DRAFT

November 3, 1997

Newt Gingrich
Speaker of the House
U.S. House of Representatives
Washington, D.C.

Dear Newt:

Earlier this year, I transmitted to Congress legislation designed to promote fair and equitable treatment for individuals with pending immigration cases, including those who fled persecution and civil war in Central America and received protection in the United States. My Administration's legislation also aimed to assist the fledgling democracies of Central America which cannot easily absorb their nationals at this time.

I am very pleased that legislation currently under consideration in Congress makes substantial progress toward these objectives. I am deeply concerned, however, that this legislation, unlike my original proposal, inappropriately distinguishes among nationals from different countries, including those from Central America. Moreover, the legislation as contemplated requires continued retroactive application of certain provisions in the 1996 immigration law, and does not allow for an adequate transition to the law's new rules.

In addition, I strongly urge the Congress to provide similar treatment to Haitians as to Central Americans. In recent weeks, Members of Congress and representatives of the Haitian community have highlighted the compelling plight of thousands of Haitians in the United States. Their experiences parallel those of Central Americans in many ways. Most of these Haitians fled the persecution and civil strife that followed the military overthrow of President Aristide's government in September 1991. The Bush Administration brought them to the United States in 1991-93 after it found them to have a credible fear of persecution in Haiti. These Haitians have made vital contributions to their communities and established deep roots in the United States. Providing them with an opportunity to gain permanent status in the U.S. is not only equitable, but also critical to helping Haiti establish a strong and lasting democracy -- a goal to which the United States continues to devote substantial energy and resources.

I hope that you will move quickly to correct these problems in the legislation under consideration and act on it before before the Congress adjourns.

Work Penalties Structure

Assume a state with a block grant of $100 million with a $5 million or 5 percent top penalty for missing the work participation rate, 95% of caseload in single parent families and 5% in two parent families, an overall participation rate of 30 percent, and a two parent rate of 75 percent.

	OVERALL PARTICIPATION RATE		TWO PARENT PARTICIPATION RATE
	HHS Revised Proposal	Possible Counteroffer	HHS Revised Proposal	Possible Counteroffer
Step #1: Establish Penalty based on Degree of Non-Compliance
Example A: If state did not achieve 90% of the work participation rate (e.g. participation rate was lower than 27% for overall caseload and 67.5% for two parent):	The penalty is $4.5 million. [The smaller of $4.5 million or $4.75 million, i.e., the smaller of ($5 million x .9) or ($5 million x .95, the percent of caseload that is non-two parent families)]	The penalty is $5 million. ¹ [Full penalty imposed if state falls below 90% threshold].	The penalty is $.5 million [The larger of $.5 million or $.25 million, i.e. the larger of ($5 million x .1) or ($5 million times .05, the percent of caseload that are two parent families)]	The penalty is $.25 million [Equal to $5 million times .05, the percent of the caseload that are two parent families.] ²
Example B: If state achieved 95% of the work participation rate (e.g. 28.5% for overall and 71.25% for two parent):	The penalty is $2.25 million. [The maximum penalty -- in this case $4.5 million -- is reduced in half because state achieved half the difference between the required rate and the threshold.]	The penalty is $2.5 million. [The maximum penalty -- in this case $5 million -- is reduced in half because state achieved half the difference between the required rate and the threshold.]	The penalty is $.25 million. [The maximum penalty -- in this case $.5 million -- is reduced in half because state achieved half the difference between the required rate and the threshold.]	The penalty is $.125 million. [The maximum penalty -- in this case $.25 million -- is reduced in half because state achieved half the difference between the required rate and the threshold.]
Step #2: Consider Reasonable Cause

¹ If state fails overall and two parent rate, the maximum total penalty shall be $5 million.

² HHS argues that although this option is simpler and, one could argue, fairer to states with very small two parent caseloads, their minimum 10 percent penalty would be better because it would a) signal that we're serious about two parent work rates, and b) not discourage states from adopting pro-family welfare policies which increase the number of two parent families on the rolls.

	OVERALL PARTICIPATION RATE		TWO PARENT PARTICIPATION RATE
	HHS Revised Proposal	Possible Counteroffer	HHS Revised Proposal	Possible Counteroffer
The Secretary may waive the penalty if she determines the state had reasonable cause, defined in the regulation as:	Failing because of: 1) Granting of good cause domestic violence waivers; 2) Natural disasters; 3) Formally issued federal guidance that was incorrect 4) "Isolated, non-recurring problems on minimal impact that are not indicative of a systemic problem" 5) Due to provision of assistance to refugees in a federally-approved alternative project.	Same	Same	Same
Step #3: Enter into Corrective Compliance Plan
A state may accept the penalty or file within two months a corrective compliance plan. The state shall not be penalized while under the plan, which may last no longer than six months. Such plans must include:	1) A complete analysis of why the state did not meet the requirements; 2) A detailed description of how the state will correct or discontinue, as appropriate, the violation in a timely manner; 3) The milestones, including interim process and outcome goals, the State will achieve to assure it comes into compliance within the specified time period; 4) A certification by the Governor that the state is committed to correcting or discontinuing the violation in accordance with the plan.	Same	Same	Same
Step #4: After Corrective Compliance Plan, Secretary Can Reduce Penalty

	OVERALL PARTICIPATION RATE		TWO PARENT PARTICIPATION RATE
	HHS Revised Proposal	Possible Counteroffer	HHS Revised Proposal	Possible Counteroffer
To receive a reduced penalty, the state must have:	1) Had a natural disaster or regional recession, to which failure was attributable;	Same.	Same.	Same.
	2) Made substantial progress towards correcting or discontinuing the violation	Option 2a): A state shall have its penalty reduced by the percentage by which it increased its participation rate (e.g., a state that increased its participation rate from 20 to 24 percent shall reduce its penalty by 20 percent (4/20)); Option 2b) A state shall have its penalty reduced by the percentage that it reduced the gap between its participation rate before the plan and the required rate (e.g., a state that increased the overall rate from 20 to 24 percent shall reduce its penalty by 40 percent (4/10)); Option 2c): A state that increased its participation rate by 25 percent or more shall have its penalty reduced at the discretion of the Secretary. Option 2d) A state that did not achieve 90 percent of the participation rate shall receive the full penalty. A state that achieved 90 percent of the participation rate shall have its penalty reduced at the discretion of the Secretary.	2) Made substantial progress towards correcting or discontinuing the violation.	Option 2a): A state shall have its penalty reduced by the percentage by which it increased its participation rate (e.g., a state that increased its participation rate from 20 to 24 percent shall reduce its penalty by 20 percent (4/20)); Option 2b) A state shall have its penalty reduced by the percentage that it reduced the gap between its participation rate before the plan and the required rate (e.g., a state that increased the overall rate from 20 to 24 percent shall reduce its penalty by 40 percent (4/10)); Option 2c): A state that increased its participation rate by 25 percent or more shall have its penalty reduced at the discretion of the Secretary. Option 2d) A state that did not achieve 90 percent of the participation rate shall receive the full penalty. A state that achieved 90 percent of the participation rate shall have its penalty reduced at the discretion of the Secretary.

As most of you heard at today's meeting, we are trying to come up with a new name for Race Initiative "At the Table" sessions. Some proposals are:

One America: Bringing It Home

Bridging Divides: President Clinton's Conversations on Race

In the Conversation: American Voices on Race

Voices on Race

One America: Conversations that Bring us Together

We would welcome your creative ideas. Also, attached is a memo about the "At the Table" proposal in case you want to know more. We would welcome comments on it, as well.

MEMORANDUM FOR JUDY WINSTON AND SYLVIA MATHEWS

FROM: Michele Cavataio for the Cabinet Affairs Working Group

SUBJECT: Race Initiative "At the Table" Update

This memo summarizes our proposal for an At the Table-type initiative for the President's Initiative on Race (PIR). While this proposal is a work-in-progress, this memo outlines the development of the proposal to date: its goals, objectives, title, resources, press strategy, participants, audience, and kick-off strategy. We would like to have your approval to move forward. The Working Group has met three times and involved former staff from the White House Women's Office who developed the original concept. Our goal is to send out the first round of Administration appointees over the Thanksgiving holiday.

There are 8 issues where we would welcome your suggestions:

1. Goals. The objectives of this effort are to:

- Hear about the issues that are important to the American people in their communities
- Inform the American people of the Race Initiative. (We will give out documents which highlight PIR and Administration activities and accomplishments on this issue to participants.)
- Activate the Administration's appointees in the PIR effort and better utilize them as the eyes and ears of the Administration. (They put a human face on the PIR, the Federal government, and this Administration that provides every roundtable participant with a unique and personal contact with those entities.)
- Bring information back to the Administration
- Identify community efforts and community leaders to support the PIR

2. Name of event. The Women's Office is going to restart their At the Table effort so they have asked that we distinguish it from the PIR effort. We have come up with the following suggestions for a new name which we will share with the WH and PIR communications staff for their input:

- One America: Bringing It Home
- Bridging Divides: President Clinton's Conversations on Race

- In the Conversation: American Voices on Race
 - Voices on Race
 - One America: Conversations that Bring us Together
3. Attendance. As of June 20, 1996, the Women's Office organized approximately 800 At the Tables, averaging 10-30 women in more than 40 states. We have not calculated a participant goal, but believe that the PIR roundtables could be larger due to the larger scope of the PIR. The PIR would seek at least as many roundtables with the same average number of participants. In general, roundtables will vary. For example, someone like Secretary Herman could handle a larger roundtable (30-100) in which elected officials (e.g., local officials, Senators) and others are invited. A Schedule C, on the other hand, would most likely have a smaller roundtable (e.g., 10) in a home. Among other variables, these roundtables will make a special effort to focus on youth. We could, for example, encourage appointees to return to their colleges and high schools to conduct the roundtables. The roundtables will also be non-partisan -- Independents, Republicans, Democrats and others will be encouraged to participate.

We discussed the issue of ensuring diversity among participants in each roundtable. While we felt that diverse participation was an advantage in the roundtables, we felt that we should still encourage participation with non-diverse groups because many neighborhoods and towns lack diversity. We agreed that we would encourage diversity but permit the appointees to assemble the people that are available to them.

4. Appointees to participate in the first round. The goal for attendance is to seek as many appointees as possible to participate in one or more of these sessions. We believe that the kick off over Thanksgiving could be a test effort using some of the more experienced appointees. We are planning to invite the Federal Agency liaisons to the PIR, surrogate speakers (appointees) who have been identified by Cabinet Agencies, and a few Cabinet members to participate in the first round. We would also like to have the President and Vice President commit to participating in roundtables as part of the kick off announcement. (In fact, the President has already done some sessions if you include the meeting with white ethnic groups and the coming meeting with black farmers.) We would like to enlist 50-100 senior appointees for the first round. We would ask them to assemble their own roundtables, but we would help support them by providing contacts and other resources. The second round, which would take place over the Christmas and Hanukkah holiday, could include more SubCabinet and Schedule C's. The roundtables will continue after the holidays, but we believe the holidays will provide an opportunity for a big initial push that will generate significant interest and press.

5. Materials, training, and feedback report. The Women's Office put together a packet for At the Tables, which provided appointees a tool for setting them up, holding them and reporting back to the Women's Office. We believe that the Race Initiative can adopt all of the materials that the Women's Office used with some edits and additions. The main piece that is missing is a document which gives some guidance on how to get the conversation started and includes help on setting ground rules and managing conflict. Given the emotional nature of race issues, we believe that it is important to provide information which helps ensure the smoothest session possible. Included in the materials will be a form for appointees to report their findings, identify leaders and describe community efforts.

These reports will be collected and synthesized into on-going reports to the President and could be included in the President's Report to the American People.

We plan to provide all materials for review and obtain approval for our effort from the Counsel's Office. In addition to providing materials, we would like to invite the appointees for a briefing / training to prepare for their roundtables.

6. Questions to pose at the roundtables. The Working Group has made some effort to identify suggested questions for use at the roundtables. After careful consideration, we believe that rather than have a full-fledged, interactive dialogue on race, the mission of the sessions should be to bring back information to the President about what Americans care about and want him to do about race issues.

Thus, we believe that the dialogue should be directed by a general question which elicits responses from participants about their own communities and experiences but does not try to direct the conversation to a specific race issue or area. One possibility is:

When was the last time that issues around race relations affected you or your community? Are you aware of any positive efforts in your community to address these issues? What do you want the President's Race Initiative to know and to focus attention on?

Given the potential volatility of discussing race issues, an open question such as

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

this may take the conversation in many directions. However, the advantage of this sort of question is that when a dialogue becomes heated, the moderator can keep returning to the mission which is to bring back information and advice to the President.

7. Press Strategy. The press that this project is able to generate is of great value as we believe that it will inform many people of the existence of the PIR. The Women's Office received a commitment from Family Circle, which has a readership of 26 million, to do a feature piece on the At the Table concept. The PIR, which again has a broader scope, could receive significant press coverage with the right planning. We will work with WH, PIR and agency communications offices to maximize the coverage, but we will need assistance to ensure appropriate coverage of events.
8. Resources. At the Tables were a major project undertaken by the Women's Office which had a very limited staff. We understand that they had one person dedicated to the project full-time with other staff providing significant help at certain intervals (e.g, recruiting appointees through brown bag lunches at agencies, reviewing the incoming reports, writing reports.) We will probably need to dedicate one person full-time for the near-term and receive significant support from several offices.

TEXT:

Gomperts says that none of our options for packaging the Points of Light awards would persuade Bush to support AmeriCorps reauthorization in a trade before Thursday. He says that Bush has been slowly becoming more supportive of AmeriCorps, and a continuing lovefest might persuade him to do something in the future, but that it wouldn't work to approach them for a trade at this point. He also notes that the Bush people are annoyed that it has taken us so long to agree to this.

So I assume this answer implies that we should stick with Option 3. Phil, let us know how you want us to get this answer to the President.

By the way, Harris wants Erskine to call Bush to tell him this. Bibb, we need to do talking points for him.
