Someone asked about the outline of events in Cleveland to City Year for Potus on wed for a possible statement in his remarks on tobacco. Right now he is scheduled to do a round table on national service with city year volunteers and others before the pool where he could do this in his opening remarks. Also he is speaking to the City Year Convention later for another possibility. Thanks.

MEMORANDUM FOR GENE SPERLING

FROM: JON ORSZAG

SUBJECT: Policy Announcements for National Homeownership Week

I believe that any remarks for Homeownership Week would (1) emphasize our accomplishments over the past five years; (2) push for our housing agenda (welfare-to-work vouchers, low-income housing tax credit expansion, "play-by-the-rules" homeownership initiative); and (3) put forward a new policy announcement. A fourth potential component of any announcement would acknowledge the efforts of Habitat for Humanity and their "House that Congress Built" effort.<sup>1</sup>

Over the past two months, we have held a number of homeownership meetings with the goal of developing newsworthy initiatives that do not spend "new money." These meetings have included representatives of HUD, Treasury, NEC, DPC, OMB, OTS, Federal Home Loan Bank, Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation, Agriculture, and PIR (for the One America initiative). Through this process, we have developed two potential announcements for Homeownership Week: the first would be more of a fair housing and homeownership announcement; the second would be more about providing incentives to lower income Americans to become homeowners.

Option 1: One America Announcement

Last fall, HUD and NAR concluded a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) which sets forth the broad outline of a One America housing initiative and the rights and responsibilities of the parties. One potential policy announcement is the final details of this initiative.

Over the past several months, HUD and NAR have been working through the details of the initiative and they are about to be finalized. Under the terms of the final agreement, NAR will develop a cultural diversity certification program which will reflect the letter and spirit of the President's One America initiative and will be subject to approval by HUD. Upon approval,

<sup>1</sup> Millard Fuller, the founder of Habitat for Humanity wrote a letter to the President on Habitat's "The Houses That Congress Built" (THTCB) program. June 6 will be Habitat's focus day for their THTCB program. The Houses That Congress Build is a joint initiative launched by Habitat, the House of Representatives and various funding groups to build at least one house in each of the 435 Congressional Districts. To date, about 400 Representatives have pledged their support to THTCB program, providing assistance in raising funds for the building costs and any other general help. On June 6, over 68 Representatives, as well as members of the Clinton Administration, are scheduled to be on location at various sites to show their support for THTCB program.

HUD would permit NAR to award the use of the One America mark and logo by real estate professional who are free of fair housing violations and successfully complete the one-day training program.

HUD will promote the One America initiative in an advertising campaign on television, in public service announcements, speeches, interviews, in FHA advertising, and on HUD's Web page.

The agreement goes on to spell out the terms governing use of the One America mark and logo by certified real estate professionals, restrictions on its use, and circumstances requiring its surrender.

A final draft of the agreement has been approved by NAR and is in final review by HUD.

Option 2: Individual Development Accounts

As you know, Individual Development Accounts (IDAs) are a new innovative idea that the Administration has supported in the past (but never put any money towards). They help lower income American boost savings by matching each dollar the individual deposits with public (or private) funds. The match, in some cases, is as high as eight to one, even though we envision something more in line with two-four to one. The match could come from the government, non-profit, or from a for-profit entity. Withdrawals from the IDA are generally allowed for only buying a home; education and training; or starting a new business. Participation would be limited to lower American families. In general, participation is limited to those eligible for welfare or have an income below the EITC phase-out point, and have net worth below $10,000.

There is one main way that we can promote IDAs (and three more minor ways -- see below):

- 1. Endorse Coats Legislation. Sen. Coats is the lead sponsor on a 4-year, $100 million IDA demonstration program -- the Assets for Independence Act -- under which states and local agencies and/or non-profits would be funded to operate IDA programs providing a match of no less than one to one and no more than eight to one for each dollar of earned income deposited into the account. Under the Coats bill, preference in the application process would be given to entities that are able to attract pledges of substantial non-Federal -- especially private sector -- funding to serve as a match for Federal dollars. In the Senate, the co-sponsors of this legislation are: Harkin, DeWine, Abraham, Lugar, Levin, Moseley-Braun, Collins, Wellstone. In the House, the legislation is sponsored by T. Hall and co-sponsored by conservatives such as Kasich to liberals such as Olver.

You should know that the endorsement of Coats' bill would raise an issue about how we are paying for our endorsement. While $25 million for FY99 is not much money, we may raise an issue about supporting legislation and not offering to "pay for it." In the past, we have offered to "work with Congress to find appropriate offsets." We could do this in this case, but it raises this issue.

Moreover, supporting the Coats legislation makes it difficult for us to come forward with our own more comprehensive proposal in the FY2000 budget. While we will not be completely locked in, it would be any new proposal in our next budget less newsworthy.

In conjunction with any announcement on IDAs, we could also make three other announcements:

- 1. FFIEC Letter to Clarify That Banks Can Receive CRA Credit for IDA Programs. The Corporation for Enterprise Development (CFED) has been at the forefront of this issue and they believe that a definitive, and inclusive, regulatory position statement is needed to encourage financial institution participation. To that end, OTS has worked with CFED to craft a request for an interagency (FFIEC) CRA interpretation on IDAs. OCC was awaiting a formal interpretation from a major bank, which they supposedly received last week. Therefore, the regulatory agencies are prepared to issue a formal interpretation that states that IDAs, designed for the education, housing or business development benefit of low- or moderate-income individuals, serve community development purposes and would therefore be eligible for credit under the Community Reinvestment Act. This should allay concerns and facilitate partnerships among financial institutions.
- 2. Letter from HUD to State and Local Areas To Clarify That HOME and CDBG Funds Can Be Used To Establish IDA Programs. While HOME and CDBG funds can currently be used to establish IDA programs, many state and local areas do not know that this is an eligible activity. Therefore, HUD would issue a clarification letter that would state that HOME and CDBG funds can be used for IDA programs that benefit low- and moderate-income Americans.
- 3. Examples of IDA Programs. The Partners in Homeownership are also prepared to release a booklet of examples of current IDA programs. I would not suggest calling this a "best practices" booklet because we do not yet know how successful IDA programs have been. This book would solely be a book about how IDAs have been set up so far.

Have you all thought much about the commencement on this topic?

The President's Initiative on Race Policy Initiatives

Policies that expand opportunity across racial lines and, in doing so, force the recognition of shared interests are the best hope for improving race relations and reducing racial disparities over the long term. In developing the following set of policies and proposals as part of the President's Initiative on Race, we have been guided by the principle that all Americans share the desire for good schools, safe neighborhoods, good health, affordable housing, and fair treatment by the courts.

1. Civil Rights Enforcement

In January of this year, the Vice President announced a package of civil rights enforcement initiatives that places new emphasis on prevention and non-litigation remedies for discrimination and strengthens civil rights agencies's ability to enforce anti-discrimination laws. The Clinton Administration's Fiscal Year 1999 balanced budget contains $602 million for civil rights enforcement agencies and offices -- an increase of $86 million, or more than 16 percent, over last year's funding.

a. EEOC

The President's budget proposal expands the EEOC's ADR program over three years to allow as many as 70 percent of all complainants to choose mediation, rather than the lengthy process of investigation and litigation. The Administration's budget also sets specific performance goals for the EEOC to reduce its backlog. Through a combination of the increased use of mediation, improved information technology, and an expanded investigative staff, the EEOC will reduce the average time it takes to resolve private sector complaints from over 9.4 months to 6 months, and reduce the backlog of cases from 64,000 to 28,000, by the year 2000.

In total, the budget requests $279 million for the EEOC for FY 1999 -- $37 million or 15 percent more than the enacted 1998 budget. More than one-third of the proposed increase ($13 million) goes to expansion of the agency's ADR program.

b. HUD -- Fair Housing

$10 million for Fair Housing Testing Initiative

The Administration's budget proposes an increased emphasis on reducing discrimination and ensuring equal opportunity in housing. The highlight of the HUD budget proposal is a targeted enforcement initiative that will use paired testing -- in which otherwise identical applicants of different races or genders approach Realtors or landlords -- to detect and eliminate housing discrimination. This systematic, focused testing strategy will allow more accurate measurement and increased public awareness of housing discrimination, while facilitating enforcement actions against violators of the fair housing law.

Enforcement against Housing Discrimination.

Last Fall, HUD announced a plan to double the number of civil rights enforcement actions by the year 2000 as a response to the increase in reported cases of serious fair-housing violations. HUD has also committed $15 million to 67 fair-housing centers around the country to assist in combating housing discrimination this year.

c. Coordination of Civil Rights

The President's civil rights enforcement plan recognizes the need for enhanced coordination of federal civil rights enforcement policy among agencies by highlighting the lead role of the Department of Justice's Civil Rights Division, under the direction of Bill Lann Lee, and providing an additional $1 million for coordination activities. This emphasis will lead to more consistent enforcement of civil rights laws, broader dissemination of best practices, and improved data collection.

2. Education

a. Class Size Reduction

In his State of the Union address, President Clinton proposed a $12.4 billion initiative over 7 years ($7.3 billion over 5 years) to help local schools provide small classes with qualified teachers in the early grades. This will help make sure that every child receives personal attention, gets a solid foundation for further learning, and learns to read independently by the end of third grade. Research shows that smaller classes have a particularly large impact for minority and low-income students. The new initiative will reduce class size in grades 1-3 to a nationwide average of 18, by providing funds to help local school districts hire an additional 100,000 well-prepared teachers. States will receive funds for teacher training, and new teachers will be required to pass state competency tests.

b. Education Opportunity Zones

President Clinton's Education Opportunity Zones initiative will strengthen public schools and help students master the basics where the need is the greatest: in high poverty urban and rural communities where low expectations, too many poorly prepared teachers, and overwhelmed school systems create significant barriers to high achievement. The Education Department will select approximately 50 high poverty urban and rural school districts that have a track record of improving achievement and agree to: (1) use high standards and tests of student achievement to identify and provide help to students, teachers and schools who need it; (2) prevent students from falling behind by ensuring quality teaching, challenging curricula, and extended learning time; and (3) end social promotion and turn around failing schools. Added investments in these communities will accelerate their progress and provide successful models of system-wide, standards-based reform for the nation. The President's initiative will invest $200 million in FY99, and $1.5 billion over 5 years, to raise achievement and share lessons learned with school districts around the country.

c. Getting Good Teachers to Underserved Areas

President Clinton has proposed a $350 million initiative to attract talented people of all backgrounds into teaching at low-income schools across the nation, and to dramatically improve the quality of training and preparation given to our future teachers. This new initiative will help bring nearly 35,000 outstanding new teachers into high-poverty schools in urban and rural areas over the next five years. In addition, it will upgrade the quality of teacher preparation at institutions of higher education that work in partnership with local schools in inner-city and poor rural areas. The President's proposal would offer scholarships to those students preparing to become teachers who will teach in targeted communities for at least three years. This effort will help recruit and prepare teachers nationwide to help our neediest students succeed in the 21st century.

d. High Hopes

The President's High Hopes initiative provides children and their families at middle and junior high schools in low-income communities with a 21st Century Scholar certificate -- an official, early notification of the amount of their eligibility for Federal college aid. To make the hope of a college education a reality, the High Hopes initiative encourages degree-granting colleges to establish partnerships with middle and junior high schools with large concentrations of low-income children. Working with parents, community and religious groups, and businesses, these partnerships provide information about what it means and what it takes to go to college, as well as support services -- such as mentoring, tutoring, college visits, summer programs, after-school activities, and counseling -- to help the children stay on track. The partnerships will help ensure that children have access to the rigorous core courses that prepare them for college and let parents know how they can help their children prepare for college.

e. School Construction

In order for students to learn and compete in the global economy, schools must be well equipped and able to accommodate smaller class sizes. To address this crucial issue of school construction and modernization, the President has proposed federal tax credits to pay interest on nearly $22 billion in bonds to build and renovate public schools. This is more than double the assistance proposed last year, which covered half of the interest on an estimated $20 billion in bonds. Half of this financial support will be allocated to the 100-120 school districts with the largest number of low-income children.

In addition, the President's FY 1999 budget proposes a 59% increase in funding for construction and facilities improvement and repair for Native American schools.

f. Hispanic Education Action Plan

This unprecedented, $600 million commitment helps Latino youngsters master the basics of reading and math; it helps them learn English, stay in school, and prepare for college; and, ultimately, it helps them succeed in college. The initiative also helps Hispanic adults learn English, and expands educational opportunities for migrant youth and adults.

3. Economic Opportunity

a. Welfare-to-Work Housing Vouchers

The President's FY99 budget includes $283 million for 50,000 new vouchers exclusively for people who need housing assistance to make the transition from welfare to employment. Local agencies would have great flexibility to design and operate the welfare-to-work voucher program within broad national guidelines, to encourage maximum local creativity and innovation.

Families could use these housing vouchers to move closer to a new job, to reduce a long commute, or to secure more stable housing to eliminate emergencies that keep them from getting to work every day on time. These targeted vouchers will give people on welfare a new tool to make the transition to a job and succeed in the work place.

b. Access to Jobs

Many low-income workers and those moving from welfare to work have difficulty accessing jobs, training, and other services such as child care because of inadequate transportation. Public transit systems often do not adequately serve new suburban job centers, nor do they adequately serve workers who have evening and weekend shifts. Forty percent of rural counties have no public transportation at all.

The Access to Jobs initiative, proposed by President Clinton, is a competitive grant program that will provide flexible resources to assist states and communities as they develop innovative transportation alternatives such as vanpools and late-night and weekend services. This initiative will foster partnerships between transportation and human services agencies, and support the capital and operating costs of new services. Access to Jobs will build on and leverage other transportation resources by requiring a dollar-for-dollar match. The transportation bill passed by Congress provides up to $150 million a year for this initiative.

- c. Empowerment Zones (Round II)
The FY99 budget proposes $150 million a year for 10 years for a second round of HUD Urban Empowerment Zones grants. These grants would provide performance-oriented flexible funding for the 15 urban zones authorized in the Taxpayer Relief Act. A related proposal provides $20 million a year for 10 years in USDA funding for a second round of rural EZs. The FY99 budget funds Round II EZs at levels comparable to those in Round I: $100 million per urban zone and $40 million per rural zone. This funding complements tax benefits provided for Round II in the Taxpayer Relief Act.
- d. Economic Development Initiative(EDI)/Community Empowerment Fund
This proposal would allocate $400 million for the Economic Development Initiative (EDI), to leverage private sector funding for job-creating projects -- nearly tripling the FY98 $138 million appropriation. EDI funds allow communities to make greater use of HUD's Section 108 loan guarantee program. The Administration plans to use EDI and Section 108 guarantees together to stimulate creation of a true secondary market in economic development loans, by standardizing the underwriting criteria for Section 108-backed project loans and by pooling these loans. This would build on such secondary market activity already underway.
- e. Community Development Financial Institutions (CDFI)
The Administration has requested a $45 million increase in CDFI funding (from $80 million to $125 million), to allow the CDFI Fund to provide additional financial assistance to the growing CDFI field and to expand a training and technical assistance initiative. The increased funding would also be used, in part, to accelerate development of a secondary market for CDFI loans, complementing the EDI-funded effort.
- f. Opportunity Areas for Out of School Youth
Proposed in the President's FY 1998 Budget, the Youth Opportunity Areas initiative will provide $250 million in "seed capital" grants to Empowerment Zones, Enterprise Communities, and other high poverty areas to boost the employment rate among out-of-school youth. Congress provided a $250 million FY 1999 advance appropriation for the initiative, contingent on enactment by July 1, 1998 of authorizing legislation. The Administration is working with Congress to ensure enactment of job training reform legislation and secure funding for this important initiative.

g. Expanded Youthbuild

This program provides high school dropouts aged 16-24 with general academic and job skills training, as well as apprenticeships constructing and rehabilitating affordable housing. The 1998 Appropriations bill included $35 million for Youthbuild, as a set-aside within the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program. The President's FY 1999 budget requests $45 million in funding for Youthbuild outside CDBG.

4. Health Care

a. Children's Health Outreach

Minority children make up a disproportionate number of the over ten million uninsured children. African-American children make up 25 percent of uninsured children and Hispanic children make up 30 percent of all uninsured children -- more than twice their percentage of the overall population. The President's budget proposes options for States to access higher Federal matching funds for outreach activities and to temporarily enroll children at sites like schools.

b. Race & Health Initiative

In February of this year, President Clinton announced a $400 million initiative that sets a national goal of eliminating by the year 2010 longstanding disparities in health status that affect racial and ethnic minority groups. The initiative will focus on ending disparities in six key health areas: infant mortality; diabetes; cancer screening and management; heart disease; AIDS; and immunizations. The President announced that the Federal government will, for the first time, set high national health goals for all Americans, ending a practice of separate, lower goals for racial and ethnic minorities. To help reach these ambitious targets, the President also announced a five-step plan to mobilize the resources and expertise of the Federal government, the private sector, and local communities to eliminate disparities that for too long have been treated as intractable.

5. Housing

a. Expand Low Income Housing Tax Credit by 40 percent

The IRS allocates annually to each State an amount of low-income housing tax credits equal to $1.25 per resident. This limit has not been adjusted since the credit was created in 1986; thus, the purchasing power of the credit has declined by 40 percent since that date. The Administration's budget calls for increasing the limit by 40 percent to $1.75 per capita, at a cost of $1.6 billion over 5 years. This expansion will help develop an additional 150,000 to 180,000 affordable rental units over the next five years.

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

- b. “Play-by-the-Rules” Homeownership Initiative
The FY 1999 budget for the Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation includes $25 million for a new initiative that would make the dream of homeownership more accessible to families who have a good rental history but are currently underserved by the housing sales market. Under this initiative, 10,000 lower-income and often minority families who are currently renting would be provided with homeownership counseling, training, and flexible assistance for down payment or closing costs, second mortgage loans for debt reduction, or rehabilitation loans.

- c. Expanding Homeownership and Revitalizing Disadvantaged Areas
Homeownership Zones
The FY 1999 budget includes $25 million for Homeownership Zones. The funding would be used by communities to reclaim abandoned and distressed neighborhoods through the creation of large-scale developments of owner-occupied single-family homes. Funds could be used for property acquisition, housing construction, housing rehabilitation, demolition, site preparation, homeownership counseling, relocation, housing marketing, activities to further fair housing, and other activities essential to homeownership.

Home Loan Guarantee Program

This $11 million initiative would allow States and localities to use HOME funds as collateral to leverage private loans for large-scale affordable housing developments in distressed communities. Under this program, HUD would guarantee private loans of up to five times the jurisdiction’s most recent HOME allocation.

- d. Housing Mobility Initiatives
Regional Opportunity Counseling
Under this program, public housing authorities partner with nonprofits to provide counseling to Section 8 certificate and voucher holders, to ensure that they are aware of the full range of housing options. Studies have found that when Section 8 families are ready to move, they tend to search for housing in areas with which they are familiar. Unfortunately, these areas tend to be similar, and in close physical proximity, to their original high-poverty neighborhoods. This program also entails recruiting landlords to accept Section 8 families.

HUD allocated $36.7 million for the 16 regional opportunity counseling sites in FY 1996, and the Administration requested an additional $20 million for FY 1998 (as a set-aside in the Section 8 tenant-based account) to expand the program to additional sites. The FY 1998 VA-HUD Appropriations Act did not, however, include this set-aside. The Administration is again requesting $20 million for regional opportunity counseling.

Incentive to Reduce Poverty Concentrations of Housing Certificate and Voucher Families

The FY 1999 budget includes language giving the Secretary of HUD the option to provide bonuses to PHAs for increases in the number of Section 8 voucher and certificate holders moving to lower-poverty areas. This portability bonus would encourage PHAs to undertake additional outreach efforts to landlords in low-poverty areas to identify more housing options for voucher and certificate holders. The bonus would apply to moves both within and outside the PHA's service area.

6. Crime and Law Enforcement

a. Hate Crimes Conference

On November 10, 1997, the President and Attorney General Janet Reno hosted the first-ever White House Conference on Hate Crimes, which featured many experts and law enforcement officers from around the country. The President announced significant law enforcement and prevention initiatives to get tough on hate crimes. The initiatives included: support for legislation which expands the federal hate crimes statute to include hate crimes based on sexual orientation, gender, or disability; creation of a network of local hate crime working groups; the addition of upwards of 50 FBI agents and federal prosecutors to enforce hate crimes; improved collection of data on hate crimes; and materials to help educate the public -- especially youth -- about hate crimes.

b. COPS Grants to Underserved Areas

On May 29, 1998, the President announced a new COPS Office initiative to bring more police and more community policing to America's neighborhoods that need them most. Under this initiative, 18 cities will share $106 million to allow the hiring of 620 new community policing officers. The pilot cities were selected following an analysis of crime, demographic, and economic data. The common denominator of these cities, either as a whole or in certain neighborhoods, is that they face some of the highest per population levels of crime and/or economic distress in the United States.

c. Community Prosecutors

The President's FY 1999 budget proposed a new initiative, funded at $50 million, to promote community prosecution, which builds on effective community policing strategies. Thousands of police departments have learned how to put police directly in communities and work with citizens to cut crime. Now communities are turning to local prosecutors to play a more active role in the crime fighting effort, by spending time in their neighborhoods, helping solve local crime problems, and preventing crimes from happening in the first place. The President's initiative will provide grants to communities across the nation to encourage these efforts.

d. Indian Country Law Enforcement

The President's budget proposes a $182 million initiative within the Justice and Interior Departments to address the public safety crisis in Indian country by strengthening Indian country law enforcement in such areas as the number of officers per capita and the quality of detention facilities, primarily through anti-crime grants to Indian jurisdictions.

7. Child Care

a. $7.5 billion for Child Care and Development Block Grant

When combined with funds provided in welfare reform, these new funds will double the number of children in low and moderate-income families receiving child care subsidies to two million by the year 2002.

b. After-School Programs

This initiative provides after-school care for up to 500,000 children per year by expanding the 21st Century Community Learning Center Program to provide start-up funds to additional school-community partnerships to establish before and after-school programs for school-age children at public schools. This $200 million proposal (a $160 million increase over FY98; $800 million over 5 years along with a requirement for matching funds) would allow 4,000 schools across the country to implement after-school programs for approximately 500,000 children.

c. Early Learning Fund

The President's budget also includes the establishment of a fund with $3 billion over five years to provide grants to communities to promote early childhood development and improve child care quality for young children.

Lott Says Tobacco Bill in Trouble

Monday, June 1, 1998; 2:13 p.m. EDT

By LAURIE KELLMAN

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Sweeping tobacco legislation is on the brink of failure because some senators want to punish cigarette companies by raising the amount of money they would pay the government, Senate Majority Leader Trent Lott said Monday.

-- as to whether or not it's just going to collapse of its own weight," Lott, R-Miss., told reporters Monday. "I mean, how much is enough? I mean, greed has just gone hog-wild here."

As Congress returns from its Memorial Day recess with Sen. John McCain's tobacco bill behind schedule, Lott told reporters the measure's survival is threatened by two amendments that toughen the legislation's terms for the tobacco companies and blow away the bill's appeal to a powerful centrist coalition of lawmakers.

One amendment, sponsored by Sens. Judd Gregg, R-N.H., and Patrick Leahy, D-Vt., would strip the bill of legal protection for tobacco companies and was approved by the Senate May 20. The other, sponsored by Sen. Richard Durbin, D-Ill., raise the

They also object to the measure's plan to generate billions of dollars for the government by raising taxes on cigarettes $1.10 a pack.

House leaders are considering a billion-dollar anti-smoking advertising campaign funded with money tobacco companies otherwise would deduct from their taxes. Also being considered are plans to charge companies roughly $200 billion to settle lawsuits filed against the industry by three dozen states, according to numerous Republican sources.

TEXT:

Per our conversation this morning, thank you for calling Pres. Atkinson. He is a good "friend," and very thoughtful. I forgot to mention to you that he would also like to talk to Mrs. Clinton. I will mention this to Melanne as well.

Atkinson's number is 510-987-9074.

As you recall, he called me last Friday. His idea is that the President propose leg. or an Administrative rule suspending all fed. financial support for public schools that do not have affirmative action programs. He argues that this will help Cal. schools enormously because Prop. 209 contains a provision that roughly says, "if 209 interferes with the receipt of federal $, then Prop. 209 is invalid." Thus, the President's move would invalidate 209.

He thinks that the proposal should also include a sunset clause, something to the effect that "after 25 years, Affirmative Action plans are dismantled."

Maria mentioned several weeks ago that our higher ed. / race work was on a time line for September. I mentioned this to Atkinson in our conversation.

Thanks.

TEXT:

Staff from First Lady's office were interested in doing a column on welfare to work, following up on the event last week. Using all the paper from the event, Carol Beach has written a good draft that's being reviewed by HRC et al. It emphasizes the individual and business success stories. I'm faxing you the draft with my comments in case you want to weigh in. I ran it past W2W Partnership (their comments are included with mine). I think this is competing with one other topic for this week, but if it doesn't make it for this week, it may go for next week.

BR/EK:

I sent over the latest version of the Leahy amendment yesterday. If you haven't had a chance to look at it, what it does is make direct grants to state and local law enforcement (as administered by DOJ or Treasury -- still up in the air) one of the four activities eligible for a minimum of 17.5% and maximum of 22.5% of the public health funds. However, the amendment also strikes the language guaranteeing FDA a minimum of these funds. As I understand from Team Leader Rice, the minimum for FDA enforcement was very important to us -- and that we expected FDA to get more than 40% of these funds (or about $1.2 billion of an estimated $2.9 billion). Is this a deal-breaker for us supporting Leahy? Should someone visit w/Leahy's folks on this issue?

PRESIDENT CLINTON: A FAIR AND ACCURATE CENSUS IN 2000

June 2, 1998

"More than half of those undercounted in the last census were children. A disproportionate number of the undercounted Americans were minorities. What that means is that some of our most vulnerable populations are routinely omitted when it comes time to providing federal funds for crucial services. An inaccurate census distorts our understanding of the needs of our people and in many respects, diminishes the quality of our democracy."

President Bill Clinton
June 2, 1998

Today, President Clinton travels to Houston, Texas where he will lead a roundtable discussion on the need for a fair and accurate census. The President will be joined by eight members of the Houston community who will illustrate how a fair census is important to the lives and work of all Americans.

THERE IS A NEED FOR A FULL AND FAIR CENSUS COUNT. According to the Census Bureau, the 1990 census missed over 8.4 million people and double-counted 4.4 million others. Missed counting among children, the poor, and minority groups occurred more often than others, making the overall count even more inaccurate.

AN ACCURATE CENSUS IS IMPORTANT TO ALL AMERICANS. The census provides information that is the cornerstone of knowledge about the American people. It is the basis for virtually all demographic information used by educators, policy makers, journalists, and community leaders.

- Census data directly affects decisions made on all matters of national and local importance, including education, employment, veterans' services, public health care, rural development, the environment, transportation and housing;
- Federal, state, and local governments use census information to guide the annual distribution of $180 billion in critical services;
- Congressional seats are reapportioned and legislative districts are drawn based on census data.

THE CENSUS IMPACTS EVERYONE. Census data is used by the government in allocating resources for a wide variety of programs, including:

- Child Care. Census data on the number of working parents, family income, and the age of children are used to locate areas in need of child care facilities. The census information impacts programs like the Child Care and Development Block Grant, a program that enables low income families to obtain child care while they are at work, in job training, or school.
- Social Security and Medicare. The Social Security Administration and the Department of Health and Human Services use census data to forecast the number of people eligible for Social Security and Medicare benefits.
- Education. The Department of Education uses census data to identify school districts and allocate funds under Title I, which helps provide extra help for students most in need, particularly communities and schools with high concentrations of children in low-income families.
- Job Training. The Labor Department uses census estimates in support of the Job Training Partnership Act to prepare young people and adults facing serious impediments to employment by providing job and skills training.

THE PRESIDENT IS WORKING TO ENSURE A FAIR AND ACCURATE CENSUS. The Clinton Administration is working to ensure that Census 2000 is the most accurate census possible using the best, most up-to-date scientific methods as recommended by the National Academy of Sciences.
