

President Clinton has had a longstanding commitment to fight for the rights of victims of crime. The Administration's bill contains important protections for the rights of victims, including the victims of crimes committed by juvenile offenders. The bill clarifies current law by extending to victims of juvenile offenders the right to information about the juvenile proceeding that they might need or be entitled to under state or federal law. For example, victims would be able find out about the status of the proceedings, or the release status of the offender. Fingerprints and photographs of adjudicated delinquents found to have committed the equivalent of an adult felony offense or a federal gun offense would be sent to the FBI and made available in the same manner as those of adult defendants.

The Administration believes these changes represent a fair balance between maintaining important protections for juveniles and expanding the information available to their victims.

TEXT:

AMA's Board of Trustees quietly released to selected Members of Congress today a new study reviewing the scientific literature on abortion and making 5 recommendations.

The following are highlights.

* AMA reaffirms current policy regarding abortion: the early termination of pregnancy is a medical matter between the patient and physician subject to the physician's clinical judgement, the patient's informed consent.

* The term 'partial birth abortion' is not a medical term and won't be used by the AMA. They will use the term "intact dilatation and extraction."

* According to the scientific literature, there does not appear to be any identified situation in which intact D&X is the only appropriate procedure to induce abortion, and ethical concerns have been raised about intact D&X. The D&X procedure not be used unless alternative procedures pose materially greater risk to the woman. The physician must, however, retain the discretion to make that judgement, acting within standards of good medical practice and in the best interest of the patient.

* The viability of the fetus and the time when viability is achieved may vary with each pregnancy.

* That abortions not be performed in the third trimester except in cases of serious fetal anomalies incompatible with life. Although third-trimester abortions can be performed to preserve the life or health of the mother, they are, in fact, generally not necessary for those purposes. Except in extraordinary circumstances, maternal health factors which demand termination of the pregnancy can be accommodated without sacrifice of the fetus, and the near certainty of the independent viability of the fetus argues for ending the pregnancy by appropriate delivery/

* The AMA will work with ACOG, AAP to develop clinical guidelines for induced abortions after the 22nd week of gestation.

* AMA urges CDC and state health dept to develop expanded, ongoing data surveillance systems of induced abortions.

* AMA will work with appropriate medical specialty societies, government agencies, private foundation, and other interested groups to educate the public regarding pregnancy prevention strategies.

Draft letter for Erskine's response to CBC -- May 9, 1997, 3:49PM

May 9, 1997

The Honorable Maxine Waters
Chairwoman
Congressional Black Caucus
2344 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Ms. Waters:

I appreciate the opportunity to meet with you and the entire Congressional Black Caucus (CBC) earlier this week. I believe that it is extremely important for this Administration to maintain strong lines of communication with the CBC. The President and I are committed to working with you to advance policies which are beneficial to the African-American community.

As you recall, a number of questions were raised on a wide range of topics at our meeting. As I promised, I have attached answers to the questions which were left outstanding at the end of our meeting. In addition, I have attached a budget agreement fact sheet on areas of the budget of particular interest to you and your CBC colleagues. I hope that this information is helpful. I look forward to your upcoming meeting with the President and working closely with you in the future.

Sincerely,

Erskine Bowles

1. What is the Administration doing in response to Prop 209, e.g., will the Administration still award states with federal contract dollars even if the state is not implementing affirmative action programs, etc.?

The President has stated his opposition to state referenda which abolish affirmative action at the state level, and, in keeping with this position, the Justice Department has joined in the challenge to Prop 209 in California. The U.S. is a party to the case as amicus curiae and had argued forcefully at the Preliminary Injunction stage that Prop. 209 was unconstitutional. Unfortunately, a three-judge panel of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals recently overturned a district court injunction which had stayed implementation of Proposition 209, ruling that the initiative was constitutional. Obviously, we are disappointed with the panel's decision.

The plaintiffs in the Prop. 209 litigation have petitioned for a rehearing of the panel's decision before the Fifth Circuit as a whole. The Justice Department has continued as amicus in this petition and fully expects to continue as a party in the case through any further appeals.

Notwithstanding the outcome of the Prop. 209 litigation, the Administration will require institutions in California to comply with all Federal laws, including those which require affirmative action, and we have made this clear to these institutions. Further, Prop. 209 itself contains a provision exempting from its reach those institutions which are complying with Federal affirmative action programs as a condition of receiving a Federal grant.

2. Why is SBA's 8(a) program included in the federal procurement regulations?

Our proposed system for reforming federal procurement sets out a framework under which an annual comparison of the availability and use of small disadvantaged businesses will determine whether race conscious means, such as price or evaluation credits, will be permitted to help increase opportunities for these firms.

Many commentators to our proposal have asserted that we should not include contracts awarded under the 8(a) program in the reform framework. First, we believe that it is critical that the availability of SDB's in an industry not be undercounted so that we can make an accurate determination of the level of federal utilization of such firms that would be appropriate. As such, minority firms in the 8(a) program must be counted in the capacity or "benchmark" numbers. Only by determining how much minority participation in contracting exists, through all means, can we figure out the extent to which race-conscious means continue to be needed in a particular industry.

Second, as proposed, the SBA Administrator will have the authority to decide what steps are needed, if any, to limit the use of the 8(a) program in a particular industry where SDB participation exceeds an industry benchmark. However, the Administrator will not be required to take such steps -- the benchmark numbers will serve as a guide to the Administrator, not a mandate. Nevertheless, we believe strongly that some limited reform of 8(a) is needed to ensure the continued vitality of the program. The 8(a) program does consider race as a factor in determining eligibility -- small minority firms are allowed the presumption of being socially disadvantaged under the program. As such, although the Justice Department continues to vigorously defend 8(a) in court as constitutional, we believe that the substantial risk of future court rulings unfavorable to the program greatly outweighs the costs of this limited reform.

SBA will be explaining how it intends to implement this limited reform in proposed regulations they will issue in a few weeks. Their proposed rule will also be published for comment in the Federal Register and is expected to be finalized later this year.

3. Please clarify the Administration's position on set-asides, e.g., is there still a moratorium on set-asides?

The primary SDB set-aside program authorized by existing contracting regulations, the Department of Defense's "Rule of Two," was suspended in light of Adarand in October 1995, and remains so. Under the Justice Department's May 1996 proposal, the suspension on the use of set-asides such as the Rule of Two would have remained in place for at least two years after the implementation of the reformed system. The proposal contemplated that after two years we would evaluate the system to consider whether set-asides might be appropriate if the new system clearly was unable to remedy persistent and substantial underutilization of minority firms in particular industries resulting from past or present discrimination.

Many comments to the Justice Department's May 1996 proposal suggested that the two-year moratorium was too inflexible. We agreed that whether to permit set-aside contracts in any industry should not turn on the lapse of any particular period of time, but on the amount and strength of the evidence regarding the effectiveness of the new system in that industry. In cases where this rigorous standard is met, the use of set-asides can be considered.

4. DOT programs are not included in these federal procurement regs. What will DOT be issuing on its own?

The Department of Transportation will soon be issuing a Supplemental Notice of Proposed Rulemaking concerning its disadvantaged business enterprise (DBE) program. This program operates through state and local governments that receive DOT financial assistance for highway, transit, and airport projects.

DOT will give the public 60 days to comment on the proposed regulations and we expect that they will be finalized later this year. DOT's DBE program, which Congress established in 1982, sets a nationwide goal that, unless the Secretary determines otherwise, at least 10% of the amounts appropriated for Federally-assisted highway transit and airport projects be expended with small business concerns owned and controlled by socially and economically disadvantaged individuals. The department retained the current legislative language in its NEXTEA bill, which the President recently submitted to Congress.

DOT has developed its proposed regulations in response to the Supreme Court's June 20, 1995, decision in Adarand Constructors v. Peña and President Clinton's July 15 directive to mend affirmative action programs. In addressing these issues, the proposed regulations will: (1) propose several alternative methods by which recipients establish DBE goals; (2) advise recipients to give priority to race-neutral measures, like outreach and technical assistance, in meeting these goals; and (3) provide recipients more flexibility in determining what mechanisms to use in addressing discrimination in contracting. The proposal also provides clearer program eligibility standards and reduces burdens on small businesses and state and local governments.

5. Under the guise of efficiency this Administration has created an environment where consolidation or bundling of contracts is viewed as more cost efficient. As a result, small businesses, especially minority small businesses have been unable to compete against larger businesses that have more resources, bonding and personnel. What is the Administration's position on contract bundling and does it plan to continue this practice?

There are many situations where the government is able to achieve dramatic price reductions by leveraging its buying power as a large purchaser. For example, in consolidating a number of contracts for pharmaceuticals, the Veterans Administration has achieved price savings of as much as 75% compared with prices they were previously paying. The government is able to obtain Federal Express delivery for a three-pound package that retails at $27 for $3.62 by aggregating our buying power. Especially in a tight budget environment where excessively high contract costs come at the expense of needed money for public programs, it would be unconscionable to forego the ability to obtain these price discounts from quantity buying.

However, there are also legitimate concerns about situations where combining smaller service contracts into larger contract vehicles not only hurts the ability of small businesses to compete for government business, but also deprives agencies of the services of businesses that would otherwise be able to provide high-quality services at advantageous prices. The Administration is therefore aggressively formulating a whole series of countermeasures to preserve the ability of competitive small and minority-owned businesses to serve government customers. Examples of these countermeasures include: (1) increased use of small-business and 8(a) prime contract set asides incorporated into multiple-award aggregated contracts, a technique that has already been used by the Department of Transportation and the Air Force; (2) streamlining of the 8(a) contract award process, so award of 8(a) contracts can be as streamlined as the award of task orders under large aggregated contracts; (3) a new ability for the government to award service contracts up to $100,000 to small businesses using far more streamlined procedures; (4) expansion of the GSA services schedule to more small and minority-owned businesses, so these businesses have a contract vehicle available that allows them streamlined access to government customers outside large aggregated contracts; and (5) aggressive efforts in regulation to provide various ways to increase the participation of small and minority-owned businesses in service subcontracting. We believe that this aggressive approach is the best way to deal with legitimate concerns without depriving the taxpayer and the consumers of government programs of the benefits of consolidated contracting when it provides advantageous pricing and service.

6. Why is the Administration supporting the incarceration of juveniles with adults?

Under the Administration's proposed legislation, the "Anti-Gang and Youth Violence Act of 1997", juveniles prosecuted as juveniles could not be housed with adults until they reach age 18, regardless of the offense. Moreover, no juvenile under age 16 who has been charged or convicted as an adult, can be housed with an adult under the proposed bill. Juveniles prosecuted as adults can be housed with adults after they reach the age of 16, at the discretion of the Bureau of Prisons.

As juveniles have become increasingly violent, however, housing such dangerous juveniles with other juveniles can endanger younger, and sometimes more vulnerable, delinquents. The Administration believes it is more appropriate to give federal prison authorities the ability to be flexible depending upon the needs of the individual defendant.

7. Why is the Administration supporting the prosecution of more juveniles as adults?

The current process for determining whether a juvenile will be prosecuted as an adult or as a juvenile is often highly unpredictable. The Administration's bill does not add any new offenses for which a juvenile can be charged in federal court.

However, the Administration bill does expand the circumstances where a juvenile can be charged as an adult by giving federal prosecutors the discretion to transfer juvenile offenders to adult criminal court. It should be noted that except for the most serious juvenile offenders, age 16 and older, juveniles charged as adults may petition the court to be tried as juveniles rather than adults.

8. Why is the Administration supporting more mandatory minimum sentences for juveniles?

The Administration's legislation increases mandatory minimum sentences from one year to three years for three narrowly targeted crimes: selling drugs to minors; using minors to distribute drugs; and trafficking drugs in or near a school or other protected location. The Administration believes that the proposed increases are necessary to punish persons who endanger children by selling illegal drugs to them, or employ or otherwise use them in their drug trade, and to deter others from engaging in such reprehensible and dangerous conduct.

The mandatory minimum sentences could apply to juveniles who are prosecuted as adults. However, it should be noted that "safety valves" on mandatory sentences may be applied to 13-15 year olds in certain circumstances.

9. Why is the Administration supporting making public the records of individuals prosecuted as juveniles?

President Clinton has had a longstanding commitment to fight for the rights of victims of crime. The Administration's bill contains important protections for the rights of victims, including the victims of crimes committed by juvenile offenders. The bill clarifies current law by extending to victims of juvenile offenders the right to information about the juvenile proceeding that they might need or be entitled to under state or federal law. For example, victims would be able find out about the status of the proceedings, or the release status of the offender. Fingerprints and photographs of adjudicated delinquents found to have committed the equivalent of an adult felony offense or a federal gun offense would be sent to the FBI and made available in the same manner applicable to adult defendants.

The Administration believes these changes represent a fair balance between maintaining important protections for juveniles and expanding the information available to their victims.

10. What is the Administration's policy on Africa, e.g., Zaire and Sudan?

ZAIRE

Our goal is to support the emergence of a peaceful, stable, democratic and prosperous Zaire in which human rights are respected. To this end, the U.S. continues actively to assist South African and UN efforts to facilitate a non-violent transition from the Government of President Mobutu to an inclusive transitional governing authority mandated to restore the economy and conduct democratic elections in a reasonable, fixed time frame. We continue to press the warring parties in Zaire and their supporters to respect human rights and provide full support and access to international humanitarian organizations seeking to assist and repatriate refugees. We are engaging the Alliance leadership in an on-going dialogue to encourage the adoption of responsible policies with respect to democracy, governance, human rights and economic management. We have also made clear that the extent of U.S. and international support for any new government will depend to a significant degree on the manner in which it comes to power and its current and future policies and practices.

SUDAN

The Government of Sudan (GOS) poses a direct threat to U.S. national security interests. Through its support for terrorism, its efforts to destabilize friendly neighboring states, prosecution of the civil war and persistent human rights abuses (including slavery), the GOS has consistently engaged in destructive activities that are contrary to international norms. Our policy objective is to isolate Sudan and contain the threat it poses to its neighbors and others in the international community. Through a combination of pressure and limited dialogue, we aim also to try to change the behavior of the GOS. The U.S. has placed the GOS on the terrorist list and applied unilateral sanctions consistent with that designation. The U.S. also supports multilateral sanctions against Sudan in the UN Security Council. In addition, the U.S. is providing approximately $20 million in defensive, non-lethal military assistance to Ethiopia, Eritrea and Uganda—neighboring states which face Sudanese-sponsored insurgencies. Finally, the U.S. supports regional efforts under the auspices of the Intergovernmental Authority on Development (IGAD) to broker a peaceful resolution to the civil conflict in Sudan and continues to provide substantial humanitarian assistance to the UN and NGOs to save the lives of southern Sudanese civilians.

11. The Lomé Convention guarantees the Caribbean countries banana preferences until 2002. Will the U.S. place a moratorium on the implementation of the World Trade Organization (WTO) banana decision until 2002?

The U.S. is but one of five complainants in the case and the others will not agree to a long implementation period. Also, it would set a bad precedent relative to the EU's implementation of other panel decisions, like the recently announced interim panel on Beef Hormones, which the U.S. is desperate for the EU to implement.

In addition, the WTO dispute settlement process states that the indicative maximum period for implementation after adoption of the report is 15 months. For the sake of the WTO system and U.S. export interests in other areas, 15 months must be the maximum; we are likely to seek a shorter period, since the EU has known for years of the problems.

The House vote is scheduled for tomorrow after it comes back into session at 2. The Senate will probably wrap things up later in the afternoon, but as of this weekend no time agreement had been reached. We should know more about this in the morning.

One of the main potential obstacles had been an amendment that Sen. Boxer was threatening to drop on the issue of serving disabled kids in prisons. My impression is that she has backed off, but wants a colloquy on the issue.

I have made a couple of changes in the draft press statement (attached) to reflect final passage, so it will be ready to go when the bill is.

STATEMENT ON HOUSE AND SENATE PASSAGE OF INDIVIDUALS WITH DISABILITIES EDUCATION ACT (IDEA) REAUTHORIZATION LEGISLATION --
DRAFT -- May 12, 1997

I am pleased that the House and Senate today took a major step toward ensuring high quality educational opportunities for all students by voting to reauthorize the IDEA. Over the last 20 years, the IDEA has made it possible for young people with disabilities to reach their full potential, and this legislation strengthens and reaffirms our commitment to these children and their parents. This legislation is the result of a remarkable process involving hard work by congressional Democrats and Republicans, the Department of Education, and representatives of the education and disability communities. I look forward to signing this legislation into law, and I hope that we can continue in this bipartisan spirit and move forward on the rest of our agenda to improve education and prepare America for the 21st Century.

THE INDIVIDUALS WITH DISABILITIES EDUCATION ACT (IDEA)

DRAFT -- May 12, 1997

For over 20 years, the IDEA has guaranteed a free, appropriate public education to students with disabilities; IDEA currently assists over 5.7 million students across the U.S. to reach their full potential. The reauthorization legislation approved by the House and Senate today, with the strong support of the President, strengthens and reaffirms our Nation's commitment to disabled children and their parents.

The new legislation upgrades the IDEA in several ways:

A stronger emphasis on educational results. The new IDEA revises the content of student Individual Education Plans to better focus on enabling disabled children to participate and progress in the general curriculum. In addition, the new law reaffirms that all children with disabilities must be included in State and district assessments, with appropriate accommodations where necessary.

Better support for parents. Under the new IDEA, Parents will be more fully involved in student placement decisions. Moreover, the new law requires that parents receive report cards on the progress of their children as frequently as parents of non-disabled children.

Protecting the safety of all students in the classroom while retaining the essential rights and protections of disabled students. As proposed by the Administration, the new IDEA expands the authority of school officials to remove a child for up to 45 days for misconduct involving weapons or illegal drugs. The new law gives hearing officers the authority now reserved to courts to remove a child whose continued presence would pose a substantial risk of injury to the child or others. However, the reauthorization overrides a recent 4th Circuit decision on cessation of services, making clear that educational services may not be terminated for any child with a disability.

Reduced costs, paperwork, and litigation. The new IDEA gives school districts financial relief through new cost-sharing provisions, and reduces paperwork for teachers, school districts and States. In addition, parents and school authorities will be able to resolve disputes through new mediation mechanisms.

Improved funding formula. As proposed by the Administration, the reauthorization makes changes in the IDEA funding formula to diminish incentives to wrongly identify children as having a disability, although these changes would only take effect in future years as appropriations reach higher levels.

The new legislation is the product of a consensus-building process involving congressional Democrats and Republicans, the Department of Education, and representatives of the education and disability communities, and shows how bipartisan cooperation can help achieve important national goals.

Talking Points on the IDEA Reauthorization - DRAFT May 12, 1997

The IDEA reauthorization bill that is likely to pass today, with the full support of the President, will strengthen and reaffirm our Nation's 20-year old commitment to disabled children and their parents.

The new law reflects many of the key principles outlined in the Administration's reauthorization proposal. The upgraded IDEA contains a stronger emphasis on educational results and provides better support for parents. The reauthorization also protects the safety of all students in the classroom while retaining the essential rights and protections of disabled students. In addition, the new IDEA has a modified funding formula to reduce incentives to wrongly identify children as having a disability.

IDEA legislation died a contentious death at the end of the last Congress, but today's vote shows what is possible when Democrats and Republicans put aside their differences and work to achieve important national goals. We hope to continue in this bipartisan spirit and move forward on the rest of our agenda to improve education and prepare America for the 21st Century.

Q: Do you think Majority Leader Lott and his staff deserve the credit for passing this legislation this time?

A: The Majority Leader and his chief of staff showed considerable leadership throughout this process, but this accomplishment would not have been possible without the hard work of a number of Democrats and Republicans from both the House and the Senate, and the Administration negotiating team, led by Assistant Secretary Judy Heumann (HUMAN). This group worked very closely with education groups and the disability community to get a consensus bill.

Q: What effect does this legislation have on Virginia's dispute with the Administration over services to disabled students who have been suspended or expelled?

A: The new IDEA has important provisions that protect the safety of all students in the classroom while retaining the essential rights and protections of disabled students. For example, the new law expands the authority of school officials to remove a child from the classroom for misconduct involving weapons or illegal drugs, and gives hearing officers authority (previously reserved to courts) to remove a child whose continued presence would pose a substantial risk of injury. With respect to Virginia, the reauthorization adopts the Administration's position, overriding a recent 4th Circuit decision and making clear that educational services may not be terminated for any child with a disability.

Q: Pete Wilson and others have criticized this bill because it still requires that long-term inmates get services, taking funds away from other students. Should Congress have prohibited services to this population?

A: In a compromise supported by California Republican Congressman Frank Riggs, the new IDEA strikes a reasonable balance on the issue of serving disabled youth in adult correctional facilities, allowing the Governor to transfer responsibility for these services to the State correctional agency and relieving the State from certain requirements of the law.

Q: Is this legislation supported by education groups and the disability community?

A: While nearly all groups involved in the negotiating process had to give up something to reach consensus, the new law has remarkably broad support among both education groups and disability rights advocates.

Q: How much does the Federal government spend on special education?

A: For FY 97, appropriations for State grants under IDEA (parts B and H) total $3.78 billion, up from $3 billion in FY 96. The Administration has proposed increasing state grants by an additional 4.3%, to a total of $3.95 billion, for FY 98.

[Q: Some Republicans contend that this bill is an unfunded mandate. Do you agree?]

[A: IDEA is clearly not an unfunded mandate as defined by the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act signed by the President.]

[Q: Does the Administration agree with Senator Gregg that the share of IDEA funding should increase to 40% of total costs?]

[A: The Administration agrees with Senator Gregg in principle that the federal government should pay a greater share of the costs of special education, and has consistently sought increases in funding for this program.]

THE WHITE HOUSE AT WORK

Monday, May 12, 1997

TODAY: VICE PRESIDENT RELEASES PLAN TO IMPROVE FOOD SAFETY

Today, Vice President Gore announces a five-point plan to strengthen and improve food safety for the American people, to better protect America's children and families:

- The plan will improve inspections, expand preventive safety measures, increase research to develop new tests that detect risks in the food supply, and build a national Early Warning System -- to catch outbreaks of foodborne illness sooner.
- Vice President Gore said: "When children reach for a piece of food, parents deserve to have peace of mind. This Administration is using the most modern science and a common-sense approach to increase the safety of our nation's food supply and protect the public health."

SATURDAY: PRESIDENT CHALLENGES CONGRESS TO GET TOUGH ON GUNS AND JUVENILE CRIME

In his weekly Radio Address, President Clinton challenged Congress to pass a juvenile justice bill that is tough on gangs, tough on guns, and includes targeted crime prevention to stop crime before it starts:

- The President's Juvenile Justice legislation would declare war on gangs with new prosecutors and tougher penalties; extend the Brady Bill so that someone who commits a violent crime as a juvenile is barred from buying a gun as an adult; require child safety locks to be sold with guns, and keep schools open after hours and on weekends.
- Last week's House-passed Juvenile Justice bill falls far short of that goal, because it is weak on guns and does not include targeted crime prevention.
- President Clinton made a special call for his measures to cut off young people's access to guns, now the third leading cause of death for young people between the ages of 13 and 24: "Not a single hunter would lose a gun because of child safety locks...but countless young lives would be saved if stolen guns became useless guns."

TOMORROW: FIRST MEETING OF NEW HEALTH CARE COMMISSION

The President's new Advisory Commission on Consumer Protection and Quality in the Health Care Industry, co-chaired by HHS Secretary Shalala and Labor Secretary Herman, holds its first meeting tomorrow:

- The Commission will begin its work to develop a "Patient's Bill of Rights" so patients get the information and care they need when they need it, and to recommend ways to ensure that the lower cost of many of today's health plans does not mean lower quality.

Per Melanne, you are now a member of the President's Commission on Women. They are having a meeting on Wednesday at the State Department with the First Lady, Albright, and Shalala. You will leave here at 1:00 and return around 3:00. I am trying to figure out who else from the WH is going if you want to ride over with any of them. I need to send your date of birth and social security number to the State Dept. to clear you in and I do not have that. Thanks.

Elena told me this morning that she will make sure that the collective bargaining memo gets to the President before the FOP event. We don't expect a decision, but at least he will be informed. Also, I spoke to Jim Pasco today, and he suggested I sit in on the Rahm meeting. Could you and Leanne check this w/Rahm? I probably won't make the 3pm.

TALKING POINTS ON 1997 COMMENCEMENT ADDRESSES

The President will deliver three commencement addresses, with a central theme of preparing America for the 21st Century. Each address will focus on a separate subject vital to the American people in the 21st Century, but also return to a broader message: the need to take advantage of the forces of change, so that they work for us, not against us.

- Morgan State -- Sunday, May 18 -- Science and Technology. Will reflect on the new wonders of science and technology and the Information Age -- but also the ethical dilemmas they pose and the need to harness them so that they work for us, not against us (e.g. computers vs. freedom of speech, cloning vs. natural selection).
- West Point -- Saturday, May 31 -- Foreign Policy Vision/NATO Enlargement. Will be one of the major foreign policy addresses of second term -- presenting the President's vision of the demands of American leadership in the 21st Century, making a strong case for NATO enlargement.

[Note: two days earlier in the Hague, the President will deliver a major address to the people of Europe on the future of American-European relations. West Point will be the President's major address to the American people on the same subject.]

- UC San Diego -- Saturday, June 14 -- Race and Reconciliation. Will focus on the need to remain strong as One America -- harnessing the increasing diversity of our nation as our greatest strength.

POSSIBLE POLICY ANNOUNCEMENTS FOR MAY

ALREADY SCHEDULED:

- FOP Event (5/15) -- 1) $1.2 million in new scholarships to the children of law enforcement officers slain in the line of duty, 2) new Brady forms (to prevent repeat of Empire State Building shootings), 3) new statistics on number of officers killed in line of duty, and possibly 4) announcement of completion by National Institute of Justice of prototype "smart gun" (gun that can be fired only within a certain distance of a wristband worn by owner, to protect police officers from being shot by their own guns).
- Mayors' Drug Conference (5/21) -- 1) Crackdown on narcotics money laundering by expanding the Geographic Targeting Order (successful program requiring financial institutions in New York to report information about certain cash transmissions to Columbia); 2) DOJ/ONDCP report marking one-year anniversary of President's methamphetamine strategy, plus call for follow-up initiatives, and/or 3) report on President's pilot program for drug testing in the federal criminal justice system, which will describe the success of the program and may call for its expansion.
- Education Town Meeting (5/22) -- State sign-ons to our standards/testing plan. West Virginia, Kentucky, Massachusetts, are definite; New York, New Jersey may come through as well (Missouri and Vermont now seem unlikely).

ADDITIONAL OPTIONS:

EDUCATION:

- Charter school report. Ready for release. A first-year evaluation of what is working, and what charter schools need to succeed (the answer is start-up funds, which the budget agreement may provide). Could be 5/17 Radio Address.
- DoE "tool-kit"/guide for schools on testing, raising standards, etc. This will be based on lessons learned from TIMMS. DoE had proposed issuing this on July 1; Cohen is checking to see if this could be ready for town hall.
- Bill-Signing of Individuals with Disabilities Education Act. Bipartisan special education bill, which could pass as soon as 5/15. (Should probably be full-blown bill signing, for disability community and to stress that education is bipartisan.)
- Read*Write*Now/summer reading initiative. In mid-May, DoE is planning to launch the summer reading component of America Reads, to combat summer fall-off in reading and reach 1.5 million children with the help of reading and tutoring groups.
- 100,000 High-Tech Computers Donated to Schools. OVP thinks we can soon join with a group of CEOs from the President's Corporate Commission on Educational Technology to announce an effort by the companies to bring advanced computer technology to our schools by donating 100,000 connected multimedia computers to schools across the country. (Opportunity to brag about E-Rate.) Probably not ready until June.

- Hispanic Dropout Report. In late May, the Department of Education will release the latest Hispanic dropout report. The report will likely contain mixed news, but will be accompanied by an action plan to attempt to tackle the high Hispanic dropout rate. (NEC is working on this.)
- Next Generation Internet. NSF will be ready to announce grants connecting 35 universities to its high-speed network (part of the President's Next Generation Internet initiative) in late May or June. Could be VOPTUS event.

LAW ENFORCEMENT/F.O.P. EVENT (5/15):

- HUD housing incentives for law enforcement officers to live in their communities.
1) "Homes for Peace Officers" plan, to give 40% discount on single-family homes in major cities for police and firefighters who live in communities where they work; and 2) new low-interest loans to facilitate home-ownership for police and teachers who agree to live where they work. (DPC is still working on these.)

WELFARE-TO-WORK/CEO EVENT (5/20):

- Welfare-to-Work Transportation Announcement. The President could announce pilot grants to 25 states to develop welfare-to-work transportation grants. At the same time, he can promote his proposal, contained in his NEXTEA bill, to provide $600 million for this purpose.

RADIO ADDRESS OPTIONS:

5/17 Radio Address: _____

5/24 Radio Address (Memorial Day): _____

5/31 Radio Address (morning of West Point speech): _____

- Child Support legislation. The President can announce (1) transmittal to Congress of an HHS report showing that child support collections have increased by 50% in the last four years; (2) Treasury Department action, in response to a prior Executive Order, seizing certain federal payments that otherwise would have gone to delinquent parents; and (3) transmittal to Congress of legislation making it a felony to cross state lines to evade child support obligations. POTUS has said he wants to do this.
- Sex Offender Registry. We can announce that the interim National Sex Offender Registration system -- which POTUS directed the Attorney General to develop last summer -- is now up and running. At the same time, POTUS can sign an Executive Order instructing the Attorney General and Secretary of Defense to ensure that sex offenders released from federal and military prisons are listed in the national registry.

- Receipt of Cloning Report. Obviously, depends on what the report says and how we build it up in Morgan State speech (definitely won't be ready for speech). (Report should be favorable, and consistent with POTUS statement on subject.)
- New legislation on genetic screening. Would place limits on the use of genetic information by insurance companies for underwriting purposes. (Could be Radio Address or separate event, or included in Morgan State speech.)

MISCELLANY:

- Public Interest in Digital Television Advisory Committee. Sometime before June, OVP says we will announce the chairman and members of this new advisory committee on public interest standards for digital television. This could give us an opportunity to emphasize the President's commitment to free TV, or speak about children's TV in the digital age.
- Private Sector Summer Jobs Kick-Off. Will be announced by Labor in late May or June. Possible DC event with principal other than POTUS? (OPM will be helping federal agencies hire about 1,000 DC youth through a separate effort.)
- Fighting Fraud, Abuse and Crime in Public Housing. HUD has several things in the works, including: 1) announcement of one-strike-you're-out policy for bad HUD landlords; 2) "Get Tough" campaign on public housing personnel who have defrauded the government (they are barred from working with the government), and 3) "Get Tough" campaign to fight drug dealers, gangs, and violent criminals in public housing. (DPC is still working on this.)
- Ryan-White Anniversary. May 20th is anniversary of POTUS signing. Possible statement for specialty press?

POSSIBLE POLICY ANNOUNCEMENTS FOR JUNE
(in addition to above options not used in May)

- Results of Presidential directive to improve math/science education. A plan for improving K-8 math and science education is being developed by an interagency working group in response to the POTUS's 3/6 directive (in Michigan state legislature speech). Early June seems to be the earliest this can be ready. Could be announced at proposed 6/10 event for National Math/Science Teachers of the Year.
- New Child Care Regulations. HHS is proposing a regulation on the welfare law's child care provisions, which includes extending basic health and safety standards to nearly all federally funded child care.
- American Heritage Rivers. Announce details of initiative and ask communities to begin nominating rivers for designation. CEQ suggests early June announcement in Mt. Vernon near Potomac River.
- New Pension Legislation. Should be ready sometime in June. NEC is working with Treasury, Labor, PBGC, and others on this now.
- Internet V-Chip. When the Supreme Court rules on the Communications Decency Act (expected before June 30th) we can challenge makers of Internet browsing software to follow Microsoft's lead and include technology that gives parents control over what their kids can access on the Internet. Announcement could include rating and enforcement components.
- Connecting Children's Hospitals to the Internet. Assuming we are ready to begin this effort, the President could visit one of the first hospitals connected.
