TEXT:

The following is a brief summary of our meeting with women leaders on the Child Care Initiative (CCI). Present at the meeting were 20 leaders from women's, religious, and children's organizations. The groups presented three major goals for the CCI:

1. Enhancing quality so that all children receive educationally sound, nurturing and safe care.
2. Expanding access to high quality , affordable early childhood programs for working parents.
3. Improving training and pay, so that providers are well qualified and financially able to pursue and remain in the child care profession.

A number of shared recommendations were voiced by participants including:

1. CCI must be a priority initiative with sufficient funding and resources attached to ensure it's success.
2. CCI must be supported by a budget commitment of at least 20 billion.
3. A mandatory funding stream and a mechanism that directs funding for improving safety, quality and affordability is required.
4. The link between the Welfare to Work and the CCI is critical because sustaining success at work depends on the availability of safe, quality and affordable child care for working poor parents.
5. Improve family friendly workplace policies like expanding Family and Medical Leave to cover workers of mid-size companies and employees who have not worked long enough with one employer to be eligible, and finding mechanisms for insurance type funding of paid family leave should be part of the CCI.
6. Increase funding for the Child Care and Development Block Grant so that states can serve low income families.
7. Improve the Dependent Care Tax Credit by making it refundable, adjusting the sliding fee scale to serve the neediest parents, and increasing the claim amount to reflect the real cost of care.
8. Strengthen the child care infrastructure which includes strong licensing standards and enforcement, training, resource and referral and adequate compensation for child care staff. Key infrastructure strategies suggestions include: sufficient staff to monitor and inspect programs, scholarships for caregivers pursuing a early childhood education degree, increased reimbursement for programs meeting high quality standards, and improved compensation and benefits to attract and retain qualified staff.
9. Provide tax credit for businesses who increase and improve child care opportunities for workers and communities.

In her recent letter to the President, Angela Oh suggested that we create something along the lines of an Indian Affairs Council, which is something that Pres. Johnson created. The President noted that he thought we should pursue this idea. In so doing, I have come to learn that by an Executive Order in 1994 an IWG on Native Americans and Native Alaskans was created, and that you all are currently reviewing the final draft of a report to Erskine or the President that summarizes the relevant activities of the agencies vis-a-vis the tribal nations.

In order to be responsive to Oh's suggestion and the President's interest, Sylvia asked me to find out what the status of your review is. My sense is that she is interested in seeing it completed as soon as practicable so that we may respond to Angela.

Do I understand everything correctly? Can you give me an update on where we are? Thanks.

TEXT:

Here is an update on HHS's tobacco and food safety budgets. I am concerned that these programs are in trouble and in need of your help to receive adequate funding in the President's FY99 budget.

Tobacco

For FY99, OMB is recommending a $30 million increase ($21M for CDC for state programs and $9M for FDA). HHS is currently requesting on appeal to OMB an increase of $120M over the FY98 level ($74M for CDC and $46M for FDA). FDA's increase will enable it to contract with all states to effectively enforce its tobacco rule. As you know, effective enforcement is essential to making access restrictions work. CDC will put $49M toward state programs, $20M toward counter advertising, and $5M toward surveillance and research. At this funding level, CDC will provide each state with $1 million on average, which is less than the $1.2 million average the 16 ASSIST states currently receive. Studies indicate states need about $10 million each to replicate the reductions in youth smoking that California and Massachusetts have achieved. I believe HHS initially requested an increase of $136 million over FY98 for tobacco. For FY98, FDA received $34 million for tobacco, which is an increase of $29.1 million over FY97. CDC received $28.4 million, which is an increase of $7 million over FY97, however the President had requested a $15 million increase. NIH received $25 million for the ASSIST program the same as in FY97 (beginning in FY99 ASSIST will move to CDC -- the CDC budget request reflects the move).

Food Safety

For FY99, OMB is recommending a $30 million increase for HHS ($5M for CDC and $25M for FDA). HHS is currently seeking $44 million on appeal ($5M for CDC and $39M for FDA ($22M for imports and $17M for domestic)). I am trying to determine whether the HHS appeal is on top of the OMB $30 million or instead of it. HHS initially requested a $109 million increase ($21M for CDC and $88M for FDA ($27M for imports and $61M for domestic)). At OMB's currently recommended level of funding the Administration will not be able to achieve many of goals we have already promised in the President's Food Safety Initiative. $5 million would not enable CDC to put in place the early warning system the President promised last January, and $25 million for FDA, depending on how it is divided between imports and domestic, either is just short of what FDA needs to implement the produce initiative the President announced in October with no new money for the programs the VP announced in May, or well short of what is needed for imports and also well short of what is needed domestically.

Gen. Powell will press the President and the other principals to participate in something called "Groundhog Job Shadow Day" on February 2. This is a partnership between our very own School to Work Office, America's Promise, Junior Achievement, and others. The idea is to get as many people as possible across the country to agree to have a youth shadow them at work that day, to learn about the world of work. Powell is doing it; he talked Tom Brokaw into doing it; some federal agencies have climbed on board to some extent (Transportation, Justice, and Education to date). I don't know how big it will be and I'm checking with Jen Palmieri to see if it's out of the question schedule-wise. (I think the budget is released that day....) It's a cute idea, maybe too cute, but it might catch on. Ray Chambers asked me today if the President will participate, so I think they will press hard on it. Any reaction one way or the other?

The select group of people receiving this e-mail is the "Late Weekly Report Group." Most other offices can manage getting their reports in by Friday night -- your offices however...

This week, please get the reports to me by no later than 10:00 am Saturday morning. With the President leaving for Bosnia on Sunday afternoon, he will really only have Saturday to read the reports. Therefore, we should get him the reports as early as possible on Saturday.

Then again, if you turn them in Friday night, so much the better. But I'm a realist.

The drug PSAs are ready to be unveiled and we could have the President announce them in the Radio Address -- and distribute them to all the news organizations to get some free media. The first one will air in DC/Baltimore media market on Jan. 5, so we should try to find a time for the President to launch them before or on the 5th. After that, Members of Congress will be holding their own press conferences in their districts to roll them out. If we want to announce them this weekend, we still need to check with Media and Leg. Affairs, so we should decide quickly. If we don't do it this weekend, does everyone agree we should submit a scheduling for a Presidential event on or before the 5th? Let me know. Thanks.

Subject: Senior Staff Holiday Coverage Reminder

I am collecting information on senior staff coverage for the upcoming holidays (December 22 - January 2). The Chief of Staff has requested a complete list of senior staff (Assistants to the President and Deputy Assistants to the President only) who will be working for the holidays, as well as the names of those senior staff on call and how they may be reached.

Please submit your names and dates to me as soon as possible. I will be submitting this information to the Chief of Staff on Friday afternoon.

Remember to provide the WHCA Signal Switchboard with information on how senior staff may be contacted while away from the office.

TEXT:

I got a call from DOL this morning giving me a heads-up on Gov. Engler's efforts to privatize employemnt services in Michigan. I assume you all know that the employment serive office is not just where you get your unemployment check, but also does job counseling, one stop shop, etc. Governor Engler proceeded to privatize without submitting a state plan to DOL (as required) and in fact notified the localities that they need to get RFP's out because they will be required to privatize in their areas starting 2/1/98. DOL has been fussing with the state for quite some time (months) re: process/where is the state plan without really dealing with the policy question (or notifying the White House). Engler submitted a state plan two weeks ago requesting privatisation--so now the issue must be resolved. DOL says they must give the state an answer by 1/5/97.

I understand that Karen is recused from this becuae of her SEIU connection. Karen tells me that Kitty Higgins has talked to John Podesta about this directly. How do you want to proceed? Seems like we need to resolve this quickly.

Conservatives Desert Connerly Over Gay Rights

By GEORGE SKELTON

SACRAMENTO--It has been four weeks since Ward Connerly won big on a new playing field and the boos have not stopped.

The hoots are coming from many of the same conservatives who earlier cheered his drive to end racial preferences in public hiring, contracting and university admissions--what commonly is called affirmative action.

The mood of those same admirers turned ugly when Connerly took up the cause of gay rights, pushing the UC regents into providing health benefits for same-sex partners of university employees.

To win, Connerly had to roll his old friend and political ally, Gov. Pete Wilson, who argued that treating gay couples the same as married heterosexuals will "spotlight the University of California as a role model for undermining marriage and destabilizing families."

Connerly countered that he certainly respects marriage, having been happily married himself for 35 years, "but there are values that transcend marriage: the values of equality . . . individual liberty . . . letting people pursue happiness on their own terms."

Since then, Wilson reportedly has been grumpy toward his onetime protege and some of the governor's aides have snubbed him. "I don't give a damn," Connerly told me.

Still, he acknowledged, "This was the toughest decision that I've had to make as a regent. Despite all the crap that I've endured on the race issue, it doesn't begin to compare to this issue. The gut reaction people have is strong, and you can't reason with them."

In the same way that Connerly being black afforded him special credibility on the race issue, his being a Republican conservative made him especially worth listening to on gay rights. It was one of those "Nixon goes to China" moves. But he has paid a steep price.

Many blacks accused Connerly of being an "Uncle Tom." Now, many conservatives are accusing him of being disloyal to the governor and--to sum it up gently--siding with depravity and the devil.

On Connerly's old wooden desk in his Sacramento land consulting office--occupying a downtown Victorian--there is a stack of negative letters. Some simply are hate mail.

One Connerly reply in particular is the type of thing most of us occasionally are tempted to write, but never quite muster the nerve:

"Initially, I was inclined to treat your letter as just another communication from an ignorant, bigoted, intolerant individual and ignore it.

However, I finally concluded that while you may fit some of that description, it would be wrong of me to characterize you as ignorant. You are an 'attorney at law.' This suggests some exposure to legal matters and the education process."

Connerly's blunt response continued, in part:

"It always astounds me that those with bigoted tendencies such as yours invoke the Scriptures to support their bigotry. I am part of an interracial marriage. When my wife and I married, there were those who said that such unions were immoral, unnatural, contrary to the Bible and would lead to the deterioration of civilization. In short, the ignorance and nonsense about the societal effects of interracial marriage 35 years ago is just as absurd today with reference to sexual orientation. . . .

"Many years ago, I was forced to confront my prejudices because of a gay employee who was 'normal' by every societal standard except for his sexual orientation. Choosing to be gay was no more of a choice for [him] than choosing to be male or cocoa brown was for me. Didn't the same God who made me make my former gay employee? As a Christian, who am I to say, then, that God goofed?"

Another Connerly response: "To suggest that I have been disloyal [to Wilson] is an insult. Over the past eight years I have supported the governor as much as anyone. I have contributed a handsome amount to his [campaigns]."

But now, Connerly told me, some conservative donors to his fledging American Civil Rights Institute "are going ape."

"I knew it going in," he said, "I had no choice. I couldn't have looked that staff member in the eye. Couldn't look myself in the eye. I'll just ride it out."
* * *

Assemblywoman Carole Migden (D-San Francisco), a lesbian, got Connerly up to speed on gay issues before the UC regents' vote. "He's dogged, he's ceaseless, he's articulate," she said.

"I'm not really sure why he took up this cause, frankly, and I'm not concerned. I'm appreciative and grateful."

Migden called my attention to all this because she had a point: "Don't write anybody off. In politics, there are always twists and turns and different chapters and episodes."

And opportunities for rare alliances and accomplishments--especially by committed people whose game isn't always playing to the cheers of the political crowd.

Elena,

I left you a phone message, but I thought I should try all routes. I am faxing you a draft of the memo to the President drafted by NSC (though from Berger and Bruce) re: recommendation for DED for the Haitians. NSC has asked me for a short turn-around (by tomorrow morning) on this. I told them that I couldn't make any promises, but that I would see what we could do. Let me know if you would like to talk about all this. Thanks.

1997 MONITORING THE FUTURE STUDY
December 20, 1997

- A Glimmer of Hope. The 1997 Monitoring the Future (MTF) study shows that for most drugs and for most grades -- and for the first time since 1991 -- the increasing trends in teen drug use seem to be leveling off and, in some cases, even decreasing. Specifically, this year's MTF found:
  - Drug use stabilizing. With one exception, there was no recorded statistically significant increase in 30-day drug use among 8th, 10th and 12th graders;
  - 8th grade drug use declining. For 8th graders, declines were recorded in past year use of any illicit drug, stimulants, tranquilizers, and daily use of marijuana.
  - Attitudes changing. There were important changes in attitudes regarding drug use. For instance, 8th graders were more likely to disapprove of occasional marijuana and cocaine use.
- Progress On Drug-Related Crime. Earlier this year, the Justice Department released studies showing that methamphetamine use declined between 7% and 52% in 8 key cities, and that the crack use was down substantially -- by at least 10% -- in 10 major cities. Drug-related murders also dropped to their lowest point in a decade.
- Much More Still Needs to be Done. Unfortunately, despite these signs of progress, drug use remains unacceptably high. Too many kids are still using drugs, and too many kids still do not understand the risks associated with them. Motivating kids to reject the use of illegal drugs must be our number one priority.
- Time to Redouble Our Efforts. MTF is the second national survey this year to show that we have an opportunity to begin reversing recent increases in adolescent drug use. That is why now, as teen drug use begins to level off and younger students show their disapproval, is the time to reach out to our kids.
- The President's Nation Anti-Drug Youth Media Campaign. Starting January 5th, the Administration will launch an unprecedented $195 million paid media campaign that uses the full force of the media --from prime time television to the Internet to sports marketing -- to educate kids and parents about the dangers of drugs. The campaign will begin with ads in 12 pilot -- Atlanta, Baltimore, Boise, Denver, Hartford, Houston, Milwaukee, Portland, San Diego, Sioux City, Tucson, and Washington, D.C. -- and spread throughout the country before the end of next year.
