TEXT:

WASHINGTON (AP) After a sharp-elbowed debate, the House today rebuffed a Republican attempt to prevent restoration of food stamp benefits to legal immigrants who were dropped from the rolls in the 1996 welfare reform law.

In a 289-120 vote, the House rejected an effort by Rep. Gerald Solomon, R-N.Y., to strip the food stamp provisions out of a wide-ranging $1.9 billion measure that also guarantees crop insurance to thousands of farmers and pays for agriculture research.

Solomon, chairman of the Rules Committee, and other House GOP leaders contended that restoring benefits to 250,000 legal immigrants amounted to a rollback of the welfare reform law.

"You vote yes on this bill, you are just repealing everything we did two years ago," Solomon said.

But farm-state lawmakers of both parties, concerned about chaos in the crop insurance program just as policies are being renewed, were joined by minority members and advocates for the poor in rejecting any move to divide the bill into pieces.

"There is no excuse for this nastiness," said Rep. Tony Hall, D-Ohio. "These are the neediest of immigrants. Why on Earth do we want to take away their food stamps?"

Added Rep. Earl Pomeroy, D-N.D.: "This is a slap in the face to rural America."

Nearly 100 Republicans split with their leadership, which has been actively courting Hispanics, Asian-Americans, blacks and other minorities in an effort to cement themselves as a majority party.

"We need to show that we care," said Rep. James Walsh, R-N.Y. "Welfare reform has worked. But there were certain aspects of it, including food stamps, that went too far."

Cecilia Munoz, spokeswoman for the National Council of La Raza, a Hispanic group, said GOP outreach efforts fall flat when Republicans take actions such as attempting to block immigrant food stamps.

"This makes people very, very angry," she said. "Actions speak louder than words."

The key vote came on a House rule that could have permitted the food stamp provisions to be separated from the rest of the measure. After the rule was rejected, Solomon said the measure would not be considered again until after a weeklong Memorial Day recess.

President Clinton and immigrant advocacy groups had sought to restore benefits to far more of the estimated 935,000 who lost them in 1996, but have agreed to accept the compromise as a down payment. The president had vowed to veto the bill without the food stamps and it passed the Senate 92-8 in April.

Targeted are the elderly, those under 18, the disabled and people who came to the United States to flee political or religious persecution. To qualify, those immigrants had to be living in the United States as of Aug. 22, 1996, the day the welfare reform bill became law.

In crop insurance, the measure would guarantee $470 million over five years to pay agents and companies for expenses and commissions. The money also would be placed in mandatory spending categories, meaning it would not have to compete with other priorities year after year.

The bill would add $600 million over five years for agricultural research, stressing such areas as food safety and biotechnology, and increase five-year spending for rural development programs by $100 million.

SUBJECT: LEGISLATIVE REPORT

Today, H.R. 2400 - ISTECA Conference Report was adopted in the Senate (88-5) and in the House (297-86), clearing the measure for the President. An Obey motion to recommit with instruction to drop the VA tobacco provision was defeated (190-195).

Today, Chairman Livingston distributed a draft 302(b) allocation for FY 1999. In aggregate, it is at the same level of the Senate resolution and the BBA for defense, non-defense and crime.

CONGRESS -- TODAY (5/22):

SENATE:

Adopted (88-5) H.R. 2709 - Iran Missile Proliferation Sanctions Act of 1997
[SAP sent, 5/21: Senior advisers veto recommendation]

Continued consideration of S. 1415 - National Tobacco Policy and Youth Smoking Reduction Act [POTUS letter sent, 5/20: POTUS supports passage as amended by the Manager's amendment]

The Senate will be out of session for the Memorial Day recess from Monday, May 25 - Friday, May 29. On Monday (6/1) the Senate will convene at noon for morning business and at 2pm, will resume consideration of the tobacco legislation, with votes postponed until Tuesday (6/2). Also, on Tuesday, the Senate will also hold a cloture vote on nuclear waste legislation after 6pm.

HOUSE:

Rejected (120-289) the rule to consider S. 1150 - Ag Research Conference report. The rule would have stricken the food stamp benefit restoration to legal immigrants.

[Lew letters sent 5/22: Senior advisers would recommend veto if the rule to consider S. 1150 allows the House to remove components of the restored food stamp benefits and the savings provisions]

Continued consideration of H.R. 2183 - Bipartisan Campaign Integrity Act of 1997

[POTUS letter sent, 5/20: POTUS supports Shays/Meehan substitute]

The House also appointed conferees to the IRS Reform conference report.

The House will be out of session for the Memorial Day recess from Monday, May 25 - Wednesday, June 3.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Bruce Reed
Elena Kagan

RE: DPC Weekly Report

Tobacco -- Senate Update: On Monday, the Senate began consideration of the McCain bill. Members filed approximately 100 amendments and debate has proceeded at a slow pace. The following amendments were considered:

- Faircloth amendment to impose a $250 per hour cap on attorney fees. Rejected.
- Kennedy amendment to increase the price to $1.50 per pack phased in over three years. Rejected: 58-40.
- Ashcroft amendment to strike the $1.10 per pack price increase. Rejected: 72-26.
- Gregg-Leahy amendment to remove the $8 billion liability cap and other liability protections. Adopted 61-37.
- Gramm to eliminate the tax code's marriage penalty.
- Durbin amendment to increase the company-specific penalty and reduce the industry wide-penalty.
- Amendment to strike Senator Ford's LEAF Act (and keep the Lugar farm provisions.)

Given the slow speed at which they are proceeding, it is currently unclear whether the Senate can wrap the bill up before the Memorial Day recess, or whether debate will continue after they reconvene in June. [THIS IS SUMMARY AS OF 4:00PM THURS; WILL NEED TO BE UPDATED.]

Tobacco -- MMWR Study: The Centers for Disease Control released on Thursday new statistics on teenage smoking patterns and addiction. The data found that: (1) teenagers find it difficult to quit smoking -- 86 percent of teens who smoke daily and try to quit are unsuccessful; (2) teenagers underestimate the addictiveness of nicotine -- 75 percent of teenage daily smokers who expect to quit are still smoking five years later; (3) casual smokers become hooked -- 42 percent of young people who smoke as few as three cigarettes per month go on to become regular smokers. Currently, 36.4 percent of high school students smoke.

Immigration -- H-1B visas: Last Wednesday, the House Judiciary Committee approved by a vote of 23-4 a bill, authored by Rep. Lamar Smith, increasing the cap on H-1B visas while making substantial reforms to protect qualified U.S. workers from being displaced or passed over in favor of temporary foreign workers to the program. Unfortunately, the Smith bill does not contain a training component. Prior to the mark-up, Secretaries Daley and Herman and the Attorney General sent a letter to Chairman Hyde indicating that the Administration would support the bill if it were modified to include a meaningful training provision and a more modest increase in the cap.

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

Last week, the Senate passed a similar bill that temporarily increases the cap and authorizes money for increased training through Title IV of the JTPA, but does not include any meaningful reform of the H-1B program. OMB sent a Statement of Administration Position (SAP) that related if the final bill did not include meaningful reform of the H-1B program, the Secretary of Labor would recommend a veto.

Immigration -- INS Reform: Last Wednesday, Rep. Rogers introduced an INS restructuring bill that generally tracks the recommendations of the United States Commission on Immigration Reform. The bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee. INS has prepared draft legislation that would implement our restructuring plan, which we plan to have introduced soon after the Memorial Day break (possibly by Rep. Watt or Sen. Kennedy). Sen. Abraham has announced his intention to hold hearings starting in June on INS restructuring, though he has stated it is unlikely that a restructuring plan would be in place by the end of this Congress.

Crime -- COPS Event: Next Friday, we have an event tentatively scheduled to: 1) celebrate the milestone of the 75,000th cop funded under your COPS initiative; and 2) launch a new pilot project to target COPS funding toward distressed neighborhoods. The first phase of the pilot will fund more than 500 officers; the COPS office is currently finalizing the list of participating cities which they expect will include 10 large and 10 small cities across the country.

Crime -- Police bills: Last Friday, the Congress passed two bills strongly supported by law enforcement and the Administration. One bill creates a grant program to help local law enforcement agencies purchase additional bulletproof vests; the other helps fund counseling services for dependents of slain officers. We are working with Rahm Emanuel and Legislative Affairs to schedule a signing ceremony for these bills as part of the COPS event, or at some later date.

Drunk Driving -- .08 BAC: Last weekend, conferees to the highway bill agreed to include a new $500 million incentive grant program for states with .08 BAC laws instead of imposing sanctions on states that fail to pass .08 laws. MADD and others such as Senator Lautenberg and Representative Lowey were extremely disappointed with the outcome on the .08 issue. Conferees and committee staff are pushing hard to complete their work to allow the Congress to vote on the final bill prior to the Memorial Day recess.

Health Care -- Patients' Bill of Rights Update: There were reports this week that Speaker Gingrich is trying to stop any patients' bill of rights legislation from moving this year by stalling and diluting the efforts of his Republican task force led by Rep. Hastert.

We have learned that Rep. Norwood shares our frustration and is quietly talking to Rep. Dingell about a possible discharge petition to bypass the House Republican Task Force and the Committees of Jurisdiction. We are extremely encouraged by these discussions and are pursuing this and other strategies to move this legislation. To increase momentum on this issue, you are scheduled to participate in an event next week to release a state-by-state analysis to illustrate how many Americans are not covered by state patient protection laws, even where they exist (125 million). This event will also highlight why the patients' protections are so important to women -- women are larger consumers of health care than men and reports now confirm that complaints made by women are seen as less urgent than men and consequently, women are less likely to be referred to specialists. Nancy Dickey, the newly-appointed first women chair of the American Medical Association, is also scheduled to participate in this event.

Campaign Finance Reform -- Free TV Petition: Today, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) will place into circulation a Notice of Inquiry (NOI), opening a proceeding on free and discounted air time for candidates. The NOI is expected to pass within the month at which point it will become open for public comment. The FCC will conclude the NOI and submit a report to Congress by the end of the year. The recommendations of The President's Advisory Committee On the Public Interest Obligations of Digital Broadcasters will be included in the FCC's final report to Congress.

Education -- Bilingual Education: The House Subcommittee on Children, Youth and Families reported out a bill offered by Rep. Riggs that would replace the current bilingual and immigrant education programs with a block grant to states to help LEP students master English within two years. States would be required to cut off funds to any local program that does not meet the 2-year deadline for all students, and would be prohibited from exempting any students from state testing programs in English if the student has been in school for two years. Funds under this bill would be less effectively targeted to high need communities than in the current program. The bill also ends funding for teacher training. In addition, this bill would void existing compliance agreements between the Education Department's Office of Civil Rights and local school districts regarding the provision of services to LEP students, and would prohibit the Department of Education from entering into additional agreements until it proposes, and Congress ratifies, guidelines and compliance standards for Title VI. DPC staff have been working closely with other WH offices and the Education Department to develop a strategy for addressing the Riggs bill, and to prepare alternative legislation that could be introduced if appropriate, which fully reflects the principles for strengthening programs for LEP students you approved along with the decision to oppose the Unz Initiative. We will send you a more detailed status report on this issue this coming week.

Note to Elena: You may recall that we have been talking about linking any veto threat to the Riggs bill to the introduction of an alternative bill reflecting our anti-Unz principles--despite the wishes of the Hispanic Caucus that we threaten to veto but not propose an alternative. The bill that was marked up today is a new Riggs bill, including civil rights and testing provisions described above that were not included in the draft we had seen. I believe that the new Riggs bill may change our calculations about linking the veto threat and alternative legislation, because the civil rights provisions seem to be so objectionable on their own. I've written the paragraph above to give us the room to consider this possibility, and hope that your final version will do the same.

Education -- Class Size: Congressional Democrats and the NEA, AFT and other education groups are upset that the agreement we reached with NGA on spending the state share of tobacco funds did not include your class size reduction proposal, and some fault us for walking away from this initiative. In response, we met with Sen. Patty Murray, the prime Senate sponsor, and agreed to look for ways to help keep this issue alive, including looking for offsets that would enable her to bring this to the floor for debate. Even though the chances of enactment are slim, our ability to mobilize the education groups behind our overall education agenda as we head into the Fall depends in part on continuing to press for funding for your class size proposal.

Education -- New Orleans Schools: Several weeks ago you expressed concern about a controversy involving the Education Department's Office of Civil Rights and the New Orleans schools, regarding the use of IQ tests for admission to the Benjamin Franklin High School, a selective magnet school. OCR has been working with the local school board to resolve a complaint about the use of IQ test cutoff score as an admissions requirement regardless of grades or other indicators of academic performance. The local school board has already agreed to halt that practice, and to develop a new approach that would still maintain high admissions standards. The immediate controversy revolved around a decision by the local school board to rescind admission decisions that had already been announced for the next school year. OCR has told the board not to rescind its admissions decisions for the coming year, but instead to focus on developing new admissions criteria for the following school year. OCR understands the importance of working with New Orleans to resolve this in a fashion that enables the school to maintain high standards, and that does not undermine the Administration's commitment to high standards and testing.

Welfare Reform -- Welfare-to-Work Celebration: A series of activities are scheduled for May 27th to celebrate the success of the welfare-to-work effort, with a particular spotlight on the Welfare-to-Work Partnership and on the importance of job retention. As part of the celebration, you will join a small working meeting of CEOs from the Board of the Partnership and key Cabinet officials in the Roosevelt Room, where you will have a chance to congratulate these businesses for their extraordinary success in both hiring and retaining welfare recipients, and urge them to sustain their commitment. Over the last year, the Partnership has grown from 100 businesses to 5,000 today, and their business partners have hired 135,000 welfare recipients. In a recent survey of these businesses by the Wirthlin group, 75% found welfare recipients to be good, productive employees. United Airlines and others have found that the people hired off welfare have higher retention than other new employees.

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

Following the working meeting is an event in the East Room where you will be joined on the program by the VP, Eli Segal, Jerry Greenwald from United, and a welfare-to-work success story. At the event, you will announce the first round of Welfare-to-Work Competitive grants and the latest welfare caseload reductions, and you will challenge the Partnership to double the number of people hired by their business partners in the coming year. In the front row will be the success stories you met in Wichita and St. Louis, along with new success stories from United, UPS, and other companies. Other invitees include a group of Welfare-to-Work Competitive grant winners (from local governments, PICs, and non-profit organizations). In conjunction with the event, the Partnership will release a report called the Road to Retention, which profiles the retention successes of 16 large and small businesses. The Partnership will also release welfare-to-work PSAs.

Draft 5/22/98 10:30am

PRESIDENT WILLIAM J. CLINTON
RADIO ADDRESS ON SCHOOL SAFETY
MAY 23, 1998

Good morning. This weekend marks the time when we honor the brave men and women who gave their lives to serve our country, and we thank the hundreds of thousands of Americans in uniform who protect and defend us every day around the world. But this Memorial Day weekend, Americans are also praying for the people who lost their lives and for those who were wounded when a 15-year-old boy with a semi-automatic weapon opened fire in Springfield, Oregon this Thursday.

Like all Americans, I am deeply shocked and saddened by this tragedy, and my thoughts and prayers are with the victims and their families. Like all Americans, I am struggling to make sense of the senseless, and to understand what could drive a teenager to commit such a terrible act. And like all Americans, I am profoundly troubled by the startling similarity of this crime to the other tragic incidents that have stunned America in less than a year's time: In Paducah, Kentucky ... in Jonesboro, Arkansas ... in Pearl, Mississippi ... and in Edinboro, Pennsylvania.

We must face up to the fact that these are more than isolated incidents. They are symptoms of a changing youth culture that desensitizes our children to violence, where the average teenager has seen hundreds of murders on television and in movies and video games before he graduates from high school ... where too many young people fail to take responsibility for themselves and for their actions. And as a result, it is a culture where all too often, everyday conflicts are resolved not with words, but with weapons.

We cannot afford to ignore these symptoms -- we must take action: in our communities, in our schools, and in our homes. For more than five years, we have tried to do our part. We have worked hard to give communities the tools they need to make our schools safe -- from tighter security, to more police, to better prevention. To promote discipline and maintain order, we are encouraging curfews, school uniforms, and tough truancy policies. We will continue to do everything we can to keep guns out of the hands of our children and out of our schools. And we will continue to demand responsibility from our young people with strong punishments when they break the law.

But this is not a job that government can, or should, do alone. Parents must teach their children the unblinking distinction between right and wrong. We must exercise responsibility over the images our children are exposed to. We must teach young people to resolve conflicts peacefully. We must make sure that they know that they will be held accountable for their actions. And we must learn to read the early warning signals we know troubled young people send before they commit acts of violence.

Last month, I met with a panel of youth violence experts from around the country. I heard from an elementary school principal in Montana who reached out to police and helped take back her school from violence after an 11-year-old boy was killed by another student on school grounds. And I heard from a California man who started a foundation with the grandfather of the 14-year-old gang member who had killed his teenaged son. Together, they are teaching the young people of their community how to take responsibility for their actions, and resolve conflicts peacefully.

I learned many lessons that day, but one stood out above the rest. A seventeen year old high school junior from Cleveland, Ohio, who is a trainer and a mediator in his school's conflict resolution program, told me this. Given the right example and given the right tools, young people will not choose violence.

It is our duty -- and our moral obligation -- to set that example, to provide those tools, and to give our children that choice.

Thanks for listening.

TEXT:

Attached is our best guess of the strike Lugar and strike Ford vote count. Please hold it closely, we developed it in coordination with Ford and Robb's staff. You need a majority to strike. This count indicates both sides might have been able to strike, the crucial question is who would have gone first, and what effect would that have had on the second vote, i.e. having voted against LEAF, would Senators vote against Lugar (even if that is their inclination) if that means the end of any special help for farmers. Ford says he thinks the tide was turning in our direction at the end and we would have won if the vote was this week.

Next Steps:

1. We are going to have a daily call (1 p.m.) to coordinate who is reaching out to which senators and what response they are getting. The focus is on Durbin, ??? D's, and the ??? R's. The farm groups will reach out to the tobacco state senators, the health groups to the health oriented D's and R's. Glickman will reach out to the Ag. Cmttee members.
2. There is on-going efforts on in-state press for McConnell, Thurmond, Thompson. McConell in particular is taking very tough attacks, making it more and more critical to him that all the $18 billion be upfront money. He is digging in.
3. Strategically, we'd probably be in better shape if we could try and strike Lugar first, that would leave tobacco staters with no choice but to vote for LEAF or have nothing. If there is any chance to flip and get Ford to offer ahead of Durbin (who I guess had already started to offer his amendment) that would be good.
4. I was convinced that floating even the rumor of a compromise at this point is a bad idea. So many people are looking for one, it would surely kill LEAF, and the compromise would likely be unacceptable to Ford/Hollings. Better to fight this battle first and see if we can't win with what we have -- if it looks like we will lose, put out a compromise after LEAF loses but before the vote on Lugar.

TEXT:

At this point, it sounds like Eli and Shalala will be available for briefing press on event. We're trying to get Herman to be there--she had planned to do press roundtable with grantees back at DOL. It would be good for her to be here since she's best person to talk about WTW grants. Is it possible that Elena could be available for briefing since Bruce isn't?
