>Background:

>As you may know, the "Tax Relief Act" of 1997, passed the U.S.
 >House of Representatives (H.R. 2014) on Thursday, June 26; a >different version of the bill passed the Senate (S. 949) on >Friday, June 27. The House bill, while providing $135 billion >in tax relief to many Americans, contains a provision which >drastically and detrimentally affects graduate students. A >short clause phases out section 117(d) of the tax code, the >section that excludes the value of tuition waivers or tuition >reductions from taxable income. With the loss of this tuition >tax exclusion, many graduate students will see their taxes >raised by thousands of dollars per year. Examples provided by >the NAGPS (National Association of Graduate-Professional >Students) indicate that some of us may see our after-tax wages >cut by 50% or even more!!

>Tuition waivers are used in many graduate programs to assist >students during their often-lengthy education. Most of these >students are obtaining PhDs in academic fields and will go on >to modestly-paying university positions, possibly after long >post-doctoral research. They serve as teaching assistants or >research assistants in return for not paying tuition, which can >easily exceed $20,000 per year at private institutions. Under >the House version of the bill, the value of this tuition waiver >would be considered taxable income.

>Although the House version of this bill is a disaster for >graduate students, the Senate version does not include the >repeal of section 117(d) of the tax code. Because of this >and many other differences in the House and Senate versions >of the bill, both houses of Congress (as well as the White >House) will convene to reconcile the two versions of the bill >following the July 4th recess. At that point, the bill will >be voted on for final passage, and signed into law. Our last >chance to defeat the House bill is through this House-Senate >Committee, which is expected to begin meeting the week of >July 7th.

>If you have not heard of this issue, contained within the >highly publicized "Tax Relief Act," it is because this act is >enormous, containing tax issues involving cigarettes, >capital gains, and the $500 per child tax credit, to name just >a few. It is these other issues which have gained the media's >attention, and few people seem to be aware of the impending >disaster for graduate students, higher education, and >university and research budgets. **It is our responsibility >to ensure that our opinions are voiced and that this issue >gains national attention.**

>What you can do:

- >
- >1. Please forward this Email to all graduate students you know > at other institutions, as well as your family, your > friends, and any undergraduates you know who plan to go > to graduate school in the future. (Maybe media also!)
> Convince them to take action.
  - >2. Distribute this information to fellow students, faculty, > department and graduate program directors, and > administrators within your own institution. Organize a > campus-wide response through your local graduate student > representative group. Be sure that your administration > is on top of this issue and is taking immediate action.
  - >3. Call (or fax or email) your Senators and Representative!

> It is critical that your voice be heard by your own members > of Congress. Sheer numbers of calls will make an impact.
>4. Make a special effort to swamp the members of the Conference > Committee with calls, as they will make the ultimate > decision in reconciling the bills. If you are > represented by one of these Senators or know someone who > is (DE/MS/NY/NM/IA/OK/NJ/ND), make sure contact is made!
>=====

>How to contact your Senators and Representatives:
>
>House/Senate switchboard: 800-962-3524 or 800-972-3524 > or House: 202-225-3121 Senate: 202-224-3121
>Or check <<http://congress.org>> for addresses, direct phone >number, district office number, email and more information.
>The following senators are members of the Conference Committee >which will be composing the final version of the bill. These are >critical people to target, especially if you live or go to school >in DE, MS, NY, NM, IA, OK, NJ or ND.
> Roth (R-DE), Lott (R-MS), Moynihan (D-NY), > Domenici (R-NM), Grassley (R-IA), Nickles (R-OK), > Lautenberg (D-NJ), Conrad (D-ND)
>House Conference Committee members will not be announced until >July 7th or 8th.
>Congress is now on Independence Day recess (through July 7th) >and most members will be in their home districts. Use this >opportunity to meet with them personally to discuss your concerns.
>=====

>What to say in your calls and letters:
>Please be polite and courteous, but let them know that you oppose >the loss of section 117(d), the tuition tax waiver for graduate >students. This waiver is retained in the Senate version (S. 949) >of the Tax Relief Act but eliminated in the House version >(H.R. 2014). Be sure to mention that you are concerned that this >issue be carefully considered at the meeting of the Joint House->Senate Conference Committee to reconcile the two versions of the >Tax Relief Act. Explain to them your concerns for higher >education and for research should the tuition tax waiver be lost.
>Here are some specific points to mention:
>- how this tax increase will impact your financial status > (have numbers to illustrate your point)
>- how top students will opt not to pursue graduate degrees, > threatening America's continued leadership in research
>- how graduate students will leave graduate school
>- how losing qualified students in your field will impact the US > (e.g., biology: cancer and HIV/AIDS research > engineering/physics: national defense)
>- how this tax will increase costs to universities, leading to > an increase in undergraduate tuition
>- for more specifics, see NAGPS Talking Points:

> <http://www.nagps.org/Student\_Aid/105th/Tax\_TalkingPoints.html>
>WRITE, PHONE, and FAX these issues to your representatives

More Companies Reaching Out With Gay-Friendly Policies

Domestic Partner Benefits Gain Momentum in Tight Labor Market, Despite Risk of Offending Conservative Customers

By Steven Ginsberg

Two years ago, a group of Discovery Channel employees approached management and asked the company to extend medical benefits to domestic partners of gay and lesbian workers.

The Discovery Channel considered the request and responded with what its managers say was a business decision.

"In 1995, we began offering coverage for same-sex domestic partners," said Peter Likouris, human resources coordinator at Discovery. "We did some research and found that it wasn't going to raise [insurance] rates. We also did comparisons and saw that other companies in the industry were going this way. Part of our decision was to stay competitive, and part was to meet the needs of our employees."

The nature of today's tight labor market, with highly skilled workers at a premium, dictates that employers consider workers based on the skills they possess rather than the partners they prefer. Despite the risk of offending conservative and religious groups, such as the Southern Baptist Convention, which is boycotting Walt Disney Co., an increasing number of companies have come to the same conclusion as the Discovery Channel: Domestic partner benefits are a necessary tool to help attract and retain employees.

"We try to respond to employees' changes in lifestyle," said Likouris, who estimates that about 12 of Discovery's 850 employees have signed up for the benefits. "We've also seen that it increases morale, which in turn raises productivity. And when recruiters contact me they are aware of the policy because some of the candidates are interested in it."

KPMG Peat Marwick last month released a survey of 1,502 companies with 200 or more employees; it found that 13 percent of respondents provide health benefits to nontraditional partners. Among companies with more than 5,000 employees, the number jumps to one in four businesses.

The survey also found that the "costs of coverage for firms offering and not offering traditional coverage were equivalent, as were rates of increase in premiums." Employers in the high-technology, retail and government sectors were the most likely to offer benefits to domestic partners.

"Domestic partner benefits are a smart business decision," said Mark Johnson, media director for the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force (NGLTF).

"Companies and city governments realize that it's a good way to attract and retain employees."

Most companies offering domestic partner benefits treat same-sex couples exactly as they do married couples; packages carry the same benefits, including health care, bereavement leave, and family and medical leave.

Determining who is a domestic partner can be tricky. A handful of jurisdictions have domestic partner registries, but without a uniform national law, each company is left to set its own criteria. Typically, employers require employees to sign a form declaring that they live with and share financial responsibility for partners. Locally, the District and Takoma

Park have domestic partner registries, but Congress has not funded the District's, so it exists in name only.

Even though some companies offer these benefits, that doesn't mean employees are using them. The NGLTF estimates that gays and lesbians make up

2 percent to 10 percent of the work force, yet few sign up for domestic partner benefits.

"The number of people actually using these benefits is kind of discouraging," said Johnson, who added that it is nearly impossible to track the trend. "It relates to a fear that they'll be found out." Another reason for the low participation may be that many employees' same-sex partners also are professionals with their own benefit plans, Johnson said.

Even though employers that offer same-sex benefits believe gay-friendly policies make financial sense, doing so can be problematic, particularly for high-profile companies such as Disney. In the wake of the Southern Baptist boycott, the giant entertainment company has absorbed a number of public relations hits, and critics have questioned whether the boycott is affecting company policy. Just days after the boycott was launched, Disney recalled an estimated 100,000 copies of an obscenity-laced album by a hip-hop group called Insane Clown Posse. Disney said the recall had nothing to do with the boycott.

American Airlines, another gay benefits pioneer, also is coming under pressure from conservative groups, such as the Family Research Council and the American Family Association. American was the first airline to adopt a nondiscrimination employment policy that covers sexual orientation, a policy that is law in only 11 states and the District. Virginia and Maryland do not have such laws.

"We don't have a boycott" of American, said Bill Merrell, vice president for convention relations for the executive committee of the Southern Baptists. "But I know of large numbers of Christians that select around certain long-distance carriers, airlines and computer companies. If any group says we're not going to do business based on certain principles, it has to affect the revenue flow."

Still, local and national employers, such as the law firm Covington and Burling, say they are undeterred.

"We've had absolutely no controversy," said Jean Waxman, benefits coordinator at Covington and Burling, which offers domestic partner benefits to all couples, including heterosexuals. "We were told that there would be a rush of employees using it and our costs would be much higher, but neither of those things happened."

Waxman estimates that 18 of Covington and Burling's 865 U.S. employees have signed up for the plan since its inception in 1994. "It's been really easy to administer," Waxman said, "and we've had no problems whatsoever."

Erskine, given the news articles today regarding the Cherokee nation controversy, the Coeur d'Alenes tribe Internet gambling and the July 10 meeting you have agreed to with members of Congress, Lynn Cutler and I think it would be helpful if we could meet with you for 30 minutes to give you a status report. (The President has made clear thru our Weekly Reports his concern about Tribal Affairs in general and the Cherokee nation specifically.) We would further suggest that you invite Leg Affairs, Cabinet Affairs (since Justice and BIA are involved), OPP (Appointments) and the General Counsel's Office (Lynn has been getting help from Bill Marshall).

The purpose of the meeting would be to prepare for July 10 but moreover, to ensure we are responding appropriately to the current controversies. A meeting Tuesday would be ideal.

TEXT:

Erskine is meeting with Native American Members of Congress on Thursday, and is having a pre-brief tomorrow at 1 (see the e-mail I sent you earlier) to talk about it. One of the things he may want to talk about (and this is your call, but Lynn Cutler seemed to think it was a good idea) is the President's support for a commission on tribal law enforcement (a proposal I hear you and Bruce sent in to him). If this is the kind of news we want Erskine to deliver, you should go to the pre-brief tomorrow, and if you can also provide talking points on the commission and how Erskine would explain it, that would be ideal. (Paper before tomorrow's meeting would be great; paper during the meeting would be ok, too.) I'm heading out, but you can page me or we can talk in the morning if you have any questions. Thanks so much,
-Angus

President Clinton's Higher Education Tax Cut Proposal A Fact Sheet

President Clinton's HOPE Scholarship and 20% Tuition Tax Credit help 12.6 million students and their families -- seven million more students than under Congressional versions. While all of the plans encourage saving and help with student loan payments, only the Administration's proposal provides tax credits to working families who use their earnings to pay for college beyond the first two years, for part-time study to improve or acquire job skills, or graduate study. The higher education tax cut plans passed by the House and Senate are limited in their scope, providing some of the largest benefits to higher-income families who can afford to save large amounts.

- HOPE Scholarship. A maximum $1,500 credit for the first two years of postsecondary education. Students attending on at least a half-time basis would receive a 100% credit for the first $1,000 of tuition and required fees and a 50% credit for up to the next $1,000. For example, a student attending a community college with tuition costs of $1,400 would receive a $1,200 HOPE Scholarship. Scholarships would be phased out for joint filers with income between $80,000 and $100,000, and for single filers with income between $50,000 and $70,000. After 2002, the HOPE Scholarship increases to a 100% credit for the first $1,500 and a 50% credit for the next $1,000 of tuition and required fees.
- 20% Tuition Tax Credit. Undergraduates beyond their first two years, graduate students, plus working people going to school part-time to improve or acquire job skills, would benefit from a 20% tax credit on the first $5,000 of tuition and required fees through the year 2000 and after 2000 a 20% tax credit on the first $10,000 of tuition and required fees. The credit would be phased out at the same income levels as HOPE.
- Education and Retirement Savings Accounts. Allows penalty-free IRA withdrawals for undergraduate, post-secondary vocational, and graduate education expenses. Additionally, taxpayers eligible for the child tax credit are given the opportunity to deposit their child tax credit plus an additional $500, in a Kidsave Account for the child's education, first-time home purchase or the taxpayer's retirement. Earnings would accumulate tax-free in the Kidsave Account and no taxes would be due upon withdrawal for an approved purpose.
- Employer-Provided Education Benefits. Extends permanently Section 127 of the tax code, which allows people to exclude $5,250 of employer-provided education benefits from their taxable income. Eligibility for graduate education benefits would be reinstated retroactively back to June 30, 1996, with both undergraduate and graduate education eligible in the future. Additionally, a 10% employer credit for small business training is included. This credit would apply to payments made to third parties to cover expenses of education for employees under employer-provided education assistance programs. The credit would be available to employers with average annual gross receipts of $10 million or less for the prior three years.
- Student Loan Interest Deduction. Allows a deduction for up to $2,500 per year of interest on education loans for expenses of students enrolled at an institution of higher education. The deduction would be allowed for the first 60 months interest is due on a loan. The deduction would phase out for taxpayers making between $45,000 and $65,000 ($65,000 and $85,000 for married taxpayers filing jointly). This deduction would be available even if the taxpayer does not itemize deductions.
- Community Service Loan Forgiveness. In most circumstances, a loan that is forgiven is considered income and is therefore taxable. To encourage programs that offer loan forgiveness to borrowers who take lower-paying, community-service jobs, loan amounts forgiven through programs run by nonprofit tax-exempt charitable or educational institutions, and loans forgiven under the Direct Loan Program's income-contingent repayment program, would be excluded from income. Currently, the exclusion generally covers only certain forgiveness arrangements between students and government entities.
- Repeal Cap on Tax Exempt Bond Issuance by Colleges and Universities. Repeals the $150 million bond cap that affects private higher education institutions and certain other charitable institutions. The repeal would apply to tax-exempt bonds issued by these institutions to finance new capital expenditures.

Methodology of State-by-State Analysis

Using a nationally-representative sample of postsecondary students and data on Pell Grant recipients, an estimate was derived for the proportion of the total national number of recipients of the tax benefit in 1998. Using that ratio, the number of recipients for each State was determined. Based on the Joint Tax Committee and Treasury revenue estimates of the three plans for 1999, a dollar amount for each State was derived using the same ratio as the State/national number of beneficiaries.

President Clinton's Higher Education Tax Cuts: Greater Benefits for More Families

While providing the greatest help in the first two years, the Administration's plan has always gone much farther, granting a substantial tax cut for virtually any investment in postsecondary education or training. Unlike the Congressional plans, the President's tax credits cover more types and ages of postsecondary students, including:

- part-time students (less than half-time) seeking to improve or acquire job skills;
- students beyond their first two years of undergraduate study;
- graduate students.

Although the Administration, House and Senate plans all provide modest assistance for students who borrow or families who have special education savings accounts, for many situations that families find themselves in, the House and Senate plans provide little or no help. Consider the following:

Tuition Tax Credits Under Various Situations	President	House Plan	Senate Plan
Two kids in college: Married couple, $60,000 income, with two kids in college: one at a community college with $2,000 tuition and $200 books, the other a junior at a private college with $10,000 tuition.	$2,500 ($3,500 after year 2000)	$1,100	$1,500
Divorced parent, same income: Single parent with $50,000 income, one child going to an average community college full-time ($1,200 tuition and fees)	$1,100	$0	$0
Returning to school less than half-time: Family with $30,000 income, one parent going to a public four-year college part-time to change careers ($2,000 tuition and fees)	$400	$0	$0
Child is beyond first two years: Family with $40,000 income, one child is junior at average private college ($12,000 tuition and fees)	$1,000 ($2,000 after year 2000)	$0	$0
Returning to school full-time to become a teacher: Homemaker, family income of $70,000, attending graduate teacher training program at public university after being out of college for 20 years ($3,500 tuition).	$700	$0	$0
Graduate student: Single graduate student with $15,000 income and tuition of $15,000.	$1,000	$0	$0

TEXT:

Below is my cut at the substance of what we agreed to at yesterday's Ed Strategy meeting as a possible substitute for the Cardin amendment. Please let me know if this strikes you as a sensible approach and whether it accurately captures what we discussed. It would be particularly helpful to get your feedback on the bracketed portions, which I don't think we really addressed yesterday, and which differ from Cardin's approach. I will separately circulate this to Mike Smith and others at Education for their reactions.

If folks agree that this is basically on the mark, I also need guidance on next steps. I think drafters would need to put this more in the form of legislative specs. Education would need to be involved, especially because this is designed to parallel key aspects of Title I and take into account Agostini v. Felton. On the other hand, because it is tax legislation, presumably Treasury needs to be involved at some point, as well. I can imagine ED taking a first cut, and then passing over to Treasury, but what do others think? And once that is settled, who should take the lead in shopping this with Cardin?

Thanks.

ROUGH DRAFT -- July 8, 1997

An Amendment to Allow a Tax Credit for Costs and Fees Paid for Supplementary Educational Services for Children [possible substitute for Cardin]

Credit would be for up to [$150 or 50% of the costs incurred, whichever is less--Cardin amount] per year per child ages 6-18, enrolled as a full time elementary or secondary school student

Credit would be for costs and fees paid

Services provided must be supplementary to the basic educational program, and can include extra help/tutoring in core academic subjects, including reading and math [that the student is studying in school] [as well as enrichment in arts, music etc.]; the credit is not available for regular tuition costs

Allowable services may not include college entrance test preparation

[Allowable services may not include sectarian instruction]

Services must be provided outside the regular school day, which can include before- or after-school, during summers, or on weekends

Services must be provided through a local school district, consistent with Title I

Consistent with Title I and the Supreme Court's ruling in Agostini vs. Felton, services may be provided at a public school or at another site (including private religious schools)

Consistent with Title I, services may be provided directly by the local school district, or under contract to the local school district

Note: Some districts currently provide after-school or summer services for free; others have elected to charge for them. In localities where the services are provided for free, there is no need for the tax credit because after-school services are already available. In localities where services are only available for a fee, the legislation would aid families that want extra services for their children. In communities where after-school tutoring is primarily provided in venues such as Boys and Girls Clubs, the school district could agree to contract with such organizations to provide the services. Where no services are currently offered, the tax credit may encourage districts to begin offering such services.

Because the services would be provided under the auspices of the local school district, there would be no need for any sort of "certification" process as envisioned in the Cardin legislation. Services could be provided through private organizations under contract to school districts to the same extent they can presently be provided under Title I.

TEXT:

Here's my proposed draft for the Anthony Pilla letter we emailed about previously:

Thank you for your most recent letter regarding the issue of late term abortion. While I continue to oppose late-term abortions except, as the Supreme Court requires, where necessary to protect the life or health of the mother, I believe the procedure should be permitted as a last resort when doctors judge it necessary to save a woman's life or to avert serious consequences to her health.

I am aware of the recent statements by the American Medical Association, and I respect their expertise and knowledge. However, members of the medical community with whom I consulted during my struggle with this issue advised me that, in those rare cases where a woman's serious health interests are at stake, the decision regarding whether to use the procedure should be left to the best exercise of a physician's medical judgment. For that reason, I remain opposed to H.R. 1122.

I appreciate your continuing counsel on this complex and sensitive issue.

TEXT:

The House Judiciary Subcommittee on the Constitution is scheduled to markup H.R. 1909 - The Civil Rights Act of 1997 - tomorrow, July 9th at 2pm.

H.R. 1909 would ban the government from considering race and gender as factors in hiring and awarding contracts. H.R. 1909 is similar to the 104th Congress bill H.R. 2128/S. 1085. Justice (Deval Patrick) testified in opposition to H.R. 2128 and the testimony stated that if H.R. 2128 were presented to the President the Attorney General would have recommended that the President veto the bill.

OMB just received a Justice letter to the Subcommittee on H.R. 1909 which states that "the President has indicated that he would accept my [the Attorney General's] recommendation and veto the bill." We have circulated this letter with a 4pm, today, deadline for comments. In addition, we expect to receive for clearance, later today, a Labor letter for the Subcommittee markup tomorrow.
