Summary

This collection consists of files maintained by William “Bill” Kincaid, Associate Director for Education Policy on the Domestic Policy Council from 1997 to 2000. Prior to his service in the Clinton Administration, he worked for the Department of Education from 1995 to 1997. The collection consists of records related to charter schools and public school choice, reading and literacy initiatives, improving math and science education, urban and rural education initiatives, fixing failing schools, constructing, renovating, and modernizing schools, connecting schools to the Internet, training, recruiting, and retaining qualified teachers, and racial and ethnic diversity in schools and higher education. This collection also consists of records related to expanding access to higher education through community college initiatives, vocational education, Pell Grants, scholarships, tax credits, financial aid, work-study, and Federal Direct Loans. These materials include correspondence, memorandums, talking points, remarks, reports, publications, news articles, news releases, and handwritten notes.

Scope and Content Note

William “Bill” Kincaid was Associate Director for Education Policy in the Domestic Policy Council from 1997 to 2000. He worked for the Department of Education from 1995 to 1997. This collection includes correspondence files, subject files, and single issue files regarding education policy. The bulk of the correspondence files pertain to interagency meetings and correspondence between Domestic Policy Council staff and employees of the Department of Education. Specific topics covered in this collection include charter schools and public school choice, reading and literacy initiatives, improving math and science education, creating national education standards for academic achievement and implementing voluntary national tests in math and reading, the 10 Point Call to Action for American Education in the 21st Century, urban and rural education initiatives, fixing failing schools, constructing, renovating, and modernizing schools, connecting schools to the Internet, training, recruiting, and retaining qualified teachers, and racial and ethnic diversity in schools and higher education. This collection also includes records pertaining to expanding access to higher education through community college initiatives, vocational education, Pell Grants, scholarships, tax credits, financial aid, work-study, and Federal Direct Loans. Additionally, this collection contains Fiscal Year 1996 through Fiscal Year 1999 budget documents, including Department of Education budget breakdowns. This collection consists of correspondence, memorandums, talking points, remarks, reports, publications, news articles, news releases, and handwritten notes.

System of Arrangement

Records of this collection were found in Clinton Presidential Records: White House Staff and Office Files, Domestic Policy Council. This collection is arranged alphabetically. In the Staff and Office files of William Kincaid there were several 3½” diskettes containing various documents and reports. The materials from these disks have been processed electronically and are available for research in an electronic format. Staff and Office files were maintained at the folder level by staff members within their individual offices and document all levels of administration activity.

Access

Collection is open to all researchers. Access to Clinton Presidential Records is governed by the Presidential Records Act (PRA) (44 U.S.C. Chapter 22, as amended) and the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) (5 U.S.C. 552, as amended) and therefore records may be restricted in whole or in part in accordance with legal exemptions.

Copyright

Documents in this collection that were prepared by officials of the United States government as part of their official duties are in the public domain. Researchers are advised to consult the copyright law of the United States (17 U.S.C. Chapter 1) which governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material.

Provenance

Official records of William Jefferson Clinton’s presidency are housed at the Clinton Presidential Library and administered by the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) under the provisions of the Presidential Records Act (PRA).
