Sorry to be pestering, but Maria is trying to push this process quickly, so I need any comments that you have on other sections, like civil rights.

I will need to pull a meeting or meetings together at staff level this week to see what can be sorted through and what can't be. As I mentioned, I'm meeting with Terry this afternoon to work through as much as we can on the first half of the book. That obviously won't get to the areas of policy and message where there are serious disagreements. I wouldn't be surprised if there were a POTUS meeting as early as next week. Also, I need a copy of memo on Education and Crime chapters that is suitable for sharing to Maria, who asked to see comments I've received. I haven't given her anything from DPC. tds

I thought it was a big success. The panelists were terrific and POTUS and FLOTUS seemed to enjoy themselves. The panel succeeded in making the "equal pay" problem real while acknowledging its complexity. Mary and Karin did a great job. I enjoyed working with them.
