TEXT:

Elena and Sandy,

We have been discussing the need to move ahead rapidly on collecting data for the Race Initiative. We have set up a meeting with Judy Winston for Wednesday and hope that some work can be done between now and then.

I reviewed the draft outline that Sandy prepared using Chris Edley's framework. I think that it is a good start, but it needs more detail. We would like for you all to identify one person with expertise to be our main contact for each of the broad categories we are researching. Jose Cerda had mentioned that the DPC had identified some staff members to serve in this capacity. The categories where we need a contact are:

- health
- education
- housing
- crime & the criminal justice system
- economic status / labor markets
- political participation
- public attitudes about race relations

Under each of these categories, it would be helpful to identify the following information:

- key indicators of progress
- trends in disparities among races
- where have positive changes occurred (especially those where government intervention has made a difference)
- where are disparities growing
- costs of discrimination
- data sources, upcoming studies, other resources of information

We would expect the contacts to work closely with the federal agencies to gather this information.

Is it possible that you could bring to the Wednesday meeting the key contacts for each of the 7 areas and have each of them bring a list of the key data elements they would expect to collect?

Please feel free to call (5-1013) or email me if you have any questions or concerns.

Thanks very much.

inform you of deadlines and drop-offs;
provide the modified table of contents (or "table of pillars" which is attached); and provide the memo, in case you have not seen it yet (attached).

First off, apologies for the lousy timing of this whole project. The first round with the 48-hour deadline was difficult, and this round, while not as time sensitive, is just as vexing with so many people on vacation. However, this round should afford some time for groups to work together.

Separate Memo on Prioritizing the Pillars

The third paragraph of EBB's memo requests that each member of the strategy team individually rank the pillars in order of perceived importance and briefly describe the reasoning behind their prioritization. This request is for the core members of the strategy team to spend some time individually thinking about their recommended vision for the next three and one half years. It should stimulate some creative and thoughtful ideas for moving forward. These memos will go directly to

Possible GPO Reports To Access from Dept. Of Education:

1. [HEHS

-94

-169BR] Early Childhood Programs: Many Poor Children and Strained Resources Challenge Head Start

SUMMARY:The number of children under age five who are at risk of school failure increased greatly during the 1980s. Education reform and the reauthorization of Head Start-

-the centerpiece of federal early childhood programs-

-have

Automated Records Management System
Hex-Dump Conversion

focused attention on improving the quality of early childhood programs and increasing the number of children being served. This report highlights the major themes and policy implications for implementing Head Start and other early childhood programs. GAO concludes that efforts to improve the quality of the Head Start program and expand it to include more children are complicated by several factors: the growing numbers and changing characteristics of poor children, rising costs of services, and limited community resources.

2. [HRD

-21] School

-Linked Human Services: A Comprehensive Strategy for Aiding

Students at Risk of School Failure

SUMMARY: Since 1980, at least 8 states and more than 200 localities have been delivering a variety of health, social, and educational services to students-

-many of whom are at risk of failing in school or dropping out. These comprehensive school

-linked programs are trying to improve the academic performance and well

-being of at

-risk students by addressing their many needs in a coordinated manner at schools. Some policymakers view these programs as an efficient, cost

-effective way to link at

-risk children and their families with prevention and early intervention services. This report (1) reviews the literature to determine the kinds of school

-linked approaches involving students and their families, the relative strengths and weaknesses of these approaches, and the circumstances under which each appears most appropriate; (2) identifies the problems encountered when using the school as a hub for delivering services; and (3) determines the role that the federal government could play in promoting promising school

-linked approaches.

3. [HEHS

-95

-4FS] Early Childhood Programs: Multiple Programs and Overlapping Target

Groups

SUMMARY: This report responds to a congressional request for information on early childhood programs-

-that is, preschool and child care programs for children from birth through age five. In summary, GAO found that in fiscal years 1992 and 1993, the federal government funded more than 90 early childhood programs in 11 federal agencies and 20 offices. Of these programs, 34 were key programs-

-early childhood programs for which early childhood education or child care is the key to the program's mission. These key programs delivered services to at least two million children below age five and spent at least $3.66 billion in fiscal year 1992. However, data are limited on the exact number of children served and the dollars spent on children below age five. Although these programs have some similarities, they may target different populations, use different eligibility criteria, and provide a different mix of services to children and their families.

-21] Early Childhood Centers: Services to Prepare Children for School Often

Limited

SUMMARY:More than a third-

-2.8 million-

-of the nation's children aged three and four were from poor families in 1990, a growth of 17 percent since 1980. This trend continues. These disadvantaged youngster often live in homes that provide little intellectual stimulation, as well as inadequate health care and nutrition. Lagging behind their middle- and upper

-income peers when they enter school, many disadvantaged children never catch up. Early childhood centers funded by federal and state government prepare children from school and help them to overcome their disadvantages. This report answers the following questions: What services do disadvantaged children need to be prepared for school? To what extent do these children receive these services from early childhood centers? If disadvantaged children do not receive these services from early childhood centers, why not?

TEXT:

The deadline for pillars and memos is tomorrow Tuesday, August 26 by noon

Please forward 25 copies of your pillar and one copy of the memo to me in room 164 OEOB.

Again, please make the deadline, as it will greatly help Wednesday's meeting generally (and your pillar specifically) if the participants have the afternoon and evening to review the materials.

Thank you.
