TEXT:

By my count, there are currently five types of tobacco farmer approaches floating around: tobacco companies promise to buy for 25 years; a legislative buy-out of quotas; a legislative guarantee not to alter the existing program; a legislative subsidy to encourage the growing of alternative crops; and a commission inside USDA. We seemed to favor the first. Lugar has suggested the second. Some farmer representatives have recommended the third. Anti-smoking groups and some farmers the fourth. Others the fifth.

Absent our involvement, there is some reason to believe that the farmer state representatives may coalesce around a proposal that has a legislative guarantee with a legislative buy-out option. This might be fine (although costly) but it would be inconsistent with the companies promising to buy for 25 years. I'll ask OMB to cost the Lugar option out ($8 a pound).

In any case, the high level of interest in this topic suggests some position will start to form soon if they sense a vacuum. I suggest we have our meeting with legislators soon to make sure we stay a part of it and don't get caught on the wrong side of a proposal we don't agree with but which has already gotten substantial backing.

The choices regarding the meeting I see are:

- * Who hosts? (POTUS, VPOTUS, Bruce/Donna)
- *Who comes? (Legislators, or legislators plus farmer leaders, or possibly adding some Governors to the mix)
- *What's said? I think if we do the meeting relatively soon, we can still be soliciting input and discussing process (staying in touch), and hearing about options.

Any thoughts on these questions?

Regards, Tom

Subject: Higher ed reauthorization and our service summit proposal

There is a sticky issue on implementing one of our service summit proposals. This is the proposal that interest should not accumulate on any student loans when students take time off to serve. Our plan has always been to include this in our higher ed reauthorization bill, which is being readied for transmittal to the Hill in the next few weeks.

The issue is that the Department's draft would not permit this subsidy if the service is with an organization engaged in religious activities, with certain exceptions. Education is taking the position that doing otherwise raises constitutional questions. This means that a group like the Rev. Tony Campolo's would not qualify. As you recall, Campolo's program was the inspiration for this idea, and the President talked about Campolo when he announced this (see below).

Elena, do you want to review the language to make sure they aren't going overboard? They are reexamining it after I pointed out a few areas where it seems excessively strict. For example, it would rule out teaching English in a program that offered any religious instruction, even if the student was not doing religious instruction. However, I should note that Campolo's people do proselytization for part of their day, so they're not right on the edge of this line.

When we resolve this, we can tell him in the weekly report. Let me know if you want this in the weekly while we're figuring it out.

[FYI, here's what the President said at the summit. Actually, he deviated from the prepared text in a way that made it sound like this new proposal applied ONLY to religious service.]

"For here in Philadelphia, a minister who is a friend of mine, Reverend Tony Campolo, is helping to organize a movement among churches to get churches to sponsor 10,000 full-time youth volunteers to take a year off from college, or defer a year from college, under the sponsorship of their churches. The churches will do what we do in AmeriCorps, helping to provide for the living expenses of the young people. But I think we ought to say to them, at the very least, it shouldn't cost you any money to serve. And so if you've got a college loan, and you take a year off to serve under the sponsorship of a religious organization, I am going to propose legislation to say, 'During that year, no interest should accrue on that college loan.' It should not cost you any money to serve your country."

1. VPOTUS is doing a welfare to work event today in 450 with Glickman, Shalala and USAID, Duffy.

2. The main focus of the meeting was a discussion on Senator Murray's conversation with the White House over a proposed amendment (domestic violence) to the Labor/HHS Appropriations bill. Audrey and Robin you may want to have a conversation with both Cynthia Rice and Elena. NOWLDF did call Elena yesterday. HHS and DPC were going to regroup this morning to discuss what we're doing.

I thought it might be helpful for you all to know how we handled the Mayors' Drug Summit at the White House in the spring. It may inform your decision on how to handle the mayor's request for a White House Conference on Public Education.

The conference was divided into two days. Participants included the mayors and they were asked to bring their police chiefs and prosecutors as well. The first day, the US Conference of Mayors met at a hotel in town, with a full agenda that included presentations by several members of the cabinet. The goal was to work toward a national drug strategy document that could be presented to the President the next day. Obviously, we worked very closely with USCM on the draft presented to the mayors and subsequent changes made to the draft throughout the day. On day two, the mayors, chiefs, and prosecutors were invited to the White House for breakfast and an informal conversation with POTUS. After an opening program (POTUS, VPOTUS, Mayor Daley, and McAffrey) and breakfast, Daley moderated, and the POTUS asked questions of the participants and responded to questions. Daley presented the POTUS with their drug control strategy. It was a very successful event.

Press plan was pool at the top (where the mayors drug policy document was presented), closed for the discussion, a stakeout, and lots of preplanned regional press for the mayors.

Your goal for education may be different. However, this allowed us to invite only the mayors, chiefs, and prosecutors and not other locals, govts, members, advocates, etc. It was their conference, but we helped shape the agenda. We got great press, and it took 90 minutes of POTUS time.

Attached, for your review, is a brief draft Q&A on the Supreme Court's request for the Administration's views on a pending case under the IDEA. Mike, Diana, and Rob Weiner all have reviewed and ok'd, and Rob also got sign-off from DOJ. At this point, it is probably less than likely that we will get a Q on this, but I'd like to get something to the press office just in case.

The AP story on this is below, as well.

SCourt asks administration opinion on nurses for disabled students

WASHINGTON (AP) The Supreme Court today asked the Clinton administration whether it thinks public school districts must pay for nurses to accompany some disabled students throughout the school day.

The court wants to hear Justice Department lawyers' view of rulings that require a Cedar Rapids, Iowa, school district to pay for the nursing services needed by a teen-age boy identified in court papers as Garret F.

The justices are not expected to say whether they will grant full review to the Iowa case until hearing from the government lawyers, which could take months.

At issue is the scope of the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act. The law provides that all children with disabilities receive a "free appropriate public education."

Under the law, public schools are required to provide various "special education and related services." But an exception is made for medical services.

Garret, injured in a motorcycle accident at age 4, is a quadriplegic and ventilator dependent. His mental abilities were unaffected, and he is now in the ninth grade.

During the school day, he requires a personal attendant to see to his health-care needs. Through most of his schooling, a licensed practical nurse has served as that attendant.

In 1993, Garret's mother asked the school district to pick up the costs of providing an attendant for Garret.

She said such costs are to be free "related services" provided under the federal law. But school officials said one-on-one nursing services are medical, not educational, and do not have to be provided at taxpayer expense.

A federal trial judge and the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled for Garret and against the school district.

The appeals court relied heavily on a 1984 Supreme Court ruling that said public school officials had to pay for and provide a special procedure for a child disabled by spina bifida and unable to urinate by herself.

Such services, the high court said then, ``are no less related to the effort to educate than are services that enable the child to reach, enter or exit the school.''

But that 1984 opinion added: ``It bears mentioning that not even the services of a nurse are required.''

In the appeal acted on today, lawyers for the Cedar Rapids school officials noted that three other federal appeals courts have ruled that schools don't have to pay for continuous services provided by licensed nurses.

The case is Cedar Rapids Community School District vs. Garret F., 96-1793.

Supreme Court Case on Nursing Services for Students with Disabilities

Q: Monday, the Supreme Court asked for the Administration's views on a case involving the provision of nursing services to a child with disabilities in a public school. Has the Administration been involved in this case and what advice will the Administration give the Court?

A: This case (Cedar Rapids Community School District v. Garrett F.) raises the question whether the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), which guarantees a free appropriate public education to all children with disabilities, requires a school district to provide continuous nursing services to a child with significant disabilities, where those services are needed to enable the child to attend school. The IDEA requires school districts to provide supportive services to assist children with disabilities to benefit from special education. The Administration has not been involved in this case. The Department of Justice will consult with the Department of Education, which administers the IDEA, in preparing a response to the Court's request.

TEXT:

The White House Conference on Hate Crimes Working Group will have its regular weekly meeting this Thursday, October 9th at 2pm, room 472 OEOP.

President Clinton: Supporting Law Enforcement, Saving Lives October 9, 1997

- At today's "Top Cop" event to honor 18 outstanding law enforcement officials for their heroism and exemplary service, President Clinton announced two initiatives strongly supported by law enforcement:
 - 1) Child Safety Locks. Embracing the President's proposal, 9 major gun manufacturers announced their support for providing child safety locks with every handgun sold; and
 - 2) College Scholarships. Building on a legislation he signed at last year's "Top Cop" event, the President announced his support for a bill -- proposed by the National Association of Police Organizations (NAPO) -- to make college scholarships available to the children of slain state and local public safety officers.
- The Need for Child Safety Locks. A recent study by the Police Foundation estimated that Americans keep almost 31 million firearms loaded and unlocked in their homes. Other studies estimate that easy access to these weapons result in 1,500 children (ages 14 and under) being treated in hospital emergency rooms every year for unintentional firearms-related injuries. Child safety locks are a cheap and effective solution to this problem.
- President Clinton: Leading by Example. By including child safety locks in his Anti-Gang and Youth Violence Strategy, the President initiated a national debate on this issue. He proposed legislation to require federal gun dealers to provide these safety devices with every gun sold, and directed all federal agencies to provide them with all firearms issued to federal law enforcement officers. By October 15th, all federal law enforcement officers will have been issued child safety locks.
- Firearms Industry: Following the President's Lead. At today's event, 9 major gun manufacturers -- Glock, Beretta, Taurus, H&R, Heckler & Koch, Smith and Wesson, Mossberg & Sons, SigArms and the Eddie Mahie Co. -- and the American Sport Shooting Council announced their support for providing child safety locks with all of their handguns.
- Honoring Law Enforcement. Last year, President Clinton signed legislation to provide college scholarships of up to $4,848 per year for the children of slain federal law enforcement officers. "Top Cops" Awards Event
Questions and Answers
October 9, 1997

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

Q. What did the President announce today?

A. At an event to honor the 18 recipients of the National Association of Police Organizations (NAPO) "Top Cop" award, the President made two announcements strongly supported by law enforcement:

- Expanding Child Safety Locks. Following the President's lead on the use of child safety locks for handguns, eight major gun manufacturers announced that they would provide child safety devices with all of their handguns sold; and
- Scholarships for Children of Slain Officers. Building on legislation he signed a year ago, the President announced his support for a bill just proposed by the National Association of Police Organizations (NAPO) to make educational benefits available for the children of state and local law enforcement officers killed in the line of duty.

Q. What is the "Top Cop" award?

A. The "Top Cop" awards are given by NAPO and pay tribute to law enforcement officers from across the country for outstanding service to their communities during the preceding year. This year, 18 exceptional law enforcement officers will receive the award for their heroism and devotion to duty and service in their communities.

Child Safety Devices

Q. Who are the manufacturers announcing that they will begin providing child safety devices with their handguns?

A. Following the President's leadership on child safety locks, 8 major handgun manufacturers announced their support to provide them with their handguns: Glock, Beretta, Taurus, H&R, Heckler & Koch, Smith and Wesson, Mossberg & Sons, and SigArms. These manufacturers estimate that they represent about 80% of all of the handguns manufactured in the United States.

Also, it should be mentioned, that Smith and Wesson was the first of these companies to support child safety locks. In August, they announced a partnership with the Master Lock Company that would result in child safety locks being provided with all of their handguns sold for commercial use.

Q. What has the President done in the past to support the use of child safety locks?

A. By including a provision to require the sale of child safety locks in his Anti-Gang and Youth Violence Act last February, President Clinton helped initiate a national debate on this issue. The President's legislation would require federally-licensed gun dealers to provide child safety locking devices with every gun sold. Moreover, in March, the President directed all federal agencies to provide safety locks with all handguns issued to federal law enforcement officers. By October 15th, all federal law enforcement officers will have been issued a child safety lock for their handgun.

Q. Will these safety devices actually prevent anything?

A. A recent study by the Justice Department estimated that over one-third of all privately-owned handguns (22 million) are kept loaded and unlocked in our country. Other studies estimate that easy access to these weapons results in 1,500 child (ages 14 and under) being treated in hospital emergency rooms every year for unintentional firearms-related injuries. Child safety devices are an inexpensive and effective solution to this problem. In fact, a 1991 GAO study estimated that child safety locks could have prevented all accidental gun deaths involving children under the age of 6 that were included in the study.

College Scholarships for Children of Slain Officers

Q. Aren't these benefits already available to children of slain officers?

A. One year ago, President Clinton signed into law the Federal Law Enforcement Dependents Assistance Act of 1996 -- commonly referred to as the "Degan Bill." This Act provides funds to assist in the college education of children of federal law enforcement officers killed in the line of duty. Specifically, it provides for up to $4,848 per year towards the cost of a full-time higher education.

- Q. How many people have received educational benefits under the Degan program since it was created last year?
- A. To date, 52 families have been determined to be eligible for the program, and several of these have applied for and/or received the first scholarships. The Justice Department will continue to conduct outreach to the families of slain officers and inform them of the availability of this educational assistance.
- Q. How much will expanding the educational benefits to all these new people cost?
- A. The Justice Department estimates the first-year cost of this program to be about $780,000.
- Q. Has legislation been proposed to expand Degan? Who supports this?
- A. NAPO supports and is proposing such legislation today. The proposed expansion would add state, county and local public safety officers to the list of those eligible for this educational assistance. This new definition would include fire and rescue personnel as well.
- Q. How many law enforcement officers were killed in the line of duty last year?
- A. In 1996, 116 federal, state and local law enforcement officers were killed in the line of duty, a dramatic 30% decline over 1995. This is the fewest number of police officer fatalities in over 35 years.

President Clinton: Supporting Law Enforcement, Saving Lives October 9, 1997

- At today's "Top Cop" event to honor 18 outstanding law enforcement officials for their heroism and exemplary service, President Clinton announced two initiatives strongly supported by law enforcement:
 - 1) Child Safety Locks. Embracing the President's proposal, 8 major gun manufacturers announced that they would provide child safety devices with every handgun sold; and
 - 2) College Scholarships. Building on legislation he signed one year ago, the President announced his support for a bill -- proposed by the National Association of Police Organizations (NAPO) -- to make college scholarships available to the children of slain state and local public safety officers.
- The Need for Child Safety Locks. A recent study by the Justice Department estimates that over one-third of all privately owned handguns-- 22 million-- are kept loaded and unlocked in our country. Other studies estimate that easy access to these weapons results in 1,500 children (ages 14 and under) being treated in hospital emergency rooms every year for unintentional firearms-related injuries. Child safety devices are an inexpensive and effective solution to this problem.
- President Clinton: Leading by Example. By including child safety locks in his Anti-Gang and Youth Violence Strategy, the President initiated a national debate on this issue. He proposed legislation to require federal gun dealers to provide these safety devices with every gun sold, and he directed all federal agencies to provide them with all handguns issued to federal law enforcement officers. By October 15th, all federal law enforcement officers will have been issued child safety locks.
- Firearms Industry: Following the President's Lead. Eight major gun manufacturers -- Glock, Beretta, Taurus, H&R, Heckler & Koch, Smith and Wesson, Mossberg & Sons, and SigArms announced that they would provide child safety devices with all of their handguns.
- Honoring Law Enforcement. Last year, President Clinton signed legislation to provide college scholarships of up to $4,848 per year for the children of slain federal law enforcement officers. Today, the President announced his support for NAPO's proposal to expand this benefit to include the children of state and local public safety officers who are killed in the line of duty.
