Crack Cocaine Sentencing -- Updated Question/Answer
July 22, 1997

Q: Mr. President, today's New York Times reports that you have received a recommendation from the Attorney General and Drug Director to reduce the disparity between sentences for crack and powder cocaine. What is their recommendation, and have you accepted or acted on it?

A: As you know, on April 29th the U.S. Sentencing Commission issued a report recommending that the disparity between sentences for crack and powder be narrowed. I asked the Attorney General and Drug Director to review the Commission's report and make a recommendation to me. They did, and their recommendation was that the trigger for 5-year mandatory drug penalties should be increased from 5 to 25 grams for crack -- and dropped from 500 to 250 grams for powder cocaine. I think this is a sensible recommendation. It makes good law enforcement sense, and its fairer. So I have accepted this recommendation -- and asked the Attorney General and Drug Director to work with Members of Congress on this matter.

Subject: National Teacher's Association (NEA)

I received a call from Mary Elizabeth Teasly from the NEA yesterday indicating that they rec'd dozens of calls from their members inquiring about the President's new teachers education proposal that was announced at the NAACP. They didn't know the President was going to make this announcement and was blind-sided in the press. I remember raising this with one of my colleagues. For those who don't know, the NEA has been a major supporter of the President dating back to the '92 campaign. They are often called to rally the troops on behalf of the President and Vice-President. Sylvia I suggested to Mary that she give you a call for more details.

Q: The Wall Street Journal reports today that the Administration task force reviewing the settlement will recommend that the President support it with relatively few changes. Can you confirm that?

A. No. The task force reviewing the settlement -- led by Secretary Shalala and Bruce Reed -- has not yet finished its work or made recommendations to the President. The President has personally reached a final conclusion on only one part of the settlement: the requirement that the FDA find that there will not be a black market before mandating any product changes. That is an unreasonable requirement, which will too greatly limit the FDA's ability to make tobacco products safer or less addictive.

BILINGUAL EDUCATION

Background

In June, Californians may face a new ballot initiative to abolish bilingual instruction for public school children in the state, requiring that most instruction be conducted only in English. The idea has support from many conservatives and some in the Latino community, as well as other minority groups, who are frustrated with what they see as an ineffective approach to learning English. However, the ballot initiative is vehemently opposed by many other Latinos, who strongly support bilingual instruction and see the initiative as an attack cut from the same cloth as Propositions 187 and 209.

The Administration has strongly supported the federal bilingual education program, which funds local programs designed to provide help to kids so they can become proficient in English. The program permits a variety of different approaches to helping students master English, including both bilingual and English immersion instruction. To help insure that ensure that resources are available to help children learn English well, we proposed a 27% increase in bilingual education, and succeeded in including it as one of the areas protected in the balanced budget agreement.

Q's and A's

Does the Administration support bilingual education?

The Administration strongly supports the federal bilingual education program, which funds local programs designed to help kids become proficient in English. The program permits a variety of different approaches to helping students master English, including both bilingual and English immersion instruction. To help ensure that resources are available to assist children to learn English well, we proposed a 27% increase in the program, and worked successfully to include bilingual education as one of the protected areas in the balanced budget agreement.

Does the Administration plan to intervene in California or campaign on behalf of bilingual education?

The measure has not yet even been introduced so this question may be premature. We will be getting more information on the initiative as events develop. However, the Administration supports the approach of the federal program, which permits a variety of different strategies for English language instruction, and thinks that a range of options for meeting the needs of children should continue to be available to local communities.

Wanted to let you know that I ran into Hugh Price's WA Office director (Tom McAlpine) and asked him more questions regarding the Urban League conference and what was happening on the day the President speaks. I also asked what was there conference theme . Since we indicated in yesterday's Sr. staff meeting that this wouldn't be billed as a race and reconciliation (which is good) I thought we needed to know there focus. I recall someone mentioning the POTUS could speak about education. That's great and it should be weaved into overall message. Here is the theme of the conference and the line up for that Monday. ## Recommendations on Crack Cocaine Sentencing July 22, 1997

Announcement

- Today, the President stated that he had accepted a recommendation from the Attorney General and Drug Director to reduce the disparity between crack and powder cocaine sentences from a ratio of 100 to 1, to a ratio of 10 to 1. Specifically, the recommendation calls for increasing the trigger for 5-year mandatory drug penalties from 5 grams to 25 grams for crack cocaine -- and dropping the trigger from 500 to 250 grams for powder cocaine. The President has asked the Attorney General and Drug Director to consult and work with Members of Congress on this matter.

Background

- Current federal law requires a 5-year mandatory sentence for trafficking in 500 grams of powder cocaine, but imposes the same sentence for only 5 grams of crack cocaine.
- On May 1, 1995 the U.S. Sentencing Commission proposed equalizing penalties for crack and powder cocaine at 500 grams -- substantially reducing the penalties for crack. President Clinton proposed and signed legislation which rejected these recommendations and directed the Sentencing Commission to submit new recommendations that retained tougher sentences for crack..
- On April 29th, the Sentencing Commission issued a revised report that proposed reducing the triggering amount for 5-year mandatory drug penalties for crack from the current 5 grams to between 25 and 75 grams -- and decreasing this trigger for powder from the current 500 grams to between 125 and 375 grams.
- In response, the President asked the Attorney General and Drug Director to review the Sentencing Commission's recommendations and report back to him in 60 days. He also reiterated the Administration's position that -- while some adjustment to cocaine penalties is warranted -- our sentencing laws should continue to reflect that crack is a more dangerous form of cocaine and that tougher sentences are appropriate. Moreover, our cocaine sentencing policy should ensure that federal law enforcement resources target mid- and high-level drug traffickers.
- On July 3rd, the Attorney General and Drug Director recommended that the President support reducing the disparity between crack and powder cocaine sentences by: (1) increasing the trigger for 5-year mandatory drug penalties from 5 to 25 grams for crack; and (2) dropping the trigger from 500 to 250 grams for powder. This revised structure maintains tough sentences for serious drug offenders; properly focuses federal law enforcement efforts on mid- and high-level drug traffickers; addresses perceptions of unfairness with the current disparity; and continues to reflect that crack -- because it is more likely to be associated with violence -- is more a dangerous form of cocaine.

BILINGUAL EDUCATION

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

Background

In June, Californians may face a new ballot initiative to abolish bilingual instruction for public school children in the state, requiring that most instruction be conducted only in English. The idea has support from many conservatives and some in the Latino community, as well as other minority groups, who are frustrated with what they see as an ineffective approach to learning English. However, the ballot initiative is vehemently opposed by many other Latinos, who strongly support bilingual instruction and see the initiative as an attack cut from the same cloth as Propositions 187 and 209.

The Administration has strongly supported the federal bilingual education program, which funds local programs designed to provide help to kids so they can become proficient in English. The program permits a variety of different approaches to helping students master English, including both bilingual and English immersion instruction. To help ensure that resources are available to help children learn English well, we proposed a 27% increase in bilingual education, and succeeded in including it as one of the areas protected in the balanced budget agreement.

Q's and A's

Does the Administration support bilingual education?

The Administration strongly supports the federal bilingual education program, which funds local programs designed to help kids become proficient in English. The program permits a variety of different approaches to helping students master English, including both bilingual and English immersion instruction. To help ensure that resources are available to assist children to learn English well, we proposed a 27% increase in the program, and worked successfully to include bilingual education as one of the protected areas in the balanced budget agreement.

Does the Administration plan to intervene in California or campaign on behalf of bilingual education?

The measure has not yet qualified for the ballot so this question is premature. We will be getting more information on the initiative as events develop. However, the Administration supports the approach of the federal program, which permits a variety of different strategies for English language instruction, and thinks that a range of options for meeting the needs of children should continue to be available to local communities.

Attached is a paper with some talking points:

There appears to be another, fairly major option for addressing Waters' problem without a change in the law -- but we may not want to talk it up. States can choose to define these households as "child-only" cases under TANF, as Wisconsin has. The time limit does not apply to child-only cases. This trick has a more limited utility in getting around work requirements -- it allows you to exempt the grandparent from work, but child-only households are still counted in the denominator for the purposes of meeting the work requirements, so you have to make it up somewhere else in the caseload.

States are free under TANF to create a child-only category for whatever slice of the population they wish, e.g., grandparents, those over a certain age, or even parents. Presumably a state pays a lower benefit to a child-only case than to a two-person family, but that is not required. So TANF may encourage states to create more child-only categories -- although there will be a countervailing political pressure to be tough on work.

As CEA noted in its weekly report to the President last week, child-only cases are already a large and growing part of the caseload, increasing from 9.6% in 1988 to 21.5% in 1996. The cause is unclear. Child-only cases include households where the parent is on SSI, where the parent is an illegal alien, or where the parent has been sanctioned, as well as cases where the caretaker was a relative not eligible for AFDC.

By the way, Frank Raines is apparently interested in this as well, and has talked to Waters. Therefore, Keith wants to come or send someone to the Waters meeting. ===== ATTACHMENT 1 =====

Grandparent/Family Caregiver Exemption from Welfare Work Requirements and Time Limits

Summary of Grandparent and Family Caregiver Support Act: Would prohibit states from applying work requirements and time limits to grandparents and other family members caring for children on public assistance.

Talking Points

- In welfare reform, we agreed to give states the discretion to identify their most vulnerable populations -- battered women, people with AIDS, those too disabled to work, grandparent caregivers -- and decide who would be exempt from time limits and work requirements.
  - The law allows states to exempt up to 20% of the caseload from time limits. The maximum work requirement is 50% of the caseload beginning in 2002. States also have some discretion to use state-only programs to help this group. [Note: we shouldn't overemphasize this, since we've wanted to close this loophole.]
- In the current reconciliation debate, the Administration is opposing a number of proposals to weaken the work requirements. These include:
  - a reduction in required work hours for states whose benefits can't support payment of the minimum wage; and
  - broadening the amount of vocational education that counts toward the work requirements.
- There is also a real risk that this proposal would encourage parents to give their children over to grandparents or other relatives' care.

Unrelated Note: The welfare law requires the Census Bureau to collect census data on grandparents who are primary caregivers for their grandchildren, with the Commerce Secretary required to take action to make this possible within 90 days after the law was signed. I am trying to learn if Commerce has done this, but I don't believe this would yield any data until the year 2000 census.

Tonight, Joan Huffer of Senator Dachle's staff gave me an update of their discussions with Senate Parliamentarian Bob Dove (I believe she'd already filled you in, Barbara).

- 1) Dove says he believes FLSA violates the Byrd rule and does not expect to see anything that would change his mind.
- 2) Dove believes the new version of the privatization provision does not violate the Byrd rule. He told this directly to Senator Phil Gramm based on the fact that the new provision had a cost and covers all states. Huffer thinks there are still grounds on which the provision violates the Byrd rule, and will try to argue them tomorrow, but believes Dove won't want to reverse himself on a statement he made directly to Senator Gramm.
- 3) Huffer spoke to one of Dove's assistants on the House vocational education provision. The assistant will recommend to Dove that he rule it violates the Byrd rule.

4) SSI State Supplement. When Huffer told Dove that CBO couldn't decide if the provision had a small cost or a small savings, Dove told Huffer he thinks it violates the Byrd rule. Now CBO has apparently changed its mind and plans to assign a small cost. Huffer will go back to Dove with this new news tomorrow and try to persuade him it shouldn't matter.
