Summary

This collection consists primarily of information packets, books, and pamphlets from the files of the First Lady’s Office. These records are records that were mailed to and received by the First Lady’s Office early in the Administration, dating from 1992 and 1993. The information packets contain information related to Health Care including publications and handouts concerning health initiatives, medical associations, rehabilitation programs, nursing programs, and hospitals. These packets also contain materials concerning universities, colleges, college preparatory schools, community action programs, local theaters and art shows. In addition, the collection contains records on these related subjects: health care, women’s initiatives, business, and education.

Scope and Content Note

The First Lady’s Office, Books and Pamphlets collection consists primarily of information packets, books, and pamphlets. The collection may be best described as correspondence because the information packets, books and pamphlets were mailed to and received by the First Lady’s Office. These information packets appear to have been mailed very early in the Clinton Administration and often contain dates from 1992-1993. The information packets contain information related to Health Care such as pamphlets, books, and handouts concerning health initiatives, medical associations, rehabilitation programs, nursing programs, and hospitals. The information packets also contain miscellaneous pamphlets, books, and handouts concerning universities, colleges, college preparatory schools, community action programs, local theaters and art shows. These files contain, but are not limited to these related subjects: health care, women’s initiatives, business, and education.
