Summary

This collection consists of records concerning Native American Policy during the Clinton Administration. Segment 3 contains records primarily from the IN (Indian Affairs) Subject File. This collection also includes White House Staff and Office Files. Records from this collection represent many topics of domestic policy as it relates to Native American people, including clemency for Leonard Peltier, Indian gaming, and tribal recognition. The files contain handwritten notes, memos, articles, correspondence, and printed materials.

Scope and Content Note

The materials in 2006-0197-F are a selective, not necessarily all inclusive, body of documents responsive to the topic of the FOIA. Researchers should consult the archivist about related materials. FOIA request 2006-0197-F contains unclassified records relating to President Clinton’s policy toward Native Americans. Throughout his Administration President Clinton made a determined effort to improve conditions for Indians by addressing a wide range of issues. These papers show that to a large extent he was successful in this endeavor. The White House Office of Records Management (WHORM) contains material from one subject file category. It should be noted that the records from IN (Indian Affairs) comprise approximately one-third of the collection. Needless to say, these documents deal with a wide variety of subjects. Correspondence can be found requesting clemency for Leonard Peltier, concerning every aspect of Indian gaming imaginable, and attempting to secure Federal recognition for tribes across the United States. There are packets of material with memos addressed to the President regarding the issuance of executive orders for the protection of sacred lands, the use of eagle feathers and peyote in Indian religious ceremonies, and promoting opportunities for Federal assistance at tribal colleges and universities. Also worth mentioning are the weekly reports in the form of memos from trusted and knowledgeable aide Lynn Cutler to the President about conditions in Indian Country. The White House Staff and Office Files contain correspondence, memos, news articles, testimony, speeches, notes, and printed materials. These files can be found largely in the Chief of Staff, Counsel's Office, Domestic Policy Council, and Intergovernmental Affairs. The records of Tom Shea, which comprise the bulk of the Chief of Staff, consist of printed materials and correspondence concerning Native Americans and HIV/AIDS. This dread disease devastated the Indian population during Clinton's presidency. Also of note here are numerous ancestral, family, and pedigree charts of the Amah Mutsun Tribal Band, which were filed with the Department of the Interior as part of the process to acquire Federal recognition. Composed mainly of the records of Mary Smith, the Counsel's Office doesn't deal much at all with the topic of legal advice. Instead there is a considerable amount of material that can best be described as informational in nature. For example, executive summaries address such issues as the easiest way to obtain a mortgage in Indian Country. Scattered throughout the collection are Department of Justice statistics and reports describing crime among Native Americans. Devoted principally to the records of Michael Schmidt and Mary Smith, the Domestic Policy Council succeeds in documenting an extensive number of Indian-related matters. For instance, in the papers of Michael Schmidt detailed memos setting forth plans to streamline the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) and newspaper articles and reports looking at the phenomenon of urban Indians should stick out to the prospective researcher. In addition, the files of Mary Smith contain many emails examining the issue of Native American demonstration projects in the areas of education, business, and health. These initiatives were designed to aid some of the poorest communities in the United States. Standing out in Intergovernmental Affairs, the papers of Lynn Cutler should constitute a rich source for a scholar or student seeking to make a valuable contribution to the understanding of one of the most important areas of President Clinton's record in domestic affairs. In her files reports dealing with the annual conferences of the National Congress of American Indians (NCAI) can be found. A wealth of facts about such topics as Native American housing and hunting and fishing rights is readily available in the pages of these documents. Moreover, legislative updates are a regular feature of the records of the NCAI.

System of Arrangement

Records that were responsive to this FOIA request were found in two collection areas—Clinton Presidential Records: WHORM Subject Files and Clinton Presidential Records: White House Staff and Office Files. As policy, Staff and Office Files are processed at the folder level. That is, individual documents are not selected and removed from a folder for processing. WHORM Subject and WHORM Alpha Files are processed at the document level. While this method maintains folder integrity, it frequently results in the incidental processing of documents that are not wholly responsive to the subject area. The WHORM Subject File was compiled by the White House Office of Records Management and is a series of categories designated by a letter/number combination.

Access

Collection is open to all researchers. Access to Clinton Presidential Records is governed by the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) (5 USC 552 as amended) and the Presidential Records Act (PRA) (44 USC 22) and therefore records may be restricted in whole or in part in accordance with legal exemptions.

Copyright

Documents in this collection that were prepared by officials of the United States government as part of their official duties are in the public domain. Researchers are advised to consult the copyright law of the United States (Title 17, USC) which governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material.

Provenance

Official records of William Jefferson Clinton’s presidency are housed at the Clinton Presidential Library and administered by the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) under the provisions of the Presidential Records Act (PRA).
