Records consist of agendas, articles, background files, books, briefing papers, correspondence, decision memos, faxes, informational literature, interviews, legislation, letters, lists, meeting notes, memos, Notices of Proposed Rulemaking, reports, resumes, schedules, speech drafts, speech and press transcripts, Statements of Administration Policy, talking points, trip books, and weekly reports.

Scope and Content Note

Nicole Rabner was a mainstay of the First Lady’s Office for almost the entire Clinton administration. Records show her starting out as a university fellow under Melanne Verveer December1993 through May 1995. She was formally hired in July 1995 as Special Assistant to the Deputy Chief of Staff to the First Lady. Rabner’s expertise landed her the position of Associate Director for Domestic Policy in January 1997 which she held until February 1999 when she assumed the title of Special Assistant to the President for Domestic Policy. Rabner worked in the Domestic Policy Council and in the First Lady’s Office concurrently during her White House employment. The First Lady further entrusted Rabner with representing her interests in the technical meetings that preceded each Wives of Heads of State of the Americas conference.

She left the administration in February 2000. Subjects covered in the collection include adoption, bankruptcy, brain research, breast cancer, budget and appropriations, child care, child welfare, civil rights, child development, domestic violence, education, equal pay, Family and Medical Leave Act, First Ladies' Conferences, foster care and independence issues, health reform, Medicare, microcredit, race issues, social security, taxes, teen pregnancy, Title IX, Title X, Title XX, welfare, youth and children, and women's issues. Records consist of agendas, articles, background files, books, briefing papers, correspondence, decision memos, faxes, informational literature, interviews, legislation, letters, lists, meeting notes, memos, Notices of Proposed Rulemaking, reports, resumes, schedules, speech drafts, speech and press transcripts, Statements of Administration Policy, talking points, trip books, and weekly reports. Six informal subseries (Adoption, Child Care, Child Welfare, Childhood Development, First Ladies of the Americas Conferences, and Foster Care) were added to group topical information together.
