You haven't told me much about the seatbelt issue Jerry is working on (complaint alert!!!), but is it inconsistent with what's said in the first bullet of this SAP -- that we want to retain the unbelted crash testing requirement?

Also, are you comfortable with the reference in the fourth bullet on "hiring preferences" for welfare recipients?

[sent via e-mail and fax]

The Senate is expected to begin consideration of the ISTEAP (highway reauthorization) bill Wednesday afternoon. Please review asap the attached draft SAP; note that this is revised from previous versions you have seen in order to shorten the SAP. Also, note that a decision is needed on whether to include the last sentence of the first paragraph, pertaining to the anticipated Gramm/Byrd amendment. Please contact Chuck Konigsberg with comments/changes at 55069, or by e-mail, no later than 11am Wednesday. Thanks.

DRAFT --NOT FOR RELEASE
 October 8, 1997
 (Senate)

S. 1173 Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act of 1997
 (Warner (R) Virginia and 16 cosponsors)

Reauthorizing the Nation's surface transportation programs is the Administration's top transportation priority for this session of Congress. S. 1173 is a 6-year bill that addresses many of the President's priorities, as reflected in the Administration's proposal to reauthorize the Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act of 1991 (ISTEA). While the Administration's preliminary review of the Committee's bill indicates that it is not fully consistent with the Bipartisan Budget Agreement (BBA), the Administration understands that it is the managers' intent that the bill remain within the bounds of the carefully crafted Agreement. The Administration supports this goal and urges the Senate to craft a bill that is fully consistent with the Agreement. [The Administration would strongly oppose amendments to the bill which would further increase funding levels above those agreed upon in the BBA. -- clear this sentence w/ WH/LA]

The Administration commends the Senate for retaining ISTEA's disadvantaged business enterprise goals and uniform certification provision for highway projects, and would strongly oppose any amendment to repeal or weaken these provisions. In addition, the Administration would oppose any amendments to weaken: the National Environmental Policy Act, the Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Improvement Program (including allowing single occupancy vehicle projects to receive funding under the Program), or the Clean Air Act. The Administration is also committed to retaining ISTEA's labor standards and employee protection requirements afforded working people on federally assisted projects (including those assisted by State infrastructure banks), and would oppose any amendments repealing or limiting these protections. The Administration would oppose changing the transit formula by adopting any form of minimum allocation for transit.

S. 1173 is a significant intermodal transportation measure, and the Administration supports Senate passage if it is amended to:

- o Make the bill fully consistent with the Bipartisan Budget Agreement.

- o Strengthen its safety provisions by -- retaining the unbelted crash testing requirement; penalizing repeat drunk driving offenders at the same blood alcohol level as first offenders; including the Administration's criteria in the seat belt incentive program for States to increase seat belt use rates; and eliminating the special exemption from the Federal seat belt use law for New Hampshire.

- o Authorize the full $2.2 billion requested by the Administration for the Appalachian Development Highway System, and the full $161 million requested for National Park roads and parkways. The funding levels currently authorized in S. 1173 are inadequate to support these important programs.

- o Provide additional flexibility to State and local governments in establishing hiring preferences for in-State welfare recipients, in order to meet the aggressive targets included in the recent welfare reform law.

- o Expand its intermodal focus by permitting State and local governments to use Surface Transportation Program (STP) funds for publicly owned freight rail infrastructure.

- o Retain the current 10 percent set-aside of STP funds for transportation enhancements.

- o Delete Section 1115 which would unnecessarily expand Federal Lands Program eligibility.

- o Delete two provisions that would dilute the effectiveness of the Hazard Elimination program by unnecessarily extending the program to the Interstate System (which is already our safest system of roads), and unnecessarily expanding program eligibility to include traffic calming projects.

- o Prevent confusion and duplication by deleting the provision that would give States the option of using or not using the metric system in connection with highway construction contracts.

- o Delete the proposed Magnetic Levitation (MAGLEV) Transportation Technology Deployment Program that calls for the Federal Government to select and fund a MAGLEV demonstration project. MAGLEV projects should be advanced by individual States that deem MAGLEV a priority, and the bill would allow States to use STP funds for this purpose.

o Further expand the definition of capital to make paratransit services for elderly Americans and individuals with disabilities an eligible expense.

o Advance transportation projects more quickly and leverage private and non-Federal investment by substituting the Administration's State Infrastructure Bank and Credit Enhancement proposals for the bill's current Innovative Infrastructure Finance provisions.

Finally, the Administration supports the use of alternate fuels to improve our nation's air quality, and therefore strongly supports the extension of the excise tax exemption for ethanol (but without phasing down the rates of the benefits).

Pay-As-You-Go Scoring

S. 1173 as reported would increase direct spending; therefore it is subject to the pay-as-you-go requirement of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990. Therefore, if the bill were enacted and these costs are not offset during the remainder of this Congressional session, a pay-as-you-go sequester would be triggered at the end of the session. OMB's preliminary scoring estimates of this bill are presented in the table below. Final scoring of this legislation may differ from these estimates.

Audrey is very welcome to attend our welfare meetings. Just so everyone is on the same page on this issue: We are extremely sympathetic to Sen Murray's goals, and we agree with her on some broad principles. But we have never expressed public support for Sen. Murray's actual amendment; neither have we ever told Sen Murray or her staff that we would support it in the future. To the contrary, we consistently have stated concerns with her legislation and indicated that we prefer to proceed by our own (i.e., HHS's) regulation (which is now under review by OMB). A few days ago, in order to be as helpful as possible, we and OMB gave Sen Murray's staff legislative language we could live with (based on the HHS reg, though different in some details). We have heard she did not like our proposal and told the conference that she wished to push forward with her own amendment. That leaves us about where we have always been.

I guess I have a reaction, which is that we're making the President look like a liar. Who's been giving the legal advice? Education? Justice? Is our own counsel's office involved? (If not, it should be.) It seems to me that we have to give people a very strong signal that we need to find some way of including people who are doing service activities under the auspices of church programs. (You should show them what the President said.) At the very least, we should be able to include participants in programs that aren't "pervasively sectarian." But don't suggest this as a solution -- it would be nice to find language that stretches the envelope still further.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Bruce Reed
Elena Kagan

SUBJECT: DPC Weekly Report

. Welfare -- California Caseload Numbers: New data from California show that caseloads there have begun to drop steeply. In 1993 and 1994, the welfare rolls rose in the State; in 1995 and 1996, the caseloads fell, but only by 2 percent and 7 percent respectively. The rate of decline this year has nearly doubled from last, with caseloads dropping 7 percent in only seven months. The LA Times carried an article on Thursday noting this caseload "plummet." Twenty two percent of the nation's welfare recipients live in California.

. Welfare -- Studies on Welfare Reform: We have received some preliminary data from two studies tracking individuals who left the welfare rolls in Massachusetts and Maryland. The Massachusetts study found that six months after going off welfare, about 50 percent of these people were working; about 30 percent had other means of support or had left the state; 9 percent had children who had grown too old to qualify; and 6 percent were in the process of reapplying for welfare. The average wage of former recipients was $6.72 per hour, with the majority of those employed working in the clerical, sales, health care, and service industries. The Maryland study similarly found that 54 percent of former recipients were working within three months of leaving the rolls and that four-fifths were still off the rolls after six months. The study did not account for the remaining recipients, but plans to do so in a follow-up report to be released next year. The study found that welfare recipients with younger children were more likely to return to the rolls. It found no increase in foster care caseloads as a result of welfare reform.

. Welfare -- Exempting Workfare from FICA Taxes: We have expressed support for Rep. Shaw's new proposal to exempt workfare participants from FICA and FUTA. Unlike Shaw's earlier proposals, this one applies only to employment taxes: it does not exempt workfare participants from minimum wage, health and safety, antidiscrimination, and other worker protection laws; neither does it undermine the welfare law's work requirements. Governors strongly support the legislation, though many think it does not go far enough; unions will not actively oppose it. The Department of Labor has some concern that employers will try to interpret the FICA/FUTA exemption to cover not only participants in traditional workfare programs, but also recipients of subsidized private sector jobs. DPC and the Department agree, however, that we can address this potential problem through regulation. It is unclear what vehicle Shaw will use to move his legislation. He tried to add the proposal to a tax technicals bill in the Ways and Means Committee on Thursday, but had to withdraw it as non-germane before a vote could be taken.

. Welfare -- Senator Murray's Proposal: As you may know, Senator Murray has long advocated a proposal that would wholly exclude individuals with a history of domestic violence from the welfare work requirements and time limits. Currently, states can exempt these women from work requirements and time limits, but still must put 30 percent of their overall caseload to work and move 80 percent off of welfare after 5 years. Under Senator Murray's approach, if 10 percent of the caseload were granted domestic violence waivers, then only 20 percent of the total caseload would have to work and only 70 percent would be subject to the time limit. This proposal has passed the Senate several times -- most recently as part of the Labor-HHS appropriations bill -- but has always been dropped in Conference. Murray now is lobbying the Administration to make a push for the amendment.

DPC and HHS have told Murray that we have serious concerns with her approach and have suggested some alternative language. (We also have made clear that irrespective of any legislation, we are intending to address this issue in regulations.) We believe that adoption of the Murray proposal would (1) give states a way to "game" the work rates and time limits by handing out waivers to people who don't need them two-fold, and (2) allow states to ignore these women, rather than giving them the services and supports that will help them become self-sufficient. Our preferred approach is for HHS to excuse states from penalties for failing to meet work rates if the states show (1) that their failure is attributable to granting temporary waivers to victims of domestic violence and (2) that they have provided these women with needed services. We believe that this approach will both limit states' ability to game the system and ensure that states provide needed services to victims of domestic violence.

. Welfare -- Review of SSA's Children's Disability Determination Process: In a meeting with you last month, disability advocates expressed concern about the process for redetermining the eligibility of 288,000 children for SSI benefits under the new childhood disability standard. At that meeting, you stated that you had asked SSA to send you a report on its process in 30 days. While that meeting was going on, Ken Apfel was testifying at his confirmation hearing that he would begin a "top-to-bottom" 30-day review of the process as soon as he was confirmed. He was confirmed a few weeks later. SSA has requested that, instead of having two overlapping 30-day reviews, we have a single 30-day review beginning from the date of Apfel's confirmation. Advocates appear to be comfortable with this revised timetable, and we have approved it.

. Adoption -- Senate Legislation: A bipartisan group of Senators led by Rockefeller and Chafee and including Craig, Jeffords, Dewine, Bond, Coats, Levin and Landrieu have announced agreement on child welfare legislation called the Promotion of Adoption, Safety and Support for Abused and Neglected Children Act (PASS). As you know, the House passed a child welfare bill last spring, but Senate action had been stalled. Like the House bill, PASS incorporates many provisions of your Adoption 2002 proposal. It also includes other measures that we support, including judicial reforms and reauthorization of the Family Preservation and Support Act . The Senate bill, however, also contains a provision that we do not like to “delink” federal adoption assistance from means-tested programs (effectively providing such assistance regardless of income). We do not believe this provision will increase the number of adoptions; in addition, it costs $2.4 billion and is paid for with an offset that the Administration had hoped to use for other priorities (such as child care). We therefore are working with HHS, OMB, and the First Lady’s Office to develop a less expensive and more sensible proposal that Chafee and Rockefeller might accept.

. Education -- Charter Schools Bill: Ten Democrats and fourteen Republicans on the House Education Committee voted on Thursday to approve amendments to the Charter Schools Program. The bill would provide incentives to states that allow the number of charter schools to increase, give charter schools significant autonomy, and periodically review charter schools to ensure that academic performance requirements are met. The bill also incorporates your goal of increasing the number of charter schools to 3,000 by the year 2000. Prior to committee action, the DPC and Department of Education worked with members to make substantial improvements in the bill. One outstanding issue is that the bill would allow grants to existing charter schools to continue for five years, potentially reducing start-up funds for new schools and risking long-term dependence on federal funding. We will continue to work with the sponsors, but you can now give the bill your strong support.

8. Education: National Tests -- As the Labor/HHS conference proceeds, Obey, Porter and a number of others have begun to float possible compromises on the national tests. Each of the proposals presumes that we receive the funds and authority to develop the tests under NAB’s control. They differ primarily with respect to the circumstances under which test implementation would be permitted to proceed. Specific proposals include (1) requiring specific Congressional authorization before implementation; (2) requiring a majority of states to sign up before implementation could begin; and, (3) making test implementation an allowable state and local use of Chapter II funds, but providing no specific funding for initial implementation. An option reflecting a different approach would require that we undertake the R&D to statistically link tests already used by states and local school districts to the NAEP performance standards so that states could continue to administer the same tests and provide students with a statistically-derived score on the national test as well. Most of these alternatives have some clear advantages as well as clear down sides, with none emerging as a clear favorite for us. We are working to identify modifications that could strengthen each of them, and to identify additional possibilities as well. As of yet, none of these has gained any significant backing among conferees, or support from Goodling.

Goodling and Ashcroft publicly are hardening their opposition to the tests. Ashcroft has announced that he now has 35 Senators lined up in opposition to the tests (though he has not produced a list of them), up from the 27 he named a week ago. Both Goodling and Ashcroft have sent Secretary Riley a series of letters continuing to criticize steps the Education Department had taken prior to its temporary halt on test development.

In addition, Goodling announced at Thursday's scheduled mark-up on America Reads that he was postponing action on the bill until we reversed our position on national testing. In reality, Goodling is under strong pressure from the right wing on his committee not to advance a reading bill that reflects our priorities. Consequently, Goodling is now in the position of blocking two key steps to improve early reading--higher standards and tests and a reading program that helps families, schools and volunteers help kids learn to read.

On Wednesday, John Doerr, Jim Barksdale and 4 additional high-tech CEO's met with Gingrich, Lott, Goodling, and a number of other Republicans in both houses to urge them to support the tests. Feedback from their meetings as well meetings Leg. Affairs has had suggest that both Lott and Goodling are urging that a compromise be found.

10. Health Care: Surgeon General Confirmation -- The Senate Labor and Human Resources Committee held its confirmation hearing for Dr. David Satcher this Wednesday. The hearing went extremely well, and Senators on both sides of the aisle praised Dr. Satcher. Few controversial issues were raised. He was not questioned on many of the high profile issues we were expecting, including needle exchange and AIDS research in Africa. It appears likely that the final full Senate vote on Dr. Satcher's confirmation will take place as early as the week of October 20th.

11. Health Care: New York Provider Tax -- On Thursday HHS met with Governor Pataki and members of the New York delegation as it released its announcement of how the Administration will work towards ensuring that all states' provider taxes are in compliance with the law. Clearly Governor Pataki chose to portray our response as being completely unsatisfactory. This is the case despite the fact that our position on provider taxes is the most favorable position we could have taken for New York (and all other states with potentially impermissible provider taxes) within the constraints of the law. If this wasn't the case, we would not be having to ask for legislation to give the Secretary authority she does not now have to waive up to all past liability for currently impermissible taxes. It is further validated by those staff members of the House Committee of Jurisdiction (who hate provider taxes) who are criticizing us for being too favorable to New York and resentful that we are pushing a legislative strategy. All things considered, however, we believe that our positioning on this issue is as well as could be hoped for and most realistically positions us to eventually and most expeditiously ensure that all states come into compliance.

13. Health Care: Kassebaum-Kennedy Implementation -- As you know, there was a story in The New York Times last Sunday that reported that some insurers are giving agents incentives to not enroll high-risk populations. Such actions are completely inconsistent with the spirit of the Kassebaum-Kennedy law. We are meeting with HCFA, the agency responsible for administering this provision of the new law, to review all of the Federal and State statutory authority to stop such practices. We will keep you apprised as we move forward.

14. Health Care: Confirmation of Nancy-Ann Min DeParle as HCFA Administrator

-- Nancy-Ann Min DeParle, your new appointment for HCFA Administrator, has had two Senate holds placed on her confirmation. Senator Harkin (D-IA) has placed a hold because of his frustration with the Administration's lack of enforcement of his fraud and abuse priority initiatives. Senator Kyl (R-AZ) has just placed a hold apparently because of his concern about the Administration's opposition to his amendment to reopen up the balanced budget act to allow physicians negotiate private contracts with Medicare beneficiaries.

On Wednesday Nancy-Ann met with Senator Harkin's staff and made a commitment to address many of the Senator's priorities. The Senator and his staff seemed quite pleased and it appears likely that Harkin will soon release his hold. Since Senator Kyl's hold was placed on Thursday of this week, we have not had the opportunity to arrange an acceptable arrangement to remove his hold. We are still conducting a thorough policy review on the Kyl Amendment, but are concerned that it could lead to more fraud and abuse in Medicare and dramatically increase beneficiary out-of-pocket costs.

We believe that the fact that Nancy-Ann has not been confirmed undermines her ability to be as effective as possible in administering one of the most complex and complicated agencies in the Federal government. We have and will continue to make her confirmation one of our highest priorities this fall.

PIR team leaders--

I'll be compiling the weekly report to the President from PIR. Sylvia Mathews wants us to include updates from all the working groups. I'll need to get information from you by the end of the day on Wednesdays in order to make our Friday deadlines. (For this week, that means tomorrow). If you are not the contact person, please let me know who on your team will be. In the updates, please include activities that you expect to occur on Thursday and Friday of the week.

Also, because we are working out of the Department of Justice, please remember that the updates you send to me are subject to the Freedom of Information Act as are all of our weekly reports.

Thanks for your help.

As most of you know, the President is returning to Jupiter, Florida on October 31 to visit the Elementary School he was supposed to go to when he broke his knee. We need to determine what message event we will do at the school. Originally we were going to do school construction. After our meeting yesterday with Erskine, it seems unlikely that we are going to be ready to endorse any kind of school construction proposal by 10/31 -- so I guess we need another message. Everyone should be aware, however, that the school is overcrowded with many students attending classes in trailers, so school construction is likely to be raised as an issue whether we like it or not.

NEC -- is it clear that school construction is not an option?

DPC/NEC -- if so, do you have other suggestions?

Thanks.

I think a little something in their report would be helpful.

I just thought about the fact that they have your policy docs which could be foiaed before announcements...hmm. how big a problem do you think that is?

Subject: Office of Consumer Affairs

Steve Barr of the Post tells me the VA-HUD appropriations bill (currently awaiting POTUS signature) zeroes out the Office of Consumer Affairs, former home of such well-known Americans as Esther Peterson, Virginia Knauer and Elizabeth Dole. (Don't know who current head is.) Steve, assuming we are not going to veto the bill over this, is asking what we plan on doing. Do we plan to reconstitute this office in some other form? Has anybody thought about this?

Steve is trying to write for tomorrow, so if we want to get into this story, I need to hear from somebody.

TEXT:

This proposal will address racial disparities in six carefully selected areas: infant mortality, breast and cervical cancer, heart disease and stroke, diabetes, AIDS, and immunization. The proposal will include nationwide measures on each of the six health conditions to go onto effect in the next two years, as well as intensive five-year pilot projects in thirty communities focused on one or another of the six conditions (say, a project on diabetes on an Indian reservation or a project on AIDS in an inner city). The stated aim of the proposal will be to eliminate racial disparities in these six areas by 2010.

6th Grade Mentoring Initiative. The NEC has begun consultations with the higher education community on a proposal that would promote partnerships between colleges and high-poverty schools, to provide youth with sustained mentoring and academic enrichment starting no later than seventh grade and extending through high school graduation. This would be connected to a broader effort to inform low-income families about financial aid that is available for college. [While we would not be able to announce the size of any initiative until after the budget process, you could announce the general idea and ask for colleges to work with us on the design. One opportunity to do that would be on November 16 and 17, when 2000 officials from all of the public 4-year colleges and universities in the country will be meeting in D.C.]

well, we strongly favor (and give lots of funds to) the dept of ed's bilingual program, which provides funds to communities to use (at their option) in either intensive english classes or bilingual classes. So I would say we favor special education programs for children whose first language is not English, but leave to communities the choice of what those programs should look like.
