Dear Mr. Sofer:

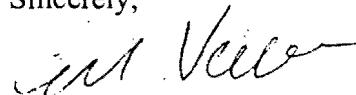

This is in reply to your inquiry of March 9, 2000.

A review of our records has located a file of correspondence between the Harvard Library and the Jewish Cultural Reconstruction Organization. We are pleased to provide you with the enclosed copy of that file which, I believe, provides the information that you requested. The letter from Keyes Metcalf to Hannah Arendt of May 29, 1951, lists the numbers of the books we were intended to receive as they appear on the long list of volumes also appended. The same items are marked with a check mark on the list of books—though in a few cases the numbers do not match.

Comparing a sampling of items marked on the list in the file as having been sent to Harvard, we find in each case that the item is in our catalog and hence still in our collection. We assume that would be the case for all of them.

I hope that this is helpful. If you need more information, do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Sidney Verba

Dear Sir:

This organization is acting as trustee and distributing agent of a considerable stock of books of Jewish content, which are under the control of the American authorities in Germany. It would be very helpful to us to have the enclosed questionnaire answered by the librarian in charge of your collection of Judaica and Hebraica. The answers should deal exclusively with this particular department of your library.

I trust you will understand that we are not yet in a position to foresee the extent to which the general libraries may hope to benefit from our project, and that we are inviting your cooperation to facilitate our planning. Please be assured that your communications to us will receive careful consideration.

Very truly yours,

Dear friends:

In view of the extraordinary history of the books which are now being distributed by Jewish Cultural Reconstruction, Inc. to Jewish libraries and institutions of higher learning throughout the world, we feel that it will be of great importance to have each volume marked, so that present and future readers may be reminded of those who once cherished them before they became victims of the great Jewish catastrophe.

Without such a distinctive mark it will also be impossible for present and future scholars to retrace the history and the whereabouts of the great cultural treasures of European Jewry which once were the pride of scholars, institutions and private collectors.

We therefore, are sending you today bookplates which should be pasted into each of the volumes which you received from us. We trust that you will understand the historic significance of this request and will gladly comply with it.

Faithfully yours,

Hannah Arendt

P.S.-- May I also remind you that a listing of all books which you received should be sent to JCR?

Prof. Harry A. Wolfson
Widener Library
Harvard University
Cambridge, Mass.

Dear Prof. Wolfson:

I am writing to you at the suggestion of Prof. Salo W. Baron, who, as you well know, is the president of this organization.

About a year ago we wrote a letter to the librarian of Harvard University, a copy of which you will find enclosed, to which we have not received a reply. We are now ready to distribute to general libraries a number of Judaica and Hebraica, which were entrusted to us by the American Occupation authorities in Germany. Unfortunately, we are not in a position to list our books by titles. The material arrived here sorted according to catagories and one catagory after another is unpacked and put on shelves. At this moment, for example, the following catagories are available at our depot: Yiddish and Hebrew secular literature, mostly pamphlets, Yiddish and Hebrew fiction, all kinds of liturgical literature and Biur, all editions. In about three weeks a considerable amount of post-revolutionary Russian literature, mostly Yiddish, will be available.

We believe that the nature of this material is such that it might be of considerable value to libraries with well established Judaica and Hebraica divisions because it might enable them to fill lacunae. Moreover, in a few months we shall be ready to distribute periodical literature in German, Hebrew and Yiddish--mostly broken sets--which has been listed according to titles and year of publication.

We usually proceed as follows: Either the interested librarian makes an appointment with our depot manager to come down to our Depot and select the titles from the shelves, or we send a specified number of books in each catagory to the librarian who returns to us those books which turn out to be duplicates in the library's collection. As for periodicals, we ask the librarians to draw up lists of those issues which they need in order to complete their own sets, as well as lists of periodicals which the library does not possess at all but would like to add to its present collection, even if only broken sets are available.

I am enclosing two copies of a questionnaire, which was attached to our first letter of March 7, 1949. I am also sending you two copies of an agreement between our organization and all recipient libraries, which lays down the conditions under which we operate and which I hope is self-explanatory.

I hope you don't mind our troubling you. Prof. Baron felt that this is a unique opportunity which Harvard University may regret to have missed.

Very sincerely yours

Dear Dr. Jackson:

We are glad to inform you that a collection of rare books will be distributed by this organization in the very near future. Because of the special nature of this material, we have prepared a list of available titles, which however cannot possibly meet scholarly standards, but which I hope will indicate to you what we have.

Rare books, in distinction from other categories, were pooled in this country for worldwide distribution with the exception of Israel. We shall have to limit the number of books to each institution and we do not yet know how many titles will be available to you.

May I suggest that you choose approximately 100 titles from the enclosed list and send us the list of numbers in the order of your preference. We certainly shall do our best to meet your requests, but cannot promise that you will receive every title you choose.

Crossed out titles on list #1 were put there by mistake:
 these books went to Israel.

Miss Hannah Arendt, Executive Secretary
Jewish Cultural Reconstruction, Inc.
1841 Broadway
New York 23, N. Y.

Dear Miss Arendt:

Professor Wolfson has shown me your letter of the 25th of May. We have searched our files everywhere and can find no copy of the letter of March 17 with the questionnaire; and I can only say that we are very sorry indeed, if they were sent here, if they were not promptly filled out and returned.

Though I understand that most of the early and valuable Jewish books have already been distributed, I would like to say that Harvard is a proper repository for such material; because, as you probably know, we have the finest pre-revolutionary Yiddish collection in the country and would rank with the New York Public, the Jewish Theological, and the Jewish Theological in Cincinnati in early Hebrew history and literature.

You suggest that it might be possible for you to send a selection of books in the categories of Yiddish and Hebrew secular literature, Yiddish and Hebrew fiction, and liturgical literature and Biur, as well as Yiddish post-revolutionary Russian literature. If you can send an adequate sampling of these different categories, we should be very grateful.

Would you address it to the attention of Mr. Laurence J. Kipp; and when it comes we will have it checked and inform you as to what part of it is not duplicate here.

Again may I say that we regret very much that we, evidently, somehow or other, did not receive the letter, a copy of which you sent to Professor Wolfson. We are sorry that we thereby missed on the earliest books, which, we understand, have already been distributed. We should be grateful to you if you would see that, if we do our part, we receive a proper share of the books still available for distribution.

Very truly yours,

W A J

Each institution receiving books from Jewish Cultural Reconstruction, Inc. receives them on the following conditions:

1. No books received may be sold, nor may any be exchanged for other books without the permission of Jewish Cultural Reconstruction obtained prior to the exchange.
2. The recipient will furnish Jewish Cultural Reconstruction with an itemized receipt, listing authors and their titles, within six months after the delivery of each shipment.
3. The recipient will place at the disposal of Jewish Cultural Reconstruction all duplicates of publications already in its library unless Jewish Cultural Reconstruction authorizes the recipient in writing to retain them specifically.
4. Any books identified by a claimant as his property to the satisfaction of Jewish Cultural Reconstruction within two years of its delivery to the recipient shall be returned promptly to the claimant or to Jewish Cultural Reconstruction upon the latter's request.
5. Any book which Jewish Cultural Reconstruction may desire to re-allocate to another library within two years of its delivery to the recipient shall likewise be promptly returned to Jewish Cultural Reconstruction upon its request. However, the total number of items requested for re-allocation shall not exceed 10% of the number of items allocated to the recipient.
6. The recipient agrees to pay Jewish Cultural Reconstruction 30 cents per book to reimburse the latter for the cost of transportation from Germany to the United States. Payment shall be made in advance unless Jewish Cultural Reconstruction consents to payment upon delivery.

Dear Mr. Jackson:

Thank you for your letter of May 31. I am sorry that our letter of last year was lost.

We shall be glad to send you the first shipment from our collection of books in the categories of Yiddish and Hebrew secular literature, Yiddish and Hebrew fiction, liturgical literature and Biur.
 The post-revolutionary Russian literature has not yet been unpacked, but we shall send it to you as soon as it is available.

Before we can ship any orders, however, we must have your signature on the agreement which we sent to you with our last letter. We would also appreciate it if you would fill out the questionnaire we sent you. The answer should deal exclusively with the Judaica and Hebraica department of your library.

We also have a considerable number of periodicals in Yiddish, Hebrew and German, mostly broken sets, which you might want to fill in lacunae in your own collection. If you send us a list of periodicals which the library needs in order to complete its sets as well as a list of periodicals which your library does not possess at all but would like to add to its present collection, we shall try to fill your needs, since our periodicals are listed according to titles and year of publication.

We hope to hear from you soon.

Dear Miss Arendt:

The agreement on which you wish our signature before you can ship any books is one that I would like to have explained a bit more before we could consent to sign. For instance, in paragraph 3 it states that all duplicates already in the library must be placed at the disposal of the Jewish Cultural Reconstruction. Does this mean all duplicates of Hebrew books that we may have? In that case, we would, of course, think several times before we agreed to such a proposal.

Before we would sign this agreement we would wish to be informed on this point, at any rate; and, also, before we enter into what appears to be a good deal of work on this side, could you send a list of, let us say, one hundred books that you offer, that we may check to see whether we would be justified in spending the amount of labor obviously involved in this transaction. To send you a complete list of periodicals in Hebrew and Yiddish now in this library would take the time of a skilled person for a good many days. That would cost us a considerable sum, which we are unwilling to contemplate unless we are certain that we would receive a sufficient return.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Jackson:

Thank you for your letter of June 10th.

Paragraph 3 of our agreement means that you will have to return those books which we send you which turn out to be duplicates of what you have. I am sorry that this paragraph caused a misunderstanding, but it never occurred to us that all duplicates already in the library should be placed at the disposal of Jewish Cultural Reconstruction.

I am very sorry that we cannot offer you books according to a list because of the labor involved. May I suggest that a visit to our depot--c/o Rentar Packaging Co., 1539 Troy Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.--may be the easiest way out of this difficulty.

I did not mean to suggest that you send me a complete list of your Jewish periodicals in Hebrew, Yiddish and German, now in the library, but that you list only those periodicals of which you do not possess a complete set and for which you are anxious to fill in the lacunae, in other words, a list of desiderata. Of these we are in need of the specific issues you are short of, the number of the volume and the year of publication.

I don't think you understood what I proposed in my last letter, and that was that you give us a sample list containing as many books as you wish that we might check to see how much would be duplicated already on our shelves. From such a sample we could tell whether it is worthwhile going through all of the labor that would be involved in such a transaction as you propose.

Please use your judgement in sending to Harvard any Hebrew or Yiddish material that you have available. We shall very much appreciate getting any material that you can send. Dear friend

On July 1 our organization will terminate the distribution of books and close the New York depot. Our present holdings consist of those books which were left after the first distribution of each category was completed.

We are now prepared to consider final requests. These, however, must reach us before June 1st from the American libraries and before June 10th from all organizations abroad. No requests will be considered after these dates. We will no longer be able to accept returns, so that every library participating in this final distribution will be free to exchange duplicates with other libraries.

Attached please find a request form, listing the different categories. Please indicate:

1. How many books you wish to receive altogether.
2. Approximately how many books you wish to receive in each category.
3. In which category or categories your library is especially interested.

Dear Mr. Metcalf:

Thank you for your letter of May 29th. You will understand that your selection of rare books arrived somewhat late and that therefore many of the titles which you indicated were no longer available. Those books which are available will be sent on to you in July.

Our New York depot will close on August 1st but this office will be open at least until October 1st so please continue to communicate with our offices.

Your proposition with respect to the Yiddish periodicals is entirely satisfactory. I also shall mail to you more book plates.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Miss Arendt:

Your circular letter of May 8th has pushed us on the selection from the rare book list enclosed in your letter of March 1st, addressed to Mr Jackson, and we have just today completed a selection, the numbers of which I append.* We have unfortunately been unable for several reasons to check our selections against our holdings, but we shall certainly appreciate receipts and hope that few will prove to be duplicated in our collections here. We understand from your letter of May 8th that you will no longer be able to accept duplicates, and that we are to exchange these with other libraries.

Your letter brings to mind several questions. With your New York depot closed, shall we continue to send to the above address our report of receipts which is to be finished within six months? We shall find it entirely too time-consuming to record accurately the receipts of broken runs from your "Yiddish periodical check list", which have just arrived. Would it satisfy your purposes if we were to check on your list with the union catalogue symbol for Harvard (H) the titles received and return the list to you? That procedure can be accomplished in a short time. May we have enough of your book plates to place in the Yiddish periodicals and such rare books as we shall be fortunate enough to have deposited here?

Thank you for your interest in the Harvard College Library.

Sincerely yours,

K. D. Metcalf, Director

Dear Miss Arendt:

I am writing in Mr Metcalf's absence, as I note that you want a prompt reply to your letter of July 3rd with the enclosed list. We have had the list checked and find that we lack all those titles with less than three checks, which I have underlined as you suggested. We are particularly interested in the volume on page 8, which we have checked, - the Bolingbroke "Letters on the Study and Use of History".

Thank you very much for letting us have these lists.

Dear Miss Brandt:

As requested in your letter of August 30th and as agreed to by us some time ago, I am enclosing two lists of the Hebrew and Yiddish material which the Harvard College Library has added to its collections. Referring to our letter of my 29th, you had previously mentioned that the rare books which we selected under that date would be sent to us in July, and neither Mr. Jackson nor Mr. Metcalf nor our Gift and Exchange Department have received any of this material. Can you let me know more as to when this material was sent out and how much was included in the shipment?

I look forward to hearing from you in this connection.

Thank you very much for the two lists of Hebrew and Yiddish material.

Regarding the rare books, on August 1, 1951 we sent you two cartons containing rare books which you had selected in May. I have not yet had a chance to compare your lists with this request list, but it seems to me that numbers 87, 89, 90, 91 definitely belong to our rare book list.

Please let me know about this at your early convenience.

Dear Miss Arendt:

I have followed up the information concerning the rare books carton which you gave in your letter of October 6th, and finally located the works in the catalogue section on a different floor of the building. It turned out that the 31 rare books were included in the Hebrew list which I sent you a short while ago. However, we found six works which were inadvertently omitted from that list, and I am enclosing a list of these for your records.

I believe this completes the listing of our receipt of books from you, and may I take this opportunity to send to you once more the appreciation and gratitude of myself personally and of the Library for your help so generously given.

Dear friend:

We have received numerous requests from our recipient libraries for the right to exchange books from our material which were either duplicates or were not needed by the institution. This is particularly true of those institutions which received books in closed cases.

Since our activities are now being terminated, the Board of Directors decided that a free exchange among recipient libraries be permitted, without prior approval on our part. JCR should, however, be informed of the transaction.

For your convenience, we are attaching a list of the major recipient libraries in this country.

With cordial regards

Sincerely yours

WHEREABOUT OF RARE BOOKS -- A GUIDE TO THE PRESENT LOCATION OF THE RARE BOOK COLLECTIONS

Each rare book has a filing card. The filing cards are in two drawers.

All cards bearing numbers only (up to 5091) are the cards of the original collection of rare books found in Offenbach and turned over to us.

The cards are divided into two batches: In the second drawer are the cards listing the books now in the Hebrew University Library. These cards have no other markings; if there are any other markings, they should be disregarded. In the top drawer are the cards listing the books which were distributed in countries outside of Israel.

Cards up to 5091: Where there are abbreviations next to the numbers, they indicate either the institution in the United States or the country outside the United States which received the particular book. In instances where there is more than one abbreviation, the one in ink or the one underlined in ink is the right one.

Cards bearing numbers preceded by CW refer to books from the Cosman Werner collection, formerly in Munich. //

Cards bearing numbers preceded by other letters refer to several collections of rare books which were turned over to JCR in Wiesbaden in 1950. These letters are:

- J indicating German Jewish material
- D indicating German non-Jewish material
- F indicating French material.

The cards are followed by a list indicating titles and recipient institutions for other non-Jewish rare books. Numbers are again preceded by letters:

- L for Latin
- G for Greek
- Sp for Spanish
- It for Italian

The last list enumerates books with a code number beginning with AH. This refers to rare books in the so-called Ahnenerbe collection; this was a collection looted from the Balkan countries by a Nazi University society called Ahnenerbe. //

A/AM - Ardelia R. Hall, Arts and Monuments Adviser

Restitution of Looted Art in Austria.

The September 1954 memorandum from EUR to A on the "Organizational Location of the Arts and Monuments Adviser" has recently been brought to my attention.

I should first explain, that there are no objects of art remaining under US control in the US Zone of Germany awaiting transfer to the Federal Government of Germany. The German Government received in 1951 microfilm of the Monuments, Fine Arts, and Archives (MFAA) records in the Central Collecting Points (CCP) necessary for the continuation of cultural restitution under the contractual agreement. The date when the records were microfilmed is given on the back of each CCP folder.

You may also wish to consider the following brief review of the history of the transfer of 967 items to US control in Austria from the Munich CCP and the attached relevant documents.

Cultural restitution in the US Zone of Austria, since the end of the war, has been severely restricted by the fact that no specialist MFAA officers were retained in the employ of USFA and no documents on the Nazi confiscations and art transactions were available in Austria. Nazi art, including the Hitler collection stored at Alt Aussee in Austria and the Goering collection found in the tunnel at Berchtesgaden in Germany, was transferred in the summer of 1945 to the Munich CCP for processing and restitution. The Munich CCP was the center in the US Zone of Germany for external and internal restitution of Nazi-confiscated art. Objects transferred from Austria were restituted at the Munich CCP in the name of the "Commanding General of USFA."

The Austrian Government received the assurance in 1948 that art moved for administrative purposes from Austria to Munich would not be turned over to the German authorities but would be retained under US control and would be returned to Austria (see photostat of letter from General Balmer, Deputy Commissioner of USFA, to Dr. Krauland, Federal Minister of Property Control and Economic Planning, dated 16 August 1948; attachment 1)

The Austrian Government, USPA, and USCGC between 1948 and 1952 made repeated requests and protests to HICOG and the Department, concerning the Balmer agreement. The Austrian protest is summarized in one of the Austrian notes dated May 9, 1949 (attachment 2). Mr. Coburn Kidd, OER, received the note at the time and participated in the lengthy consideration given the problem in the Department.

In 1952, a residual group of 967 paintings was transferred under Department instructions from the Munich CCP to Salzburg, following the withdrawal of the last American MFAMA officer from the CCP. The American position was summarized in the HICOG despatch No. 326 of March 4, 1950 (attachment 3) and again in the HICOG statement of January 11, 1952 (attachment 4).

The 967 items were to remain under direct US control and the Austrian Government took the physical custody. The American embassy in Vienna reported that "the Austrian Government...prefers this arrangement in order to prevent any pressure on the part of Germany" (Despatch No. 1486 of March 18, 1952; attachment 5).

The American position taken by the Department and repeatedly explained to the Austrian, German, and claimant governments, has been that the transfer was made in accordance with U.S. commitments and that the restitution of the identifiable items would be continued. In principle and practice, the US Government has always recognized its obligations to restore looted property to claimant nations.

A word should, perhaps, be said about the violent and unnecessary controversy which raged around the return to Austria of these 967 items. It unquestionably began with the general and mistaken notion that a large number of looted objects of art would remain unidentified and that the unidentified holdings would represent extremely valuable assets from which millions of dollars might be realized. This mistaken idea was current in Vienna as well as in Munich. The art authorities, however, who have dealt with the objects have known better. There is no gold mine here, only a comparatively few second-rate looted objects to be restituted.

The controversy originated in Munich with information and interviews given the press by a German employee and the present director of the Munich CCP, Dr. Hoffmann. The exaggerated value of the 967 items was deliberately fostered and the assertion made that they are "unquestionable German property" (attachment 6). Professor S. Lane Faison of Williams College, who was the director of the Munich CCP at the time, wrote that Hoffmann's statement that "es sich um einwandfreies deutsches Eigentum handle" was an absolute falsehood, and later that he was not yet far enough away to be indifferent to the Germans in Munich making monkeys of the US. The German misrepresentation that the paintings were a gift to Austria appeared in all the leading newspapers in Germany and New York. However, the official WICOG statement of January 11, 1952, (attachment 4) correcting the Hoffman publicity, received little notice in the German press, but was published in the leading American art journals.

The MFAA records and negatives have now been assembled in the Department from Frankfort and Kansas City (on loan from the Army). Dr. van Beyne, Chairman of the Treuhandverwaltung, and Rose Valland, Chief MFAA officer of the French Government are cooperating in the identification of ownership. A reply to an inquiry from Dr. Otto Demus, President of the Austrian Bundesdenkmalamt was made on April 8, 1955 (attachment 7) giving him the assurance that the prospect of completing the restitution within six months now appears favorable and that it is also hoped that restitution and movement of identified items from the salt mine in the mountains can be arranged during good weather before the end of summer.

The sole objective of the Department, I believe, should be to assist in the conclusion of the restitution of these items as rapidly and quietly as possible.
