Maria spoke with Wade H. She said he sounded fine, although he would like to see where the $'s are allocated and is interested in non-monetary problems like EEOC structure. She still thinks sitting down early next year and confidentially sharing our plans makes sense.

describing the 151 children case study that SSA will release the same day as their report. It shows the diagnoses of kids cut off -- overwhelmingly mental disorders other than mental retardation, such as ADHD, learning disabilities, conduct disorders, etc. I think it's probably too detailed to attach to the memo to the President, but it's interesting.

TEXT:

OMB has sent to HHS for comment three child support options, saying "a decision has been made to include the following items on a list of potential proposals for the FY 1999 budget."

All the options would convert child support enforcement funding into a block grant and require states to impose a $25 collection fee on non-custodial parents from non-welfare families (states could pass legislation to reduce or increase this fee).

Converting funding to a block grant may discourage state spending to collect support for families, since states will have to pay 100% of any "extra" costs. The fee collection position is a reversal for the Administration, which has apparently opposed such fees in the past, and would likely to be opposed by women's and other advocacy groups (who believe that since so many non-custodial parents don't pay the full amount owed, families will end up with $25 less per month in child support, since the fee will be deducted from the less-than-full-amount paid).

The options would also let states keep all the collections from welfare families and, as in current law, would distribute incentive funds based on performance.

Three Specific Options: Within this framework, OMB has proposed three options:

Option #1 would set the block grant at a level to save about $300 million, the amount that states would collect through the new $25 fees. In other words, since states would collect $300 million in fees, the federal government would reduce its contribution to the states by $300 million.

Option #2 would set the block grant at a level to save about $1.8 billion.

Option #3 would set the block grant at a level to save about $3.0 billion.

TEXT:

According to Peter Jacoby, he spoke with you this afternoon about tomorrow's NYT article re: Haitians and DED. I also was made aware of this late this afternoon. My understanding of the sequence of events is: Peter, John Morton (DOJ) and Scott spoke yesterday re: whether Holder would be attending the hearing in Miami. Morton said that Holder would not attend. Peter then suggested that Holder write a letter to Abraham, discussing the Department's recommendation re: DED. Abraham's office then indicated that they did not want a letter (b/c they did not want to get in on the internal debate within the Administration). Either late yesterday or this morning, DOJ decided that the AG should write a letter to the President recommending how he should do DED if he decided to do it. They thought of this as a vehicle for notifying people of the DOJ recommendation + where the Administration was leaning. I'm not sure when in all this it was decided that the Admin. was leaning toward DED (though maybe you and Peter discussed this earlier). Somehow, the NYT got a hold of the information about the AG's recommendation to do DED and decided to write a front page story that would include a discussion of the internal (both WH and DOJ) debate about which way to go.

Scott faxed me a revised copy of the letter from the AG to the President this afternoon around 5pm. The cover sheet referenced a conference call at 5:30. After not receiving a call, I called Scott at about 5:40, and heard all that had been going on.

The upshot of all of this is that the NYT is running an article in the morning stating that the President is considering (maybe even leaning towards) DED for the Guantanamo + long-time asylum seeking Haitians. According to Scott (who listened to the first five paragraphs over the phone), there is some discussion of internal stuff, but that it all sounded deliberative, not negative. Also, the DOJ is finalizing this "recommendation" letter from the AG to the President that speaks more generally of DED for long term asylum seekers and "parolees." This group would include both Guantanamo and a previously undisclosed 7000 "parolees" who came to this country illegally, were in proceedings, and then were taken out of proceedings and given an opportunity to apply for relief. The total number of Haitians in the class is about 41,000 (29,000 asylum seekers + 22,000 parolees - 10,000 overlap) , though it is unclear how many would have actually been eligible for deportation within the next year (thus how many would be effected by a DED). Also, NSC is drafting a memo to the President recommending DED + is drafting some q & as.

I will be in Fairfax tomorrow until about 5pm at the Advisory Board meeting. I told Scott I would call mid-day to try to keep on top of this, and that he could page me if something comes up.

Elena,

I am faxing a letter (from John Hope Franklin to the President) to you at 6-2878 tonight. In the letter Franklin makes recommendations to the President (p.2) regarding civil rights enforcement and data collection. The Race Initiative intends to make this letter public at tomorrow's (Wednesday's) advisory board meeting, and Sylvia wanted you to look at what Franklin proposes to be sure that you are okay with it. (By this, I think she means that we can be responsive to his concerns, even if we can't do exactly what he suggests). Please call me (6-1984) or send a note indicating whether you have any concerns about making this letter public, or anything contained within the substance of the letter.

Thanks.

Subject: NC5640: Message from Evan Wolfson re: Hawaii marriage

From: EWLLDEF@AOL.COM

(Evan Wolfson, Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund)

Hi, all --

I wanted to thank many of you for your help in getting a huge surge of prominent individuals to endorse the Marriage Resolution in the past few months. And I hope to jog you into one more push to get more signatures (and discussion) in the next ten days or so, before the holidays shut everything down for the rest of the year.

A select list of Marriage Resolution signatories so far is attached. Hard copies are available for circulation to others, as many as you can!

The National Freedom to Marry Coalition has designated this coming February 12 National Freedom to Marry Day, tapping into Valentine's Day and Lincoln's Birthday to send a message to the non-gay public about our fight for love and equality, the freedom to marry.

The plan is to use the weeks between now and then to collect as many signatories, engender as much public discussion, and shape public opinion as much as possible, building to that day (and D-Day, when we get the decision from the Hawaii Supreme Court). We hope to see activity on National Freedom to Marry Day in many communities across the country... and the outreach and organizing work building to that day in all fifty states.

Hope we can count on your help each week between now and then. If you are not sure just how to help, give me a buzz!

Thanks!

Please let me know by COB today if you would like to submit any requests for Presidential videos to be taped during the month of January.

Also, there will be a short term scheduling meeting tomorrow at 4pm. Please let me know if there are any events we are ready to propose. Keep in mind that January 8 and 9 the President will be in New York and McAllen, Texas and there are openings for message events in each city. Any ideas?

I would really liked to have known about the deportation exemption for Haitians before reading it in the NY Times. As you know, this is a Florida issue, and the Governor deserved a heads-up on this. His Chief of Staff was not very happy with me this morning. And I am a little concerned that he will find out that the groups knew and he did not. Chiles supports the action (he is on the record for the Meeks bill), but wants more info. I assume we would all agree that his public support of our action is helpful. Is there something I can send him? If not, Elena, can you call me and talk me through the policy? Thanks.

TEXT:

I attended the principals' meeting on Food Safety at USDA today. There were three basic topics: (1) reports from public meetings; (2) timing of the report to the President; and (3) meeting on the Hill scheduled for Monday.

1. Reports from public meetings. The comments in the 6 public meetings with the growers and the state health departments were pretty favorable. In fact, it was emphasized that not one of the growers was opposed to the development of the guidance in general. The comments were just that the timing seemed like it was happening very quickly; that the growers hoped that they could actively participate and that it would be a bottom-up process rather than a top-down process; and that, to the extent that we develop product-specific guidance, that they want to contribute to this process. It seems that the concern regarding the product-specific guidance is addressed adequately, at this initial stage in the process, in the draft report.

On the international front, there was a public meeting in Washington that staff of many of the embassies attended. The international community seems fine with it as well, but, again, they would like to participate and would like to conduct more research.

One other item that growers asked about was the President's position on country of origin labeling.

2. Report to the President. The report on the progress of the development of the Good Agricultural Practices (GAPs) and Good Manufacturing Practices (GMPs) is due to the President on January 2, 1997. I am sending you an outline of the report as well as a draft to the report. It looks like HHS, FDA, and USDA are on track to get this to the White House by January 2, 1997. However, there were some rumblings that because of holidays, etc., they might not be able to send over the final draft until January 3 or 4. I emphasized that they should keep on track for the January 2, and that is the plan now. The timing could be emphasized again in the Food Safety meeting you have scheduled for tomorrow at 5 p.m.

3. Hill Briefing. Some Senate staff want a briefing on the entire food safety initiative, including the legislation and the guidance. This meeting is scheduled for Monday, December 22 at 1 p.m. HHS, USDA, and FDA are sending people to the meeting.

Thanks, Mary,
