Summary

This collection consists of records on Sven Kraemer, a long-time advisor to several American Presidents. The materials include records of visitors to the White House and cables on restructuring governmental organizations.

Scope and Content Note

The materials in FOIA 2010-0173-F are a systematic body of documents responsive to the topic of the FOIA. Researchers should consult the archivist about related materials. FOIA request 2010-0173-F contains records relating to Sven Kraemer. No records were found on his father, Fritz Kraemer. FOIA request 2010-0173-F consists entirely of electronic records in the form of cables and emails. The NSC Automated Records Management System [Email] contains emails of WAVES appointments for upcoming visitors to the White House. The NSC Cable, Email, and Records Management Systems contains a cable on the restructuring of the OECD (Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development) Committee on Information, Computers and Communications Policy and an email regarding references on behalf of an NSC employee.

Biographical Note

Sven Kraemer has a long career advising and making policy in the field of national security and defense. From the 1960s to the 1980s, he served in various positions at the Office of the Secretary of Defense, as a National Security Council (NSC) and U.S. Senate staffer and, later, as Director of Arms Control at the NSC during the Reagan administration.
