Subj: The Partial Birth Abortion Bill

I am a practicing Roman Catholic, who is a Eucharistic Minister, and a Lector at Holy Cross Catholic Church, an African-American Jesuit Mission Church in Durham, NC. I am also an Advocate for the Tribunal of the Diocese of Raleigh. I was also a Hot-Line volunteer for the Battered Women's Center in Austin for 4 years. My wife is an ordained minister, and Associate Pastor at Russell CME Church in Durham.

I believe, along with the President, that abortions should be safe, legal and rare.

There are good arguments for signing or vetoing the Partial Birth Abortion legislation. I am in favor of signing it, recognizing that it has significant faults.

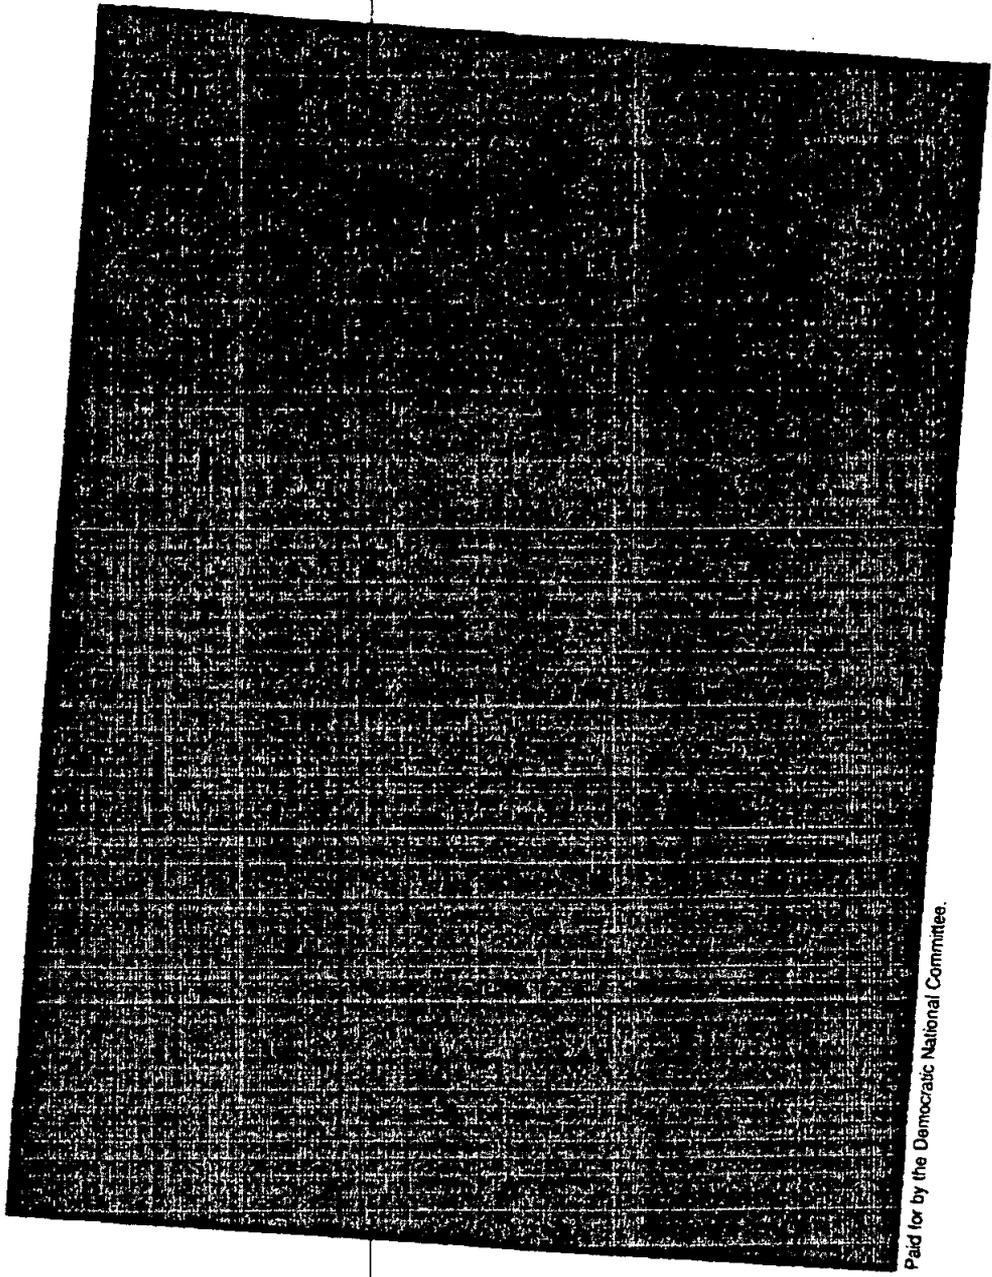

No matter what the President does concerning this legislation, he will meet a storm of opposition, and will lose politically.

Therefore, may I suggest that, whatever decision he makes, he base it entirely on moral and ethical grounds. May I further suggest that those in the WH who favor or oppose this legislation state their views in 1-page memos, restricting their arguments to moral and ethical grounds.

If the President justifies his decision on moral and ethical grounds, I will continue to support him, even if I disagree with his conclusion. If he states the rationale for his actions upon other than moral or ethical grounds, then I will regard Primary Colors as an accurate measure of the President's character.

Best regards, despite the economy's sighs, the Whitewater committee's growls, and this recent discovery: As reported in the infallible Washington Times, Our President took out a million-dollar insurance policy against personal legal claims three months before laying hands on Paula Corbin. The policy, costing $200 annually, recently paid out nearly the whole million to Mr. Clinton's lawyers. And the Clinton clique calls Hillary's cattle futures return spectacular! February also witnessed the first Republican primaries from which Mr. Steve Forbes and Mr. Pat Buchanan emerged as leading candidates, though the press urges caution. All manner of phenomena are pointed to as bad news, particularly for Buchanan.

Glad tidings on the disgusting sexual acts front! Dr. Leonard Jacob informed the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Baltimore, Maryland, that various horrific sexually transmitted diseases and even plagues might successfully be combated by compounds gouged from the bodily remains of the dogfish shark and the African clawed frog. The substances, called magainins and squalamines, have already been used on some humans and near humans, though it is always difficult to induce the near humans to commit the disgusting sexual acts required to trigger these diseases. At any rate, the discoveries could prove to be a setback for the Buchanan campaign, for if America reverts to Fortress America, how will researchers ever have the opportunity to discover such benign aliens as the African clawed frog? In Little Rock, Arkansas, U.S. District Judge George Howard, Jr. announced that Our President, despite his busy schedule, must give evidence in the March trial of his former partners the McDougals and Governor Jim Guy Tucker. Mr. Clinton will not have to appear in person and can probably give his testimony by satellite or videotape, unaccompanied, alas, by polygraph.

ally the consequences of... Penguin to market cheap editions of political classics to a British audience in a frenzy for political classics. Also doing very well are Machiavelli's The Prince, and Thomas More's Utopia. Mein Kampf might also be a bestseller, its author also having the distinction of being an economic lunatic and the inspiration for unparalleled carnage. The Pope visited Guatemala, Nicaragua, El Salvador, and Venezuela. His theme was peace and his constant companion, Kaopectate.

London officials are alarmed at the increasingly warlike tendencies of British vegetarians. Auspicing a vast and bellicose campaign against farmers and hamburgers in general, the Vegetarian Society is depicting the common cow as a "cocktail" of dangerous drugs — and one can only imagine the enmity towards the "cocktail" harbored by these bunny-food eaters. Also in February a very sickly man reeking of carrot juice and legumes, Mr. Steve Conner, represented himself as a spokesman for the Vegetarian Society and issued a chilling threat to all meat producers, saying that they had been "peddling their grisly wares for far too long." In fact, one of the Society's ads even panders to sexual perversion, featuring a rather grand picture of the hind quarters of a bull and focusing on a chandelier of flesh hanging between its legs. The ad insists that bovine testicles comprise a major ingredient in hamburgers, as do intestines, and rectums. In Los Angeles, California, a jury of his peers brought to flummox the state's case against Mr. Snoop Doggy Dogg on charges of assault and manslaughter. The 24-year-old rap artist and Haile Selassie look-alike whose fast-paced lifestyle has left him looking three times his age, displayed no emotion when, after two days of judgments, a spokesman for the jury pronounced Mr. Doggy Dogg not guilty of all charges against him in the past, the present, and the future. The decision was a disappointment to the Buchanan campaign, which had hoped Mr. Doggy Dogg would be incarcerated and limited in his capacity to campaign for Mr. Lamar Alexander.
