Domestic Partners

Look for the White House to quietly oppose a bill by Rep. Barney Frank (D-Mass.) to extend federal health and retirement benefits to the unmarried domestic partners of federal workers and retirees. Officials say money is the reason Uncle Sam will object to providing coverage to live-in, unmarried couples, straight or gay. The issue:

Federal workers contribute to their retirement plans. But the amounts don't begin to cover the costs of paying retirees and survivors lifetime benefits that are indexed to inflation. Also, Uncle Sam (meaning taxpayers) pays 72 percent of the total health premium of workers and retirees.

Extending those benefits to a larger group would be costly to both systems.

TEXT:

As I mentioned in the meeting this morning, McCaffrey has told Stephen Silverman that he would prefer to do the Drug Policy meeting in December, instead of November 12.

Stacie, Stephen and I talked after the meeting, though, and learned that McCaffrey was not aware of the interest in doing this meeting before Zedillo. Stephen is going to go back to McCaffrey to see if it is possible to do the meeting in November and Communications is calling a message meeting for tomorrow afternoon to resolve this matter.

Susan Carr is sending a draft civil rights cross-cut to you and Michael Deich this afternoon. She is putting a place holder in for our across the board enforcement provision. I tentatively asked for a $100 million special fund to do the new things (mediation, technology, compliance) we discussed. Other than that, we could add $84 million to the total if we just gave the lead agencies what they asked for. Susan's draft is recommending $39 million of what the agencies asked for. The total budget of the agencies is $574 (the biggest being EEOC at $240 million FY'98 enacted). The agencies have been slow getting back to us, but OMB wants to sit down with Raines middle of next week so we need to have a justifiable figure soon...

Elena -- Just to keep you updated

Attached is the one-pager that Richard drafted that we would like to give to the press people today. Let us know what changes or edits you have. Also after you have reviewed this document, we would like to put this up on the White House website.

2. Accomplishments document. Neera Tanden is drafting the accomplishments document, which she will have for us tomorrow. We would like to give the accomplishments document to the press people by COB tomorrow, Tuesday, November 4,

3. Pre-Briefing memorandum for the President. We are meeting with DOJ and Education today at 6:30 p.m. to finalize what the deliverables for the Conference will be. Please come to the meeting if you would like. In any event, once we have solidified what initiatives are ready for announcement and in what form, I will have the pre-brief memo to you by tomorrow afternoon so that we can give it to the Staff Secretary tomorrow night, Tuesday, November 4.

Michael Deich has requested to see a copy of this memo, so that he can review the policy announcements portion of the memo.

4. President's Panel. We thought that, in addition to the other seven people you have seen for the President's panel discussion, we needed a local prosecutor. We thought we might add Dick Devine from the Cook County State Attorney's Office in Chicago. This would make 8 people for the panel. What do you think?

5. Briefing Book. We will have the briefing book to you by Wednesday evening. It needs to be reviewed by Thursday afternoon at the latest, because there is printing involved. The Cabinet Secretaries will be briefed on Friday.

Let me know if you need anything else. Mary

DRAFT

THE CLINTON/GORE ADMINISTRATION: GETTING TOUGH ON HATE CRIMES

President to Announce Significant New Law Enforcement and Prevention Initiatives

“Hate crimes ... leave deep scars not only on the victims, but on our larger community. They weaken the sense that we are one people with common values and a common future. They tear us apart when we should be moving closer together. They are acts of violence against America itself. And even a small number of Americans who harbor and act upon hatred and intolerance can do enormous damage to our efforts to bind together our increasingly diverse society into one nation realizing its full promise.”

“As part of our preparation for the new century, it is time for us to mount an all-out assault on hate crimes, to punish them swiftly and severely, and to do more to prevent them from happening in the first place. We must begin with a deeper understanding of the problem itself.”

President Clinton, Radio Address to the Nation, June 7, 1997

THE WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE ON HATE CRIMES
November 10, 1997

On November 10, 1997, the President will convene the first ever White House Conference on Hate Crimes, a day long event to be held at The George Washington University. At the Conference, the President will announce significant law enforcement and prevention initiatives which the Administration will be taking to get tough on hate crimes and hate crime perpetrators. The Conference will also examine the positive actions some communities are already taking and which we all can take to do more to prevent hate crimes from happening in the first place and to make certain they are treated seriously when they do occur.

A hate crime is the embodiment of intolerance -- an act of violence against a person or property. Perpetrators of hate crimes pick their targets for no reason other than a victim's race, color, gender, national origin, religion, sexual orientation or disability (although various federal, state and local laws define hate crimes somewhat differently). The crime is a manifestation of the perpetrator's hate.

Every year, tens of thousands of Americans are victims of hate crimes -- and it is suspected that many more go unreported. Teenagers and young adults account for a significant proportion of the country's hate crimes -- both as perpetrators and victims. Each one of these crimes tears at the fabric of our communities and our democratic society, creating fear and inter-group tensions, ultimately affecting all of us.

The Conference is an important element of the President's Initiative on Race, although it will also examine hate crimes motivated by characteristics other than race.

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

CONFERENCE PARTICIPANTS:

The President, Vice President, Attorney General and Secretary of Education will be joined by other members of the Cabinet, selected state and local officials and approximately 350 leaders from the law enforcement, civil rights, anti-violence, youth, education and religious communities.

Hate crimes survivors will also attend. Participants will include representatives from all 50 states. Thousands more will participate at satellite-linked events across the country. Members of the President's Advisory Board on Race will participate at various satellite locations.

CONFERENCE SCHEDULE:

The President will host a breakfast for Conference participants at the White House and then will officially open the Conference at George Washington University with a major policy address. After his remarks, the President will chair a panel discussion in which the Vice President, the Attorney General, the Secretary of Education and seven other distinguished Americans will join.

In the afternoon, Members of the Cabinet and other senior Administration officials will chair ten separate, concurrent working sessions which will examine various aspects of the issue. Thereafter, the Attorney General will make remarks at a closing plenary session and she will chair a closing panel during which ideas and themes from the ten working sessions will be explored. Participants will then attend a closing reception at the United States Holocaust Museum.

CONFERENCE LOCATION; OTHER DETAILS:

The Conference will be held at the Cloyd Heck Marvin Center at the George Washington University, 800 21st Street, NW, Washington, DC. It is by invitation only and invitations are non-transferable. The President's remarks will begin at approximately 11:30am (Eastern Standard Time) and will be followed by the panel discussion he will chair. The closing panel and remarks by the Attorney General will commence at approximately 4:15pm. The event is open press, except for the working sessions beginning at 2:30pm, which are closed press. Press inquires should be directed to (202) 456-7150.
