Elena Kagan is Deputy Director of the Domestic Policy Council and Deputy Assistant to the President for Domestic Policy. She is currently on leave from the University of Chicago, where she is a Professor of Law, specializing in constitutional law and labor law.

Kagan received her A.B. summa cum laude from Princeton University. She spent two years at Worcester College, Oxford University, as a Daniel M. Sachs Scholar and received an M. Phil in Politics in 1983. In 1986, she graduated magna cum laude from Harvard Law School, where she was Supervising Editor of the Harvard Law Review. She clerked for Judge Abner J. Mikva of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit and Justice Thurgood Marshall of the U.S. Supreme Court. From 1989 to 1991, Kagan was in private practice at the Washington, D.C. law firm of Williams & Connolly.

Kagan joined the faculty of the University of Chicago Law School in 1991 and became a full professor in 1995. Kagan served as Special Counsel to the Senate Judiciary Committee in the summer of 1993 for the confirmation hearings of Ruth Bader Ginsburg. In July 1995, Kagan took a leave from the University of Chicago Law School to serve as Associate Counsel to the President. In January 1997, she moved from the Counsel's Office to her current position in the Domestic Policy Council.

Kagan also has served as a member of the Board of Governors of the Chicago Council of Lawyers and a public member of the Administrative Conference of the United States.
