c. Declaration No 05059, French claim OFR 7928, closed
The "1770 pictures with and without frames" turned out to be partly good reproductions of van Gogh paintings, partly the cheapest sort of small flower picture reproduction, all intended to be given away to purchasers of cheap furniture. In addition several boxes of ash trays, candle sticks and other objects contrived from old horse-shoes were surrendered and the whole lot are now awaiting restitution at the Wiesbaden Central Collecting Point. None of this property, however, has any connection with France and the French Mission should be advised to drop its claim.
