SUBJECT: Heuman Meeting

As it is the best time for all, I have confirmed with Prudence Lezy in Judy Heuman's Office that you will all come to DOE for a follow-up meeting on Monday, May 23, 2:00-3:30. I'll request a car/van for the ride over.

Thanks.

I think you've given me the information I want...in the meantime, I think it would be useful for you to let Judy know that I am very supportive of her efforts and would like for you to speak with Mike when he is back to let him know we are very interested in that matter.

Also, I have had a difficult time (not couching this in negative terms at all!) meshing my schedule with Judy's to talk more about IDEA. Would you tell her that we are eager to have a follow up discussion on the matter, esp. if they feel through the retreat she mentioned they would be having to gather info from the different groups they have working on the issue...see how she feels we can do this most productively.

On the transition issues we discussed with her: tell her I am hoping in the next six weeks to pull together an informal group of people from appropriate departments/organizations to have a discussion on this issue and determine there where we should really head with it. I would be interested in a list of persons/orrganizations she feels should be included...if the list is large I may do it in two or three sessions initially. Thanks.

Carol, Bill asked me to look into this for you. In fact, Judy Heumann made reference to this column and issue in the talk at PCMR yesterday. As best, I can recall she described it more or less in the same terms as Kamen's column: as part of her efforts to make the entire Department sensitive to, and responsive to the "all means all" spirit of recent legislation she found that the Department was not taking "accessibility" (read inclusion) into account when making these Blue Ribbon Schools recognition awards. She intends for that to change. I tried to reach Mike Smith for his perspective but he is on travel. I could easily get further details from Judy if that's what you mean by the true status of the issue. I have a call in to her on another matter.

Stan

p.s. Everyone was extremely happy with your super talk today at PCMR!

Bill, can you get an update from the Dept. of Ed. on the true status of the issue of accessibility for disabled students in relation to Blue Ribbon Schools as discussed in Kamen's column today? Thanks.
