The following is revised (by Tarullo) language for the Denver Summit of the Eight Communique as agreed to by Rachel and Elizabeth. I will run it by Dan once again; we plan to transmit the communique early this afternoon.

Human Cloning

We have taken note of recent scientific experiments which could open the way to creating a child by cloning an existing person. While recognizing the considerable benefits for basic research, agriculture and human health from cloning technology, we agree on the need for appropriate domestic legislation and close international cooperation to prohibit the use of somatic cell nuclear transfer to create a child, while countries explore ethical and scientific implications in greater depth. We are encouraged by the reflections underway within national ethics committees, as well as in various regional and international fora, which will enable a measured approach in deciding which uses of this technique are, and which are not unacceptable. We are determined to give a strong impetus to their work with a view to arriving as soon as possible at an appropriate universal moratorium.

June 16, 1997

The Honorable William Roth, Jr.
Chairman
Committee on Finance
United States Senate
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Mr. Chairman,

As you know, the Administration and the bipartisan congressional leadership recently reached agreement on a historic plan to balance the budget by 2002 while investing in the future. The plan is good for America, its people, and its future, and we are committed to working with Congress to see it enacted.

With regard to welfare, the budget agreement called for restoring Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Medicaid benefits for immigrants who are disabled or become disabled and who entered the country before August 23, 1996 and making other important changes. The Senate Finance Committee mark for inclusion in the FY 1998 budget reconciliation bill is, however, inconsistent with the budget agreement in this key area. Consequently, if the Committee were to proceed with its legislation in this form, we would be compelled to invoke the provisions of the agreement that call on the Administration and the bipartisan leadership to undertake remedial efforts to ensure that reconciliation legislation is consistent with the agreement.

We appreciate the fact that the Committee includes several provisions that were part of the budget agreement that the Administration supports, such as in the areas of refugee and asylee eligibility, welfare to work, and EITC compliance.

Refugee and Asylee Eligibility -- The budget agreement would extend the exemption period from five to seven years for refugees, asylees, and those who are not deported because they would likely face persecution back home. The Administration supports the Committee's mark which implements this policy and also extends the exemption to Cuban and Haitian entrants.

Welfare to Work -- We are pleased that the Chairman's mark includes a number of provisions that address the Administration's priorities, including: providing formula grant funds to States based on poverty, unemployment, and adult welfare recipients; a sub-state allocation of the formula grant that appears similar to the formula passed by two House Committees, to ensure targeting on areas of greatest need; gives grantees appropriate flexibility to use the funds for a broad array of activities that give promise of resulting in permanent placement in unsubsidized jobs; awards some funds on a competitive basis; and creates a performance fund to reward States that are successful in placing long-term welfare recipients. We look forward to working with the Committee to refine these concepts. However, a number of other provisions, discussed below, raise serious concerns.

Earned Income Tax Credit -- The Chairman's mark includes three proposals made by Treasury to improve EITC compliance. The mark would deny EITC for ten years for those who fraudulently claim the EITC; would toughen recertification requirements for those denied the EITC as a result of deficiency procedures; and would impose due diligence requirements for paid preparers. Treasury has proposed three other legislative compliance measures which we hope the Committee will also consider.

With regard to benefits for immigrants, however, we have serious concerns that the mark does not reflect the budget agreement. The Administration has separately transmitted draft legislative language on June 4th that reflects the budget agreement's provisions on benefits to immigrants.

Continued SSI and Medicaid Benefits for Legal Immigrants -- The Administration strongly opposes the provision that denies coverage to many legal immigrants who were in the United States when the welfare law was signed but who become severely disabled after that date. The budget agreement explicitly states, "Restore SSI and Medicaid eligibility for all disabled legal immigrants who are or become disabled and who enter the U.S. prior to August 23, 1996." The Committee mark fails to reflect that agreement by grandfathering those now receiving SSI and only providing benefits for new applicants for only a very limited time. The Committee mark will protect fewer people. A policy that only grandfathers immigrants who were on the SSI rolls on August 22, 1996, protects 75,000 fewer immigrants than the budget agreement in the year 2002.

By contrast, the agreement targets the most vulnerable individuals by providing a safety net for all immigrants in the country when the welfare law was signed who have suffered -- or may suffer in the future -- a disabling accident or illness. In addition, the Administration believes the budget agreement assumed that all legal immigrants currently receiving SSI benefits would continue receiving benefits during the disability review, as has always been the practice.

The Administration also urges the adoption of a provision to protect the benefits of those who have been on the SSI rolls prior to 1979. Generally these are elderly citizens over the age of 90 who do not possess the required birth certificates or other documents necessary to establish eligibility. Finally, the Administration urges the adoption of a provision that would extend the exemption period from five to seven years for Amerasian immigrants. Amerasian immigrants share many of the problems and barriers of refugees and have the same level of need as refugees.

In addition to the provisions in the Subcommittee's action related to immigration, the Administration has the following serious concerns:

Welfare-to-Work -- The following serious concerns are raised by the Chairman's Mark:

Local Program Administration. The challenge of welfare reform -- moving welfare recipients into permanent, unsubsidized employment -- will be greatest in our Nation's large urban centers, especially those with the highest number of adults in poverty. Cities and other local areas have been entrusted by Congress with the responsibility for administration of other Federal job training funds. The Administration strongly believes that a substantial amount of all welfare-to-work funds should be managed by cities and other local areas which have the experience to address most effectively the challenge of moving long term welfare recipients into lasting, unsubsidized employment that reduces or eliminates dependency.

The Mark, however, provides for local administration of formula grant funds only through the TANF agency. The Mark's competitive grant structure does not ensure that an appropriate portion of funds outside rural areas will be administered by cities with most adults in poverty. In addition, the competitive grant portion is only 25% of the total funds available, still further limiting the resources for cities with the greatest need.

Close coordination of Welfare to Work activity with the State TANF agency and State TANF strategy is clearly essential. However, Welfare to Work would have a far greater likelihood of success for welfare recipients if it were primarily administered by cities and local areas. The Administration urges the Committee to incorporate provisions for management of Welfare to Work funds by cities and other local areas, as has been urged by Senate Labor and Human Resources Committee Chairman Jeffords, and incorporated into Welfare to Work programs passed by two House committees. The Administration also urges that the formula and competitive funds each receive 50% of the total available, as is provided in the Ways and Means Committee approach.

Federal Administering Agency. The Chairman's Mark would put the program under the Secretary of Health and Human Services. While consistency with Federal TANF strategies is essential, to be successful, the Welfare to Work program activities must be closely aligned with the workforce development system overseen by the Secretary of Labor. Thus, the Administration believes that the Secretary of Labor should administer this program. This is also the approach taken in the bills passed by the House Ways and Means and Education and Workforce Committees.

Worker Protections. The Mark does not address worker protections. We believe the proposal should include adequate non-displacement provisions and worker protections addressing such issues as civil rights, unsafe workplaces, and hours. We therefore strongly urge the Committee to adopt, at a minimum, these provisions as found in H.R. 1385, the House-passed job training reform bill.

- Evaluation. We appreciate the inclusion of a substantial set-aside for evaluation by the Secretary of Health and Human Services; her leadership is appropriate in order to ensure the assessment of the impact of Welfare to Work in the context of overall TANF policy. However, we believe it is equally important to have the Secretaries of Labor and Housing and Urban Development consulted on the evaluation's design and implementation, so that it may also take into proper account the relationship of Welfare to Work to other workforce development strategies and to urban policy.
- Performance bonus. The Administration applauds the inclusion in the Mark of a performance bonus fund focused on increased earnings. However, it is essential that such bonuses be paid only in recognition of impacts over and above what is achieved by States with their TANF and other funds. Welfare to Work resources should clearly lead to net additional positive outcomes for welfare recipients. In addition, the highest goal for Welfare to Work, and therefore for bonuses, should be the placement of the hardest to employ in lasting, unsubsidized jobs whose earnings are sufficient to reduce substantially, or eliminate, welfare dependency.
- Distribution of funds by year. It does not appear that the Mark's allocation of $3 billion in budget authority across FY 1998-2000 will, when combined with the program structure, result in an outlay pattern consistent with an estimate of zero outlays in FY 2002, provided in the Bipartisan Budget Agreement. The Department of Labor is available to work with the Committee to craft a BA distribution that does satisfy this outlay goal.

Privatization of Welfare Programs. The Chairman's mark would allow the eligibility and enrollment determination functions of federal and state health and human services benefits programs -- including Medicaid, WIC, and Food Stamps -- in ten states to be privatized. While certain program functions, such as computer systems, can currently be contracted out to private entities, the certification of eligibility for benefits and related operations (such as obtaining and verifying information about income and other eligibility factors) should remain public functions. The Administration believes that changes to current law would not be in the best interest of program beneficiaries and strongly opposes this provision.

Unemployment Insurance Integrity -- The Committee mark does not include the provision of the budget agreement that achieves $763 million in mandatory savings over five years through an increase in discretionary spending of $89 million in 1998 and $467 million over five years. These savings are a key component of the budget agreement. The discretionary spending that the agreement assumes, and which would be subject to appropriation, would support the necessary additional eligibility reviews, tax audits, and other integrity activities that, the evidence demonstrates, will yield the savings. We urge the Committee to adopt this provision to achieve the specified savings. The Administration has separately transmitted draft legislative language on June 6th that reflects the budget agreement's provisions on this provision.

State SSI Administrative Fees -- It does not appear that the Committee intends to include a provision, comparable to that included in the House Ways and Means Committee mark and consistent with the budget agreement, to increase the administrative fees that the Federal Government charges States for administering their State supplemental SSI payments and to make the increase available, subject to appropriations, for Social Security Administration (SSA) administrative expenses. The Administration encourages the Committee to do so.

The budget agreement reflects compromise on many important and controversial issues, and challenges the leaders on both sides of the aisle to achieve consensus under difficult circumstances. We must do so on a bipartisan basis.

I look forward to working with you to implement the historic budget agreement.

Sincerely,

Franklin D. Raines
Director

Wants to talk to Erskine about Clean Air rules and tobacco. Re. tobacco, he's likely to raise both process and substance. He'll argue there's no need to work on Mike Moore's timetable, that the industry will continue to have an incentive to deal through the fall since they are scared not of Moore's suit but of Minnesota's, which starts in January. Waxman's substantive concerns include: restrictions on FDA regulatory authority; limits on liability; failure to address international arena; meaningless penalty for not reducing sales to kids.

We're going to set up reconciliation discussions with the agencies on the same schedule as last week -- a conference call Wednesday at 8:30 am (we'll send out the number later) and a meeting in 248 at 3 pm on Friday, the 20th.

PAD offices are responsible for informing their agencies about both conversations.

For the conference call -- we are still confined to too few phone lines, so please consolidate incoming calls (2nd floor folks should meet in Jack's office, DADs in PADs offices, etc.). Please do not call in on a cell phone (and PAD offices please tell you agencies not use cell phones -- they generate too much noise).

Thanks.

Private Eligibility Determination for Medicaid, Child Welfare, Food Stamps, and WIC

This "Demonstration" Could Cover 58% of Medicaid Beneficiaries.

The Finance Committee proposal is a big change to undertake without Congressional hearings or oversight. The proposal would allow up to 10 states to turn all their health and human services programs -- including Medicaid, child welfare, Food Stamps, and WIC -- over to private contractors. These private contractors would decide which families were eligible for benefits -- a new and untested role for private agencies.

If the 10 states with the largest Medicaid caseloads (CA, FL, GA, IL, MI, NY, NC, OH, PA, TX) exercised this option, then 58 percent of the nation's Medicaid beneficiaries would be in the private system (see attached). Texas alone, whose application is deemed approved by this provision, has 7 percent of the nation's Medicaid caseload.

This Proposal Should be Out of Order Because it Affects Programs Outside Finance Committee Jurisdiction. This proposal explicitly allows private contractors to operate eligibility and enrollment determination functions for Food Stamps and the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC). In its reconciliation markup last week, the Senate Agriculture Committee did not include a provision to allow private contractors to operate WIC or Food Stamps. Thus, the Finance Committee is violating jurisdictional rules by including this provision here.

Under the TANF Block Grant, States Can Already "Privatize" Welfare -- Are We Ready to Let them Privatize Other Programs Too? The new TANF welfare block grant gives states tremendous flexibility. States set eligibility rules, and they can hire private or religious organizations to screen applicants, provide benefits, and operate welfare to work and abstinence programs. TANF will provide an opportunity to test privatization -- we don't need any more "demonstrations" right now.

There is a Role for the Private Sector in Medicaid -- but Not in Determining Eligibility for Federally Guaranteed Benefits.

Medicaid and other programs already take advantage of private sector efficiencies by hiring private sector providers, such as managed care companies, for-profit hospitals, and computer systems experts.

This role is entirely appropriate and allows the Medicaid program to take advantage of the competition of the private market. This proposal, on the other hand, would allow private companies to perform what has always been a public function -- determining who's eligible for taxpayer-funded benefits. Making decisions about the eligibility of needy people for benefits is one of the most fundamental functions of government.

Private Incentives Could Undermine Efforts to Balance the Budget.

The goal of this legislation is to eliminate the federal deficit by the year 2002. There's reason to be concerned that private contractors determining eligibility for open-ended federal entitlements may cost the federal government more -- either through higher error rates during start-up or because a company's primary concern would be its own bottom line, not the federal treasury's.

Privatization May Not Be in the Best Interest of Beneficiaries. To prevent cost-overruns or simply to reduce spending, states may include financial incentives in company contracts which would encourage them to cut corners with complicated cases and make them more likely to deny benefits. It is unclear how much of a federal role there would be in monitoring contracts and ensuring basic safeguards.

It's Unclear What Kind of Texas Program is "Deemed Approved" by this Provision. The State of Texas has not submitted an actual proposal to privatize state functions, nor requested a waiver of any federal statutes or regulations. Instead, the state sought guidance from HHS and the Department of Agriculture about the terms under which it could release a "request for offers" (RFO) seeking private bids.

Although select state and federal agency officials have seen the State's proposed "RFO", its terms have not been made public. Thus, Senators may approve a plan that not one of them has seen.

The Committee May Regret a Decision which Encourages States to "Appeal" Agency Waiver Decisions to Congress. By deeming the Texas application approved as submitted, the Finance Committee will encourage other states unhappy with agency waiver decisions to appeal, flooding the Committee with petitioners.

FINANCE COMMITTEE PROPOSAL WOULD ALLOW PRIVATIZATION OF 58 PERCENT OF MEDICAID AND FOOD STAMP PROGRAMS

Fact Sheet on Administration Response to Texas

On May 13, 1997, in a letter to Texas Health and Human Services Commissioner Michael McKinney, HHS and the Department of Agriculture responded in writing to certain questions that had arisen in discussions with Texas state officials.

The State of Texas had not submitted an actual proposal to privatize State functions, nor requested a waiver of any federal statutes or regulations. Rather, the state and federal agencies had engaged in discussions to provide guidance to the state in its plan to release a "request for offers" to seek private vendors.

The Administration's letter concluded that the state could develop an integrated enrollment system so long as public employees perform the essential eligibility determination functions. For example:

- A non-public employee may not take actions involving discretion or value judgments, including all elements of the benefit eligibility determination process that relate to the evaluation of information provided by an applicant or which bears on the eligibility decision.
- In an integrated enrollment system, most if not all activities involving personal contact with an applicant or recipient have the potential to involve the use of discretion or judgment and must be performed by state merit system employees.

But much flexibility is currently available to the state, the letter said:

- The state has broad authority to administer the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program, the block grant created by last year's welfare law, and can use private contractors without limitation there.
- The state can also use private contractors to design and operate information systems, develop and recommend revised eligibility processes, and provide training and assistance in the management of an integrated enrollment system.

Oh good -- I feel better knowing that you were the source of the request to counsel. Now about what to do next: I agree this should be lower priority; but I am concerned after Sondra's e-mail that some congressional offices have had their impression fo the President's support confirmed --so that it may now be difficult to get out of doing a letter altogether. You may want to check with Leg about this. And you probably do want to get a response from DPC about the concept of a museum, what would be required to look into this., etc. So that we have a more substantive answer to why we are not able to just go forward and commission a task force.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH: SYLVIA MATHEWS

FROM:

SUBJECT: Following up on the Service Summit

Since the successful Presidents' Summit for America's Future in Philadelphia, we have met with the leaders of "America's Promise," General Powell's non-profit organization; worked to implement the substantive announcements you made in Philadelphia; begun to develop a communications strategy to ensure that your vision of service is included in continuing coverage of the summit effort; and begun to design a strategy for reauthorizing AmeriCorps and other Corporation for National Service programs. Below is an update on these efforts.

America's Promise

The 501(c)3 non-profit organization to follow up on the goals of the summit has gotten off to a slower than expected start. The original CEO, Rick Little, has moved to a more limited fundraising role. General Powell and his team are looking to hire a CEO, a COO and several other senior staff to work on communications and developing new commitments. We will forward appropriate names for their consideration. America's Promise is expected to have about 35-40 staff members. The team has managed to elicit about 100 new commitments by corporations and non-profits since the summit.

As you know, in March we suggested some names for the board of directors and for the five advisory task forces. Out of 19 Board members, two are based on your suggestions: Jamie Gorelick and Lou Holtz. Henry Cisneros and Lynda Robb are expected to continue to serve as vice chairs. Other members of the board include Herman Cain, Ray Chambers, and Billy Shore. The task forces (one for each of the five resources for children) are essentially not operational at this point; questions have been raised about their role and utility.

A threshold question for future discussion is what connection if any the Administration should have with America's Promise and its goal of reaching two million children by the year 2000. If you agree, we will continue to meet with General Powell's people on a regular basis to demonstrate our desire to work together on these issues, to find areas of commonality, and to find opportunities that might be appropriate for joint appearances. In this regard, we have agreed to identify Cabinet members who might participate in the numerous local summits that are planned around the country. General Powell has already participated in three such summits and is expected to do others. Needless to say, he receives very positive press when he participates (St. Louis, Boston, rural Pennsylvania). Moreover, the General often talks about summit themes in his other speeches, and apparently spends considerable time on the telephone with CEOs.

Substantive Follow-Up

We have begun to implement the policy initiatives you announced before and at the summit. The Corporation for National Service is confident it can meet our target of adding 50,000 new AmeriCorps scholarships over the next few years. (For your information, Harris Wofford has met with the Rev. Tony Campolo about his "Mission Year" service program. Rev. Campolo's program may be eligible only for part-time rather than full-time scholarships because participants spend some time on religious activities. Because of these concerns, Campolo is not sure he wants to apply for AmeriCorps scholarships, although he remains very supportive of the program.) We are tracking federal agencies' work as they implement the more than 40 commitments they made to the summit. We will include our proposal to subsidize all loan deferments for service in our proposed legislation to reauthorize higher education programs.

Communications Follow-up

Reporters have not yet focused critically on what has been achieved since the summit, but it is inevitable they will do so in the next few months. In your public appearances since the summit, you have demonstrated your continuing commitment to its goals by mentioning it in appropriate forums, including the Welfare to Work Partnership event and the Business Roundtable speech, while the Vice President's announcement in May of a new welfare mentoring partnership with civic groups is very much in line with the summit's goals. You and the other principals should continue to do so. To this end, we will work with the speechwriters to ensure that you refer to the summit's success, the challenge of its ongoing task, and the theme of service and AmeriCorps at appropriate venues.

Moreover, we will work with communications and scheduling to develop ideas for additional events. Possibilities include an event to publicize the new high school service scholars program you announced last year; an event with AmeriCorps to publicize the new scholarships and announce the winners of their latest competition; bringing in CEO's to report on their progress since the summit; or events that would tie the summit's themes to our initiatives, such as linking our juvenile justice initiative to the "safe places" goal [note: this was his idea]. We could seek other synergies between the summit and the Administration's core themes, especially welfare to work. Finally, members of the Cabinet will shortly begin to participate in local summits around the country.

AmeriCorps

AmeriCorps' initial authorization expired last year. While reauthorization is not necessary for AmeriCorps to get funding, this may be our best opportunity to take this issue on and seek the program's first reauthorization, one that would carry it past the year 2000. The Corporation for National Service has prepared a draft bill that appears to be solid and that takes a middle course on issues that have been divisive in the past. We could launch that new legislative proposal in a bipartisan event that focuses on AmeriCorps' achievements to date.

We will keep you apprised of our efforts as we go forward.

From the unsolicited idea department as you follow up on the race issue: I think Washington should have a monument or a museum on slavery that tourists visit as they do the other monuments. I believe some African-American group is trying to raise money for one, along the lines of the Holocaust Museum, but they haven't raised much. A museum on slavery just opened in Detroit and has gotten very good press. Vietnam proved you can do successful and healing memorials on difficult topics. The apology approach worked well for radiation and Tuskegee, but now it is coming under a microscope and people are belittling it. A memorial or museum is a similar idea, but it has an educational dimension and a more lasting effect. As such a major part of our country's history that still has repercussions today, slavery seems conspicuously absent here in DC -- other than through the Lincoln Memorial, of course, which tells it from a particular perspective.

Just a thought as you guys go forward on this; please feel no need to respond.

Title IX: Celebrating 25 Years of Progress

DATE: Tuesday, June 17, 1997
LOCATION: Auditorium, Room 450
TIME: 11:00 a.m.
FROM: Maria Echaveste and Elena Kagan

I. PURPOSE

You are scheduled to speak at the event celebrating the 25th Anniversary of Title IX co-sponsored by the Coalition of Women and Girls in Education representing over 50 organizations and the Jackie Joyner-Kersey Youth Center Foundation. You will receive the just-finished report on Title IX from Sec. Riley and sign a Presidential Directive entitled Strengthening Title IX Enforcement and Addressing Discrimination on the Basis of Sex, Race, Color and National Origin in Federally Conducted Education Programs. The audience of 150 will be comprised of Members of Congress, representatives from the co-sponsoring organizations, board members of your Council of Physical Fitness and Sports, and other leaders gathered from around the nation to celebrate this milestone.

II. BACKGROUND

HISTORY OF TITLE IX

Monday, June 23 marks the 25th anniversary of the signing of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. Title IX, one of the nation's landmark civil rights laws, was enacted by Congress to prohibit sex discrimination in all aspects of American education in the classroom, in course offerings, in the school workplace, and on athletic fields.

As the women's civil rights movement gained momentum in the late 60's and early 70's, Americans began to focus attention on inequities that harmed the progress of women and girls in education. The initial impetus behind Title IX was the 1970 class action suit filed by the Women's Equity Action League (WEAL) against colleges and universities charging them with "an industry wide pattern of sex bias against women who worked in these institutions." In response, the House held its first hearing on sex discrimination in 1970. In 1971, Congress introduced several education bills that included sex discrimination proposals and in the Spring of 1972, the Senate and House passed Title IX. President Nixon signed Title IX into law on June 23, 1973.

Title IX has broken down many of the barriers that prevented girls and women from choosing educational opportunities and careers they would have liked to pursue. Twenty five years after its passage, the implementation of Title IX has resulted in tremendous improvements in educational and related job opportunities for millions of young girls. By the year 2005, women workers will make up 47 percent of the labor force and for the first time, their educational backgrounds makes them well prepared to assume high level employment opportunities that will improve their quality of life as well as our nation's economy.

Since the early 1990's, men and women have been graduating from college in equal proportions--an historic event in our nation's history. Since 1970, the proportion of women who have a high school diploma rose significantly and for African American women the high school graduation rate more than doubled. Dropout rates have dropped significantly among high school females who become pregnant or have a child--the law prohibits schools from discriminating against them in educational programs due to their status as a mother.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTIVE

Background on Executive Directive Strengthening Title IX Enforcement and Addressing Discrimination on the Basis of Sex, Race, Color and National Origin in Federally Conducted Education Programs

You will issue an executive memorandum with two parts to the heads of executive agencies and departments.

First, the memorandum directs each federal agency to develop a plan to enforce Title IX. A number of agencies have never adopted regulations or complaint procedures to enforce Title IX. This memorandum will require all federal agencies to consult with the Attorney General and report back to you within 90 days on measures to ensure effective enforcement, including methods to make all recipients of federal financial assistance of their obligation not to discriminate and to put in place grievance procedures to handle Title IX complaints.

Second, the memorandum addresses discrimination on the basis of sex, race, color and national origin in federally conducted education programs and activities. Currently, Title IX generally prohibits discrimination based on sex, and Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 generally prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color or national origin in education programs or activities that receive federal assistance. However, these laws do not apply to comparable education programs or activities that are conducted by the federal government. The executive memorandum will take action against discrimination in education programs or activities conducted by the federal government as well. It will not affect military training programs (just as Titles IX and VI do not apply to military training), but it will cover the military's civilian programs, including the schools it operates.

We are not aware of any particular incidents of discrimination in federal agencies. This order will simply hold the federal government to the same standards of non-discrimination in educational opportunities that we now apply to education programs receiving federal assistance.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION REPORT "TITLE IX: 25 YEARS OF PROGRESS"

Today, Department of Education Secretary Riley will present you with a report entitled “Title IX: 25 Years of Progress” which provides an overview of the accomplishments in the educational achievement of girls and women since Title IX’s passage. The following are some of the key highlights of the report:

- The large gaps in educational attainment between males and females that were striking in 1972 are virtually nonexistent today. For example:
- In graduate and professional schools--When Title IX was first enacted , 9 percent of medical degrees went to women. In 1994, women received 38 percent of medical degrees. Women account for 43 percent of law degrees, up from 7 percent in 1972.
- In colleges--More than 100,000 women participate in intercollegiate athletics, which is a four-fold increase since 1971.
- In high schools--Girls are slightly more likely than boys to complete high school. In 1995, 87 percent of young adult females had completed high school compared to 86 percent of young adult males. Almost equal proportions of males and females are taking vocational-technical courses, and girls are most likely to be enrolled in business programs.
- The next 25 years--Today, even with the many advances women have made in academics, employment and athletics, we still have work to do in our efforts to achieve equality. Even though women make up over half of the labor market, they are often paid less than men. In 1993, women who had majored in the natural sciences earned 15 percent less than men who majored in the same field.

III. PARTICIPANTS

The following is revised (by Tarullo) language for the Denver Summit of the Eight Communique as agreed to by Rachel and Elizabeth. I will run it by Dan once again; we plan to transmit the communique early this afternoon.

Human Cloning

We have taken note of recent scientific experiments which could open the way to creating a child by cloning an existing person. While recognizing the considerable benefits for basic research, agriculture and human health from cloning technology, we agree on the need for appropriate domestic legislation and close international cooperation to prohibit the use of somatic cell nuclear transfer to create a child, while countries explore ethical and scientific implications in greater depth. We are encouraged by the reflections underway within national ethics committees, as well as in various regional and international fora, which will enable a measured approach in deciding which uses of this technique are, and which are not unacceptable. We are determined to give a strong impetus to their work with a view to arriving as soon as possible at an appropriate universal moratorium.

craig says he's bringing this up at weds pm meeting. so you may want to start to prepare options.

i will talk to the chiles and dean folks today. let me know if this is a compromise you can live with (i assume its not)

FYI: the expectation is that Chafee and Rockefeller will offer their child welfare bill tomorrow and will be supported by Jeffords, giving them enough votes to pass.

The OMB letter to the Committee does not comment on this subject, except to comment on a possible pay for, as follows:

Cost Allocation Language -- The Administration understands that amendments may be offered during Committee consideration, the purpose of which is to prevent costs from increasing in Food Stamps and Medicaid due to cost-shifting for common functions from the TANF block grant, which places a cap on TANF administrative costs. We understand the CBO baseline includes costs of over $5 billion in FYs 98-02 because CBO assumes administrative costs shifting from TANF to Food Stamps and Medicaid. This proposal seeks to reduce the extent of the cost-shift to the Food Stamp and Medicaid Programs, which could yield substantial savings against CBO's baseline. While the Administration is generally supportive of this effort -- to prevent States from changing cost allocation plans in order to shift greater administrative costs from the capped TANF block grant to the open-ended Food Stamp and Medicaid administrative costs that are matched by the Federal government -- we would need to carefully review the specific mechanism proposed. In addition, we would have very serious reservations about proposals that would cap Food stamps and Medicaid administrative costs.

The budget negotiators discussed changes to the Food Stamp and Medicaid Programs at considerable length. An amendment reducing these programs and directing savings to other programs was neither raised nor included in the Budget Agreement. The Administration has strong reservations about such an approach.

Pres. letters has drafted the attached very brief reply to that long letter from the Leadership conf. on welfare reform and civil rights. It's kind of short, but we clearly didn't want to get into a discussion of the many issues / ideas they raised. Maybe we need a stronger statement of the Pres's dedication on civil rights? Anything you'd recommend?

I deleted the "civil rights enforcement" reference in the opening sentence. How does this read now?

Thanks.

Thank you for your letter regarding welfare reform. You have raised important issues, and I appreciate knowing of your numerous concerns and recommendations. I assure you that my Administration is committed to implementing the welfare reform law in a fair and effective manner. I have shared your letter with Secretary Shalala and Attorney General Reno.

This summer, as I begin a nationwide dialogue on race relations and civil rights enforcement, I look forward to your continuing counsel on these critical issues.

TEXT:

Is there someone at the WH charged with tracking citizen responses to the President's speech? My law school classmate who was instrumental in starting our discussion group on race is now working with a client (the Rosewood Justice Center--named for the FL community that the recent movie was about) to finalize plans for a multi-cultural youth summit in St. Petersburg on June 28th. He tells me the byline for the program currently reads: "St. Petersburg Youth Answer President Clinton's Call For Open and Candid Dialogue About American Race Relations." I think they would be open to Administration involvement; if nothing else, they would probably welcome acknowledgement....

THE WHITE HOUSE AT WORK
Monday, June 16, 1997

SATURDAY: PRESIDENT LAUNCHES MAJOR INITIATIVE ON RACE

This Saturday, in a commencement address at the University of California at San Diego, President Clinton launched a major initiative on race, to meet America's greatest challenge and greatest opportunity: building One America in the 21st Century:

- President Clinton has worked to prepare America for the 21st century with a strategy of opportunity for all, responsibility from all, and an American community of all our citizens. To succeed in each of these areas, we must deal with the realities and the perceptions affecting all racial groups:

- First, we must continue to expand opportunity, including a growing economy, and access to education. Affirmative action still has an important role as well. President Clinton said, "When used the right way, [affirmative action] has worked...At the very time when we need to do a better job of living and learning together, we should not stop trying to equalize economic opportunity...and we should never be thought unwilling to work with those who disagree with us to find new ways to lift people up and bring people together.

- Second, we must demand responsibility from every American -- which means having all our citizens respect the law, but also ensuring that the law respects all our citizens. That applies to the enforcement of our civil rights laws. It is imperative that Congress -- especially those who say they're for civil rights but against affirmative action -- provide the resources to fully enforce the nation's civil rights laws.

- Third, we must build one American community based on respect for one another and our shared values. We must begin with a candid conversation on the state of race relations today. Over the coming year, President Clinton will lead the American people in an far-ranging and constructive conversation about race.

- With the help of an advisory panel of seven distinguished Americans, President Clinton will help educate Americans about the facts surrounding issues of race; promote a dialogue to work through these issues; recruit and encourage leadership at all levels to help breach racial divides, and find and develop concrete solutions to our problems. The President said: "If ten years from now people can look back and see that this year of honest dialogue and concerted action helped to lift the heavy burden of race from our children's future, we will have given a precious gift to America.

President Clinton: "Will we become...many Americas, separate, unequal and isolated? Or will we draw strength from all our people and our ancient faith in the quality of human dignity, to become the world's first truly multi-racial democracy? That is the unfinished work of our time, to lift the burden of race and redeem the promise of America."

TEXT:

As you are aware, earlier this afternoon, I circulated a draft OMB letter to the Senate Finance Committee for comment by 2:30 p.m. today. The letter addresses the Committee's mark up of welfare-related reconciliation language.

The following paragraphs have been proposed for insert into the draft OMB letter. Please provide me with comments on the insert, as well as the rest of the letter, by today's 2:30 p.m. deadline.

Thank you for your assistance.

Proposed Insert:

The Administration understands that amendments may be offered during Committee consideration, the purpose of which is to prevent costs from increasing in Food Stamps and Medicaid due to cost-shifting for common functions from the TANF block grant, which places a cap on TANF administrative costs. We understand the CBO baseline includes costs of over $5 billion in FYs 98-02 because CBO assumes administrative costs shifting from TANF to Food Stamps and Medicaid. This proposal would reduce the extent of the cost-shift to the Food Stamp and Medicaid Programs, yielding substantial savings against CBO's baseline. While the Administration is generally supportive of this effort -- to prevent States from changing cost allocation plans in order to shift greater administrative costs from the capped TANF block grant to the open-ended Food Stamp and Medicaid administrative costs that are matched by the Federal government -- we would need to carefully review the specific mechanism proposed. In particular, we would have serious reservations about proposals that would cap Food stamps and Medicaid administrative costs.

The budget negotiators discussed changes to the Food Stamp and Medicaid Programs at considerable length. An amendment further reducing these programs and directing savings to other programs was neither raised nor included in the Budget Agreement. The Administration has very strong reservations about such an approach.

Further evidence of the decline in quality control that occurs in your absence, which argues strongly for keeping you in charge of the weekly. The answers as best I know them:

1. yes, your description of the 30 vs 25 is correct, although the 25 in current law is somewhat ambiguous since the statute doesn't track with the intent, and having explained it one way to the President, I didn't want to have to explain it the other way.
2. privatization amdts were added Thursday in House Ag (for food stamps) and Commerce (for Medicaid).
3. the ban after 12 years is on nicotine, not cigarettes -- although the way it will be described in laymen terms is no ban on cigarettes. I am a professional layman. The deal is permanent, but $300-350 billion is the estimate for 25 years. (I asked Matt Myers about the idea of sunseting the agreement, as we discussed with Kessler. He said the industry had initially proposed such an idea, but he rejected it because he didn't want to give up the gains in the agreement.)
