This collection contains materials relating to Brigadier General Dennis Reimer and the conflicts in the former Yugoslavia between 1996 and 2001. General Reimer was Chief of Staff of the Army from 1995 to 1999. The collection includes a June 1999 email intended for General Reimer from Major General Robert Scales regarding lessons learned from the Kosovo conflict. The email had been copied to an NSC staffer. The collection also includes two April 5, 1999 emails containing press clippings regarding U.S. involvment in Kosovo. These clippings mention General Reimer in his capacity as Chief of Staff of the Army. The majority of records related to this FOIA case are closed for national security reasons.

System of Arrangement

Records that are responsive to this FOIA request were found in these collection areas—Clinton Presidential Records: ARMS Emails and Clinton Presidential Records: NSC Cable, Email, and Records Management Systems. The Automated Records Management System (ARMS) was a database that contained email records of the Executive Office of the President. This system held, and allowed access to, unclassified Presidential email. The ARMS database was comprised of seven sub-series of email records called "buckets." The buckets generally represented a specific White House office. The buckets were titled: NPR for National Performance Review, NSC for National Security Council, OPD for Office of Policy Development, POTUS for President of the United States, WHO for White House Office, CEA for Council of Economic Advisers, and Default for emails not associated with an office. In 2022, the National Archives and Records Administration transferred the majority of Clinton ARMS and TRP records to a records management and access system called ERA. This changed the processing of ARMS and TRP records. For technical reasons, however, NSC emails remained in their own bucket. NSC ARMS emails are arranged by topic, there-under by bucket, and there-under chronologically by creation date.
