Arrival in Bratislava,
Slovakia 7/6/96

FIRST LADY HILLARY RODHAM CLINTON
STATEMENT UPON ARRIVAL IN BRATISLAVA
BRATISLAVA, SLOVAKIA
JULY 6, 1996

Good morning, ladies and gentlemen. It is a great pleasure to have an opportunity to visit the beautiful city of Bratislava. On behalf of President Clinton and the American people I extend warm greetings to all citizens of Slovakia. During my time in your country I look forward to becoming better acquainted with your history and culture. I will be meeting with political leaders, but I will also be learning about projects being carried out by non-governmental organizations in which Slovak and American citizens are working together in the areas of health care, environmental education, English language teaching, and managerial training for small and medium-size businesses. Together, we are striving to ensure a better future for our children. It is my hope that this visit will result in greater mutual understanding between our two countries and a deeper friendship.
