Background on Chairman Archer's Tax Plan

June 10, 1997

The Clinton Administration's goal is to increase the amount of tax relief going into the pockets of working families. Chairman Archer's plan strays from that goal. It provides too little tax relief for working families in order to provide unnecessary tax cuts to those who least need them:

Completely Denies the Child Tax Credit to 4 Million Working Families. Under the Archer plan, the child tax credit is figured only after the earned income tax credit is taken against a family's tax bill. The Center on Budget and Policy Priorities has estimated that this will deny the credit to 4 million families. For example: A family of four with two children and $25,000 of income would receive no child tax relief under the Archer plan. Under the President's plan, this family would get $1,000 -- just as much as a family earning twice that much. The President's overall child tax credit would provide $193 billion to working families over ten years -- $45 billion more than Archer's would.

Singles Out and Penalizes 6 Million Families who Pay for Child Care and Gives them Less of a Tax Cut. The child tax credit is designed to help hard working families raise their children. Instead of helping families pay for child care, the Archer plan reduces the tax cut for 6 million families. Beginning in 2003, more than 6 million families who receive a tax credit for child care expenses would lose 50 cents for each dollar of the child tax credit. For example: A family with two working parents making $45,000 who pay for child care for their two children would seemingly be eligible for a $1,000 child tax credit. But under the Archer plan, they would also lose $480 of their child tax credit.

Dramatically Cuts the HOPE Scholarship Tax Credit to Students Going to Community Colleges. While we're pleased Chairman Archer has included a version of the President's HOPE scholarship, it is less fair than the President's plan. For example: A student from a working family who goes to a community college with a $1,200 tuition would have his or her entire tuition paid for under the President's plan. Under the Archer plan, that same student would receive only $600. The Archer plan fails to advance the President's goal of making the first two years of college universal. Under the Archer plan, a student attending an expensive private school would receive the full $1,500 credit, but the student attending community college would be short changed.

Over 250 college presidents -- from community colleges to public and private colleges and universities -- support the President's proposals. The President of the American Council of Education says: "The Hope tax credit is a giant step in the direction of making the first two years of college a universal benefit." And the American Association of State Colleges and Universities stated about the Archer plan on June 9th, that "instead of improving the Administration's education-related tax proposals, it accomplishes just the opposite. It is more regressive and does nothing to expand access to higher education."

INSTEAD OF MAXIMIZING TAX RELIEF FOR WORKING FAMILIES, THE ARCHER PLAN PROVIDES EXTENSIVE TAX CUTS FOR CORPORATIONS AND HIGHER-INCOME PEOPLE:

Allows Profitable Corporations to Pay not a Penny in Income Taxes. In 1986, Citizens for Tax Justice surveyed 250 of the nation's largest and most profitable corporations and found that 130, more than half, paid no income taxes during at least one of the five years 1981-1985. During those years when they paid no income taxes, these companies earned a combined $73 billion in pretax domestic profits. That is why there is a corporate alternative minimum tax. The Archer plan would return us to the days when some giant corporations didn't pay a penny in income taxes -- costing $34 billion over ten years.

Capital Gains Tax Cuts Would Explode the Deficit. On top of a broad-based capital gains tax cut, the Archer plan includes indexing of capital gains beginning in 2001. This proposal, which would be enormously difficult to administer, would threaten to undo much of the progress of bringing down the deficit. That's why the President insisted that the Republican leadership commit that the tax cut "shall not cause costs to explode in the outyears.”

Welfare Reform and Congressional Action on the Bipartisan Budget Agreement

Question: Is Congress following the budget agreement in their actions to implement legislation to date?

Answer: No. I strongly oppose the House Ways and Means Subcommittee proposal, which violates the bipartisan budget agreement, treats disabled legal immigrants unfairly, and prevents working welfare recipients from getting a minimum wage.

On the other hand, I am very pleased that the Ways and Means Subcommittee $3 billion welfare-to-work proposal meets many of my priorities. These include: targeting funds to areas and individuals with high needs, directing funds to cities and local governments, awarding some funds competitively, and allowing communities to create successful job placement and creation programs.

But the provisions of the Subcommittee proposal addressing legal immigrants and the minimum wage are clearly unacceptable.

Question: Why do you oppose House efforts to restore benefits to legal Immigrants?

Answer: The Ways and Means Subcommittee's proposed amendment to the welfare law clearly violates the negotiated, bipartisan budget agreement policy to restore a minimal safety net for disabled legal immigrants. The Subcommittee's proposal would restore SSI and Medicaid benefits only to immigrants already receiving benefits prior to August 23, 1996; by contrast, the bipartisan budget agreement policy restores SSI and Medicaid benefits to any immigrant in the country as of that date who is or becomes disabled.

The Ways and Means Subcommittee proposal would protect 75,000 fewer immigrants than the budget agreement by the year 2002. And in leaving unprotected any person who becomes disabled after August 22, 1996, it fails to target assistance to the most vulnerable individuals.

Question: Why do you oppose House action on paying the minimum wage to workfare recipients?

Answer: I strongly oppose the Ways and Means Subcommittee's provision on the minimum wage, which undermines the fundamental goals of welfare reform.

I strongly believe that everyone who can work must work -- and that those who work should earn the minimum wage, whether they are coming off of welfare or not. The House Ways and Means Subcommittee proposal does not meet this test.

It effectively creates a subminimum wage for workfare participants. And it weakens the welfare law's work requirements.

Welfare Caseload

Question: You have bragged about the fact that welfare caseloads have declined by 20 percent in the last four years. If the welfare rolls were declining before the new welfare law, why did you need to sign it?

Answer: The caseload reductions show why I signed the welfare law -- they're the best evidence that welfare reform works. As you know, this Administration granted welfare reform waivers to 43 states so they could impose tough work requirements and time limits and provide incentives that made work pay better than welfare. The 20 percent decline in welfare caseloads since January 1993 shows that these kinds of actions work. With the new law, governors can expand these welfare reform actions without having to petition Washington.

A recent study by my Council of Economic Advisors showed that, while 40% of the decline in the welfare caseload is due to the strong economy we have, about a third is due to the welfare waivers my Administration granted to 43 states prior to the signing of the welfare law.

Welfare Privatization

Question: You recently denied Texas' request to privatize its welfare programs. Doesn't your decision contradict the welfare reform law which grants states the flexibility to run their own programs?

Answer: No. Based on the new welfare law, Texas already has the authority to proceed now with the welfare portion of their proposal. However, Congress retained the laws on Medicaid and food stamps. Our guidance to Texas is consistent with current law.

Let me just follow up on this for a minute. It would be very much appreciated if you guys put our office in the loop at the beginning of the process of doing potential directives or executive orders, not at the end. In other words, as soon as you start sharing a draft with other people to get their views or clearance, send us a copy as well. Keeping us looped in won't, I assure you, make your life any more difficult, but it will make ours much less difficult. Let's please do this from now on. Thanks. todd

It's really not helpful at all to find out so late in the process that you there is a directive for an event tomorrow. This has been on the schedule for some time and I'm sure someone has been thinking about this directive. In the future, we need to know much sooner.

I attended the Gallup press conference this morning, which was quite well covered by the press. This survey is the first of a $10 million corporate commitment to study black/white race relations over the next decade. Their survey results present both current findings and trends over time since the 1950's. For our purposes, people were asked (as the Census bureau does) to identify which racial category they identified with. As such, Hispanics and other groups (which are technically not racial groups) were included in the white/black race groups. Only about 6% of the respondents (over 3,000) were classified as other and were included in the national numbers. The survey results are very informative; the major findings were:

- * persistent gaps in perceptions of blacks and whites, through with areas of substantial change over time.
- * significant decrease over time in white expression of unfavorable attitudes towards blacks and such situations as interracial marriage and voting for a black presidential candidate.
- * Whites say they have little prejudice against blacks, that they desire mixed race environments, and don't object to mixed race settings to live in and for their children's schools.

Substantial gaps between blacks and whites remain in the amount of prejudice, discrimination and equal opportunity seen in the community around them.

- * From the white perspective, there are fewer race problems, less discrimination, an abundance of opportunity for blacks, and only minimal personal prejudice. Blacks feel the opposite, even though their satisfaction levels have risen over the years.
- * When controlling for income and education, there is much less divergence in the attitudes between whites and blacks.
- * Young black males feel discriminated against more than any other groups and within the last 30 days, blacks experienced more discrimination shopping than other situations, e.g., encountering the police, riding public transit, etc.

JUVENILE HANDGUN DIRECTIVE

- * THE PROBLEM: KIDS AND GUNS. The mix of kids and guns is at the heart of our nation's youth violence epidemic. Guns -- and handguns in particular -- have fueled the surge in juvenile murders. Since 1984, the number of kids killing with a gun has quadrupled. And teenage boys today are more likely to die of gun shot wounds than all natural causes combined. Juvenile crime legislation passed by Congress must address this issue.
- * ADMINISTRATION BILL IS TOUGH ON GUNS. The Administration bill takes on the issue of kids and guns by: (1) increasing penalties for illegally transferring guns to juveniles; (2) expanding the Brady Law to prohibit violent juveniles from owning guns as adults; and (3) requiring federal gun dealers to provide child safety locks with every gun sold.
- * WE CAN -- AND SHOULD -- DO MORE. Although we need Congress to act, there's more we can -- and should -- do to cut off the easy access to guns for our kids. In most circumstances, existing law (Youth Handgun Safety Act) prohibits adults from transferring handguns to juveniles (punishable by up to 5 years imprisonment) -- and kids from possessing them, period (mandatory probation). For almost every gun that gets into a juvenile's hands, an adult had an opportunity -- in fact, the legal responsibility -- to stop that transfer from taking place. We can take action to ensure that gun purchasers know about their legal responsibility and keep guns away from kids.
- * THE PRESIDENT'S DIRECTIVE: PUTTING ADULT GUN PURCHASERS ON NOTICE.
Today's directive on juvenile handguns ensures that the Administration and Federal Firearms Licensees (FFLs) that transferring handguns to kids is a felony -- and that every gun purchaser has a legal obligation to help keep handguns away from our kids. The directive calls for all FFLs to post signs and issue written warnings with each handgun sold that:
 - (1) Make clear that it is generally illegal for any adult to transfer a handgun to a minor (under 18), or for that minor to possess a handgun, period;
 - (2) Make clear that transferring a handgun to a minor is punishable by up to 5 years imprisonment;
 - (3) Warn that handguns are a leading contributor to juvenile violence and fatalities; and

(4) Suggest that safely storing and locking handguns can help ensure compliance with this law.

TEXT:

My quick read of Archer's substitute is that it's generally good news for us:

Major Problems

Legal Immigrants. The mark still grandfathers in elderly non-disabled rather than covering those who become disabled in the future. The battle continues.

Possible Problems

Welfare to Work Tax Credit is smaller than we proposed, allowing only a credit of 35% of up to $10,000 in wages during the first year (ours was 50%), which rises to 50% of $10,000, like ours, in the second year of employment. The credit sunsets in the year 2000.

Local TANF agency involvement in Welfare to Work. Allows the PICs "sole authority" to expend funds they receive "pursuant to an agreement with the agency that is administering the State program" -- i.e., the local TANF agency.

Vocational Education. As you know, the subcommittee narrowed the percentage of people who could count as working while in vocational education or high school -- but not as much as expected. They reported out a bill saying up to 30% of those required to work could be doing vocational education or completing high school (if under age 20).

Our SAP argued for no change, saying that "The Administration is concerned with several provisions approved by the Subcommittee that were not in the budget agreement. For example, the agreement did not address making changes in the TANF work requirements regarding vocational education or educational services for teen parents."

Archer's mark, compared to the subcommittee bill, allows more people attending school to count as working by keeping the percentage at 30% of those required to work but not counting teen parents in high school within that cap until 1999.

Things We Like

Welfare to Work: Same as subcommittee except it attempts to further target the hard-to serve by requiring at least 90 percent of beneficiaries for competitive grant programs to (1) have 2 of 3 of the following characteristics -- a) not completed high school and has low skills; b) needs substance abuse treatment for employment; c) has poor work history -- AND (2) either a) been on welfare 30 months or more or b) is within 12 months of being ineligible. The earlier draft had been (1) OR (2).

Legal Immigrants. Several onerous provisions have been changed, including: 1) The provision requiring sponsors to have incomes of at least $40,000 has been dropped; 2) SSI and Medicaid benefits for asylees and aliens whose deportation has been withheld are extended from 5 years to 7 (earlier version extended only refugees); 3) A clarification is added on Cuban/Haitian entrants and certain Amerasian noncitizens which would provide these groups with benefits -- something that was I believe we proposed as a technical ealier this year; 4) The bill makes clear that immigrants whose SSI is restored will also get Medicaid;

Things to Note

Welfare to Work Funds and Child Care. Language has been added to clarify that welfare to work funds for "support services" cannot be used for child care. I don't know if we think that's a problem or not, but HHS is arguing that temporary child care (i.e. for someone in job search) should be allowed.

FLSA. The mark adds language saying all federal and state health and safety laws shall apply to the working conditions of recipients and that workers' compensation must be provided to such workers on the same basis as it would be for other workers. Also, it clarifies that under their proposal 1) first, a welfare recipient would have to work as many hours as TANF + food stamp grant would allow when the minimum wage was applied; and 2) then the state can choose or combine i) counting Medicaid, housing, child care and/or ii) completing the work hours through job search or various educational activities.

CLINTON ADMINISTRATION SYMPOSIUM ON YOUTH VIOLENCE AND CRIME

June 11, 1997

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

Announcement

- Today, President Clinton announced he will act to further restrict youth access to guns by directing the Treasury Department to use its existing authority to regulate federally-licensed gun dealers (FFLs) to publish regulations requiring them to post signs and issue written notifications warning handgun purchasers about prohibitions on transferring guns to minors and juvenile handgun possession [and that handguns are a leading contributor to juvenile violence and fatalities].

Background

- The mix of kids and guns is at the heart of our nation's youth violence epidemic. Guns -- and handguns in particular -- have fueled the surge in juvenile murders. Since 1984, the number of juveniles killing with a gun has quadrupled. And teenage boys today are more likely to die of gun shot wounds than all natural causes combined.
- The Administration's juvenile crime legislation gets tough on guns by: increasing penalties for illegally transferring guns to juveniles; expanding the Brady Law to prohibit violent juveniles from owning guns as adults; and requiring federal gun dealers to provide child safety locks with every gun sold.
- The President believes there is more we can-- and should -- do to cut off the easy access to guns for our kids. For almost every gun that gets into a juvenile's hands, an adult had an opportunity to stop that transfer from taking place.
- The President's directive ensures that Treasury will do everything in its power to put adult gun purchasers on notice about their legal obligation to help keep handguns away from our kids. The directive calls for Treasury to issue regulations requiring all FFLs to post signs and issue written warnings with each handgun sold that:
 - (1) Make clear that it is generally illegal for any adult to transfer a handgun to a minor, or for minors to possess a handgun;
 - (2) Make clear that violation of the prohibition on transferring a handgun to a juvenile is punishable, in some circumstances, by up to 10 years in prison;
 - [(3) Warn that handguns are a leading contributor to juvenile violence and fatalities;] and
 - (4) Suggest that safely storing and locking handguns can help ensure compliance with this law.

Clinton Administration's Anti-Gang and Youth Violence Strategy

- The President's strategy seeks to break the back of violent gangs, reduce youth violence, and provide kids with alternatives to steer them away from gangs, guns and drugs. In addition to getting tough on guns, his strategy includes $200 million for local prosecutors, probation officers, and anti-gang task forces and funds after school programs to keep kids off the streets and out of trouble.

Josh will run a reconciliation conference call with the agencies tomorrow (Wednesday) at 8:30 am. PAD offices are responsible for letting their agencies know about the call and giving them the conference number (757-2104, code 6162).

There are only 30 lines open for the call (and 45 people or so calling in) -- so please do not make individual calls (e.g., DADs should call in with their PADs, other 2nd floor folks should come to Josh's office, etc.) We need to reserve lines for people calling in from the agencies (otherwise we're just talking to ourselves). Thanks in advance for your help.

Here's Mark Mazur's response to my question of whether we are now supporting a refundable child care tax credit. He says the internal tax group is willing to propose a refundable $500 child tax credit -- which would not be earmarked specifically toward child care -- as a way of increasing the tax breaks to the $85 billion level. This Administration proposal has not been shared -- at least not to his knowledge, he said -- because the decision was made to comment on Archer first.

Cynthia,

The NEC has led a small group of Administration folks in looking at the President's tax package and trying to design something that would fit within the parameters of the balanced budget tax cut (as you know, the balanced budget agreement has a net tax cut of $85 billion over 5 years, while the President's budget has a net tax cut of about $25 billion over 5 years). In trying to figure out how to "spend" the extra $60 billion in tax cuts, the group decided that it would make sense to have the $500 per child tax credit to be refundable. This decision has not been publicized, since it didn't seem helpful to have the Administration craft its own larger tax cut package so soon after the budget release. It was thought to be a better strategy to see what the Republicans put together and then attack it, if warranted.

Please call if you have any questions.

Mark
