Bruce:

Unfortunately, I wanted to point out to you that apparently the idea about the White House Summit on Violence in the Media has reached some quarters of our Hollywood community. I received a call from Andy Spahn of Dreamworks seeking more information about this -- I didn't provide much and simply indicated the concept was still evolving.. He indicated that if this was another attempt by the White House and Congress to attack the entertainment industry and not to talk specifically about guns, that this would greatly effect the event that this community will be hosting with the POTUS on May 15th in LA> As noted in your memo, you indicated that this "would enable you to challenge the entertainment industry before your trip to LA on 5/15" well please factor in it is the entertainment industry that will be sponsoring the UNITY event. It is Andy's anticipation that many people would back away from the event -- perceived or real I would appreciate being kept up to date on these activities to avoid a backlash.

Please advise me on how this should be handled and the appropriate response to these concerns. Thanks!

Geffen wants a mention of either his foundation's participation or a mention of the reception occurring after the conference. Andy Spahn from his office will try to roll us on this. How do you want me to handle their pressure. I've already told them that we don't acknowledge funding sources. They came back with the request about acknowledging the reception. I await your advise.
Thanks

By the way, I thought that McCurrey did a good job of handling/deflecting a question on this the other day ('the president is against gay marriage; we're taking a look at the various bills'), but the goal needs to be (it seems to me) to get the bill(s) killed rather than having the president co-opt the legislation by signing it; that may get rid of the issue vis a vis Dole, but it will come back to bite you with the gay & lesbian community, their families and supporters.

The press on this issue has been surprisingly good/sympathetic on this issue (polling notwithstanding). Let it play out a little bit: Dole will make his pathetic grandstanding effort; it will be seen as desperation politics rather than as a debate on a legitimate/pressing issue.

(FYI, Maria Shriver has a great piece coming up this issue on Friday night on "Dateline").

Best, Stephen
