I need you to clear this letter from the President to Christopher Cerf. Chris wrote the President a post-resignation letter -- thanking him for the opportunity to serve and saying he is most proud of his work on the tobacco issue. Please feel free to change anything -- I didn't have much information to work with. Thanks. Sarah

Dear Chris:

Thank you for your kind letter of September 5, 1997. I am pleased to hear that you are doing well.

I want you to know that I will always be grateful for your committed and very able work as my Associate Counsel. Your advice on a wide range of issues -- from tobacco to information technology -- was a great benefit to me and my entire staff. You deserve to be proud of the important role you played in moving our country forward.

As you begin to address the responsibilities of your new position as Executive Vice President and General Counsel of the Edison Project, I am confident that your talent and insights will again serve you well. I still consider you an important member of my team, and Hillary joins me in sending our very best wishes for every future success and happiness.

Q: WHAT IS THE PRESIDENT'S RESPONSE TO THE PRINCIPLES FOR CONSUMER PROTECTIONS RECOMMENDED YESTERDAY BY LEADING HEALTH PLANS AND CONSUMER GROUPS?

A: We welcome the recommendations on consumer protections offered by this broad-based group of health plans and consumer groups. The principles they outline make a constructive contribution to the important dialogue on the ongoing need for strong consumer protections in a rapidly changing health care delivery system. These recommendations are consistent with the President's commitment to develop strong and thoughtful national quality assurance provisions for the American public.

We believe that these recommendations will be helpful to the work the President's Advisory Commission on Quality and Consumer Protections is doing to develop a consumer bill of rights. The Commission plans to release the bill of rights later this fall. We look forward to working with this coalition, the Quality Commission, as well as members of Congress on both sides of the aisle to find the best way to provide the public with greater confidence about quality in our health care system.

Q: DO CONSUMER PROTECTIONS SUCH AS THE ONES OUTLINED YESTERDAY REQUIRE FEDERAL LEGISLATION? AND HOW WILL THEY BE ENFORCED?

A: We believe that there should be national standards to ensure that all Americans have strong consumer protections. The issue of how best to enforce these protections is currently being reviewed by both the President's Quality Commission and through the Administration's regular health policy development process.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE
SECRETARY OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES
SECRETARY OF LABOR
ADMINISTRATOR OF THE ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

SUBJECT: Initiative to Safeguard Imported Foods

Earlier this year, I directed my Administration to undertake a broad initiative to improve the safety of the nation's food supply. That initiative is designed to address attention to a number of steps at which the safety of food from farm to table can be rapidly improved. The initiative focuses on opportunities in foodborne illness surveillance, enhanced coordination among federal and state agencies with food-safety responsibilities, and enhanced inspection, research, education, and risk assessment programs. I am now directing my Administration to direct specific attention to ensuring the safety of imported foods.

My Administration will take actions to increase assurances that all foods, from farm to table, and including imported foods, meet high standards of safety. Recognizing the increasing complexity of food systems, from domestic to international, from production to retail and food service, and the gaps in our knowledge about foodborne illness outbreaks, their causes and sources, we need to take appropriate steps to maintain the safety of our food supply.

I hereby direct that you work together with the food industry and with our partners in trade to ensure the safety of foods imported into the United States. Your actions should include development of guidance to minimize microbial food safety risks from fresh fruits and vegetables and enhanced oversight authority for imported foods. You should work with the food industry and with consumers and the public to develop outreach and educational efforts to encourage producers to adopt these guidance practices. You should also work to evaluate the potential for food-safety problems in exporting countries, and to help those countries develop their own best practices. You should accelerate food-safety research. You should report back to me in one year with the status of your actions and your further recommendations.

Finally, I am directing the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency and the Secretary of Labor to commit staff resources to assist the Secretaries of Health and Human Services and Agriculture in achieving these goals.

Initiative to Safeguard Imported Foods
Summary of Initiative

The Clinton Administration proposes to increase assurances that all foods, from farm to table, and including imported foods, meet high standards of safety. As we recognize the increasing complexity of food systems, from domestic to international, from production to retail and food service, and the gaps in our knowledge about foodborne illness outbreaks, their causes and sources, we need to take the appropriate steps to maintain the safety of our food supply. Therefore, the Administration is proposing the following steps.

Guidance for Fresh Fruits and Vegetables

FDA will develop "Guidance to Minimize Microbial Food Safety Risks for Fruits and Vegetables" in collaboration with USDA and with the food industry. This guidance will include such issues as sanitation in harvesting and production facilities, transportation, water quality, and worker health and safety. FDA and USDA will convene a public meeting to discuss guidance concepts by mid-November 1997. Information from the public meeting will be used to publish this guidance for all fresh fruits and vegetables by January 1, 1998. Working with USDA and the food industry, FDA will publish good agricultural practices (GAPs) and good manufacturing practices (GMPs) guidance by the end of 1998 that will build on the broader guidance and be further tailored to apply specifically to each of four to eight produce categories (representing a significant proportion of the fresh produce consumed annually in the United States).

Enhanced FDA Oversight Authority for Imported Foods

The Administration will propose legislation to enable FDA to ensure that no food may be imported into the United States unless it is produced under a system that provides the same level of public-health protection provided by the U.S. food-safety system. (USDA already has such authority for ensuring the safety of imported meat and poultry.) In addition, legislation will be proposed that will allow FDA to refuse importation of a food that comes from a facility that refused to permit FDA inspection. USDA and FDA will develop country profiles assessing the food production, transportation, and handling practices in place in foreign countries. USDA and FDA will also encourage the adoption of good practices overseas through technical assistance, training, and cooperative research efforts. The agencies will target these activities and assistance to suppliers of products being shipped to the United States.

New Resources to Oversee Imported Foods

The Administration will ask Congress to appropriate new funding, beginning in FY'99, to implement these initiatives. These funds will allow the federal agencies responsible for food safety to carry out such activities as hiring of new FDA inspectors to inspect foreign food producers and to inspect food imported into this country, and to carry out research to develop methods to detect disease-causing pathogens in food.

Report to the President

FDA and USDA will report back to the President by October 1, 1998, with a status report on progress toward the establishment of guidance to minimize microbial food-safety risks for fruits and vegetables, the legislation to enhance FDA's authority to keep unsafe foods out of the United States, and the testing, research, education, outreach and any other actions needed to implement this initiative. For example, this report will detail needs for better understanding of how food becomes contaminated--at every point in its production and distribution--and our needs for better scientific methods to more rapidly identify and eliminate pathogens from our food supply.

The New Jersey speech on the 8th will now be at a convention of african american, Baptist ministers. So, there will no longer be an emphasis on education standards, but he could give a general education speech. Ann has asked us to see if there's something he can say in that speech or prior to his departure from the WH that will make news -- and also will appeal to the group he will be addressing. (She suggested something on Head Start or Service). Mike Cohen felt a departure statement on whatever the Republicans are doing that day on education could work. If we have other ideas, we should let Ann know today. This will probably come up at the COS Scheduling meeting. Thanks.

MAKING TWO YEARS OF COLLEGE UNIVERSALLY AVAILABLE, AND PROMOTING A LIFETIME OF LEARNING

President Clinton fought for a Bipartisan Balanced Budget that included a $1,500 HOPE Scholarship and a Lifetime Learning Tax Credit for middle income families, and a $3,000 maximum Pell Grant scholarship for lower-income families. Today the President will release a new report which shows how these initiatives will help ensure that anyone can afford tuition and fees for two years at a community college, and highlights how community colleges are providing a high-quality education and preparing millions of Americans to participate in the 21st Century economy. The President will also challenge Congress to follow through on the Balanced Budget Agreement, not shut the door on thousands of adult students.

Community Colleges are Dynamic Institutions that Provide a High Quality, Affordable Education.

Today the President travels to San Jacinto College, near Houston, to release a new report on community colleges by the U.S. Department of Education. Fifty years after the Truman Commission Report called for a nationwide network of public community colleges, this report highlights the critical role being played by community colleges in preparing the workforce of the 21st Century. The report describes how these institutions provide a high quality education to a diverse array of Americans at various stages in their lives and careers, and underscores that community colleges are remarkably affordable, with average tuition and fees expected to run just over $1,300 next fall.

The HOPE Scholarship Cuts Tuition and Fee Costs at Community Colleges by 88%. New projections by the Department of Education indicate that in the 1998-99 school year, the HOPE Scholarship will cover up to 88 percent of the national average full-time tuition and fees at community colleges. In seven States, including Texas, HOPE covers 100 percent of community college tuition and fees. In 35 States, the maximum HOPE Scholarship covers 75 percent or more of tuition and fees. 5.8 million students are expected to benefit from the HOPE Scholarship at all types of higher education institutions.

Pell Grants Will Benefit 1.4 Million Community College Students. The Department of Education estimates that 1.4 million community college students will receive an average Pell Grant in 1998-99 of $1,810. Pell Grants are available on a sliding scale based on income and can be used to cover tuition and fees as well as living expenses associated with college. The Bipartisan Balanced Budget Agreement includes the President's proposal for the largest increase in the grant in two decades, to a maximum of $3,000. Some students will qualify for both a Pell Grant and a tax credit (HOPE or Lifetime).

7.1 Million Will Benefit from Lifetime Learning Tax Credit. For students beyond their first two years of college, including those who are returning to school (full or part time) to upgrade their skills or change careers, the Taxpayers Relief Act offers a 20 percent tax credit for the first $5,000 of tuition and fees paid by a student. It is expected that 7.1 million students will take advantage of the credit to help pay for postsecondary education.

Many Adults Who Return to School Will be Shortchanged if Congress Does Not Finish the Job. The

DRAFT -- September 24, 1997

Department of Education estimates that 223,000 students -- and millions more who could consider college -- will not be able to benefit fully from HOPE or Pell unless the President's budget request for the Pell Grant program is adopted -- as required by the Bipartisan Balanced Budget Agreement. The President's request included a provision to ensure that so-called "independent" students -- those who are over age 24, or are married or veterans, can receive Pell Grants if they are low-income. (Like other low-income students, their eligibility for HOPE Scholarships is limited by their tax liability). A House-Senate conference committee is currently considering this issue. If they do not act to address this problem, college may be out of reach for students like a 22-year-old veteran making only $10,000 a year, a married 35-year-old with joint income of only $14,000, or a 30-year-old with income of only $11,000.

It went very well. It turns out that BLS has been working on this for the past year. The hard part is coming up with 2 or 3 questions that really measure disability -- a more complex concept to measure than race or sex. Adding more than a few questions to the monthly "CPS" (the monthly survey that produces the unemployment rate) is considered untenable because people won't want to answer the survey if it gets too long. BLS is now field testing 2 questions on disability, but they won't have results for a year. If the results are good, they would be added to the monthly CPS in about a year and a half. If it goes poorly, they will have to try again. The appointees were remarkably reasonable in the face of this timetable, and we agreed roughly on an approach to reflecting this in the draft executive order. And the person from CEA who came was very reasonable.

I just sent on to you USDA's response to us on the Arizona privatization proposal. It's basically OK. You'll recall we have a deadline of a week from tomorrow for USDA to act. Since our next step is to see what people here think, I just wanted to throw out the possibility that we could raise this with Podesta tomorrow, as long as we have him trapped on FLSA.

New Shaw Draft

Background: Rep. Shaw is trying to forge an alliance between Governors and Congressional Republicans on workfare and Fair Labor Standards Act requirements. Governors of both parties are concerned about the cost of compliance with FLSA and other labor laws, including payment of the minimum wage, and the cost of FICA taxes for workfare participants. Shaw is trying to get Governors to endorse a new draft bill.

- Shaw's new draft tries to reclassify people in workfare programs as "trainees." This would deprive them of the protections of the FLSA, including the minimum wage, and other labor laws, including full health and safety protections and protection against discrimination.
- It would also significantly weaken the welfare law's tough work requirements for people on welfare who perform "community service." Instead of being required to work for 20 hours a week in 1998, someone doing community service would only have to work as many hours as the state could afford at the minimum wage. The balance of a recipients' time could be spent on job search and education activities.

We are also concerned that the definition of community service is so broad that it could include nearly all subsidized work, allowing low benefit states to require less than 20 hours of work from nearly all their "working" recipients. DOL is also concerned that it would weaken labor protections for those performing community service.

- The bill would also exempt community service positions from FICA and unemployment taxes, which we indicated during the balanced budget negotiations that we were willing to do. In fact, we agreed to such an exemption as part of a last-minute compromise on the Balanced Budget Act that fell apart for other reasons.

Talking Points:

- Worker protection laws, such as the Fair Labor Standards Act, should apply to workfare participants in the same way they apply to other workers. No one doing real work should be paid a subminimum wage or should be subject to health and safety hazards.
- Rep. Shaw's latest proposal would deprive workfare participants of those protections, including payment of the minimum wage.
- It would also weaken the welfare law's tough work requirements -- requirements that were part of last year's bipartisan agreement to reform welfare, and which states have only just begun to implement.
- Paying working welfare recipients the minimum wage and giving them other worker protections will promote the goals of welfare reform, because it will give them the ability to support their families and break the cycle of dependency.
- The Administration is prepared to work with states to ensure that they can comply with the law, without undue financial burden, and meet the welfare law's work requirements.

I will send around a revised block, but here are the highlights:

1. The President and First Lady will be given the option of doing the Breast Cancer Event on the 20th (which was supposed to be their day off), and they will decide. If it is not the 20th that EITHER the FLOTUS or POTUS will do it as their own event.

2. NJ speech on Oct. 8th is not going to take place at a Babtist Ministers Conference and it will remain an education message.

Pell Grants and HOPE Scholarships

Q: Do some people receive both Pell Grants and HOPE Scholarships? How do the two benefits interact?

A: Some will get both, depending on tuition, income, and financial aid levels. Pell Grants are the foundation of aid for low-income students and families. The poorest students receive the maximum grant ($3,000 next year). A student's Pell Grant eligibility decreases as family income increases. If a Pell Grant (or other scholarship) does not fully cover tuition and fees, then the student would be eligible for a HOPE Scholarship to cover the remainder. (However, the lowest-income students would not be able to benefit from HOPE because they do not have tax liability and therefore cannot use a tax credit.)

Pell Grants for Independent Students

Q: Why did the Administration propose the additional Pell Grants for adult students?

A: Because without the President's policy change, these students would not benefit enough under either HOPE or Pell. Under HOPE, they are so poor that they do not have sufficient tax liability to benefit fully. But under the formula for Pell Grants, they are not considered poor enough for aid. The change would acknowledge that they should receive Pell Grants.

Impact of Alternative Minimum Tax on Education Tax Cuts

Q: ISN'T IT TRUE THAT MANY AMERICANS WILL NOT GET THE EDUCATION TAX CUTS AS ADVERTISED BECAUSE OF THE ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX?

A: The overwhelming share of families will be unaffected by the AMT. The AMT will affect only a small fraction of taxpayers. The balanced budget delivered a HOPE Scholarship to 5.8 million students and 7.1 million students will qualify for a Lifetime Learning Tax Credit. Additionally, it included a child tax credit for 27 million families. Out of these many millions of taxpayers, a very small fraction, (about 200,000) will be affected by the AMT in 1998 because of these tax cuts. [Absent the tax cut bill an estimated 1 million people would be affected by the AMT in 1998. The new tax cuts will add 200,000 people in 1998 and about 500,000 in 1999]

- This is not a big issue now but the number of taxpayers affected by the AMT will grow over time, making it a significant issue down the road. It therefore should be studied and that is what the Treasury Department is doing. [By 2007, about 11 million people will be affected by the AMT -- of which 2.4 million will be affected by the AMT because of the new tax cut law]

Rising College Costs

Q: On Wednesday, the College Board released the Annual Survey of Colleges, 1997-98, that indicates that undergraduates at American colleges will pay, on average, approximately 5 percent more this year than last in tuition and fees at four-year institutions, and from 2 to 4 percent more at two-year institutions. How do these increases relate to the Administration's policies? Specifically, will the availability of the increased aid - both the tax credits and Pell Grant increases - fuel the increases in college costs?

A: The report by the College Board reinforces our reason for being at a community college. Nearly half -- 46 percent -- of undergraduates are attending community colleges. The College Board, in the report released on Wednesday, estimated that tuition and fees increased by only 2 percent at these institutions between 1996-97 and 1997-98. This is below the general rate of inflation and reflects the commitment that these institutions have made to keeping higher education affordable for all students.

Moreover, historically, tuition has not increased at a faster rate when federal aid has increased significantly.

We are concerned that some institutions might raise tuition and fees so that they can garner additional revenues. We will carefully monitor the tuition and fees charged by colleges and universities as the tax credits are implemented and will work to actively encourage institutions to keep tuition and fee increases to a minimum.

New Welfare Law and Community Colleges

Question: In the past, welfare recipients often went to community college to prepare themselves for the workforce. What is the impact of the new law's work requirements on these individuals? Doesn't the law force them to drop out of college to work?

Answer: The welfare reform law that President Clinton signed last year emphasizes work and personal responsibility. Under the new TANF program, people on welfare can combine required work activities with additional education.

Although it is not easy to raise children, work in a job, and go to school at the same time, many Americans do so each year. Most undergraduate students, whether or not they are raising a child, work while attending college.

The Administration has clarified that it will recognize work performed in the federal Work Study as counting toward the law's work participation requirements, provided the required number of hours of work are performed. We are also encouraging colleges to work with state and local officials to explore other ways to accommodate college attendance with the requirements of welfare reform. Under the TANF program, states have the authority to use an array of services and activities, including education and training, to prepare welfare recipients for work and self-sufficiency.
