MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Bruce Reed
Mike Cohen

SUBJECT: Reaction to Education Issues in Chris Edley's Memo

The attached memo from Chris Edley argues that our ESEA proposals do not go far enough. At the same time, he complains that our proposal to require states to end social promotion will alienate progressives. At your request, we have developed a new performance incentive proposal to help ensure that we demand and reward results. In keeping with your principle that future increases should be contingent on improved performance, we recommend that performance incentives only be given to communities that are making progress with the federal education funds they already receive. This is different from Chris's proposal, which would create a whole new funding stream and leave Title 1 untouched.

Our ESEA proposal demands results in other ways as well. It requires states to set standards, measure student performance, end social promotion, issue school report cards, identify and reward outstanding schools and intervene to turn around lowest performing schools. If these schools don't improve, the state must reconstitute the school and make wholesale staff changes, or by close it down altogether and reopen it with new staff or as a charter school. States must adopt and implement these practices as a condition of receiving any funds under ESEA. If they fail to do so in a serious and effective fashion, the Secretary of Education will have the authority to withhold funds from the state.

Our proposal to end social promotion may well be controversial in some quarters, but it is sound and will be effective. We do not share Chris's view that ending social promotion is "a distraction" from your education reform agenda. On the contrary, it is a central part of holding schools, teachers and students accountable for results, as you demonstrated with the eighth grade test in Arkansas and as Chicago, Boston, and other communities are demonstrating today. Our approach requires states to phase in, over five years, an end to social promotion, thereby squarely focusing the attention of students, teachers, parents and the entire school system on getting kids to meet standards. The phase-in period will help ensure high quality implementation, prevent the abuses that Chris fears, and enable states to comply with civil rights laws addressing use of high stakes tests.

For those who oppose the use of tests to hold students accountable for performance under almost any circumstance, this requirement will indeed be controversial. The best way to deal with the concerns of the civil rights community is to advocate ending social promotion the right way -- by coupling it with other steps to strengthen learning opportunities in the classroom, provide extra help to students who need it, end the use of unqualified teachers, and hold schools and teachers accountable. Done right, this policy will help rather than harm students. Our requirements are designed to foster help for students who need it, and thereby increase the percentage of students promoted on time, rather than increase retention rates. This would track your own experience with the eighth grade test in Arkansas, where passing rates from 1985 to 1988 increased in reading from 85% to 96%, and in math from 82% to 95%.

Automated Records Management System

MEMORANDUM FOR ELENA KAGAN

FROM: Julie Fernandes
CC: Cynthia Rice
RE: Public Charge -- remaining legal issues

DATE: January 11, 1999

Recent changes in the welfare and immigration laws, along with changes in the Medicaid program, have created some confusion about how Medicaid and Food Stamps should be considered in the determination of whether an alien is or is likely to become a "public charge." Determination as a "public charge" has significant consequences for an alien -- it can cause them to be denied admission to the United States, deported, or denied permanent residency. By statute, the INS and State Department are required to consider the alien's age, health, family status, assets, resources, financial status, education and skills when considering whether he or she is or is likely to become a public charge.

There have been documented instances in which aliens have been denied re-entry to the U.S. because they had received Medicaid or Food Stamps. Moreover, aliens have been told that receipt of Medicaid and/or Food Stamps will have a negative effect on their immigration status. These cases have translated into widespread concern in immigrant communities about legal receipt of these benefits, even where the beneficiary is a U.S. citizen child. The concern about negative immigration consequences associated with the legal use of Medicaid and Food Stamps interferes with the President's goals of increasing insurance coverage and improving public health.

After much discussion and debate, the INS and the State Department have agreed to issue guidance that past or current use of Medicaid, the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP), or Food Stamps (or their state analogs) is not to be considered in determining whether a person is likely to become a public charge for purposes of admission to the U.S. or adjustment of status, except where an alien has received long-term institutionalized care funded by Medicaid.

However, we have not reached resolution on how these programs should be treated for purposes of deportation based on having become a public charge. Section 237(a)(5) of the INA states that "[a]ny alien who, within five years after the date of entry, has become a public charge from causes not affirmatively shown to have arisen since entry is deportable." Under the INS's current policy -- informed by a 1948 decision of the Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA), Matter of B. -- if an alien is subject to the new binding affidavit of support (post-December 1997 aliens only) and (1) receives a public benefit (like Medicaid or TANF) within five years after entry, (2) there is a demand for repayment of the value of that benefit from the benefit-granting agency, and (3) the sponsor refuses to pay, the alien can be subject to deportation for being a public charge. The theory is that since the new affidavit of support creates a binding obligation on the part of the sponsor to support the alien, a failure on the sponsor's part to meet that obligation creates an unpaid debt for which the alien is responsible, and thus the alien is deportable as a public charge.

Hex-Dump Conversion

With regard to the receipt of federal welfare benefits, this rule has almost no application -- most aliens entering the U.S. are not eligible for Medicaid and/or Food Stamps for the first five years (unless, of course, we manage to restore some benefits to post-Welfare Act aliens in FY 2000). However, states are free to provide welfare-like benefits (including state-only food and health benefits) to post-Welfare Act aliens. Thus, aliens in jurisdictions where state-only benefits are available may be deterred from taking advantage of these programs if they believe there may be deportation consequences down the road. In addition, some states do not make clear whether benefits offered are state-only or federally financed, and thus some aliens may be deterred from taking advantage of any medical and/or food benefits for fear of the possible deportation consequences.

Issue #1

We would like to be able to assure legal immigrants that legal use of Medicaid, CHIP, and Food Stamps -- or their state analogs -- would never lead to deportation. The legal question that we have posed to the Department of Justice is how we can get to this result in light of the aforementioned BIA case (Matter of B.) that sets out this multi-part test for when a finding of public charge is triggered. According to DOJ, the binding affidavit of support creates just the kind of debt that Matter of B. contemplated.

The Department has indicated that in order for the Attorney General to take certain programs (like Medicaid or Food Stamps) off the table for purposes of triggering the Matter of B. test, she must issue a regulation. However, they have suggested that it may be possible to issue interim guidance that directs INS officers not to consider Medicaid or Food Stamp use as a basis for a debt that could trigger deportation, pending the issuance of a regulation that effects this change. OLC is looking into whether this option is legally permissible.

Issue #2

We would like the INS's guidance to lay out a clear analytical distinction between those programs that should be considered for purposes of the public charge analysis, and those that should not.

The current version of the guidance lists examples of those programs that should be considered in the public charge analysis (TANF, SSI) and those that should not be considered (Food Stamps, Medicaid, WIC, etc.), but does not articulate the basis for distinguishing one group from the other. Thus, if an immigration or consular officer is presented with an alien who is receiving benefits from a program not listed, there is no guidance to that officer about whether to consider this program for public charge purposes.

HHS has made the argument to the INS that the distinction should be between cash and non-cash benefits (with an exception for those who reside in a long-term care institution; though the benefit they receive is non-cash, they are wholly dependent on it for food and shelter). The State Department, while not endorsing any particular framework for the overall distinction, has long relied on the conclusion that Food Stamps are "supplemental" for determining that receipt of Food Stamp benefits should not be considered for purposes of public charge.

According to DOJ and INS, they have not yet concluded whether they can -- in light of their past administrative decisions re: public charge -- separate programs based on a cash/non-cash or a supplemental/non-supplemental distinction.

Please look at revised and give me any comments tonight. Where I had conflicting comments I took Bruce's. Let me flag:

(1) While Tom didn't jump at the chance to make a moral case for purchase guarantees, we worked in the concept under farmers. (I also added affected rural communities under the menu)

(2) Treasury believes the state settlement plus a) 55 cents b) accelerated excise tax and c) FDA we will cut youth smoking in half. However, I left this point out because of Bruce's concern we couldn't have it both ways (downplay the tax amount and still say we're meeting our goal). Treasury believes the state settlement plus the other price increases will reduce youth smoking by 30 percent (this includes a very small nonprice effect which rises to 10 percent under our plan when full FDA authority is assumed).

(3) I added more on FDA as suggested -- any comments?

(4) Linda Ricci is on alert we may need to pull the Medicare graph -- she will let me know the drop dead time.

Here's my effort to edit OMB's tobacco budget section -- I'm still not sure it strikes the right tone. In particular, how do you want to describe the price increase? Do you want to say it will enable us to cut youth smoking in half? I edited that and other parts out to tone it down a bit.

Also, do you want the Medicare suit in there? I added it. I also took a stab at farmers. I'll tell Linda Ricci we're working on it.

Any new thoughts about who we would give this to if we leak it?

TEXT:
THE WHITE HOUSE

Office of the Press Secretary

For Immediate Release

January 11, 1999

STATEMENT BY THE PRESIDENT

I congratulate the people of Nigeria for the strong turnout and orderly conduct of the January 9th elections for State governors and assemblies. Although results from these elections have not yet been released, Nigeria should be proud of its achievements to date in conducting transparent and inclusive elections that are building the foundation for a successful return to democratic, civilian government. I am pleased that the United States is providing $5 million to support this effort.

These elections represent a critical step in Nigeria's transformation. Since June, General Abubakar, his government and the people of Nigeria have engaged in a sustained and serious effort to rectify the abuses of the past: political prisoners have been freed, onerous restrictions on labor unions have been lifted, the empty positions on Nigeria's Supreme Court have been filled, and a transparent "Budget of Realism" has been announced by the government. I and the people of the United States look forward to continuing to work with Nigeria to ensure that these political and economic reform efforts continue. And I hope that some day soon, Nigeria will be able to resume its place as a democratic leader in Africa.
