Announce Outreach Effort for Low-Income Medicare Beneficiaries. A new report, to be released by Families USA in early July, will show that about 3.9 million beneficiaries -- nearly half who are eligible -- do not get premium assistance under Medicaid. We could announce one release an executive directive to order HCFA, SSA, and Administration on Aging implement new outreach and enrollment initiatives (this could either be a proactive initiative or at least to inoculate ourselves against a report that is likely to receive a great deal of attention).

Yesterday, a House Rules SAP on Agriculture Appropriations was cleared but held pending the outcome of the Rules meeting. Below is the revised floor version w/ edits under the Civil Rights section and under Other Issues - the first paragraph is new language (will not be in bold for final copy). Please review immediately and provide comments/clearance by 10:45am (expected on House floor around 11:30am). Thank you.

AGRICULTURE, RURAL DEVELOPMENT
 FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS BILL, FY

(Sponsors: Livingston (R), Louisiana; Skeen (R), New Mexico)

This Statement of Administration Policy provides the Administration's views on the Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Bill, FY 1999, as reported by the House Appropriations Committee. Your consideration of the Administration's views would be appreciated.

The Administration appreciates efforts by the Committee to accommodate the President's priorities within the 302(b) allocation. The President's FY 1999 Budget proposes levels of discretionary spending for FY 1999 that conform to the Bipartisan Budget Agreement by providing savings through user fees and certain mandatory programs to help finance discretionary spending. In the recently enacted Transportation Equity Act, Congress -- on a broad, bipartisan basis -- took similar action in approving funding for surface transportation programs paid for with mandatory offsets. We want to work with the Congress on mutually-agreeable mandatory and other offsets that could be used to increase high-priority discretionary programs, including those funded by this bill. In addition, we urge the Congress to adopt the user fee proposals included in the President's budget, which would enable over $600 million to be directed to important initiatives such as those proposed for food safety, nutrition programs, rural development, and conservation.

Below is a discussion of our specific concerns with the Committee-reported bill. We look forward to working with you to resolve these concerns as the bill moves forward.

Civil Rights

The Administration strongly supports the provision made in order in the rule that waives the statute of limitations for individuals who have previously filed a discrimination claim against USDA. The President is personally committed to righting any wrongs committed by USDA employees in years past, and a great many individuals who were discriminated against will have no recourse unless the statute of limitations is waived for them.

In a number of areas, the Committee has reduced funds to assist the most needy farmers and members of the rural community. The Committee has not provided the requested increase for the Outreach for Socially Disadvantaged Farmers program, which was a key recommendation of the Civil Rights Action Team (CRAT) report last year. With the additional $7 million requested, USDA could support 35 projects to assist 10,000 small family farms and stem the continuing reduction in the number of minority farmers and ranchers.

Another recommendation in the CRAT report is to increase the amount of farm ownership loans, a portion of which are targeted to minority and beginning farmers. The Administration urges the House to shift the $1 million in unrequested subsidy increase provided in the bill for boll weevil eradication loans to the farm ownership program, which would permit another 140 limited-resource farmers to finance real estate purchases.

Food Safety Initiative

The Administration is deeply concerned that the Committee has not fully funded the President's request for Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and USDA activities to enhance food safety, providing only $16.8 million out of the $101 million the President has requested for these activities, $96 million of which is requested in this bill. American consumers enjoy the world's safest food supply, but too many Americans get sick, and in some cases die, from preventable food-borne diseases. The President's budget increase would expand food safety research, risk assessment capabilities, education, surveillance activities, and food import inspections. The Administration wants to work with the Congress to explore user fee options within FDA and USDA that can be used to offset the cost of the needed increases in these programs as well as provide funds to further modernize the meat and poultry inspection system.

Women, Infants, and Children

The Committee bill would freeze funding for the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) at the FY 1998 level of $3.9 billion, $157 million below the President's request. This would only support a participation level of between 7.3 and 7.4 million women, infants, and children, and, based on FY 1998 year-end projections, would mean cutting off over 100,000 needy participants from the program. The President's request would maintain participation at 7.5 million, fulfilling the bipartisan commitment to fully fund WIC. The Administration strongly encourages the House to fund WIC at the President's requested level.

Arms Export Control Act Modification

The Administration supports section 737, which will ensure that American farmers can continue to export wheat and other commodities to India and Pakistan through USDA export assistance programs. As the President recently announced, in the sanctions the U.S. is applying toward those countries, we are attempting to minimize the humanitarian impact on their people. Cutting off the supply of U.S. wheat would only hurt the citizens of Pakistan and India, as well as American farmers, without furthering the goal of nuclear nonproliferation. The Administration urges adoption of this provision.

Rural Development Funding

While the Administration supports the funds provided for the Rural Community Advancement Program (RCAP), the Administration strongly objects to the Committee's blocking the mandatory Fund for Rural America from being used in FY 1999. The Fund provides additional resources for rural development and innovative agricultural research that are vitally needed to improve the quality of life in rural America and increase the productivity of U.S. farmers. The intent of Congress in creating the Fund in 1996 was to boost the overall Federal investment in these activities, not to offset discretionary spending in them. Furthermore, Congress recently extended the authority for the Fund while increasing its resources. The Administration urges the House to strike this provision. In addition, for the RCAP program to be adaptable to unique local economic development needs, as envisioned in its 1996 Farm Bill authorization, the House should strike the Committee's limitation on the flexibility to transfer funds among programs and allow the program to be implemented as authorized.

Food and Drug Administration

The Administration strongly urges the Congress to provide the full $1,251 million in resources to fund the program level proposed for FDA in the President's budget. The Administration is deeply disappointed and concerned that the Committee has not funded the President's request for FDA's tobacco enforcement activities. This funding is vital to the Administration's plan to reduce youth smoking. Congress's failure thus far to pass comprehensive tobacco legislation should not prevent the Committee from providing adequate resources for these critical public health activities. We will work with the Congress to develop the appropriate means of funding.

Climate Change and Clean Water Initiatives

The Committee has not provided any of the $7 million increase requested for additional research as part of the Administration's Climate Change Technology Initiative. These funds would support high-priority research to reduce emissions of greenhouse gases caused by agricultural practices, develop improved feedstocks that can be used to generate energy, and improve techniques to convert agricultural products to biofuels. The Administration urges the House to provide the necessary funding.

The Committee also has not included the Administration's requested increase of $23 million for the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) to implement the President's Clean Water Action Plan to help State and local organizations hire watershed coordinators, document baseline conditions, and target resources to farmers requesting assistance. The Plan, developed by USDA and EPA, outlines a strategy on how to address water quality problems, including polluted runoff, in watershed areas across the Nation. The Administration urges the House to provide these necessary funds to the NRCS.

Agricultural Research

The Administration strongly objects to the Committee's elimination of the $120 million in competitively-awarded research funds authorized in the Agricultural Research, Extension, and Education Reform Act of 1998. These funds will finance vital investments in food and agriculture genome research, food safety and technology, human nutrition, and agricultural biotechnology. At the same time, the Committee bill includes over $50 million in unrequested earmarks for lower-priority research while funding competitive grants through the National Research Initiative (NRI) at $30 million below the President's request. This systematic rejection of additional funds for competitive research grants for national and regional priorities, in favor of earmarked grants for more local or industry-specific requests, would slow progress toward addressing the most pressing needs of American agriculture and food consumers, and we urge the House to reverse this course of action. The House can do so not only by reducing earmarked grants in the bill, but by reducing the $25 million in unrequested increases for the Agricultural Research Service's buildings and facilities program. A task force created by the 1996 Farm Bill to review the Nation's agricultural research facilities comprehensively is due to report to Congress next year, and further construction should be minimized until the Administration and Congress have had the opportunity to review the report.

Other Issues

The Administration strongly opposes an amendment that may be offered mandating peer review of "scientific data" supporting final regulations. The Administration supports the peer review process for rule-making. However, this amendment is not needed -- peer review is currently incorporated in the Government-wide rule-making process through public comment and scientific advisory boards. This amendment as drafted would impose an additional step in the review process and would cover a large number of rules, as diverse as meat and poultry inspection rules, country and product-specific quarantine rules, and the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Services annual fee regulations. This would impose an undue burden on numerous final rules by requiring substantial personnel and other resources and could result in significant delays on important public health and safety rules.

Additional funds are needed for the farm labor housing program to improve the living conditions many farm labor families endure. The Committee's $20 million in direct loans is more than 35 percent below the Administration's request and would mean that 230 fewer housing units would be built compared with the request. In addition, the Committee provides $69 million, or seven percent, less than requested for single-family housing direct loans, which would keep 1,300 fewer low-income rural families from achieving the dream of homeownership and the ability to live in safe, decent, affordable housing. The Administration urges the House to increase funding to assist these needy members of our society.

The Committee bill includes a $10 million reduction to the President's request for the mandatory Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP), which purchases commodities for individuals greatly in need of assistance. Given reported increases in need for food assistance through food banks and soup kitchens, the Administration is concerned that this reduction from the authorized level would mean less food will reach the most vulnerable Americans.

The Administration objects to section 722 of the Committee bill, which would limit Executive Branch review of USDA responses to congressional inquiries. Congress expects the Administration to be responsible for agency activities. This provision erodes that responsibility and is contrary to the widespread congressional view that more, not less, accountability is needed for improved management results. The Administration urges the House to delete the provision.

The Administration strongly objects to the Committee bill's provision that provides funding for research on nutrition programs only within the Economic Research Service. It is important that research on nutrition programs also occur in the context of the program's administration, and the Administration urges the Committee to provide funding for these activities within the Food and Nutrition Service, as requested and as included in the Senate version of the bill.

The Committee has provided only $2 million of the requested $22 million increase for the Inspector General as part of the Administration's law enforcement initiative. This USDA initiative would save taxpayers millions of dollars lost through fraud in the food and nutrition programs, in USDA disaster, multi-family housing, and other programs, as well as improve the integrity of USDA programs. The Administration urges the House to increase funds for this important initiative.

We are trying to prepare a POTUS statement to be released in response to a Supreme Court decision expected this Thursday. The case, Bragdon v. Abbott, will determine whether persons with asymptomatic HIV are protected by the ADA. The proposed POTUS statement assumes a negative decision, although we obviously do not know the outcome.

I have worked on this draft with Richard Sorian of HHS and Rob Weiner of WH Counsel. I have also sent it to Eleanor Acheson's office at Justice for their review. Diana Fortuna suggested Bill Lann Lee's shop as well, so I'll have it forwarded to them.

I got the following reply from Robert Damus (OMB): "Since this is not an order, it does not need to go through the OMB EO process. I would think you want to send it to the affected agencies, like Justice and HHS, and have some kind of circulation within the EOP, like White House Counsel, and then give it to the Staff Secretary's Office. Either that or simply ask the Staff Secretary's Office what process they want."

Can you please review the attached draft and provide me with comments by the close of Wednesday? Thanks! If you would like additional information on the case, please let me know.

Subject: Re: Take Two

This is a redraft of Todd's proposed statement by POTUS in the event of an adverse decision. It assumes that there may be some ambiguity regarding the impact of the decision. The statement may require some fill-in, probably at the end of the first paragraph, when we actually get the decision:

I sincerely hope that today's decision by the Supreme Court in Bragdon v. Abbott, will not weaken the protections offered by the landmark Americans With Disabilities Act. The ADA was enacted with strong bi-partisan support to protect disabled Americans from discrimination. The Administration filed a brief in this case arguing that people with HIV are disabled whether or not they are symptomatic, and that the protections offered by the ADA therefore apply.

I want to assure all disabled Americans, including those living with HIV disease and AIDS, that this Administration is firmly committed to protecting them from discrimination. I have asked the Secretary of Health and Human Services, the Attorney General, and the Director of the Office of National AIDS Policy to: (1) assess the implications of today's decision; (2) review other Federal anti-discrimination protections -- in such programs as Medicare, Medicaid, the Ryan White CARE Act, veteran's health care, and publicly assisted housing -- potentially available to people living with HIV; and (3) recommend ways to strengthen existing protections.

I call again on Congress to join us in the effort to afford all Americans, including the disabled, equal access to health care, housing, and other essential services.

PRESIDENT CLINTON: FEEDING AMERICA'S FAMILIES

June 23, 1998

"America has come a long way from the days when Thomas Jefferson believed that every American should be a farmer, but what he said then is still true today: 'The cultivators of the earth are the most valuable citizens. They are the most vigorous, the most independent, the most virtuous, and they are tied to their country and wedded to its liberty and interest by the most lasting bonds.' Today, we have an opportunity to strengthen those bonds, and I am very happy to do so."

President Bill Clinton
June 23, 1998

Today, at a Rose Garden event, President Clinton is joined by Secretary of Agriculture Dan Glickman and a bipartisan group of Congressional members, as he signs the Agricultural Research, Extension, and Education Reform Act of 1998, a law that restores food stamp benefits for certain legal immigrants, including the elderly and children, and supports our farmers and agricultural community.

A PRESIDENTIAL PLAN TO HELP AMERICAN FARMERS AS WE MOVE INTO THE 21ST CENTURY.

Agriculture is an integral part of our nation and its economy. With the signing of the Agricultural Research bill, President Clinton and those in Congress who supported this legislation, are ensuring that the agricultural community and the hard working Americans who farm the land are given the tools they need to move ahead into the 21st Century. This bill also remedies a shortcoming in the 1996 welfare reform law by restoring benefits to certain legal immigrants, mostly children and the elderly.

RESTORING BENEFITS FOR THOSE IN NEED. This law will restore food stamp benefits to 250,000 elderly, disabled, and other legal immigrants, including 75,000 children, who lost assistance as a result of cuts in the 1996 welfare law that had nothing to do with welfare reform. This restoration builds on the President's success last year in restoring Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Medicaid to 420,000 legal immigrants whose benefits were also terminated under the welfare reform law.

STRENGTHENING PROTECTION FOR FARMERS. Crop insurance is an important protection for farmers when disaster strikes. This legislation provides the authority to ensure that crop insurance is fully funded for the next five years.

EXTENDING THE FUND FOR RURAL AMERICA. The Fund for Rural America provides loans and grants for rural economic and community development and innovative agricultural research. Today's bill signing extends this program for five years and increases funding to strengthen rural communities, and continue innovative applied research and extension programs to improve food safety, human nutrition, and agricultural productivity.

SUPPORT FOR AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH AND EDUCATION. This legislation reauthorizes various programs that support our nation's land-grant colleges and universities. In addition, grant programs will be extended on a competitive basis for research into emerging areas of agriculture, including: agricultural genomes, food safety, food technology and human nutrition, new and alternative uses of agricultural commodities and products, agricultural biotechnology, natural resource management, and farm efficiency and profitability.

SUBJECT: LEGISLATIVE REPORT

DOD Authorization Bill/China: Senate Democrats today effectively blocked a vote on any of Senator Hutchinson's China amendments (to the DOD authorization bill). Daschle lead most Democrats in opposing a tabling motion against the amendments (failed 14-82), thus preventing the tabling motion from being characterized as a vote on the amendments. In doing so, Daschle said: "I'm not going to allow one single vote on China this week. We're not going to embarrass this President." The Senate will resume consideration of the DOD Authorization Bill on Wednesday (following the vote on education savings accounts); Lott hopes to complete action on the bill late Wednesday or Thursday.

CONGRESS -- TODAY (6/23):

The "black farmers" provision waives the statute of limitations for commodity programs, farm operating and farm ownership loans, emergency loans and disaster assistance. It does not apply to housing loans.

HHS/ACF did background briefing this morning on the two reports referenced in release below. Michael Kharfen said it went well. Reporters attending were: Laura Meckler, AP; Judy Haveman, Post; Rich Wolf, USA Today; Ina Jaffe, NPR. Barry, I wouldn't think you'd get press questions, but if you want Q&As, let me know. We did a weekly item already on the MDRC study of Portland. I'll do one this week on Urban Institute 5-state study though it's primarily a snapshot, and not an impact evaluation.

REPORTS EXAMINE SUCCESSFUL WELFARE-TO-WORK EFFORTS

HHS Secretary Donna E. Shalala today released two reports that examine successful programs in five states and one city helping welfare recipients move into jobs.

"As states and localities develop their own welfare-to-work programs, they need to know how successful programs are achieving results," Secretary Shalala said. The efforts outlined in these reports are excellent examples of programs that work."

One of the studies, "Building an Employment Focused Welfare System," prepared by the Urban Institute, examines how welfare reform is being implemented by Indiana, Massachusetts, Oregon, Virginia and Wisconsin -- five states that have experienced caseload declines well above the national average.

The second report prepared by the Manpower Development Research Corporation, "Implementation, Participation Costs, and Two-Year Impacts of the Portland (Oregon) Welfare-to-Work Program," looks at Portland, Oregon's welfare-to-work program, which reduced welfare expenditures by 17 percent over a two-year period, while increasing recipients' earnings by 35 percent.

"I am encouraged that these programs report substantial numbers of welfare parents working, and significantly in jobs paying more than the minimum wage," said Olivia Golden, HHS Assistant Secretary for Children and Families. "Moving from welfare to work must mean opening new doors of opportunity for families."

The five-state study focuses specifically on experiences implementing "Work First," the philosophy that most welfare recipients are capable of obtaining employment, that any job is better than no job and that the best way to succeed in the labor market is to join it.

The five states studied in the Urban Institute report were already restructuring their welfare systems to emphasize work when Congress passed major federal welfare reform in 1996. That legislation eliminated traditional open-ended cash assistance provided by the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program and the Job Opportunities and Basic Skills Training (JOBS) program. Congress replaced these programs with the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program, which provides block grants to individual states, and which requires work for welfare recipients.

"There has been a shift in welfare-to-work programs across the country, from relying on providing education and training as the major route to self-sufficiency, to programs which embrace a Work First philosophy," said Pamela A. Holcomb of the Urban Institute. "The point of this report is to show how states are accomplishing this shift."

Typical practices, the researchers report, included (1) making a job search the first and central activity, (2) limiting participation in education and training, (3) imposing stricter participation and work requirements, including greater use of unpaid work experience (4) enforcing stiffer penalties for noncompliance and (5) placing time limits on assistance.

While the Work First programs in all five states shared common features, each state combined elements to create its own unique version of welfare reform. For example:

ú Virginia provided recipients with the greatest opportunity to combine assistance with employment but also applied severe penalties for non-cooperation;

ú Both Virginia and Massachusetts imposed work requirements sooner than the other states and relied more extensively on community service programs to engage recipients in some form of work;

ú Oregon developed the most successful program for creating subsidized employment opportunities for welfare recipients.

By tracking a sample of recipients over a one year period, the five-state study found that 31-44 percent of the participants at the end of the year were still receiving cash assistance or back on welfare, with or without a job.

"The Portland results provide valuable lessons on how to not only get more people working, but also get them better jobs, and on how to succeed with those typically considered hard to place in jobs," said Gayle Hamilton of the MDRC. "The program emphasized getting a job quickly, but also used some education and training as tools to get there."

Portland, Oregon's efforts have been among the most effective among large-scale mandatory programs, according to the report prepared by the Manpower Demonstration Research Corporation. By the end of the study period, just 41 percent of program group members were receiving welfare, compared to 53 percent of control group members. The proportion of people working at full-time jobs increased by 13 percent, and the proportion with employer-provided health benefits increased by 10 percent.

The Portland program used a mixed-services strategy: most people participated in job search, but many also participated in short-term education, vocational training, work experience, and life skills training. Failure to participate resulted in welfare grant reductions.

- More -

One important feature of the Portland program is that it increased job quality. Participants were encouraged to look for and take "good" jobs--full-time jobs, paying more than the minimum wage, with benefits and potential for advancement.

The studies suggest that states will need to adopt a greater range and mix of services and strategies to help the least employable welfare recipients, Assistant Secretary Golden said.

The House Defense bill could be up as early as 11:30am tomorrow.
Therefore, we need to get this POTUS letter on Y2K funding signed & sent as soon as possible in the morning. Please provide comments/clearance no later than 10am. Many thanks.

The Honorable Newt Gingrich
Speaker
United States House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Mr. Speaker:

The American people expect reliable service from their Government. They deserve the confidence that critical government functions dependent on computer and other electronic systems will be performed accurately and in a timely manner.

The Federal Government is continuing its intensive effort to make sure that these systems work in the year 2000. I have personally instructed my Cabinet to make the year 2000 problem (Y2K) a top priority, and my Council on Year 2000 Conversion is working hard to coordinate agency efforts not only to prepare their systems for the new millennium, but to increase awareness of the problem among public, private, and international organizations outside of the Government.

In the FY 1999 Budget, I requested more than $1 billion for Y2K computer conversion. In addition, my budget anticipated that additional requirements would emerge, and included an allowance for emergencies and other unanticipated needs.

While, at this time, I believe that the resource levels included in my budget will fully address the Government's anticipated Y2K requirements, ensuring Government-wide compliance will require the flexibility to respond to unanticipated needs in a timely fashion as we learn more about the problem. Last week, the House Appropriations Committee took a step to provide such flexibility, and I understand the Senate Appropriations Committee will make a similar effort.

I am very concerned, however, that the House will soon consider proposals to eliminate this flexibility from the Defense and Treasury/General Government appropriations bills. This shortsighted action would only serve to create delay on an issue where time is one resource we cannot afford to waste.

With only 555 days until January 1, 2000, it is important that agencies are provided funds to address known Y2K needs, and the flexibility to seek additional funding for unanticipated requirements. I urge the House to provide the necessary flexibility to address the year 2000 problem.

Sincerely,

Bill Clinton

I spoke with Nancy Zirkin last night who was on the phone call with the civil rights groups in the afternoon--1)they don't understand why EEOC went down the path it did other than the abused child syndrome (sort of like INS--they are always being kicked, so they move very cautiously hoping to avoid getting kicked again); 2) they (LCCR) are planning to send a letter to the committee outlining their concerns with Gingrich's objections (not all of them--testers is the most imp't, but they are also worried about the directive that more resources be dedicated to charging processes and less to litigation); 3) they know we are not settled on the other issues 4) she indicated that it certainly was a good strategy to try to avoid a rider but they are still really upset with EEOC and want to know who at the White House was minding the store and what does the white house do when an agency takes steps that perhaps (they hope in this case) the White House is not in favor of -- she thought doing a small meeting with folks later in the week so they could tell us their views would be helpful-- so what do you all think? And where are we?

All:

Ellen Vargyas had a conversation with David Frank this afternoon. He told her that according to Mike Rengler, there has not yet been a committee report drafted for the subcommittee. On the $ front, he told her that the appropriators had not settled on a figure. One of the big issues is the part of the increase ($9 million) that is slated to improve technology at the agency. According to Frank, some on the subcommittee indicated that they were interested in having the EEOC fund its technology improvements (computers; e-mail; legal data bases) using discretionary dollars in the Treasury-Postal legislation ($ intended to be used to address the the Y2K problem). Frank further indicated that the agency should get "a big chunk" of the rest ($28 million).

Ellen told Frank that we want to make sure that we have resolution on the other five conditions as soon as possible. Frank told Ellen that he would try to get Rengler to focus on drafting conference language on this. Given this delay, he indicated that they could push back the date by which he would want to know whether we had a deal on testers (they had originally talked about a July 1st deadline).

Education and Training:

Declare End to Reading Wars -- Announce Summit. The National Academy of Sciences Report on "Preventing Reading Difficulties in Young Children" has been well-received across the political spectrum, but it is not well-known. One possible event would be for you to respond to the report by declaring an end to the reading wars -- the long-running fight between "phonics" and "whole language" advocates. At one of the tutor training sessions being held across the country over the summer, you could call for a September "Reading Summit" (already being planned by Education). You could also put some flesh on the $3 billion Early Learning Fund in the budget, perhaps calling it the Marshall Plan for the end of the Reading Wars.

DC Training Alliance. You could announce a Labor Department pilot program that would give a $1.2 million planning grant (the "metro-tech grant") to the DC, MD, and VA job-training systems to train workers to meet the demand in the high-tech industry in the DC, MD, and VA area. The pilot program will fund 100 workers. There is an expectation that this pilot will lead to a demonstration project serving 3,000 people at a cost of $17 million. This is ready to be announced anytime in the near future.

School Construction and Smaller Class Size Day. We could begin preparing now for a back-to-school week day that would focus on school construction and smaller class sizes. We could ask parents, volunteers, Members of Congress, and community leaders to join together to help rebuild/renovate/modernize their local public school. You, the Vice President, Mrs. Clinton, and Mrs. Gore could all participant in this construction effort. This would be a terrific visual and would allow Members of Congress a chance to highlight this important issue for the fall.

Report on Success of School-to-Work Program. A major study is expected to be released soon on one of your signature programs of his first year in office, School-to-Work. If it is as positive as hoped, and if the right-wing's opposition continues to be an issue, this might be an appropriate time to take on the right-wing and further energize the business community in support of Democrats' efforts. We are not sure of the timing of this report. Moreover, our budget scales back the school-to-work program (from $400 million to $250 million) as it sunsets according to law.

Individual Development Accounts:

Endorse Coats-Harkin Bill. You could announce your endorsement of the Coats-Harkin IDA demonstration bill in Congress. One possible event idea would be to go to a community development bank and help a welfare recipient open a bank account -- this would allow us to push for CDFI funding at the same time. Another idea would be to do a more simple Rose Garden event with the sponsors of the bill and welfare recipients, and push this as part of our welfare-to-work efforts.

Pensions:

Pensions Proposals. Your advisors have reached consensus on two pension proposals (in addition to the proposals announced in January). The joint and two-thirds/three-quarters survivor annuity proposal would increase benefits for some surviving spouses of pension plan participants, while the other proposal, initially advanced by Rep. Price (D-NC), would allow workers to count FMLA time toward pension vesting requirements. This would ensure that those (relatively few) workers close to the 1,000-hour minimum requirement for vesting do not lose a year of vesting because of time taken off under FMLA. This can be billed as a women's pension item.

Rural Agenda:

Rural Economic Development. There are several potential rural economic initiatives that the Administration could roll out over the summer or fall. These focus in particular on education, agriculture, housing, trade, and health care. We would work together on some of these and other potential initiatives.

Rural Press Conference/Regional Press Opportunities. We may want to consider announcing different elements of a rural economic development initiative through a radio press conference which you, the Vice President, and Sec. Glickman could jointly hold. We have done this successfully in the past, particularly with respect to budget initiatives. In addition, we might want to devote a weekly radio address to rural issues as well. Both of these hits could be part of a broader rural economic rollout in which we have Cabinet heads and subcabinet officials conduct media in targeted rural markets across the country.

Housing:

HUD-NAR "One America" Agreement. HUD and the National Association of Realtors (NAR) have reached a final agreement on the "One America Broker" program. Under the program, NAR will sponsor training for real estate professionals on how to better serve minority and immigrant home buyers. The training will address adherence to Fair Housing Act principles, as well as ways to expand the housing choices available to minorities and other underserved groups. Realtors who complete the course and commit to serving these groups would be able to use the "One America" logo in advertising and promotional materials, which could help them to attract additional clients. To be certified, realtors must be free of any Fair Housing Act violations. The agreement could be announced/highlighted by you or the Vice President at an event with, e.g., a minority or immigrant new home buyer who previously experience discrimination and (possibly) a realtor with an outstanding record serving underserved groups.

Technology:

[COMBINE WITH OTHER DISABILITY PROPOSAL]

Initiative on Technology for Americans with Disabilities. New information technologies can substantially increase the quality of life for the 55 million Americans with disabilities. For example -- speech recognition, text-to-speech, computers that can be manipulated with eye movements as opposed to a mouse -- can all allow Americans with disabilities to lead more independent lives and increase their ability to get a job. The backdrop for this event could be demonstrations of the technology. Deliverables could be:

- Announcement of Technology Task Force of President's Committee on Employment of

- People with Disabilities.
- FY2000 budget initiative (R&D to develop better technologies, programs to educate engineers to design accessible technology).
- Government commitment to purchase "accessible" technology [This is part of the "GI" bill.]

International Economics:

Trade Adjustment Assistance. We could do an event on helping everyone benefit from a global economy. This event could have four different components, focused on both worker and community adjustment:

- You could announce the consolidation and reform of the Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) program and the NAFTA-TAA program. This would more than fulfill the President's promise to strengthen the TAA/NAFTA-TAA programs during the fast track debate.
- A possible Executive Order establishing a coordinating committee on community adjustment issues. This could be modeled after the Executive Order on defense adjustment programs.
- You could call on Congress to pass his EDA budget and NADBank budget, so that we can effectively deal with communities that have severe and sudden economic distress.
- Memorandum of Understanding between NADBank and EDA so that they work better together. This is important to Rep. Torres and the Hispanic Caucus. NADBank/CAIP and EDA have done a lot of work together, but it could be an important symbolic message to the Hispanic Caucus for the relationship between the two to be formalized.

Sanctions Policy. You could announce the release of a Presidential Decision Directive on Sanctions which would establish a joint NEC/NSC interagency sanctions review group to monitor and coordinate broad United States government sanctions policy. The group would ensure that prior to sanctions being implemented the Administration would conduct a cost/benefit analysis. The group could also review existing sanctions in place to determine whether they are still serving an important purpose in fulfilling our policy objectives. The time could be ripe for such an announcement because of the keen awareness on the Hill and elsewhere about the proliferation of new sanctions regimes and their cost to the U.S. economy. An interagency process has been working on such a directive; work could be finalized in time for an announcement. Because the Glenn Amendment has crystallized opinion about the problems with unilateral sanctions, this can and should be done sooner rather than later (e.g., over the next couple of weeks).

Major International Trade Speech. You could articulate U.S. trade objectives for the year leading up to the 1999 WTO Ministerial Conference, which we are hosting. You could also announce the selection of the city for such an announcement. Over 20 cities have expressed interest; the conference will bring international attention and over 10,000 attendees from foreign government, business, press and NGOs. The policy initiative would be a refinement of the goals outlined at the May 1998 WTO Anniversary in Geneva.

Consumer Credit and Financial Services Bill of Rights. Consumer debt levels are at record highs. So too are consumer bankruptcies. And as fees for financial services (including ATMs) mount, consumer anger grows. Working with the DPC, we could develop an initiative and legislative proposal aimed at educating consumers about the use of credit and bank services, improving the information consumers receive, and targeting predatory practices.

TEXT:

This Friday, in conjunction with his trip to Texas, the VP will host a town-hall meeting in San Antonio with local affiliates of his welfare to work coalition. The meeting is scheduled from 11:30-12:30 at the YMCA in San Antonio. Apparently the decision to do this was made Friday, but VP's office forgot to let us know--I only found out this morning. This evolved from the VP simply doing a tarmac announcement of Texas' Welfare-to-Work formula grant, to doing something with John Sharp/Pathfinders (not available), to doing a coalition meeting. The VP will announce that DOL is releasing Texas's grant ($76 million, the largest grant released to date). Secretary Herman may be attending (not confirmed). The plan is for her to notify the Governor and congressional delegation just before the event--so we don't get scooped. The VP will be joined by the director of the local YMCA and a former welfare recipient (probably someone whose child is in after-school program at the Boys and Girls Club). Audience of 150-200 will primarily be people from the local community-based organizations (YMCA, YWCA, Goodwill, United Way, Salvation Army, Pathfinders, etc). VP will call on selected audience members to talk about what they're doing to promote retention for welfare recipients, i.e. mentoring, child care, etc.

Since San Antonio is one of the cities in the Partnership's eight-city campaign with the Enterprise Foundation, I've hooked Partnership into the event. They'll round up a few businesses to attend, one of whom the VP can call on. The local Enterprise Foundation contact, and Partnership staff will also attend. I've also made sure HHS and SBA are in the loop.

I've given Lee Anne Brackett all the recent welfare reform Q&As, relevant background material, and some suggestions for things to highlight in VP remarks, and will review remarks and press release.
