

World History

Advise the President: William J. Clinton What Should the United States Do About The Kosovo Crisis?

The Advise the President program is an opportunity for students to experience some of the challenges President Clinton faced during his administration. Using the deliberative model developed by the National Issues Forums Institute (www.nifi.org), students will collectively consider pros and cons of three possible responses to the genocide occurring in Kosovo. The program lasts two hours and includes an hour long tour.

 The items in bold within each framework standard are areas that will be emphasized during the presentation, other areas listed may possibly be addressed.*

World History Since 1450 Frameworks

- Analyze the social, economic, political, and geographic transformations of regional connections into global trade networks
- Analyze complex and interacting factors that influenced the perspectives of people
- Examine the outcomes of social, economic, and political transformations in Africa, Asia, Middle East, and Latin America
- Analyze the changes in cultural and social life due to artistic and literary movements and scientific and technological innovations
- Evaluate social, economic, political, and technological causes and effects of accelerating global interdependence
- Analyze short- and long-term causes and effects of the following on humanity
 - Genocide
- Assess geographic, human, and economic costs of war using evidence from multiple sources and perspectives
- Assess the social, economic, political, and technological efforts to address economic imbalances and social inequalities among the world's peoples
- Analyze ways historical contexts continue to shape people's perspectives

For more information, visit our website at: <https://www.clintonlibrary.gov/education/>

Follow us on Facebook and Twitter:

 <https://www.facebook.com/ClintonPresLib/>

 @WJCLibrary