TEXT:

Rahm would like us to go ahead with the plan I sent earlier in response to Collins upcoming food safety hearing: try and get Mikulski out pushing her legislation, make FDA available on describing the bill, get other senators to talk to Collins about the legislation in her statements.

So far, Durbin has agreed to make a statement at the hearing, Eshoo and Kennedy (the other sponsors) will do press of some type, and FDA has reached out to Mikulski but her staff is balking.

TEXT:

1. Some of the farm state types were worried that the health groups were playing footsie with Lugar and Lugar would win if he gets any health group backing. Obviously, that could lead to Ford going very heavy negative on McCain. I talked to Scott Ballin and he assures me that isn't the case, it is a misunderstanding, he wanted some modifications to Ford to increase local control of the money. He promised to call Ford's guy and clarify that the public health groups are committed to keeping a program -- and that Lugar is not supportable.

2. Yesterday, Ford was putting out word that he was pretty close to having enough votes. Perhaps as a result, today Lugar is supposedly circulating a new proposal among Republican's upping the amount of money for his buy-out. The NC farmers say they think Helms/Faircloth and McConnel might support Lugar. This would be a problem. So far, only the very large farmers in NC support Lugar -- they would likely prosper in a total tobacco free market.

3. This afternoon I am supposed to get from Dallas the USDA evaluation of Lugar I asked for showing that Lugar/Nickles would produce a windfall for the tobacco companies. (The windfall occurs because the companies -- which buy about 1.6 billion pounds a year, would have the price they have to pay drop significantly. Preliminary estimates were it would save them between 25 and 35 billion dollars.) If this is any good, it should be quite powerful for keeping support on McCain/Ford. I will get it around to you as soon as USDA gets it over here.

President Clinton's New Transportation Proposal Offers a Clear Choice

In just a few short days, Congress will face a critical decision on a transportation bill that will have far reaching implications. The choice is clear:

President Clinton's New Proposal -- the new proposal includes an ~~unprecedented guarantee that receipts that flow into the Highway Trust Fund will be invested in highways, highway safety, and mass transit.~~ The new proposal is fully paid for, protects the surplus consistent with saving Social Security First, and protects critical investments in other key priorities, such as education, health, law enforcement and the environment.

Or

Current Congressional Plan -- calls for spending in excess of receipts flowing into the Highway Trust Fund. The plan is not paid for and it would force dramatic cuts in critical priorities such as education, health, law enforcement and the environment .

President Clinton has proposed a new surface transportation funding plan. The new proposal:

- Provides an unprecedented guarantee that all Highway Trust Fund receipts will be spent on surface transportation (fully phased in by 2001).
- Commits to the same level of funding as in the House and Senate surface transportation reauthorization bills -- $219 billion -- but the funds would be spent over 7 years rather than 6 years, so as to protect other investment priorities.
- Is fully "paid for."
- Achieves record levels of transportation spending, while still:
 - Protecting the surplus to save Social Security First.
 - Protecting critical investments in education, health, the environment, and law enforcement because the Administration proposal does not force these priorities to compete with transportation needs.
- By setting spending on surface transportation equal to prior year Highway Trust Fund receipts, this plan ensures that spending levels can be sustained after the end of the authorization period
- Protects key transportation priorities, including transit, safety and the environment.
- Provides for historic levels of surface transportation spending:
 - Average annual spending on surface transportation in the Bush Administration was $20 billion.
 - Average annual spending during the first 4 years of the Clinton Administration was $25.5 billion, an increase of 25 percent.
 - The President's FY99 budget proposed spending $28 billion a year -- a 37 percent increase over Bush levels.
 - The Administration's new proposal would reach $33.8 billion a year -- a one-third increase over spending during the President's first term.

In stark contrast, the current Congressional plan calls for excessive levels of spending that would threaten the budget surplus -- undermining the President's pledge to save Social Security First -- and force draconian cuts in other critical domestic programs.

- The congressional plan would spend more on surface transportation than the Highway Trust Fund collects each year. Thus, the federal government could not maintain these spending levels for the long-term without increasing the gasoline tax.
- If fully funded, it would drain tens of billions of dollars from critical national priorities including education, child care, medical research, food safety, the environment, and even law enforcement and other transportation priorities, such as aviation.
- Even at these spending levels, the congressional plan would not guarantee sufficient funding for highway safety. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) would have to compete with other domestic discretionary programs to get the funding levels the President has requested.
- The congressional plan slights mass transit, spending a smaller fraction of available funds on transit than the Senate's ISTEA II bill or the Administration's proposal.

The President's senior advisers would recommend that he veto a conference bill that makes available an excessive level of budgetary resources if it is financed by: spending the surplus, reducing the domestic discretionary budget caps, using unacceptable budget offsets, or forcing cuts in domestic priority programs. They would also recommend veto of a conference bill that slights highway safety or other transportation priorities.

The Choice is Clear
	President Clinton's New Proposal	Congressional Plan
Highway Trust Fund	Guarantees that receipts flowing into trust fund will be spent on highways and transit. (fully phased in by 2001).	Spends more than receipts flowing into the trust fund.
Funding Levels	$219 billion over 7 years (budget auth).	Similar amount of over 6 years.
Transit	19% transit funding -- guaranteed.	17% transit funding.
Highway safety	Funding guaranteed.	Funding not guaranteed.
Fiscal Impact	Completely paid for and fully consistent with saving Social Security first.	Plan remains unpaid for, thereby threatening the surplus and commitment to save Social Security first.
Impact on other priorities, including: Head Start Pell Grants NIH Law Enforcement Environment	All fully protected	All at risk

Rahm/Bruce/Elena/Cynthia:

We can pull a group of open/supportive law enforcement groups, mostly management types, on Monday afternoon. However, we'll need to nail down a few things as soon as we can tomorrow. These include:

1. Availability of Senior Administration Officials. Most importantly, we need to be able to get the right Administration officials in the room to talk to law enforcement. I understand this should include -- Kelly and/or McGaw, Bruce, Elena and/or Rahm, and maybe someone from McCain's office. I can work w/Beth Weaver of Treasury to get their participation, but I'll need the tobacco wing of DPC to secure the right mix of WH folks and/or McCain's staff.

2. Briefing materials. We need a page or two of bullets that address the major arguments raised by some of the law enforcement folks. Also, do we have any smuggling/enforcement "fixes" that we're considering and want to float.

3. Desired outcome. While I've sold the meeting as purely informational and "starting a dialogue w/law enforcement," a couple of the groups have indicated that -- providing they're satisfied with our position on enforcement issues -- they're willing to publicly support tobacco passage as something that is good for law enforcement on balance. Do we want to push for supportive statements or simply stop these groups from joining the others?

The groups that I have spoken with, and which are generally supportive, include: National Sheriffs Association, International Association of Chiefs of Police, Major Cities Chiefs, and Police Executive Research Forum. We could also invite the remaining currently non-aligned groups: International Brotherhood of Police Officers, National Troopers Coalition, Black Law Enforcement Executives, and Police Foundation.

Of course this doesn't obviate the need to meet the w/the four groups that wrote the bad letters that are out there -- National Association of Police Organizations, Fraternal Order of Police, Federal Law Enforcement Officers Association and International Union of Police Associations -- but we can do these later in the week. NAPO's head will be out of town until Wednesday, Christa says the FOP refuses to meet with us...period.

Let's talk about at tomorrow's meeting.

On Friday Senator Lott rule 14nd the Coverdell bill (which is pending in the Labor Committee, and bans federal funding for programs which support needle exchange either directly or indirectly) which means that the bill has been placed on the Senate calendar for consideration but for the Kennedy hold.

The Senate Democratic cloak room has notified the Kennedy staff that given his hold on the bill freestanding he should be prepared for it to be offered as an amendment to some other pending legislation. Labor Committee Republicans, including Jeffords and Frist are probably inclined to be helpful but will be looking for cues from the White House. The Kennedy folks are also looking for cues from us.

Folks on the Hill are most interested in having Drs. Varmus and Satcher speak to Jeffords, Frist and others regarding the issue. I also spoke to Kevin Thurm about this and he, too, was looking for some direction on how to proceed.

Do we happen to have any cues give them, by chance?

Thanks.

TEXT:

I've given some addition thought to our education spending list after we finished last night, and have an alternative that I think could work better for us from a number of perspectives. So, below I've provided two options. Option 1 is what we agreed to last night, and can be used as is. Here it is:

Option 1

1. Improving teaching through smaller classes and better teachers: States can spend funds under this program to recruit, prepare, hire and provide continued training and support in order to reduce class size and improve teaching and learning to high state standards, and to improve the processes and tools for carrying out these ends. States would be required to report each year on (1) the amount of funds used for this purpose each year; (2) the reduction in class size achieved in the grade levels and subject areas determined by the state (3) the activities supported with the funds; and, (4) student achievement, as measured on state assessments, in the grade levels and subject areas described above.

2. Safe and Drug Free Schools Program

Option 2 proposes a reading block grant instead of a class size/teaching block grant, and includes technology teacher training as the second program on the list. The reading block grant I've proposed essentially merges our class size proposal (which was focused on improving reading in the early grades) with our America Reads proposal and with the Republican's version of a reading initiative that they are trying to move. Here is why I think this is a better approach:

From our point of view, it is better focused and better designed than the class size block grant we discussed last night. In order to make our class size/teacher proposal more flexible and hopefully more acceptable, we lost the original key purposes and focus--class size to an average of 18 to improve reading in the early grades.

It incorporates our reading tutors as well as the Republican proposal for improving reading by improving teacher training. If we need to share credit with R's in order to make this acceptable, this approach enables us to do it more easily.

To deal with the Rep. pressure to not add new programs, we can argue that this proposal would incorporate and therefore replace the separate reading legislation that has passed the House and is being taken up by Jeffords. In effect, they would not be creating any more new programs than they were otherwise planning to create. (Bob Shireman think that Gene would be ok with this approach, since the odds of getting the reading bill we want out of this Congress. by July 1 is pretty low.) It's likely to be more palatable to the governors. It gives the governors a clear goal--to improve early reading--which is relatively widely shared, and gives them flexibility in how to achieve it. There are enough states that are working to improve early reading with some combination of teacher training, implementation of effective practices, reducing class size and tutors so that we have a shot at having gov's see this as supporting their own efforts. Its not as good as a blank check from their point of view, but it might be acceptable.

Option 2

Reading Block Grant: States would put together a comprehensive plan for improving reading in the early grades. States could spend funds under this program to help students meet challenging standards in reading by the 4th grade, by any combination of (1) training teachers in proven, effective reading instruction practices; (2) reducing class size in grades k-4 by recruiting, preparing and hiring additional, well trained teachers; (3) providing tutors or other forms of assistance for students who need it, including in after-school or summer school programs; (4) implementing proven reading programs; and (5) upgrading teacher certification requirements. The state would report annually (1) the amount of funds used under this program and how the funds were used, (2) the extent of any class size reductions it achieved under the plan, and (3) student performance on state reading assessments tied to state standards in grade 3 or 4, as determined by the state.

Subject: NYT: Giuliani Proposes Bill to Broaden Rights of Unmarried Coup

New York Times, May 12, 1998

(<http://www.nytimes.com>)

Giuliani Proposes Bill to Broaden Rights of Unmarried Couples

By DAN BARRY

NEW YORK -- Mayor Rudolph Giuliani proposed legislation on Monday that would require the city's government to treat unmarried couples the same as those who are married, allowing them to continue as tenants in apartments leased to their partners and insuring their rights to be buried together in a city-owned cemetery.

The mayor forwarded the legislative proposal late on Monday afternoon to the City Council, where the measure will be sponsored by Peter Vallone, the council speaker. With Vallone's support, the proposal is virtually certain to pass.

Giuliani's proposal, which fulfills a campaign promise he made to gay rights advocates last year, would give New York City one of the nation's broadest set of policies regarding domestic partnerships.

It would enshrine into city law the initiatives relating to domestic partnerships begun by Mayors David Dinkins and Edward Koch, Giuliani's two immediate predecessors. Those initiatives included granting bereavement leaves for city employees and visitation rights in city-owned hospitals.

The mayor's proposal would also obligate the city to give registered domestic partners the same benefits as spouses under the city's future collective bargaining agreements and would allow the mayor to provide "Good Samaritan" awards to the domestic partners of uniformed city employees who are killed in the line of duty.

One gay-rights organization said that the law, which would apply to heterosexual and homosexual domestic partnerships registered with the city clerk, would provide greater recognition of the emotional and practical import of same-sex relationships.

"It would be a psychological and emotional affirmation of our relationships," said Matt Foreman, the director of the Empire State Pride Agenda, a gay-rights organization that had worked with the Giuliani administration in drafting the language of the legislation.

The mayor has already quietly begun to change the rules and regulations of city agencies to insure equal treatment for registered domestic partners.

For example, the partners of city employees will have the right to be buried with them in the city-owned Canarsie Cemetery in Brooklyn -- a right previously given only to spouses. And, like spouses, registered partners will also be able to represent their companions in challenging tax bills.

The sweeping proposals come at a time when Giuliani is trying to raise his profile as a potential Republican candidate for higher office. In recent weeks he has traveled to Michigan, New Mexico and Arizona to speak to rock-solid Republicans about the strides he has made in reducing crime and cutting budgets -- but not about his efforts in behalf of gays and lesbians in New York City.

On Monday, several Republican leaders around the country said that they were baffled by his proposal. A few said that it reinforced the perception that the mayor is too liberal for the generally conservative Republicans who participate in the party's presidential primaries.

"You ask the average Republican on the street who would sponsor that kind of bill, and 99 percent would say a Democrat," said Chris Baker, the executive director of the Colorado Republican Party. "For lack of a better term, it's a very Northeastern Republican bill," he added. "Imagine him trying to campaign on that kind of legislation down in Alabama. It won't work."

Randy Mastro, the deputy mayor of operations, declined to discuss the national political implications of the proposal. But he emphasized that the measure would also benefit heterosexual couples. According to city statistics, of the 8,700 unmarried couples that have registered with the city clerk's office since 1992, more than 55 percent are heterosexual.

Mastro said that in submitting the proposal, Giuliani was merely honoring a commitment he made to the Pride Agenda and other gay-rights organizations to fight for legislation that would insure equal treatment by the city of registered domestic partners. That commitment came in mid-October, three weeks before his re-election.

"What we have done is propose legislation tailored to address those issues and to provide the same rights, obligations and benefits to registered domestic partners under the local law as those provided to spouses," Mastro said.

AGENDA
Child Care Working Group
May 14, 1998

I. Presentation of Democratic Proposal

II. Possible Additions:

- Juvenile Justice: (Slaughter, H.R. 3400) - Would direct existing juvenile justice funds to after-school prevention programs in areas with high crime levels or significant numbers of at-risk youth. Costs $1.25 billion over 5 years.
- Full-Service Community Schools: (Hoyer/ Lowey)- A full-service school integrates the delivery of quality education with whatever health, social and cultural services that are required in that community.
- After School Snacks: (Woolsey, H.R. 3086) - It expands the number of schools and students eligible to participate in the Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) at after-school programs. Current law only allows low-income kids up to age 13 to get subsidized snacks. This bill would extend that to age 18.
- Family and Medical Leave Improvements Act of 1997: (Clay, H.R. 109) -Would amend the Family and Medical Leave Act to provide 24 hours of additional leave that workers may use for greater involvement in their children's education (including school activities, parent-teacher conferences or interviewing for new child care, etc.).
- Welfare to Work: Ensure accountability on the part of the states for the provision of child care services to TANF participants and those leaving TANF.
- Stay-at-Home: (Kennelly, H.R. 3292) - Extends eligibility of Child Tax Credit (CTC) to stay-at-home parents with children under 4. The credit would be equivalent to the current $500 tax credit plus an additional amount equal to the average increase in tax relief provided to two-worker families with a young child through the expansion of the DCTC.
- Background Checks: (Tauscher, H.R. 3686) - States must certify and maintain an enforcement mechanism for conducting background checks on Center-based providers and group home providers without charge to the provider. Costs $5 billion over 5 years.
- Grants to Businesses: (Tauscher, H.R. 3686) - Directs the Secretary to make grants to States to provide grants to eligible entities to improve access to affordable, local, quality child care services.
- Child and Adult Food Program: (Tauscher, H.R. 3686) - Amends the National School Lunch Act to increase reimbursement rates for family or group day care homes under the child and adult care food program. Costs are $225 million over 5 years. (First section on Tier 2 program -- $40 million a year, second section on sponsor payments -- $5 million a year.)

- Student Loan Deferral: (Tauscher, H.R. 3686) - Amends the Higher Education Act of 1965 to provide for student loan deferral for certain child care providers under specified programs for federally insured loans, federally guaranteed loans, and Federal direct student loans. No specific cost known -- the Lazio/Tauscher Amendment (part of Higher Education bill passed authorizing "such sums as necessary".)
- The Child Care Public-Private Partnership Act: (Lowey H.R. 2719)- Directs the Secretary of HHS to establish a business incentive grant program to provide child care through public-private partnerships. Costs $75 million over three years.

TEXT:

Elena,

The following is an update of where we are on H1B legislation:

1. Senate

The SAP that included a Secy of Labor recommended veto went up late on Monday. We still do not know if the bill is going to the Senate floor today. As of noon today, there was no time agreement.

Kennedy is planning to offer two amendments: (1) a recruit and retain attestation (that looks good, though we have been told that he may offer to exempt universities from this requirement); (2) a no lay-off attestation (that is weak -- i.e., protects against lay-offs in a specific job at a specific place of employment and defines "lay-off" to not include the expiration of a grant, contract, or other agreement -- but the best that Kennedy thinks he can get in the Senate). Kennedy's whistle-blower amendment (protection from retaliation) was accepted.

Abraham's bill authorizes $50 million for the SSIG program, but Reed is offering an amendment to remove the SSIG program from the bill. Wellstone is offering a training amendment that authorizes the Secy of Labor to provide grants under part D of Title IV of the JTPA "for the purpose of providing training and related activities to assist in preparing workers for employment in industries with technology skills" to PICs (or their successors, which could include Regional Skills Alliances). He intends to use the colloquy to speak about wanting an application fee to fund training.

2. House

The House Judiciary Committee mark-up has been postponed until next week (Tues. or Wed.). Peter now advises that our letter to Hyde should include a statement that if the Committee significantly weakens the bill's reforms, the Secy of Labor (and possibly the AG) would recommend a veto. Before we make the final decision on this, we likely want to factor in to our analysis the outcome of the Sen. vote (whether the Kennedy reforms make it into the bill and whether a bill that includes those reforms would be o.k. with us).

That's it for now.

Julie

Ford and Robb say they are basically happy with the outcome in finance today. There is still a lot of concern about Lugar gaining support, and some confusion about the health groups' position. We have worked at making sure the health groups' position is clear.

Senator Ford is most worried about Durbin, Mosley-Braun, Feingold, Boxer, Lautenberg, Torrecelli, and Leahy being tempted to vote for Lugar. Ford is likely to have many, many amendments in the offing in case Lugar wins, in which case Ford's goal would be to go after the whole bill.

1) Volume adjustment options -- Josh, Jon, and Karl will have paper shortly, and are ready to discuss.

2) Youth lookback surcharge survey -- By 10:00 am I will have from Gary Claxton language adjusting the base year for the lookback survey and proposing other technical changes (i.e., the survey specifications that should substitute for the Univ. of Michigan language now in the bill). HHS recommends that we provide a credit towards the youth smoking targets based on how much we think the price increase would have reduced youth smoking.

3) Effect of State Settlements -- Currently, every state is included in the bill unless they opt out. However, the way the language is written now, TX, FL, and MS could probably get paid twice if a) they did not opt out of the bill and b) they argued successfully in court that the federal legislation is not "substantially similar" to their agreements. Minnesota's settlement agreement does not include this disputable "substantially similar" language, but instead makes clear that companies will get a credit against settlement payments owed Minnesota for funds the state receives due to federal tobacco-related legislation which are "(i) unrestricted as to their use, or (ii) are restricted to any form of health care or to any use related to tobacco." DOJ is preparing language ASAP to fix this possible double dipping problem.

4) Castano Lawyers -- Section 704(c) of the bill (p. 440-441) settles the Castano suits and establishes a 3-person arbitration panel to award attorneys fees and expenses. Participating manufacturers pay the awards made by the arbitration panel -- outside of anything they pay in the annual assessment.

5) Document Depository -- DOJ has no objections to making the document depository a non-profit entity.

6) International funding language -- as you asked, we faxed to Hollings staff the language OMB drafted authorizing $200 million a year for international tobacco control efforts, which allows the President to transfer to any agency funds appropriated for this purpose.

You may already know this, but the Kasich budget plan would do some other rotten things in welfare (in addition to cutting all the welfare-to-work money in 1999, as Andrea noted earlier):

eliminate the money we got added in the BBA for work slots to soften the food stamp cuts for 18-50 childless adults;
freeze the shelter deduction;
takes a mysteriously large amount out of food stamp admin costs ($4 billion);
big EITC cut.

In the service world, it would also eliminate funding for AmeriCorps (so much for Harris's efforts to reach out to this guy).

I understand you have received AG Reno's recommendation on DEA's policy on "assisted suicides". Oregon voters have twice voted a state policy on this subject - by overwhelming margins, and, as a result, Governor Kitzhaber is very interested in the subject. He has written us a few times (I'll forward the letters if you are interested) and would like his views taken into account and - at least - pre-notified of our decision.

We are starting to plan for this event, where the President will attend CityYear's annual celebration event on June 3 in Cleveland.

Gomperts had a thought for the June 5/6 radio address. Habitat for Humanity has organized an event on June 6 with Congress, HUD, AmeriCorps, and others called "Houses of Congress", when 350 members of the House will spend part of that Saturday reconstructing a house with Habitat. Perhaps in combination with some HUD housing message or stats, that could be a good message about housing and service.

The Finance Committee Tobacco provisions would apply the $1.50/pack tax to Puerto Rico and the other unincorporated areas (Guam, the Virgin Islands, Samoa, and the Northern Marianas) but not provide them with a share of the revenue. Finance Committee Minority staff were unaware of this when I alerted them to it.

We should try to have this rectified ASAP.
