-Viability Fetal Deformity: Severe fetal deformities are sometimes detected only after viability. Thus, abortions in such cases would not be covered by any pre

-viability exception.

They might also not be covered under a "health" exception. While there is no case law on the subject, we think doctors have traditionally believed that fetal deformity abortions were justified by maternal health -- given the Supreme Court's expansive definition of the health exception that the Constitution requires under Roe v. Wade. But a health exception in the Canady bill might not be similarly interpreted for two reasons. First, in its most recent abortion decision the Court implied that it might now interpret the constitutional exception for maternal health more narrowly. Second, because of the Canady bill's criminal structure, doctors will almost certainly interpret any health exception more narrowly, rather than risk two years' imprisonment. This probably explains why Congresswoman Schroeder's attempt to add a health exception to the Canady bill expressly referred to "health (including any threats thereto from severe fetal deformity)." It is unclear whether such an exception would be consistent with your prior positions. The Arkansas law that you signed contained an exception for health but not expressly for fetal deformity. On the other hand, that law was enacted prior to the Court's 1992 decision potentially narrowing "health." Moreover, you explained your view that viability was important in terms of fetus' ability to survive.

MEMORANDUM TO THE PRESIDENT

DRAFT - 7/20/95

FROM: ABNER MIKVA, PAT GRIFFIN, CAROL RASCO,
GEORGE STEPHANOPOULOS

THROUGH: LEON PANETTA

CC: ALICE RIVLIN, ALEXIS HERMAN, MELANNE VERVEER

Earlier this week, the House Judiciary Committee reported out (by a party

-line vote, with three Democrats absent) a bill introduced by Congressman Canady (R

-Fla.) known as the "Partial Birth Abortion Ban Act." The Office of Legal Counsel at DOJ believes the bill is "constitutionally flawed." Given your own opposition to most post

-viability abortions and the controversy surrounding the topic, we thought you should decide how to respond to this bill.

Background

As you know, Roe v. Wade and its progeny forbid significant restrictions upon abortion prior to viability but permit the government to ban post

-viability abortions except those that protect maternal life or health. As governor, you signed a law making abortion illegal after the 25th week of pregnancy, with an exception for life and health (as well as one for rape or incest, in the case of minors).

The Canady bill criminalizes the conduct of any doctor who performs (but not of the mother who obtains) what is medically termed a "dilation and extraction" abortion. D & X abortions are usually performed only after 20 weeks of pregnancy. At least some doctors regard it as the safest method of late

-term abortion

under certain circumstances. The method involves bringing the lower part of the fetus out of the uterus before completing the abortion. We are not aware that the medical community regards this method of abortion as morally distinct (or medically different in a meaningful way) from other late

-term methods.

However, abortion foes have given the procedure a new, emotionally charged name of "partial birth abortions" in order to suggest otherwise. Pro

-choice activists warn that the bill interferes with a doctor's choice of medical procedure, and they accuse right

-to

-life partisans of targeting this procedure in order to show disturbing pictures that will arouse general opposition to abortion.

Only three or four doctors in the United States perform this specialized procedure, and the total number of D & X abortions annually is probably under 500. By contrast, about 1.5 million abortions are performed each year in the U.S., of which about 13,000 are performed after 20 weeks. We do not know what proportion of D & X abortions occur before rather than after viability (a point that usually arises at some time following the 24th week), but D & X abortions seem to comprise a higher percentage of post

-viability procedures. A more traditional method of performing late

-term abortions is known as the D & E procedure, in which the fetus is dismembered within the uterus and then removed.

Although the D & X procedure is sometimes used in pregnancies with health

-threatening complications such as for a mother who has severe diabetes, it is also used for purely elective abortions as well as for abortions when a severely deformed fetus is discovered late in the pregnancy. During a subcommittee hearing on the Canady bill, the most emotional testimony was given by a mother whose severely deformed fetus was detected late in pregnancy. She decided to have a D & X abortion because the trauma of watching a young child die a certain and painful death after birth was more excruciating.

Discussion

Mother's Health: The most significant constitutional objection to the Canady bill is that it permits D & X procedures only if the life of the mother is threatened. Extending the exception to include the health of the mother would be consistent with the bill that you signed in Arkansas and would probably be required by the Supreme Court, which recently affirmed that "Roe forbids a State from interfering with a woman's choice to undergo an abortion procedure if continuing her pregnancy would constitute a threat to her health." The Court indicated that such health threats would have to be "substantial," which might include threats to mental health but only of a particularly serious nature. To the extent that barring D & X abortions would force women who needed abortions for health reasons to forgo what may be the safest abortion method, OLC believes the ban is constitutionally invalid.

Pre

-Viability Abortions: A second constitutional problem is that the Canady bill bars D & X procedures even in the pre

-viability period. The Court has held that states may not place an "undue burden" on a pre

-viability abortion decision, including any regulation that "has the purpose or effect of placing a substantial obstacle in the [woman's] path." OLC expresses its "concern" that barring access to a particular method of safe abortion would constitute an "undue burden." It is difficult to predict whether a court would find this to be an "undue burden," both because the contours of this recently announced legal standard are not fully known and because the risks of using other abortion methods instead of the D & X procedure are unclear.

However, excluding pre

-viability abortions from the scope of the Canady bill would be consistent with the abortion views you expressed as governor. In 1990, for example, you stated: "While I have ... supported restrictions on public funding and a parental notification requirement for minors, I think the government should impose no further restrictions. Until the fetus can live outside the mother's womb, I believe the decision on abortion should be the woman's not the government's."

Post

-Viability Fetal Deformity: Severe fetal deformities are sometimes detected only after viability. Thus, D & X abortions in such cases would not be covered by a pre

-viability exception in the Canady bill. They might, however, be covered by a health exception. We are told that many doctors have relied on maternal health exceptions in other statutes to justify post

-viability fetal deformity abortions. It is unclear to what extent this view remains tenable, given the Supreme Court's suggestion in a 1992 ruling that it might construe more narrowly the range of health threats that give rise to the constitutional right to an abortion. More to the point, a health exception in the Canady bill would be narrowly construed by doctors, to avoid a risk of two years' imprisonment. This may explain why Rep. Schroeder's proposed exception to the Canady bill defined

"health" to include "threats posed by severe fetal abnormality." Defining health in this way should be consistent with your prior positions. The health exception in the Arkansas law that you signed did not expressly encompass fetal deformity, but that law was enacted prior to the Court's 1992 decision potentially narrowing "health." Moreover, you have explained why you believe viability is important by noting the fetus' subsequent ability to survive, which is usually not true for a severely deformed fetus.

Recommendation

(1) We believe you should take a position on the Canady bill. Many members of the Judiciary Committee (including pro

-choice members) have asked for a statement, and the bill in some form probably will pass the House and may well succeed in the Senate.

(2) We also believe you should oppose the bill as drafted but should at this point emphasize the strongest and narrowest constitutional objection: the bill's failure to permit D & X abortions for the health of the mother (including cases where health is threatened by fetal abnormality.) Probably, the statement should also include a reference to the bill's problematic application to pre

-viability abortions. One way to combine both concepts would be to define "health of the mother" so that it also permits pre

-viability D & X abortions, provided that the doctor believes this method is safer for the mother. By framing the overall issue as one of maternal health and safety, you should be able to keep the debate at the level of principle.

On the other hand, by adopting this focus you will be relying heavily on a factual predicate -- the medical superiority of the D & X method -- for which we do not have much evidence.

(3) It is possible that, in defending D & X abortions in the pre

-viability period (when most such abortions are by other methods), you may be placed in the position of defending a particular procedure that is publicly controversial. If, however, you decided not to defend pre

-viability D & X abortions at the outset, you could encounter greater difficulties later on. The bill might well be amended to protect the woman's health. You would then face the question whether to object to the pre

-viability bar and, if you did not object, whether to sign a bill that might well be unconstitutional. It would be more difficult to raise the pre

-viability objection at this later point if you have not even mentioned it in an initial statement.

Given all of these considerations, we recommend issuing a statement along the lines indicated in the second paragraph immediately above (option #3, below).

- 1. Take no position on the bill

- 2. ___ Oppose bill solely on grounds of mother's health
- 3. ___ Oppose bill for reason in option #2 and because bill should permit pre

-viability D & X
abortions when this is the safest method.

- 4. ___ Let's discuss

TEXT:

Hi!

Gosh! It seems like ages since I've sent a general e-mail to you all! Did you miss me?

There is a social whirl in the White House lately. Here's the latest:

Aug. 3 - Happy Hour at Capital City Brewing Co.

Aug. 9 - Softball on the Ellipse

Aug. 10 - Counsel's Office Summer Party

(You should have received an invitation already, if not, check your in-box. If there isn't an invitation sitting in your box, call/e-mail me) Anyway, as of today, I have received exactly ZERO responses, so whether or not you can attend, I need to know by Friday. We're trying to get real Texas BBQ (overnight from the Lone Star State itself), if the cost is reasonable. It should be a lot of fun, so I hope you all can come. If the Judge can't make it, I hear there's someone at St. Elizabeth's who probably doesn't have plans....

Also, a general announcement: On Thursday, August 10 the Red Cross will be conducting a blood drive in the Indian Treaty Room from 9:00am-12:00pm and 1:00pm-3:00pm.

That's about it. Again, please RSVP to me by Friday for attending the Aug. 10 party. Talk to you soon!

Marna :-)

Thanks to all who have RSVP'd and/or contributed to our party on the 10th.

We are going to have t-shirts made that say (something like) White House Counsel's Office, Summer 1995. If you're interested in ordering one (cost = $11, provided we order at least 25), call or e-mail me by tomorrow afternoon.

ALSO, there is a parking spot available on West Executive (Beth's old space). Neither of the two people who are next in line to take it want it, so this is an invitation for any COMMISSIONED OFFICER who wants the space to let me know. If more than one person wants the spot, then we'll determine who gets it from seniority. Please keep in mind that there is a tax consequence that comes with having that parking space...

Finally, Office of Administration is conducting an inventory of pagers, SkyTels and cell phones. If you have any of this equipment, e-mail me and give me your PIN (in the case of the pager) by Friday (coincidentally, the same day by which you need to RSVP for the Aug. 10 party....).

Thanks! Hope you're having a lovely Wednesday!!

TEXT:

Carol, George S. and Jeremy met with the President today and ran down the list of abortion-related activities in the Congress with him. The President stated that he is comfortable with us communicating that he is strongly opposed to these restrictive measures. With respect to whether he would veto the Appropriations bills if the only objectionable thing left in them were the abortion provisions, the President said: (1) on the Treasury/Postal bill, he would need the cover of the unions asking him for the veto, and (2) he couldn't imagine the Labor/HHS bill getting cleaned up to that extent. Although the D & X issue was not discussed at length (POTUS will be getting a decision memo from James on that topic), the President indicated that he would be comfortable with legislation that prohibited most third trimester abortions but that he objected to attempts to ban specific procedures.

I will be circulating the talking points and a draft one-pager early next week. Does anyone have comments on the talking points for me?

Q: A bill to outlaw the D&X abortion procedure is ready to be considered on the House floor. If the bill is passed, will you sign it?

TEXT:

I have incorporated the suggestions I received on the "one-pager" that was distributed at last week's Choice Working Group meeting. As you may recall, the one-pager is to be distributed outside for Republicans in Congress are using the complicated budget process to launch a stealth attack on the reproductive health of American women. The House and Senate have already passed more than a dozen anti-choice provisions in committee and on the floor.

.Both the House and the Senate voted to restrict federal employees from choosing a health plan that includes coverage for abortion services -- including, under the House version, in cases where pregnancy is the result of rape or incest.

.The House has also voted to:

.Deny poor women access to abortions under Medicaid even if they are victims of rape and incest -- causing additional suffering for victims of sexual violence.

.Restore the ban on privately-funded abortion services in military hospitals, threatening the quality of the medical care available to servicewomen and women in military families -- especially those stationed in countries where abortion is illegal, the blood supply unsafe, and sterile conditions and reliable physicians difficult to come by.

.Deny all funding to any family planning organization that provides abortion services overseas or attempts to influence governmental policy on abortion.

.Undermine the requirement that ob/gyn residency programs provide training in abortion procedures -- even though current standards already exempt programs and residents with religious and moral objections to abortion.

.In addition, the House Appropriations Committee voted to defund the federal family planning program. Recognizing that eliminating a program that provides family planning services to millions of women is the wrong way to make abortion less necessary, moderate Republicans joined with Democrats to narrowly defeat this proposal on the House floor.

In contrast to the Congressional majority, the President has acted to protect women's reproductive health from his very first week in office. He signed a host of executive orders -- now in jeopardy -- that protected servicewomen and international family planning efforts, repealed the "Gag Rule" that restricted abortion counseling at federally funded family planning clinics, ended the ban on funding of fetal tissue research, and revoked the import ban on RU-486. The President also signed the Freedom of Access to Clinic Entrances Act to fight violence and intimidation against women and their doctors. And he has worked to make abortion rare as well as safe and legal by calling for a National Campaign Against Teen Pregnancy, proposing sensible welfare reforms, and requesting increases for the federal family planning program each year he has been in office.

Now American women must get involved to stop the Congressional majority's war on women. Making our voices heard has never been more important than it is today.

Tomorrow is the first day of the rest of your life (translation -- vacations are officially over) and it will begin with the regular staff meeting at 9:00 a.m. in the Judge's office. There will also be a staff meeting on Friday.

That's the bad news ... now the good news ...

Beginning Monday, White House Counsel's Office staff meetings will be held at 9:00 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. We think that REDUCING the number of meetings at the White House will be news that will rival Cal Ripken's record-breaking performance. So as not to interfere with Cal's big week, we won't start our new schedule until next week - September 11th.

TEXT:

The President is participating in a NATIONAL radio town hall meeting on Thursday, September 21, 1995. The show is being done live from Los Angeles with over 200 radio stations from around the country participating. Larry King will host and the President will take questions for an hour.

We are starting to pull the briefing materials together. The President has a large block of briefing time on Wednesday for this event. We will most likely need to send the briefing out on Monday.

Listed below are the subject areas we will need Q & A from and who I assume the contacts are. Please let me know if the contact is someone else. As you compile your Q & A, please keep in mind that this is a briefing for questions from a wide range of talk radio listeners all across America. The questions ARE NOT from journalists, so Q & A should be written in jargon-free language.

Please call me (6-5690) if you need any additional information or guidance.

Please have your Q & A in disc and hard copy form to me by 11:00 am on Monday.

This should give us enough time to make additions or revisions if necessary.

Some updates may be necessary since the town hall is not until Thursday. Julie Mason is sending you a copy of the preferable format under separate cover.
