Ms. Carol H. Rasco
Assistant to the President for Domestic Policy
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Ms. Rasco:

I will be graduating from Vanderbilt Law School in May 1994 and I am interested in joining your staff. Enclosed is my resume for your consideration.

I have diverse interests and experience, including social welfare, transportation, housing, and labor policy. Primarily, I am interested in seeing the United States succeed in solving its problems and regaining the confidence of its citizens. As someone who has worked in government, I realize this is no small task. However, I would very much like to be a part of the team working on the solutions.

In addition to my legal education, I hold a Master of Public Administration from Columbia University. In graduate school, I concentrated in urban planning, particularly economic development and land use policy, and I was the project director for a study of the economic transformation of Hudson County for the Port Authority. Between graduate school and law school I worked for the City of New York for four years, including one year as a Grants Manager with the New York City Department of Transportation. During my experience with the New York City Mayor's Office of Operations, I had oversight responsibility for all the citywide agencies, and I served as staff to the Citywide Employee Drug Testing and the Americans with Disabilities Act Task Forces. In addition, I worked on implementation of the Clean Air Act Amendments at the New York City Mayor's Office of Transportation.

In law school, I have concentrated in two areas: employment law and social welfare policy. Currently, I am studying and researching social legislation in the United States and Europe. In addition, as a third-year student, I am licensed to practice in Tennessee. I participate in Vanderbilt's Legal Clinic, where I represent public housing tenants in eviction cases.

I believe in public service and want to build a career in government. Evidence of this is found in my prior work experience and my receipt of the 1993 Junius Allison Legal Aid Award for my service to the Vanderbilt Legal Aid Society as its Public Interest Stipend Fund Director.

I welcome the opportunity to discuss my qualifications and interests with you further. I can be in Washington during my winter break (December 21 through January 6) or any other time to meet with you at your convenience.

Thank you in advance for your consideration. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you require additional information; I can be reached at P6/(b)(6)

Sincerely,

Errika Kalomiris

The White House

Dear Carol:

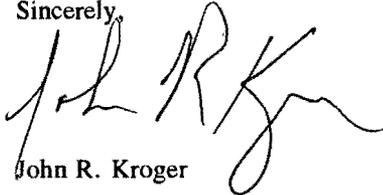

Though I assume you are aware of my situation, I wanted to formally express my interest in a position on your staff. I believe I would be a helpful addition, given my strong knowledge of domestic policy, my experience on the campaign, and my understanding of the Hill.

I won't try to give you a hard sell -- I know you probably have enough problems on your hands! -- but I would be very interested in working for you. If you could let me know if there is some possibility, or whether I should make other plans, it would be greatly appreciated.

I can be reached at home at P6/(b)(6), at my old transition number (202) 973-1449, or through Bruce Reed.

Thanks for your consideration, congratulations, and good luck.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "John R. Kroger". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "John" and last name "Kroger" clearly distinguishable.

Dear Carol,

August 1, 1993

I haven't talked with you since before the inauguration, but I wrote. Sorry you didn't get it. It must have gotten lost in the bundles of mail. That is why I called today.

You asked me to call you about working for you or someone somewhere in the administration after the inauguration. I would like to talk to you about a couple of areas where I feel I could be an asset. I am particularly interested and suited for FEMA (being a geography teacher), the national service program (again, being a good communicator and educator), HUD, the Education Dept., the Navy Secretary's Office (John Dalton is from San Antonio) or any position where I could be of help to you and the First Lady.

I want to be a part of helping Bill become the best president he can be. I want to be a part of getting him re-elected. I am willing to do anything I can. I am at my home at AC P6/(b)(6)

Looking forward to talking to you,

Don

Re: Don Horner
Date: 29 June 92

Don Horner taught social studies and coached girls volleyball at Metropolitan High School during the 1991-92 school year. Metropolitan High School is a comprehensive magnet high school in the Kansas City Missouri school district serving students from a cross section of ethnic backgrounds in grades 9 through 12. Metro High opened its doors to students in the 1990-91 school year, and started its athletic program, including girls volleyball, in 1991-92. Mr. Horner was the first person to coach our girls volleyball program. He successfully guided the program to a winning record while instilling a sense of fairness and healthy competition in the student-athletes.

I recommend Mr. Horner to anyone who needs a hard-working, moral, adult role model to guide young people in learning how to face a challenge. He is consistently supportive of the total school program, and supports the concepts of team play and cooperation both as a coach and as a teacher. Feel free to call me if needed. My office phone number in Kansas City, Missouri is 1-816-871-8150.

Ms. Carol Rasco
Domestic Policy Advisor
to the President
The White House
Washington, D. C. 20506

Dear Carol:

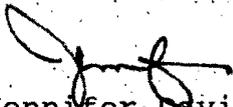

It was wonderful to run into you at the NWPC reception the other night. Congratulations, again, on your appointment. You truly serve as a role model for women like myself who hope to follow in your foot steps.

I know that you are extremely busy, so any advice or assistance you can offer me is greatly appreciated. As I mentioned to you the other night, I would be very interested in working directly for you if there were a position available. However, realizing that a position in on the domestic policy staff is probably unlikely, this morning I sent the enclosed letter to Regina Montoya expressing my interest in working for her as a member of the intergovernmental staff. With my NGA background, I believe that I could be an asset to the intergovernmental operation. I have also enclosed a recent letter to Mark Gearan outlining other positions I am interested in if a post in the White House does not materialize.

Carol, although I have been told by the transition personnel office that my campaign experience has assured me a spot on the priority hire list, it looks as though I need a "guardian angle" or two to pull for me from within the administration. Because you are familiar with my work at NGA and my loyalty to President Clinton as shown by my campaign experience, you are a very important ally.

I will call you over the next few days for your advise. Thank you, again, for your help.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Davis

Mr. Mark Gearan
Deputy Chief of Staff
1120 Vermont Avenue, NW

Dear Mark:

Congratulations! Your addition to the White House team proves that good guys do finish first.

Thank you for your earlier letter and offer to help. It looks like now is the time when I could really use your assistance.

As you know, my original goal was to work as a member of the White House Intergovernmental staff as a liaison to the governors. With the announcement of the White House staff yesterday, I am assuming that the new intergovernmental office will be small and that this is no longer an option. I am, however, still interested if there is going to be another liaison post reporting to Regina Montoya. I have also let Carol Rasco know of my interest in assisting her if there were a spot available on the domestic policy staff.

With most of the White House positions filled, I have reprioritized my original list of desired positions, targeting agency intergovernmental and special assistant posts. I would greatly appreciate anything you could do to ensure that I am on the lists, and will be interviewed for, the following four positions:

1. Director of Intergovernmental Affairs, Department of Health and Human Services
2. Special Assistant to Secretary Shalala, Department of Health and Human Services
3. Special Assistant to Secretary Riley, Department of Education
4. Director of Intergovernmental Affairs, Department of Education

Realizing that this process could take some time, I have informally spoken with two of Governor Riley's staff regarding a consulting position at the Department of Education assisting with the agency transition. I have not been successful at securing a paid position with the transition to date, so any assistance you could give me in this area would also be greatly appreciated.

Mark, you have a loyal follower in me and I am very thankful for your support. I will contact your office in a few days to follow up. Thank you and congratulations, again.

Ms. Regina Montoya

Old Executive Office Building

Dear Regina:

Congratulations on your appointment as director of the White House intergovernmental operation. Maura Brueger has told me a lot about you and I look forward to meeting you.

Prior to joining the Clinton presidential campaign as a state director, I served as Ray Scheppach's special assistant at the National Governors' Association. My responsibilities included working on a daily basis with the White House Intergovernmental office to ensure that the political and policy requests of the governors were being appropriately managed. Over the years, I have had the chance to work with Carol Rasco and Mark Gearan and they, along with Ray Scheppach, serve as my references. When I left NGA to join the campaign, I had hoped to return to Washington to assist the governors from within the new administration. I would now be very interested in working for you.

I have enclosed my resume and reference letters from Ray Scheppach and NGA Chairman Roy Romer along with a letter from Mark Gearan. In addition, with the NGA meeting next weekend, I would like to offer to assist you with the arrangements. As Ray will tell you, I have a record of professionally staffing six NGA meetings, three of which involved arranging White House meetings with the President.

I will call you soon to see if there would be a convenient time for us to meet. I would very much appreciate your consideration. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Governor Richard Riley
Presidential Transition Personnel Office
1120 Vermont Avenue, N.W.
11th Floor
Washington, D.C. 20005

Dear Governor Riley:

Congratulations on your position with the Clinton transition team. It has been encouraging to see President-elect Clinton involve so many of his former colleagues from the National Governors' Association in the campaign and during the transition process.

I would like this letter to serve as a recommendation for Jennifer Davis for the position of Special Assistant to the President for Intergovernmental Affairs. Ms. Davis has both the campaign credentials and the overall political and policy qualifications for the position.

Jennifer worked as my Special Assistant at the National Governors' Association for over three years. In that capacity she served as a trusted advisor and manager. Jennifer played a key role organizing the bi-annual NGA meetings, staffing the Governors' executive committee, and in overseeing major association initiatives including the Governors' Education Summit with President Bush. Her position required that she develop a policy understanding of issues ranging from health care to education, from economic conversion to transportation and the impact these policy issues have on the states. One of Jennifer's important strengths was her ability to work well with a range of people including Governors, Governors' staff, White House and agency staff, etc. As you are well aware, the bi-partisan nature of NGA can at times make it difficult to build consensus. Jennifer proved that she had the skills to work on a bi-partisan basis to help the National Governors' Association accomplish its goals. This is the kind of person President-elect Clinton will need on his intergovernmental staff.

Jennifer resigned her position at NGA last July to serve as a state director on the Clinton campaign. Before the campaign concluded, she had played a key management role in two state -- Connecticut and Maine -- which for the first time since 1968, both voted for Governor Clinton at the Presidential level.

Governor Richard Riley

Jennifer will be an asset to the Clinton administration in whatever role she plays. I hope that you will give her special consideration. She has proven loyalty and commitment to Governor Clinton, and to promoting public policy that will make this world a better place. Attached is a copy of her resume.

Thank you for your consideration. I hope to have a chance to see you soon.

Sincerely,

Raymond C. Scheppach

Dear Dick:

I am pleased to recommend Jennifer Davis for a position on the White House Intergovernmental staff. As you know, Jennifer joined the Clinton Presidential Campaign after having worked for more than three years at the National Governors' Association. At NGA, she was the special assistant to the executive director.

As a member of the NGA executive committee and vice chairman of the association last year, I had the opportunity to work with Jennifer on a regular basis. I found her to be politically astute, an extremely hard worker and someone who could get results. Jennifer understands the diverse political and policy needs of the governors and the importance of our participation in major budget and policy decisions at the federal level.

I will appreciate your serious consideration of Jennifer Davis for a position on the White House Intergovernmental staff.

Sincerely,

Roy Romer
Governor

Dear Jennifer:

Thank you for getting in touch to discuss your interest in working on the Transition.

I am firmly committed to ensuring that people such as yourself who have worked so hard for Governor Clinton and Senator Gore receive due consideration for employment in this office. Even more importantly, I plan to make sure that you also have the opportunity to be considered for positions with the Administration.

In terms of working on the Transition, I will share your resume with various departments that are hiring staff. For work in the Administration, Michael Whouley and his staff in Transition Personnel will be working with Governor Riley to place campaign staff in positions corresponding to their skills and experience.

If you have filled out and turned in the Campaign Personnel Information Form it should already be in the Personnel Office. If you have not done so, I would suggest that you complete the form as soon as possible and mail it in to the Personnel Office.

Your long hours of service on behalf of President-elect Bill Clinton and Vice-President-elect Al Gore were crucial to our success. Thank you for your commitment and your time.

I look forward to working with you again in the future.

Sincerely,

Mark Gearan

Clinton/Gore '92

July-November

- o Director of Special Projects, Maine: Oversaw media and visibility events focusing on key issues of concern to voters: (1) The Economy: organized events in Portland and Bangor for business owners and the press to discuss economic issues with national CEOs who endorsed Governor Clinton; (2) Choice: organized reception and press conference with Roe v. Wade lawyer Sarah Weddington focusing on the importance of a woman's right to choose; (3) Health Care: organized events in Portland and Augusta featuring Vermont Governor Howard Dean, a physician and a health care reform expert, who spoke on behalf of Governor Clinton's health care reform proposals; (4) The Deficit: organized press events for John White, Ross Perot's former Issues Director, to discuss why he endorsed Governor Clinton's economic plan. Responsibilities also included staffing the Victory '92 state-wide bus tour; overseeing a door-to-door effort in Republican towns across the state; and public speaking throughout the state.
- o State Director, Connecticut: Managed state political campaign operation including press, field, constituency groups, fundraising and special events. While director, Governor Clinton's standing in the polls improved from an 8-to an 18-point margin in Connecticut.

For the first time since 1968, both Connecticut and Maine supported a Democrat at the presidential level.

National Governors' Association (NGA), Washington, D.C. 1989-1992
Special Assistant to the Executive Director

- o Advised Executive Director on political, policy and management issues. Served as liaison to governors' senior staff, the White House, congressional offices, and state and local organizations.
- o Assisted with the development of major association initiatives, including the Education Summit with President Bush; the development of the National Education Goals; the 1991 Block Grant Proposal to Congress; and the compromise proposal on Medicaid contributions and taxes with the administration and Congress.
- o Served as a member of the NGA Senior Management Staff, which provides overall budget, management, and policy direction for the association. NGA has a $10 million budget.
- o Designed programs for governors' biannual business meetings.

- o Tracked priority issues, including the federal budget, education, health care, economic conversion, transportation, and the environment.

Dukakis for President/Lautenberg for Senate Coordinated Campaign
 Director, Mercer County (Trenton/Princeton), New Jersey (1988)

- o Managed the second largest swing district in the country. Mercer County was one of only three New Jersey counties that supported Michael Dukakis. Senator Lautenberg was successful in Mercer County and statewide.
- o Directed seven staff and more than 250 volunteers, a 25-person phone bank operation, and get-out-the-vote activities involving 500 paid election-day workers.

Cities in Schools, Inc. (CIS), Washington, D.C. 1986-1988

- o Education Consultant: Developed case studies on four CIS city programs designed to encourage at-risk youth to complete their education. These model programs integrate a variety of community resources--both public and private--through the schools to provide additional support to students.
- o Special Assistant to the Executive Vice President: Wrote public and private funding proposals, and quarterly reports to the Department of Justice and other funding agencies. Developed a planning and budgeting process, a management information system (MIS), and a strategy to computerize the national and regional offices.

Coro Foundation for Public Policy, St. Louis, Missouri 1984-1985

- o Fellow: Selected through national competition to participate in leadership training program in public affairs. Project assignments included the office of St. Louis Mayor Vincent Schoemehl, the United Auto Workers Union, the Richard Beard for Attorney General campaign, Centerre Bank, and St. Louis County Hospital. Co-directed study on corporate philanthropy in St. Louis that was published by the Monsanto Corporation.

National Women's Political Caucus, Washington, D.C. 1991-present

- o Co-Chair, Planning and Development Committee: Appointed by NWPC President Harriett Woods to oversee the organization's strategic planning process.

JUL 22 REC'D

Ms. Carol Rascoe
Assistant to the President for Domestic Policy
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Carol:

It was good of you to return my call last week and to give me a few minutes of your time. As I told you, I am exploring to determine what positions may exist now or in the future that might permit me to serve as part of President Clinton's administration.

I thought that since you and I only first met at the time both our daughters went on the St. Stephen's and St. Agnes school trip to Portugal, it might be helpful for me to give you a little more information about my background. I have had eleven years of experience in the federal government which includes four years in the Department of Agriculture when President Carter was in office. I was Assistant to the Administrator of the Foreign Agricultural Service and acted as the Congressional liaison for the administrator. Before that, I had worked for several years on Capitol Hill, first with Senator McClellan and later with Congressman Bill Alexander. In 1981, I went back to Capitol Hill and worked for a brief time for Congressman Alexander then went to work full-time for Congressman Beryl Anthony. I left the government in early 1986 and joined the faculty at Prince George's Community College as Associate Professor of Political Science where I am now.

Prior to coming to the D.C. area in 1975, I had been in graduate school at the University of Kansas where I completed my Ph.D. in political science in 1973. I got my B.A. from Ouachita in 1966 and my M.A. from the University of Arkansas in 1968. My studies and experience have covered a wide range of public policy issues over the years and I consider myself well prepared to deal with most major issues. I teach classes in political science and lecture on everything from agriculture to health care to export policy on a regular basis.

I have also been active in the Democratic party both in Arkansas and in Virginia. Cecile and I attended the 1974 Democratic party convention in San Francisco as guests of the Arkansas delegation and I was a Clinton delegate to the 1992 Northern Virginia convention. I also was an early supporter and contributor to President Clinton's campaign for President and I did interviews and published in the national community college press on his behalf. The President and I met on many occasions when he was governor and I was working as a staff member in the House of Representatives. I believe that he would remember me, even though we have not spoken since he was elected in 1992.

President Clinton was close to Professor Jim Ranchino at Ouachita who, before he died, was a prominent pollster in Arkansas. Ranchino was sort of a mentor to me and first introduced me to Mr. Clinton when he was running for Attorney General back in the 1970's. You may remember that he was married to Loveda Ross from DeWitt and that we discussed her when we were talking at the airport last Spring.

Warren Bass, who was a political activist in Little Rock until he died, was also a close friend of mine and was a strong supporter of Mr. Clinton, as you may know. Of course, Bill Alexander and Beryl Anthony are the two persons best aware of my abilities and both of them could be referred to for added information. Senator Pryor and Senator Bumpers both know me and while I never have worked for either of them, they are generally aware of my work. Once I have identified a position that I may be interested in, I plan to ask them to write letters of recommendation for me.

I have been talking to the White House personnel office and will be meeting with a person working for Craig Smith to determine what positions may be open. In the meantime, if you hear of anything which might be open which would provide me with an opportunity to serve the President, I would appreciate it if you would let me know.

I look forward to seeing you at some future time and I thank you very much for any guidance or recommendations you can provide.

Sincerely yours,

Ron Deaton

P.S. The good work that the White House is doing on health care will be appreciated and it is the right thing to do. We support the President!

Dear Congressman Jefferson:

My sister has informed me that the Clinton Administration is seeking qualified minorities for various positions and that you may be of assistance in my efforts to seek such employment. As the enclosed resume reflects, I am qualified for many jobs. I am very interested in putting my skills to the use of the President and his programs and would only prove an asset to the Administration.

I would appreciate any assistance. Two particular positions have been brought to my attention. They are:

1. Budget Examiner AQ/F, Ann# OMB-93-27-IM
2. Budget Examiner AQ/F, Ann# OMB-93-28-IM

I am also interested in other positions which would best utilize my skills. If additional information is needed, please call me. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

COMMANDING OFFICER
Navy Recruiting District
Little Rock, Arkansas

1 June 1993

Dear Carol,

Thank you for your gracious offer and help regarding my resumé to Mrs. Clinton.

I am due to receive orders in the near future to return to Washington sometime in the fall. Depending on your needs and the availability of positions, I would consider tendering my resignation as an active duty naval officer, and gladly serve in a civilian capacity.

Should you or Mrs. Clinton desire an interview, I am available to travel anytime. As it happens, I will be in the Washington area on business from 18-25/27 June.

I look forward to hearing from you, and appreciate your interest so much!

Sincerely,
Aiane Carnevale

COMMANDER DIANE CARNEVALE

Mrs. Hillary Clinton
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mrs. Clinton,

I was so happy to hear from you recently, and was pleased you found the books on angels an inspiration during a tough time. We had a special prayer session for you and your family during our Disciple I Bible Class at First United Methodist.

I would like to take the liberty to explore opportunities to join your staff as your military aide or as special assistant for strategic humanitarian issues. I realize that either idea would be a new position, but I believe that you would agree that the focus of our military powers is rapidly changing and that these changes are complex and dramatic. I am certain that my military expertise and foreign service training would be enormously beneficial to your challenging role as leader of the world's most powerful navy.

As you know, I am Commanding Officer of the Navy Recruiting District in Little Rock. You may recall from my resume that I also have held demanding positions in the Navy's highest echelons and that I have a Master of Science in Foreign Service in International Security Affairs and U.S. Foreign Policy and Diplomacy from Georgetown. I have written about and formulated policy on arms control, as well as other politico-military matters, and could also serve you well on the National Security Council.

I am very proud of my most recent accomplishment, which was being named Outstanding Rotarian of the Year in District 6150 (37 clubs and 2,450 members in Arkansas). I received the award for devising and spearheading - with Dr. Jay D. Holland - a drive to collect and deliver medical supplies to Somalia last year. I am deeply committed to humanitarian initiatives and environmental concerns.

I have a lot to offer our country and I am excited about the possibilities of working with you. Naturally, I would welcome the opportunity to discuss your objectives and expectations.

Thank you for considering these ideas and my qualifications. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Diane Carnevale

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Navy Recruiting District Little Rock enacts a "vision with wings" for people of Somalia and Armenia

(Little Rock, AR) - As military actions continue in the civil war-torn country of Somalia on the African continent and the country of Armenia in the former Soviet Union, the lives of children and families at various refugee camps in the countries have been made a little healthier and happier due to efforts and contributions of Navy Recruiting District, Little Rock, Arkansas.

The 160 personnel of the Recruiting District, commanded by CDR Diane Carnevale, in cooperation with the United Methodist Church of Little Rock, donated more than five tons of medical supplies and sports equipment which have been distributed by the International Red Cross. A second and final shipment with $50,000 of medicine and medical supplies will be shipped to Armenia in early May and will be distributed through private medical sources from Little Rock.

The collection effort of more than five tons of medical supplies and soccer balls for the children, headed by Carnevale and Dr. Jay Holland, a Little Rock physician and fellow church member, began in earnest in October 1992 following publication of an article in a Little Rock newspaper concerning the strife of the Somali people.

Carnevale mentioned to Holland that close friend and professional colleague, Marine Brig. Gen. Frank Libutti, then commander of a Joint Task Force Operation called "Provide Relief", was directing the United States' Somalia relief effort last August 1992. "My late husband worked for the general at Headquarters, Marine Corps in 1978," said Carnevale. Libutti was with Carnevale's husband when he succumbed to cancer in 1987 and it was her way of showing her respect for Libutti's efforts with the Somalis by "giving back a little, and being part of the solution, she said. "I contacted (Brig. Gen.) Libutti's staff in Mombasa, Kenya and asked, 'What do you need?'" said Carnevale. "The answer was medical supplies and equipment, not food or clothing. The next day, an unexpected 11-page wish list from the International Red Cross was faxed to Dr. Holland and myself listing medical supplies and equipment as the major items of immediate need by the Somali people."

Many of the children of Somalia were dying from pneumonia and the diseases that accompany starvation, Holland was noted as saying. Due to Somalia's Third-World status, the cheap antibiotics available in the United States "will work on" the people of the country. The average cost for 1,000 tablets of penicillin is only $21. Approximately 20 tablets will save one child's life and one bottle will save approximately 500 people's lives, Holland noted.

After putting their heads together, Carnevale and Holland decided to garner support from Arkansas' medical community for relief efforts in Somalia. Holland agreed to send a letter to the 2,600 members of the Arkansas Medical Society asking for donations of medical supplies and money. The money would be used to purchase additional equipment, as well as cover postage costs.

The duo then took their idea to the pastor of Little Rock's First United Methodist Church for assistance and church support. Letters were sent to 800 Arkansas United Methodist churches requesting they serve as drop-off points for the supplies.

"We just told people what we needed and the supplies started coming in," said Carnevale. "As a result of our efforts more than four tons of medical supplies and sports equipment have been donated and distributed to the Somalis by the International Red Cross and the remaining 2,000 pounds of medicine will be redirected to Armenia in early May through Dr. Holland's medical contacts in Little Rock."

When asked about her motivation for the relief effort, Carnevale stated, "It was an issue that could not be denied. Our effort was God's work, and we were the catalysts to hopefully make a small difference to two nations in need. Nothing is more satisfying than knowing you and your team have done the right thing at the right time, and human suffering has been addressed in a positive way."

"Just a glance at the morning headlines or on the evening news, foretells of the ties the Navy has as a world-wide Ambassador," said Carnevale. "When we first began the project last October, NRD Little Rock personnel, various Arkansas United Methodist churches and the many physicians across the state, had set the standard as the first state in the nation to demonstrate joint cooperation toward Somalia and to react positively and quickly with gestures of hope for this impoverished country. We are also pleased to be able to send medicine to Armenia during a critical time in their country," said Carnevale.

"We have been instrumental in providing medical supplies and athletic equipment to the country in a humanitarian effort of goodwill with our one airlift to Somalia. The first relief flight departed Little Rock Air Force Base in November carrying assorted medical supplies and equipment along with 18 soccer balls for the children," said Carnevale. The C-141 Starlifter aircraft was provided by 314th Air Wing, commanded by COL Charles J. Wax, Little Rock Air Force Base. "With a renewed interest in the Soviet Union's Armenia area, a second flight carrying $50,000 of needed medical supplies will depart in early May," said Carnevale.

"What began as an inspirational thought turned into a joint effort with a minimum of bureaucracy and a lot of willpower. We had a triad of service involving the military, Arkansas's medical society and the state's churches. The effort was, in the purest sense of the word, a vision with wings," said Carnevale. "A vision with action can make a difference."

"Like fleet sailors on an overseas deployment, each and every member of NRD Little Rock is an 'Ambassador of goodwill' for the U.S. Navy in their respective communities," said Carnevale. "They are presenting a strong naval presence with personal involvement in civic activities and functions such as the Somalia relief effort and aid to Armenia. They are displaying 'Navy Blue' to the rural and metropolitan communities of Oklahoma and Arkansas. And I am so proud of my team."
