APO 757, U.S. Army
Attn: Jewish Restitution Adviser, Mr. [illegible]

1. This office has received two lists of paintings looted from the National Museum and various churches in Cracow, Poland. In addition to this report there is being forwarded to you by the Agent in Embassy in charge of the Office of the Director of Political Affairs in Berlin, a cable dated 4 January 1947 of which copies are attached hereto.

2. Some paintings taken into U.S. custody may be identified with some pictures mentioned in these lists. However, with the information we received from Poland, it is impossible to make a definite identification.

3. It is suggested that the following information be transmitted to this headquarters for every item claimed:

a) Subject
b) Description
c) Measurements
d) Material
e) Identifying marks
f) Photograph
g) Published references
h) Statement of ownership
i) Artist's name
j) Last known location
k) Place and date of seizure

4. A catalogue of the National Museum at Cracow is available here. If your office could send one copy of the above-mentioned information to this section, it would greatly facilitate our work in investigating looted art property from Poland.

5. When such information is on hand at this office, it should be used to continue our search to help you recovering this looted art property.

THE COMMISSIONER FOR THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
ON THE
UNITED NATIONS WAR CRIMES COMMISSION

Office of the Military Attaché
APO 413, U.S. Army
10 May 1946

Colonel E.J. Straight,
Executive Officer, War Crimes Branch,
United States Forces, European Theater,
APO 633, U.S. Army.

Dear Colonel Straight:

This office has been visited by Dr. Stefan Konorski, a Polish citizen who escaped from Poland to become an officer in the Polish Army in France and was evacuated by the British from Southern France. Dr. Konorski understands that S.S. General Karl Oberg is now on trial in the American Zone in Germany and wishes the American authorities to attempt to trace certain personal property taken from him by General Oberg in Lodz, Poland. General Oberg was billeted in the Lodz home of Dr. Konorski early in 1940 and removed from the home all personal property, including old and priceless rugs and paintings, to one of General Oberg's residences in Germany. The personal property is valued by Dr. Konorski at fifteen to twenty thousand dollars but has a greater intrinsic value because of its age and family connections.

We could offer Dr. Konorski no definite hope that any of his property could ever be recovered, but promised to write you in the outside event that one of your organizations might be able to recover a part of this property. Dr. Konorski's London address is 43 Aberdare Gardens, London, N.W.6.

I know that you are busy with much more important matters and hesitate to direct anything of trivial nature to your attention, but Dr. Konorski has obviously served the Allied cause well and if there is any information readily available concerning his property I am sure that this information will be much appreciated.

Yours sincerely,

Earl W. Kintner

You would therefore kindly oblige by giving me information in the following single case. I am the owner of the round painting of Gabriele Münter "Mary with the Singing Angels (with the babies)" which I gave as a loan to the Kaiser-Friedrich-Museum, Berlin. The picture was returned to me from the British Authorities after the capitulation of the Third Reich together with the most valuable ones of the museum which were brought to Thuringia in April 1945. It was impossible to obtain more detailed information as it seems that the nine pictures to be returned to Berlin are not identical with the pictures which were brought to Merkers. Furthermore, you would kindly oblige by letting me know if your Authorities, if you know anything about this case are forwarding Kandinsky in the American Zone I have to apply. I learned from the news-papers that the Berlin bust of "Nofretete" which was brought to the Kaiserroda-Mine in Thuringia is now under your custody.

You would therefore kindly oblige by giving me information in the following similar case: I am the owner of the round painting of Sandro Botticelli "Maria with the Singing Angels (with the Lilies)"which I gave as a loan to the Kaiser-Friedrich-Museum Berlin. The last information I got from the British Authorities after the capitulation stated that this painting, together with the most valuable ones of the museum, was brought to a mine in Thuringia in April 1945. It was impossible to receive more detailed information. As it seems that the mine referred to is that at Kaiserroda you would kindly oblige by letting me know at your earliest convenience, if you know anything about this case and to which Authority in the American Zone I have to apply. I could not get any information from Berlin.

29 July 1948

SUBJECT: Interrogation of Hans [illegible], Engineer

FROM: [illegible]

TO: [illegible]
Attn: Mr. Leonard

1. Reference is made to CIOAG Letter dated 9 July 1948, subject as above. Mr. Königer, employee of the Germanisches Nationalmuseum Nürnberg, formerly of the Burton (Beuthen) Landesmuseum, has been interrogated on 20 July 1948 and the following report is made.

2. Mr. Königer joined the Upper Silesian Landesmuseum in 1939 and was entrusted with the organization and administration of the modern gallery including 19th and 20th century painting. He was responsible to Dr. Pfützenreiter, director of the museum. The museum consisted of several departments (prehistoric department, department of natural history, painting, sculpture, furniture, decorative art, etc.) following the general pattern of German Landesmuseums.

3. Mr. Königer stated that the various departments of the museum have evacuated their material in 1941 or '42 and the following years to save them from air attacks. The material was taken to various repositories in the country. While most of the important collections of the museum were evacuated, a residue of the material remained at the museum. To the best of his knowledge, the repositories used by the museum were all in Upper Silesia and none of the material was taken to places outside that territory. While Mr. Königer has no detailed knowledge about the department of natural history and some other departments with which he was not connected, he believes this to be true in all cases.

4. Mr. Königer remembers the location of the following repositories of the museum:

a. Neustadt/Obersculesien, Franziskaner-Kloster vor dem Tor (paintings, furniture, sculpture, graphic art);

b. Landes-Heil- und Pflege-Anstalt at Lublinitz (Loben) (mostly paintings from the 19th century)

[illegible]

P. 21

c. Schloss Schreiberesdorf near Oberalogau; the material from the repository was later transferred to Neustadt and Neisse;

d. a small village near Sondenfeld (prehistoric material, furniture and fine arts);

e. the museum of Neisse, Oberschlesien (19th century painting and antiques taken from Schreiberesdorf).

5. Mr. Kaniger has no knowledge of what happened to the material afterwards. He had to leave Neisse in January 1945 and Silesia in March or April 1945. In his belief, all the material remained in Upper Silesia and may have been plundered by troops or by the population.

6. Additional information on the evacuation of the Neisse museum material could be obtained from the former director of the museum, Dr. Pfitzenmeier, now living at Marburg/Lahn, Wilhelmsberg-Baden. Dr. Pfitzenmeier is employed at some office concerned with wild life protection (Naturschutz) at Ludwigsburg near Stuttgart.

SUBJECT: Art Property Belonging to Count J. Potocki and to Count Maurycy Potocki.

TO : Monuments Fine Arts and Archives Branch
G. S. & A. Division
Headquarters, U.S. Forces in Austria
APO 777, U.S. Army

1. This office is in receipt of two Polish claims:

a. The first claim emanating from the British Interim Treasury Committee for Polish Affairs in London, dated 10 September 1945, is concerning art property belonging to Count J. Potocki, Polish Minister Plenipotentiary in Madrid. The house of Count J. Potocki, at Krakowskie Przedmiescie 15, Warsaw, has been partly looted by the German authorities in 1939. It is believed that the other part of the art material involved has been looted at a later date, probably in August 1944, during the Warsaw rising, before the residence of Count J. Potocki with its dependances was burned down by the German army. Attached herewith as Inclosure 1 is a list comprising all the art property involved.

b. The second claim originating from the Polish Mission for Restitution to Poland, dated 4 September 1945, is concerning art property belonging to Count Maurycy Potocki, which was been looted from Jabionna, near Warsaw, in 1944. Attached herewith as Inclosure 2 is a copy of the the correspondence with particulars regarding this matter.

2. It is requested that an endeavour be made to locate this art property and any information available be transmitted to this office so that we may make an appropriate reply to the aforementioned Polish organization.

LIST O.F.

PAINTINGS.

1. Portrait of [illegible], on wood, Cabinet wheel.

(According to an inscription on the back, the portrait was painted by [illegible], pupil of Clouet. A reproduction and detailed description of this portrait is to be found in " [illegible] ", edited by prof. Jerzy Zygulski).

2. Portrait (small size) of STEFAN BATORY, painted on copper in the year of the death of the King. Very good.

(In the first half of the last century this portrait belonged to the collection of Prusaynskis in Tomorany, near Kitaie Poland. It is mentioned in the magazine " [illegible] " as belonging to the " Dutch Consul " and belonged to " Pumtables collection".)

3. Portrait (bust) of King [illegible] IV, painted, in his Coronation robes.

4. Portrait, full length, of King Stanislaw August Poniatowski in coronation robes, painted by [illegible] (one of the [illegible]).

5. Portrait (knee length) life-size - of the Empress August Josephine in red veils - (from the atelier of Gros[illegible])

6. Portrait (full length) of Napoleon I in coronation robes by GERARD.
(This portrait very well known from reproductions. Was given by Napoleon I to the Duke of Talleyrand. It was purchased by the Potocki family direct from the Castle of Valencay. During the bombardment of Warsaw it was taken out of the frame rolled up, undamaged.

7. Large portrait of King Stanislaw Leszczynski of LUXEMBOURG.

8. Smaller portrait of Stanislaw Leszczynski on horseback, on the back ground of a battle - by [illegible].

"H" c.o.

PAINTINGS. 1. JAN MATEYKO - Full size portrait on oval or canvas of Alfred Potocka, née San Germo. She leans on an armchair, on which is placed a rifle and golden fleece, costume painted about 1890. Signed Rome - as sketched by Mateyko.
