Summary

This collection consists of the records of Eli Attie from his time in the White House Communications Office. It consists of analyses and background research for Presidential speeches, radio addresses, State of the Union addresses, and legislative / regulatory initiatives. The records include memorandums, correspondence, fact sheets, newspapers clippings, articles, talking points, faxes, reports, Q&As, and notes.

Scope and Content Note

Eli Attie served as Special Assistant to the President for Communications in the Office of Communications from 1996-1997 and then as an Assistant for Communications in the Office of the Vice President from 1998-2000. From 2000-2001, Attie served as Chief Campaign Speechwriter for Vice President Gore. After leaving the White House, Attie went on to write and produce television series The West Wing and House. While in his position in the Office of Communications, Attie prepared analyses and background research for Presidential speeches, radio addresses, State of the Union addresses, and legislative/regulatory initiatives. The records include memorandums, correspondence, fact sheets, newspapers clippings, articles, talking points, faxes, reports, Q&As, and notes.
