Summary

This collection consists of correspondence from Congress on issues related to PFIAB investigations or operations. Under President Clinton the PFIAB carried out some very high level investigations of the intelligence community. These included: investigations into intelligence community actions in Guatemala and a review of security and espionage at Department of Energy Laboratories. This collection includes declassified portions of the Cox Report, formally the Report of the Select Committee on U.S. National Security and Military/Commercial Concerns with the People's Republic of China. Also a large number of records are related to PFIAB and Intelligence Oversight Board (IOB) membership as well as the President’s efforts to restructure the PFIAB/IOB. This includes memos, correspondence, drafts, email, and notes related to both Executive Orders 12863 and 13070.

Scope and Content Note

The materials in FOIA 2006-0995-F are a selective body of documents responsive to the topic of the FOIA. Researchers should consult the archivist about related materials. This Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request was for records relating to the President’s Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board (PFIAB). Open records in this FOIA include profile sheets and administrative paperwork related to records management. The collection also includes correspondence from Congress on issues related to PFIAB investigations or operations. A significant number of records are related to PFIAB and Intelligence Oversight Board (IOB) membership as well as the President’s efforts to restructure the PFIAB/IOB. This includes memos, correspondence, drafts, email, and notes related to both Executive Orders 12863 and 13070. Under Clinton the PFIAB carried out some very high level investigations of the intelligence community. These included: investigations into intelligence community actions in Guatemala (see FOIA request 2006-1025-F) and a review of security and espionage at Department of Energy Laboratories (see FOIA request 2006-1022-F). For the latter, this collection contains the PFIAB report Science at its Best, Security at its Worst. This collection also includes declassified portions of the Cox Report, formally the Report of the Select Committee on U.S. National Security and Military/Commercial Concerns with the People's Republic of China. As this collection deals largely with issues of national security a significant portion of the records are closed for reasons of national security. Many of the records in this collection are related to appointments to the PFIAB or the IOB, or they are related to staffing and personnel issues. A large number of these records are closed for personal or statutory reasons.

Biographical Note

The President’s Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board (PFIAB) was created by President Dwight Eisenhower in 1956. Executive Order 10656, signed February 6, 1956, created the President’s Board of Consultants on Foreign Intelligence Activities. Eisenhower believed that this board of respected and knowledgeable citizens could provide him with unbiased and candid appraisals of United States’ intelligence activities. President John Kennedy, by the signing of Executive Order 10938 on May 4, 1961, renamed the Board of Consultants, the President’s Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board. Though the name was changed, the board continued to operate in much the same fashion. Executive Order 11460, signed by President Richard Nixon on March 20, 1969, again changed the name of the PFIAB to the President’s Advisory Intelligence Board. President Jimmy Carter abolished the board in March of 1977. Carter did, however, retain the Intelligence Oversight Board. The IOB was created by President Gerald Ford in 1976 following a post Watergate investigation by Congress into potential illegal activities of the intelligence agencies. The IOB was tasked with reporting potential illegal activities to the Department of Justice for review. As Ford told Congress in 1976, “I believe [the changes] will eliminate abuses and questionable activities on the part of the foreign intelligence agencies while at the same time allowing them to get on with their vital work of gathering and assessing information.” President Ronald Reagan modified the role of the IOB in 1981 and re-established the PFIAB in 1985 by signing Executive Order 12537. President William Jefferson Clinton combined the IOB and the PFIAB, making the IOB a committee rather than an independent organization. President George W. Bush radically modified the role of both the IOB and the PFIAB following the creation of a Director of National Intelligence. The newly named President's Intelligence Advisory Board was designated to oversee the intelligence collection activities of any Federal agency engaged in the collection of intelligence or the production of intelligence policy. President Barack Obama more clearly defined the role of the PIAB and strengthened the IOB with the passage of Executive Order 13516. Under President Clinton the PFIAB had between eleven and twelve members, by law it could be no more than sixteen, whose terms were established by the President. Members were chosen for their independence, knowledge, and experience. The members of the President's Intelligence Advisory Board serve as unpaid observers of the United States intelligence community. Much of their work is highly secret in nature though Presidents have chosen on occasion to make the Board's reports, or portions thereof, public. The members of the Board are appointed by the President and the Director serves at the leisure of the President.
