This collection only contains emails.

Scope and Content Note

The materials in FOIA 2021-0518-F (Segment 2) are a selective body of documents responsive to the topic of the FOIA. Researchers should consult the archivist about related material. Dorothy Dwoskin was Assistant U.S. Trade Representative (AUTR) for the World Trade Organization (WTO) and Multilateral Affairs at the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative (USTR) from 1993-2007. The focus of economic policy in relation to China during AUTR Dwoskin’s tenure was largely on Chinese accession to the WTO. China began the process of joining the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) in 1986. Though not a member, China was a signatory to the Uruguay Round of GATT in 1994. Following the formation of the WTO, China continued the process of bilateral negotiations with the members of the WTO on trade and services with the goal of acceding to the organization. Materials responsive to this FOIA request include emails regarding news articles and weekly Cabinet level summaries mentioning Dorothy Dwoskin. For more information about the WTO negotiations with China, researchers might wish to consult FOIA Case 2010-1024-F, Records related to China, the World Trade Organization (WTO), Ambassador Michael Kantor and Ambassador Charlene Barshefsky. This collection has been digitized and is available on the National Archives Catalog. Additional information regarding the work of the United States Trade Representative is available in the Clinton Administration History

Project’s files. These are available digitally in the Clinton Digital Library.
